Clash On China, Siberia Issue

MacArthur Calls Truman A-Bomb Assertion False

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman says that Gen. Douglas MacArthur wanted to A-bomb China and eastern Siberia during the Korean conflict. MacArthur terms Truman's assertion "completely false."

Both men are in New York. MacArthur resides here and Truman arrived Wednesday to spend the holidays with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Daniel.

An official at the hotel where the former president is staying said Truman would accept no calls until morning.

The controversy was touched off by Truman during a television interview last Saturday night in Chicago. The transcript of the interview became available Thursday.

Irv Kupcinet, a Sun-Times reporter, moderator of the program, had asked Truman if, when he was president, he had been under pressure to unleash the atomic bomb during the Korean War.

He said Truman replied: "Yes, MacArthur wanted to do just that. He wanted to bomb China and eastern Russia and everything else."

MacArthur issued a statement Thursday night denying this.

"Any statement such as that attributed to Mr. Truman that I advocated the use of atomic bombs in the Korean War is completely false," MacArthur said.

"The records are available and will show that atom bombing in the Korean War was never discussed either by my headquarters or in any communication to or from Washington.

"The allegation that I contemplated or even considered action against Siberia or areas not directly within the field of operations is equally fantastic. . . ."

"We did not need the atom bomb here any more than we did in the war against Japan," added the former supreme commander of Allied forces in the South Pacific.

Truman told Kupcinet: "I recalled him (MacArthur) for disobedience of orders. He was in private contact with the Republican minority leader in the House of Representatives, Joe Martin (of Massachusetts) and had been warned that the commander in chief was still the commander in chief.

"MacArthur was just another general as far as I was concerned."

Commented MacArthur: "It is equally untrue to say I disobeyed any orders. The members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, my superiors in the conduct of the Korean War, testified under oath at the congressional hearings that there was no insubordination or disobedience of orders on my part."

MacArthur continued: "Our failure to win the Korean War was a major disaster for the free world. . . .

"It is with deep reluctance I continue this controversial dispute of the long past when the world is now desperately beset with momentous troubles, and I do so only to prevent a complete prevarication of history designed to cover up Mr. Truman's past failures."

In the television interview, Kupcinet asked Truman if he meant MacArthur wanted "to use the atomic bomb."

Truman: "Why, of course, that's the only weapon we had they would understand."

Kupcinet: "This was one of the main reasons you recalled him?"

Truman: "I recalled him for disobedience of orders."

29 Crewmen Rescued

Coast Guard To Hunt 8 Missing On Broken Ship

Feared Lost But Search To Continue

Capt. Snyder, 44, Master Of Tanker, Listed As Missing

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A destroyer sped most of the 29 survivors of the storm-broken tanker Pine Ridge toward shore today while the Coast Guard prepared another search of the angry Atlantic for eight crewmen still missing.

Still aboard the bobbing stern section is chief engineer John Richart, 36, of Wilmington, Del. He may be joined today — if weather permits—by volunteers from the crew who would assist in salvage operations.

Coast Guard planes were set to take off at dawn to search for those still missing. The commercial tug Lamberts Point stood by to take the ship into tow for Norfolk.

Survivors were transferred from the aircraft carrier Valley Forge to the destroyer Conway for the run to Norfolk. The Conway is expected to arrive about 4 p. m. today.

The Pine Ridge ripped apart Wednesday in 100-mile winds that churned waters 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N. C.—the storied graveyard of the Atlantic.

Twenty-eight survivors were plucked from the tossing stern section Thursday by Navy helicopters from the Valley Forge. But Richard kept a lonely guard aboard the stern to protect his owners' rights to salvage.

Eight men were missing and apparently lost, but the search went on. Among those feared drowned is the master, Capt. Clark Snyder, 44, of Havertown, Pa.

Snyder is no stranger to peril at sea. He had two ships torpedoed from under him on Caribbean runs in World War II.

Richart's vigil aboard the stern half of the Pine Ridge may parallel the feat of Capt. Kurt Carlsen, who stayed aboard the American freighter Flying Enterprise for two weeks before it sank.

Should the engineer leave the decks, the hulk becomes fair salvage prize for anyone daring enough to board it. In the past two years two ships in American waters have been salvaged by wildcat crews, one not far from the stricken Pine Ridge and the other off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Valley Forge was in position to launch its first helicopter by 6:45 a. m. Thursday and com-

Blessed Art Thou, Mary . . .

Love Prevails For Joseph, Mary

The Christmas story is really a love story—or, rather, two love stories. It's the love story of Mary and Joseph. And it's the story of God's love for errant man. Here, drawn from the Gospels and the non-canonical New Testament Apocrypha, is an account of how those two love stories became one on that first Christmas 2,000 years ago. This is the last of five articles.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Love knows no prisons. It recognizes no defeats. It breaks through obstacles, overrides rebuffs. It is sovereign. It prevails.

It prevailed in the case of a troubled husband and his young bride of Nazareth. It withstood the slurs and strange travail that beset them. It bound them fast.

And it offered to bind up a distraught world.

Men resisted it. They ignored, distrusted and defied it. But love lost their own capacities for love. Yet they were loved.

Love sought them, reached for them, bent low for them, so very low.

A lowly she-donkey plodded up the red and rocky road toward Bethlehem, carrying the young Jewess, led by her rough-clad mate. They were tired, dusty. But they bore the lost lustre of life.

Other travelers paid them little heed. The traffic was thick, and strident with yells of camoleers and bluster of litter trains. No one seemed much concerned with anyone. But love was infinitely concerned with everyone.

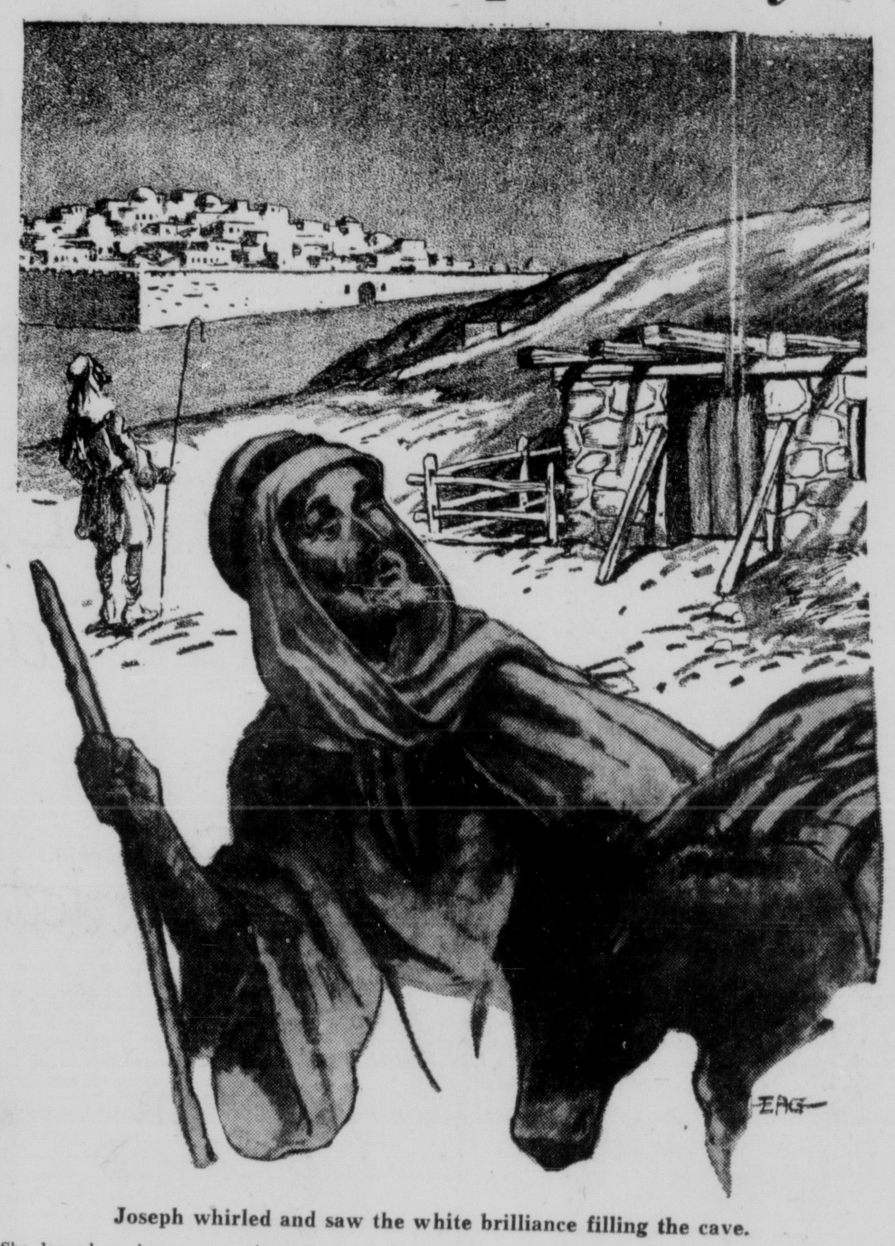
IT IS HARD to say why. Men had strayed and stumbled. In their willful arrogance, they had fouled their freedoms. They hated, warred, plundered, falsified. They were a hard, harried lot, tortured by dead dreams. The great vision had left them.

But it would not let them go.

On the road, the peasant couple paused beside a yew tree, and Joseph looked worriedly up at his wife, fearing she was in pain. Yet, only moments ago, he had seen her smiling with deep satisfaction.

"Mary," he said, "what aileth thee? How happens it that I sometimes see sorrow and sometimes laughter and joy in thy countenance?"



Joseph whirled and saw the white brilliance filling the cave.

"It is because I behold two people with mine eyes, the one weeping and lamenting and the other laughing and rejoicing."

For there is joy in love rejoined and mutually given, but tragedy in its trampling down. Men would ever misuse, mock and crucify it. But love would not surrender.

Augustus ruled the empire, and Herod wore the crown of Israel, the lords of power and gold, and for these things men craved and clawed.

But scepters fall, and heaped gold narrows the eye. These dazzling goods do not reign. They do

Police Break Into Home As Neighbors Suspect Trouble

An 89-year-old East Liverpool woman is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital, where she was taken early Thursday night after police rescued her from a home filled with fumes from several gas burning stoves.

Mrs. Jane Neal was found prostrate on the livingroom floor of her home at 316 Jefferson St. by Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolmen K. H. Mooney and Orin Smith, investigating a report from neighbors, who suspected she was ill.

Main Roads Reported As Generally Clear

Main highways in the area today were generally clear, except for some occasional icy spots for which motorists should be on guard, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

Secondary roads were snow covered in places and slippery.

Only four minor mishaps were reported Thursday.

The woman tried to avoid a collision, but the truck struck the passing auto, the patrol said. Lowe was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Economic Council Head

Dr. Heller Seen Kennedy Advisor

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today may choose a chairman for his Council of Economic Advisers in the new administration. And the man will have his work cut out for him in this time of the business dip.

Reportedly in line for the key job is Dr. Walter H. Heller, 45, of the University of Minnesota. He heads the economics department in the university's School of Business Administration.

Kennedy kept at the task of job-filling in the midst of family preparations for Christmas and after announcing Thursday his resignation from the U.S. Senate, effective immediately.

Kennedy sent his letter of resignation to Furcolo and also notified Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding officer of the Senate and his Republican opponent in the presidential election.

Heller, who conferred with Kennedy last week, is regarded as an authority on public finance. He has served for six years as tax adviser to Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman, picked by Kennedy to be secretary of agriculture.

$25,000 Barn Fire Kills 42 Of Cattle Herd

Quantity Of Hay, Farming Equipment Lost Near Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Flames, spreading from a "puff of fire" from a manure removal machine, destroyed a large barn, 42 cattle, tons of hay and straw and farm equipment at the farm of Mrs. C. W. Foster of Heck Rd., five miles northeast, Thursday afternoon.

Damage was estimated at $25,000 in the blaze which claimed the lives of 32 milk cows and 10 heifers, only 3 of the animals in the barn getting out.

The cattle were owned by John W. Foster of the Unity-Petersburg Rd., son of Mrs. Foster, whose farm is located in Columbiana County at the Mahoning County line and Pennsylvania border.

Foster and his son, Jack, were in the barn, preparing to milk the cows, when they saw a "puff"—like explosion out of the pipe of the barn cleaning machine which carries manure out of the Inquiry Will Continue

Court Hears Conflicting Testimony On Carrier Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—A naval court of inquiry has heard conflicting testimony on who was responsible for spilling the diesel fuel that led to the disastrous fire aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation.

The multimillion-dollar blaze last Monday gutted the giant flattop, under construction at the Navy Yard, and killed 49 civilian workers.

The court convenes again today.

Testimony Thursday at the second day of the open hearings at the Navy Yard dealt primarily with the whereabouts of the operator of the fork lift truck that apparently contributed to the cause of the accident.

Twelve thousand military and civilian personnel Thursday attended memorial services for the workmen who perished on the Constellation.

Among those addressing the gathering at a parking lot at the Navy Yard were Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, and Adm. R. K. James, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships.

According to one theory presented to the court, the diesel fuel on which the flames fed spewed out when a fork lift, in removing a large trash container on the carrier's hangar deck, perhaps nudged a heavy steel plate which sheared off a valve from a tank of diesel fuel. The flammable liquid gushed out to lower decks and caught fire.

But the fork lift operator, LeRoy Davis, 46, of Brooklyn, testified Thursday that he was away from his truck for about 15 or 20 minutes at the time when this could have happened.

Another witness, William Brown Jr., a rigger, said he had seen the fork lift "5 to 10 feet, maybe more," from the trash bin when he noticed the spreading liquid.

But still another witness, recalled for additional testimony after Davis had left the stand, said he had seen Davis drive his lift right up to the bin.

Severe Cold Moderates; Snow Is Next

The severe cold eased today by a few degrees but the frost-bitten Tri-State District welcomed even the slight moderation as the Ohio weatherman forecast "not quite so cold" Saturday.

However, there was a fly in the ointment — or snow flakes in the coffee — as the minor warming trend will bring occasional light snow tomorrow. Only flurries were forecast for today.

That was good news for children expecting sleds under the Christmas tree but motorists only tightened their tire chains for more jousting with slippery highways.

Trade-In Car Deal Solved But It's Mad

East Liverpool police today straightened out a classic comedy of errors involving two parked autos of the same model year and similar color, ending a puzzle that had perplexed a motorist whose car vanished, an auto agency that got the wrong trade-in and a woman who obtained a new auto but had the wrong license plates and someone else's Christmas packages.

Some shrewd detective work based on two seemingly unrelated scraps of information untangled the bizarre mixup and ended a game of "musical chairs" with cars that started Thursday afternoon.

Taking it from the top and untangling the chain of circumstances in chronological order, this is what happened:

Miss Adell Davis, 833 Armstrong Ln., drove her 1955 Studebaker to the garage of Mike Turk, Inc., at Walnut and E. 6th Sts. to take delivey of a new Corvair.

Churches Open Nativity At Christmas Eve Service

Christmas music will sound joyously in every church of the East Liverpool district Saturday night as the community joins the Christian world in celebrating the Birth of Christ on Sunday.

Every cantata, anthem, and carol associated with the story of the Nativity will find expression in the varied programs. Enlarged choirs, special soloists and solemn organ selections will tell again the age-old story of Bethlehem.

Clergymen, almost without exception, have chosen the Birth of Christ as their sermon themes for Christmas Eve services and Christmas Day worship.

For the first time since 1955, Christmas falls on a Sunday. Last year, it was on Friday and in 1961 it will be celebrated on Monday. The celebration of Christmas this year will continue in many churches over Monday, when business and industry observe the holiday.

'Who Put Gin In Water Cooler?'

Remarks At Office Party

By HAL BOYLE

"Who put the gin in the water cooler?"

"Go on Mabel, be a sport. The boss has been standing under the mistletoe for 40 minutes now."

"You know, Miss Hotchkiss, a girl like you could go far in this firm if she played her cards right."

"It's the third time your wife called, Joe. Shall I tell her again you just left?"

"Put yourself in my place, J.B. —17 years in the mail room and darn little to show for it, security-wise."

"Take your hand off my knee, Mr. Frothingham."

"Keep pouring, Fred. What's a holiday punch without a little kick to it?"

"Look at the janitor. He's got his arm around the boss and is telling him how to run the organization."

"We're both orphans of life's emotional storm, Miss Jaundice. Let's just call it Kismet."

"Sometimes I don't think my wife really understands me. Basically, that is."

"Let's call up good old George in London. The office can foot the bill."

"Yeah, a party's okay, but let's get to the meat of cranberry. When do they hand out the Christmas bonuses?"

"Hey, somebody give me a hand, will you? Charlie's out on the window ledge trying to catch a piegon with a handful of potato chips."

"Fred was here just a few minutes ago. Have you looked under his desk?"

"No, I don't mind your singing, Jim, but don't you know any other tune than 'Sweet Adeline'?"

"Let's face it—Santa Claus is a father image, a sublimation of our own inadequecies and frustrations. Myth-wise, it can be proved more adults than kids believe in Santa."

"Whose idea of a joke was it to toss a lighted cigarette in the file cabinet?"

"All right, quiet down everybody. I want to introduce your friend and mine, the greatest little old boss in the world—good old J.B. himself."

Ohio's National Committeeman

Albert A. Horstman, 72, Democratic Figure, Dies

Horstman, Montgomery County's Democratic chairman for many years, died Thursday in Miami Valley Hospital. He was 72.

He was going to his Dayton home from his office when stricken with a heart attack. Horstman served as Democratic state chairman from 1940 to 1948 and became national committeeman for Ohio in 1944.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, learning of Horstman's death, said "Al Horstman served the cause of better government. We will all miss him, but his contribution to a better society will long be remembered."

Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman echoed the governor's sentiments. Said Coleman:

"He will be missed not only by his co-workers in Dayton, Montgomery County and Ohio, but also by those who believe in our democratic processes."

The task now falls to Coleman to set the date for a meeting of the state committee to select a successor.

Horstman, who was in the printing business and was reported to be a millionaire, avoided the political spotlight and preferred to operate off-stage.

His leadership was challenged early last year by U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland at a meeting of the state committee. Young withdrew his challenge when sentiment appeared overwhelmingly in favor of the Dayton man.

The committee recommended Horstman for another four - year term and he was re-elected to the national committeeman post by delegates to the national convention in Los Angeles last July.

Horstman was born near Glandorf in Putnam County. He left the farm to work as a blacksmith's helper, a printer and then a machine shop foreman with Delco, which he joined in 1909. While still at Delco, he set up his own commercial and job printing business that is still going. It employs about 60 people.

Horstman often said he was not sure how he actually started his political career but he supposed that it began when someone asked him to help during a campaign in Dayton's 10th ward.

Horstman is survived by his widow, Julia, two sons, Robert and Clarence, a daughter, Mrs. Juliana Prather, all of Dayton, a sister, a half-sister, seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Emmanuel Church in Dayton with burial here.

22 Attend Industrial Nurses' Yule Dinner

Twenty-two attended the annual Christmas dinner party of Tri-State Valley Industrial Nurses Association Tuesday night at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

Nurses of the Wheeling Steel Corp.'s medical department were in charge of the arrangements and program. Mrs. Delores Strohl was mistress of ceremonies. Several humorous skits were presented.

Mrs. Viola Ritchie, as Santa Claus, distributed gifts. Mrs. Archie Minor, president, conducted business.

Dr. Thomas C. Hohmann, director of the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Department of St. Francis Hospital and Institute of Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker for the meeting Jan. 17 at the hotel. His topic will be "Rehabilitation and the Facilities Available."

New West Virginia Circuit Judge Sworn In

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Supreme Court Judge Frank C. Haymond Thursday swore in James Lee Thompson of Hurricane, Haymond's law clerk for the past 15 years, as judge of the state's new 29th Judicial Circuit.

Thompson was elected in November to an eight-year term as the 29th first judge. The 1960 Legislature created the circuit, which is made up of Putnam and Mason counties.

Judge Haymond also administered the oath to fellow Supreme Court Judge Harlan M. Calhoun, who was re-elected to a 12-year term. Judge Chauncey Browning, also re-elected, was out of town.

Christmas Story Told Highlandtown Grange

The "Christmas Story" was read by Evelyn Rose at a meeting of the Highlandtown Grange Thursday night.

Mary and Joseph were portrayed by Homer and Vivian Stewart for the reading.

Other recitations were given by Tom Hays, Lynette Hays, Paul Crist, Cathy Rose, Margie Withrow and Sandy Lewis.

The group sang Christmas carols to end the program.

The next meeting is Jan. 12.

St. Ann Cubs And Scouts Join For Meeting, Christmas Fete

A Christmas party highlighted a joint meeting of Boy Scout Troop 60 and Cub Pack 60 of St. Ann Catholic Church Thursday night in the church hall, various awards were presented. Members of the boys' families were guests.

Awards presented by Jim Arcuragi, cubmaster, included Frank Galeoti, denner stripes; Craig Yanni and Danny Vallera, assistant denner stripes; Craig Means, two silver arrows under wolf; Bobby Hocking, silver arrow under wolf; Johnny Ammon, bear badge; John Chan, silver arrow under lion, and Jonathan Ramsey, two - year perfect attendance bar.

A report was made on a hike and cookout held by the troop Saturday under the supervision of Jack Canton and Bud Ammon. The troop also displayed one of its new tents purchased through the assistance of the Men's Service Club. They will be used for the first time when the troop participates in the Cherokee District Polar Bear Camp Jan. 6-8 at Camp McKinley, Lisbon.

Robert Hocking, institutional representative, announced the pack will again have a Scout Week display in Milligan's Hardware.

The boys held a gift exchange and presented the parents with handmade gifts. Gift packages provided by Pack 60 were distributed to the children. The cubs presented Mrs. Teresa Ammon and Mrs. Francis Ramsey with gifts.

The troop and the pack gave a gift to Fr. Lambert Andrews, pastor.

Refreshments were served by the fathers.

The three American plants which catch and consume insects are the sundew, the pitcher plant, and the Venus flytrap.

John Kennedy Wears Three Hats

Next week, President-elect Kennedy will come up against one of the hardest realities of the tough job he has earned the right to tackle. Democratic "liberals" will gather in Washington to plan their attack on the filibuster rule that has kept them from imposing their will on the South.

They will argue, as they have in the past, that the filibuster rule, which gives senators the option to talk to death any proposal they find objectionable, lets the South impose its will on them. But the fact is, as the 1960 election has newly reminded them, that the Democratic party needs the South as much as the South needs the Democratic party.

HE IS, first, the head of the executive department of the federal government—signer of treaties, chief of the military forces, prime mover of international relations, head of the state.

Second, he is the central source of public policy leadership, a role which Mr. Kennedy says he believes should be pursued with extreme vigor. He voices the aspirations of the people, as he understands them. He makes an impact on popular opinion with his pronouncements. He articulates the people's ideals and defines the problems of the republic. He turns for counsel to the best minds that can be called into public service. He calls on the highest intelligence of the nation.

Third, every president must assume to the limit of his personal capacity and aptitude the leadership of the political party that nominated him and supported him in his bid for the job.

ONE OF THE stern problems for Democratic presidents is the irreconcilability of northern liberals and southern conservatives.

The Kennedy administration will do everything it can to keep these extremist groups from deadlocking. The new administration's legislative program and its hope of strong executive leadership would be crippled by a deadlock.

It has as much to fear, from one set of extremists as the other. The irreconcilable southerners could cripple its civil rights proposals and the irreconcilable liberals could cripple its apparent program of moderation in spending.

It simply is not in the cards that Douglas Dillon would have consented to head the Treasury Department if he had not been assured by the President-elect in plain words that the spending promises made by Democratic liberals in the party platform last summer would be shelved until the U.S. dollar again was in a strong position.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER never seemed to be wholly at ease in the role of party leadership. When he wore his political hat, it represented more formality than authority. He was not a professional politician and often reminded his countrymen that the role was not natural for him.

John Kennedy is a professional. He welcomes the role.

The issue between the irreconcilable factions of his party will be his first challenge as president-elect.

Grateful For A Good Brother

Opinion in Washington, where tens of thousands of people live and breathe government, was more sensitive to the appointment of Robert F. Kennedy to head the Department of Justice than opninion in the rest of the country.

The New York Times has revealed what finally caused the President - elect's brother to reverse his position and accept the appointment.

Robert had been helping to put together the new administration. Besides the Cabinet officers, who draw all the attention, there are some 200 top positions to be filled by appointment. He was hunting for eligible men.

But Robert Kennedy had learned that men capable of performing these jobs are hard to find. Even the Cabinet officers were hard to find. Few Americans want to stand on the firing line of public responsibility.

Robert Kennedy is reported to have said that when he found out how difficult it is to find public officials he felt that he had a duty to do his own part. He was available. He had been invited to help. So he decided to help.

But that was not the only thing that caused him to change his mind. He had seen the awful isolation of the presidency closing in on his brother—the Secret Service agents, the crowds, the endless questions, the staggering realization that John F. Kennedy, the president - elect of the United States, never could be sure again of hearing the truth, because everybody who sought his attention would be trying to conceal something or sell something.

"I realized then," he is reported to have said, according to The New York Times, "what an advantage it would be to him to have someone he could talk to."

Dwight Eisenhower has had his brother Milton. Other presidents have had old friends and sometimes relatives, to tell them the truth. John Kennedy is going to have his brother Robert.

Story With A Moral

Motorists can learn a lesson from the loss suffered by Pvt. Eddy Post 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, when the parked car of one of their officers was broken into.

The moral of the story is to take the valuables into your house or leave them at the bank or some other place for safe keeping. Otherwise you could suffer an unfortunate loss such as that experienced by the VFW.

Questions For A Press Conference

Franklin D. Roosevelt holds the all-time record for presidential press conferences—more than 80 a year during his long incumbency.

No one expects John F. Kennedy to hit a higher average than that. But one of the more exciting prospects of the changeover on Jan. 20 is a whopping increase over President Eisenhower's total — only 15 so far this year and only one more in sight before he leaves office.

Mr. Kennedy's administration will depend on the press conference more heavily than Mr. Eisenhower's administration has depended on it. Yet, despite the relative neglect of this means of communication during the Eisenhower administration, the techniques employed never were more satisfactory.

The press and other media of communication have had unusual freedom to take pictures, use direct quotations and even to take motion pictures for exhibit on television and in theaters. Although the right to edit the motion picture film is reserved, it has been used sparingly.

This improvement in technique is a tribute to the skill and energy of Jim Hagerty, Mr. Eisenhower's press secretary. Mr. Kennedy's press aide, Pierre Salinger, has declared he will try to institute changes, with the advice and consent of working White House reporters, but he will be doing well to satisfy as many critics as Hagerty satisfied.

One thing Salinger might try that would satisfy everybody is a more satisfactory technique of asking questions. Whether this might entail going back to the use of written questions is uncertain. But no question that is not clearly phrased and does not bring out information of general interest should be permitted.

The White House press conference does not belong solely to the reporters; it belongs to the institution of government—the sovereign people of the United States. They have a right to expect that presidential answers should be in response to meaningful, clearly phrased questions.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The crib in the Bethlehem manger illumines global darkness. Mother and the Infant Jesus stand out above the potentates, dictators, orators and trouble-makers. Shepherds watching their flocks by night make the diplomats of the earth seem unimportant.

The star that guided wise men and magi guides the Christian world in crisis as no edicts, pronouncements or conferences can. The stillness of the stable lifts millions from the harsh voices of council halls. The Child's cry deadens human senses to the roar of guns and voices of hatred.

The story of Holy Night casts a spell which forums, council halls and seats of the mighty can never equal. No message from any ruler, no droning voices from the orators of any nations, can move man like the simple words, "Fear not, for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

The quiet scene in the manger commands attention shutting out the hubbub from rocket bases, atomic bomb centers and the utterances of scientists, engineers, generals and admirals.

The smallest Christmas tree, however scanty its decorations, holds an influence not equaled by the largest army or the highest summit session.

In the eyes of a child getting its first morning glance at the tree are adoration, love, beauty and faith making a mockery of the angry words and violent gestures of men shattering the hopes of the world.

This is the season of children's matchless happiness, caught in memory by the oldest man or woman. Through the Yuletide holy spell comes the only abiding message, "Fear not."

PRESIDENT - ELECT KENNEDY should not be too disturbed because a letter from Washington to Boston took eight days to reach him. It happens to all of us, possibly due to the fact that the size, shape and color of postage stamps changes so often that it's not easy to tell what is mail and what is not. States will lose millions in gas tax through compact cars, giving more mileage. It brings no tears to the general public, fed up by heaping of tax upon tax to a point where it reaches 10 cents per gallon and more in some areas.

J. Edward Day is new postmaster general and PO theme song may be "When Day Is Done." He is a big insurance company veep and will obviously give the PO department a new "policy," including perhaps a return of the day when special delivery letters called for a receipt at the receiving end.

It's Hard To Understand Their Taste

Unions Are Bought And Sold

By Victor Riesel

Government probers have just told their superiors that some unions are being bought and sold like real estate. The going rate for a 1,000-member local is $15,000 to $20,000 apiece. The thugs who dabble in this market appraise their captive units on the basis of $15 to $20 per member.

Victor Riesel

Most of these locals are "independents," according to a confidential report which is expected to become the trampoline for a rip-roaring House investigation.

Evidence of this profiteering in working people is in the hands of Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y. The New Yorker now has the approval of his House Labor Committee chief, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, for open hearings by the House Labor group early in the session.

There will be some high-voltage reaction to this probe when it is revealed that the thugs used their do-it - yourself union charter printing machinery to move right into the U.S. defense operation. The boys have quite a modus operandi, though they call it something else.

THEY SUPPLY the union labels to some fast buck operators who snare a defense production job and then find they need a union tag on their stuff in a hurry. So they just go out and order one from the "muscle" and simply enroll their new workers in the new local.

The hood who first "owned" the unit then sells out to some ambitious thug who is willing to put in time as a "business agent." It's a living — a mighty good one.

Not quite in this detail, the confidential report was handed Rep. Powell by Mr. Zelenko on Dec. 12. In part, it reads:

"Mindful of your suggestion to limit my proposal to bare outline and with a restricted time limit for presentation, I submit the following suggestions which from my view urgently require investigation and reform:

"Exploitation among others, but mainly of workers of Puerto Rican origin, through the machinery of 'independent labor organizations' which are in fact employer inspired and gangster controlled.

"There are numerous instances of a wide spread commercial traffic in these so-called unions or 'sweetheart' contracts in which workers are sold and delivered as a group to employers at so much a head.

"There has also developed a market for the trading, selling or bartering of these contracts from one gangster controlled union group to another. This problem is particularly rampant in the northern and eastern industrial states."

THIS MEANS, of course, that the legitimate employers who operate the small feeder defense plants and the big corporations dealing with the regular unions are hit by the hoodlum competition. The mob's wage cost is half — sometimes a quarter—of the regular union rates.

In another section of his report Zelenko tells Powell that, "with respect to the matters covered by the comparable Senate committee, under the able and astute chairmanship of Sen. McClellan, the proposal is to continue and expand their investigations to date in the areas they have thus far considered . . . . .

"This, of course, will include further inquiry into the subjects of alleged breach of fiduciary responsibilities in the handling of union funds, management union welfare funds, undemocratic procedures in the conduct of union activities.

"Also the use of violence by racketeering elements in labor - management relations, and collusive arrangements between unscrupulous employers and labor exploiters."

This hitherto unpublished report has nine major areas outlined for House investigations.

In summing up, Zelenko tells Powell that: "In regard to each of the above items I wish to state that I have been able to gather enough facts to warrant the commencement of the tasks of the proposed committee as soon as it has been activated."

POWELL SAID he'd see that it is activated. He has wiped out the old committee staff and is now reorganizing its investigative machinery. It should be a show worth watching. Powell can invoke enough oratorical brimstone to melt the TV cameras.

And special subcommittee probing chief, Herbert Zelenko wound up his report with: "Up to the present time, most of the hearings on these subjects have been able to expose a mere fragment of the cancerous infiltration of criminals into the national economy."

Kennedy's Shrewdness

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The early moves of President-elect John F. Kennedy's new administration probably will revolve more around his shrewdness in handling Congress than on what he proposes to do about problems at home.

Overseas he'll have his hands full.

Judging from the starting program he intends to lay before Congress, where his Democrats far outnumber the Republicans, he will neither suggest nor try anything startling.

The proposals he talks about were all part of he campaign promises he made. They didn't get through Congress last year. For instance, medical care for the aged tied to Social Security. So he'll try again as he is pledged to.

But it seems unlikely the Democratic-run House — there the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 260 to 177—will start off trying to frustrate Kennedy. It would be a sorry reception for their party's new leader.

In the Senate, where the Democrats are still in charge with a majority of 65 to 35 Republicans, Kennedy will have some real pros working as his chief lieutenants: Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

It is important to both Johnson and Mansfield, who succeeds him as Democratic leader, to see the Kennedy administration get off to a good start. A defeat for Kennedy would be a personal defeat for them.

But it's in the foreign field that Kennedy and his administrators and advisors probably will feel they're walking through a dark jungle.

Besides trying to deal with the Russians and Premier Khrushchev, Kennedy must find some way to keep the people of Southeast Asia and Latin America on the U.S. side.

In Africa, both the people and their new nations are literally just coming alive as an active force in a world where for centuries they were kept in second-class citizen status as colonials. That continent will be explosive for years.

The Kennedy administration somehow must find a way to convince the millions of Africans that their future will be better with the West.

Any critical showdown with the Soviet Union during Kennedy's administration may come first in Africa.

On top of all this, and yet critically related to it, Kennedy must subdue the flow of American gold overseas, keep trade healthy, and at the same time build American defenses to a point discouraging to Soviet ambitions.

Kennedy is a young man. What he faces is enough to make an old man of him.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The eighth annual exhibit of the Tri-State Poultry Association opened on the first floor of the former Camarda garage building on W. 5th St.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Oliver Bowman Vodrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Vodrey of St. Clair Ave., was one of four accepted by the Army Air Corps examining board in Youngstown.

The arts and craft classes of the Wellsville WPA recreation program completed 4,289 projects since September.

TEN YEARS AGO — Curtis Patterson and Raymond Keay were inducted into the Lions Club.

Venezuela, meaning "Little Venice," was so named by the Spanish conquistadores of the 15th century. The stilt villages on Lake Maracaibo reminded them of Venice, the canal-woven city of northern Italy.

First Negro Catholic Cardinal ever to be elevated is Laurian Rugambwa, of Tanganyika, in Africa.

Public Notice

To anyone who has never been through the settlement of an estate, it may seem as though the process is a good example of what the layman regards as legal delays.

But certain procedures must be followed and there are no short cuts. This is true even where the deceased leaves a will and where his affairs, on the whole, are in good order.

One reason for the delay is that the court must approve the appointment of an executor or an administrator, and proper notice must be given of this.

Then a period of time is fixed during which persons having claims against the estate can have an opportunity to present their claims. If the deceased held property in more than one state, if the will is contested, or if other complications develop, the closing of the estate will be delayed that much longer.

A common provision under state laws is for public notice to be given through newspaper of general circulation of the appointment of the executor of administrator.

Usually this same notice will say that "Creditors are required to file their claims with said fiduciary within four months or be forever barred." Such a notice may be run one or more times as the law provides.

War: Soviet Style

By David Lawrence

Reds Continue Steady World Pressure

World War III, Communist style, seems to be spreading. The custom in wartime is for a daily communique to be issued. Instead nowadays the news items telling of bloodshed and death are received in piecemeal fashion. The over - all effect is lost on the public.

David Lawrence

Many people in so - called "peaceful" areas like the United States may not be following closely what's going on in the war in different parts of the world. Analyzing a few days' news dispatches from abroad, here is the story as it probably is being told to Khrushchev by his aides in the Kremlin:

"1. ETHIOPIA: We took advantage of the absence of Emperor Haile Selasie and started a revolution in the capital. We aligned his son with our side. He was reluctant but he had no choice. What we hoped to do was to weaken the U.N. in the Congo, for there are Ethiopian troops in the U.N. forces and we wanted to get them out. The emperor is back in power again but we have started a wave of internal dissension. Look how, by working from the inside, we got control of Guinea.

"2. LAOS: The battle goes on, though the rightists, aided by the United States, are giving us quite a lot of resisance. The U.S. Embassy was fired on by some on our side. A few artillery shells will wake them up. We note that the U.S. has announced it will openly assist the rightists. We have our agents all through the area as well as troops available just across the border in China and North Vietnam, if they are needed. We shall continue to supply tanks, mortars and rifles to the revolution. The other side is on top for the moment but we are not through yet.

"3. ALGERIA: We are operating successfully here. We have infiltrated the independence movement effectively and we have managed to hurt the prestige of Gen. de Gaulle as the whole country is plunged into the chaos we have planned.

"4. NEPAL: We are busy here. The king has taken over. The premier has been arrested and parliament dissolved. The news dispatches from New Delhi saying that we Communists are "getting the upper hand' here are correct. The king thinks he can stop us. He says he'll be 'neutral' between the East and the West. We'll see.

"5. LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo: One of our planes has landed in our stronghold in Stanleyville with arms for soldiers who are loyal to our friend Lumumba. Lumumba's right-hand man, whom we trained in Moscow, has asked Nasser of the United Arab Republic for "urgent shipment of arms, volunteers and food.' We must help promptly.

"6. LATIN AMERICA: We have managed to provoke riots in Chile and disturbances in Ecuador. We are gaining ground particularly in Guatemala and in Venezuela, and one or both of these can come into our hands any day now. Central America is quiet on the surface but we are penetrating it rapidly. Our efforts with 'students' are paying off. Cuba is our most valuable base and we now can transport munitions and military supplies there for transhipment—along with our agents and propaganda—to any other country in the western hemisphere.

"7. CANADA: We have friends here. The dollar is still all-important to the businessmen, some of whom seem ready to help us break the U.S. embargo on Cuban goods.

"8. WESTERN EUROPE: We manage to keep France divided and NATO gets weaker because is no longer a solid partner. De Gaulle wants France to be a nuclear power and he will not give NATO the support that has heretofore been given. The talk among the Western governments is about making NATO a nuclear entity but we shall see. We can infiltrate some of those countries and we have the support already of the "left wing' in the British Labor party. The NATO foreign ministers met in Paris the other day but got nowhere. All in all, the war goes well for our side."

This kind of warfare can go on for years but it will not be won merely by sending tens of millions of dollars to underdeveloped countries, important as it may be to get at the poverty which is the source of great discontent.

It will be necessary for the governments aided by the United States to agree to exterminate the subversive elements.

Sooner or later the United States and its allies will have to face up to the need for supplying direct military help to drive back the Communists in various countries.

The U.N. is up against Soviet resistance in the Congo and it may be that the Soviet government will have to be exposed as a traitor to the U.N. and expelled, or else the Communists will utilize the machinery of the U.N. to aid the cause of communism in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

Christmas At Large

By Truman Twill

The editor of "The Lutheran," news magazine of the United Lutheran Church in America, hit such a happy theme in his Christmas editorial this year it should be passed along.

"Faith, hope and love are the Christmas words," he wrote. "People who never go to church find these words strangely attractive. I'm glad the storekeepers let them listen to 'Silent Night,' even if the motive is to loosen up their pocketbooks for more purchases.

"This is the time of year when Christmas escapes from the churches and surges through the streets. Perhaps the multitude will hear an echo of angel voices. Who knows what might happen over the loudspeaker system at Gimbels?"

Christmas is being celebrated in places that scarcely have been touched by the missionary efforts of organized Christianity. Perhaps Christmas should be called "disorganized Christianity" in a nation like Japan, which has gone overboard on the celebration.

It is probably that most of the Japanese who celebrate Christmas would be astonished if they knew what they were doing.

It is possible that even in our own country when "Christmas escapes from the churches and surges through the streets" many of the people who are swept along in its mystery are totally unaware of the thing that has escaped.

It is as though vast numbers of people had become deeply involved in the spirit of self-determination and individual dignity without being consciously aware they were practicing popular government, which in itself is a manifestation of the state of mind that makes Christianity possible.

A faith that comes naturally and easily has been gaining converts by a phenomenon of self-conversion. If it has been made easier by mixing it up with a few jolly old elves and some reindeer, who should complain about it?

Christianity by any other name or no name at all is as creditable to the spirit that underlies it as though it were honored in its own name.

There have been, after all, many supposed converts to Christianity who never honored the spirit of the thing they had been "converted" to. And in the past there were Christian missionaries who never understood why it wasn't necessary for the "heathen" to speak their language, imitate their clothes and sing their songs to become Christians.

The celebration of Christmas has become a study in circumstantial evidence. If human beings love one another, if they try to be kind to one another, if they feel good will instead of bad will and obey the precepts of Christian behavior, are they not on the way to becoming like Christians?

And if they feel like Christians, are they not entitled to the benefit of every Christian doubt, even if they are vague about dogma and doctrine?

It happens to all of us, possibly due to the fact that the size, shape and color of postage stamps changes so often that it's not easy to tell what is mail and what is not. States will lose millions in gas tax through compact cars, giving more mileage. It brings no tears to the general public, fed up by heaping of tax upon tax to a point where it reaches 10 cents per gallon and more in some areas.

J. Edward Day is new postmaster general and PO theme song may be "When Day Is Done." He is a big insurance company veep and will obviously give the PO department a new "policy," including perhaps a return of the day when special delivery letters called for a receipt at the receiving end.

It's Hard To Understand Their Taste

Unions Are Bought And Sold

By Victor Riesel

Government probers have just told their superiors that some unions are being bought and sold like real estate. The going rate for a 1,000-member local is $15,000 to $20,000 apiece. The thugs who dabble in this market appraise their captive units on the basis of $15 to $20 per member.

Victor Riesel

Most of these locals are "independents," according to a confidential report which is expected to become the trampoline for a rip-roaring House investigation.

Evidence of this profiteering in working people is in the hands of Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y. The New Yorker now has the approval of his House Labor Committee chief, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, for open hearings by the House Labor group early in the session.

There will be some high-voltage reaction to this probe when it is revealed that the thugs used their do-it - yourself union charter printing machinery to move right into the U.S. defense operation. The boys have quite a modus operandi, though they call it something else.

THEY SUPPLY the union labels to some fast buck operators who snare a defense production job and then find they need a union tag on their stuff in a hurry. So they just go out and order one from the "muscle" and simply enroll their new workers in the new local.

The hood who first "owned" the unit then sells out to some ambitious thug who is willing to put in time as a "business agent." It's a living — a mighty good one.

Not quite in this detail, the confidential report was handed Rep. Powell by Mr. Zelenko on Dec. 12. In part, it reads:

"Mindful of your suggestion to limit my proposal to bare outline and with a restricted time limit for presentation, I submit the following suggestions which from my view urgently require investigation and reform:

"Exploitation among others, but mainly of workers of Puerto Rican origin, through the machinery of 'independent labor organizations' which are in fact employer inspired and gangster controlled.

"There are numerous instances of a wide spread commercial traffic in these so-called unions or 'sweetheart' contracts in which workers are sold and delivered as a group to employers at so much a head.

"There has also developed a market for the trading, selling or bartering of these contracts from one gangster controlled union group to another. This problem is particularly rampant in the northern and eastern industrial states."

THIS MEANS, of course, that the legitimate employers who operate the small feeder defense plants and the big corporations dealing with the regular unions are hit by the hoodlum competition. The mob's wage cost is half — sometimes a quarter—of the regular union rates.

In another section of his report Zelenko tells Powell that, "with respect to the matters covered by the comparable Senate committee, under the able and astute chairmanship of Sen. McClellan, the proposal is to continue and expand their investigations to date in the areas they have thus far considered . . . . .

"This, of course, will include further inquiry into the subjects of alleged breach of fiduciary responsibilities in the handling of union funds, management union welfare funds, undemocratic procedures in the conduct of union activities.

"Also the use of violence by racketeering elements in labor - management relations, and collusive arrangements between unscrupulous employers and labor exploiters."

This hitherto unpublished report has nine major areas outlined for House investigations.

In summing up, Zelenko tells Powell that: "In regard to each of the above items I wish to state that I have been able to gather enough facts to warrant the commencement of the tasks of the proposed committee as soon as it has been activated."

POWELL SAID he'd see that it is activated. He has wiped out the old committee staff and is now reorganizing its investigative machinery. It should be a show worth watching. Powell can invoke enough oratorical brimstone to melt the TV cameras.

And special subcommittee probing chief, Herbert Zelenko wound up his report with: "Up to the present time, most of the hearings on these subjects have been able to expose a mere fragment of the cancerous infiltration of criminals into the national economy."

Kennedy's Shrewdness

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The early moves of President-elect John F. Kennedy's new administration probably will revolve more around his shrewdness in handling Congress than on what he proposes to do about problems at home.

Overseas he'll have his hands full.

Judging from the starting program he intends to lay before Congress, where his Democrats far outnumber the Republicans, he will neither suggest nor try anything startling.

The proposals he talks about were all part of he campaign promises he made. They didn't get through Congress last year. For instance, medical care for the aged tied to Social Security. So he'll try again as he is pledged to.

But it seems unlikely the Democratic-run House — there the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 260 to 177—will start off trying to frustrate Kennedy. It would be a sorry reception for their party's new leader.

In the Senate, where the Democrats are still in charge with a majority of 65 to 35 Republicans, Kennedy will have some real pros working as his chief lieutenants: Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

It is important to both Johnson and Mansfield, who succeeds him as Democratic leader, to see the Kennedy administration get off to a good start. A defeat for Kennedy would be a personal defeat for them.

But it's in the foreign field that Kennedy and his administrators and advisors probably will feel they're walking through a dark jungle.

Besides trying to deal with the Russians and Premier Khrushchev, Kennedy must find some way to keep the people of Southeast Asia and Latin America on the U.S. side.

In Africa, both the people and their new nations are literally just coming alive as an active force in a world where for centuries they were kept in second-class citizen status as colonials. That continent will be explosive for years.

The Kennedy administration somehow must find a way to convince the millions of Africans that their future will be better with the West.

Any critical showdown with the Soviet Union during Kennedy's administration may come first in Africa.

On top of all this, and yet critically related to it, Kennedy must subdue the flow of American gold overseas, keep trade healthy, and at the same time build American defenses to a point discouraging to Soviet ambitions.

Kennedy is a young man. What he faces is enough to make an old man of him.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The eighth annual exhibit of the Tri-State Poultry Association opened on the first floor of the former Camarda garage building on W. 5th St.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Oliver Bowman Vodrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Vodrey of St. Clair Ave., was one of four accepted by the Army Air Corps examining board in Youngstown.

The arts and craft classes of the Wellsville WPA recreation program completed 4,289 projects since September.

TEN YEARS AGO — Curtis Patterson and Raymond Keay were inducted into the Lions Club.

Venezuela, meaning "Little Venice," was so named by the Spanish conquistadores of the 15th century. The stilt villages on Lake Maracaibo reminded them of Venice, the canal-woven city of northern Italy.

First Negro Catholic Cardinal ever to be elevated is Laurian Rugambwa, of Tanganyika, in Africa.

Public Notice

To anyone who has never been through the settlement of an estate, it may seem as though the process is a good example of what the layman regards as legal delays.

But certain procedures must be followed and there are no short cuts. This is true even where the deceased leaves a will and where his affairs, on the whole, are in good order.

One reason for the delay is that the court must approve the appointment of an executor or an administrator, and proper notice must be given of this.

Then a period of time is fixed during which persons having claims against the estate can have an opportunity to present their claims. If the deceased held property in more than one state, if the will is contested, or if other complications develop, the closing of the estate will be delayed that much longer.

A common provision under state laws is for public notice to be given through newspaper of general circulation of the appointment of the executor of administrator.

Usually this same notice will say that "Creditors are required to file their claims with said fiduciary within four months or be forever barred." Such a notice may be run one or more times as the law provides.

War: Soviet Style

By David Lawrence

Reds Continue Steady World Pressure

World War III, Communist style, seems to be spreading. The custom in wartime is for a daily communique to be issued. Instead nowadays the news items telling of bloodshed and death are received in piecemeal fashion. The over - all effect is lost on the public.

David Lawrence

Many people in so - called "peaceful" areas like the United States may not be following closely what's going on in the war in different parts of the world. Analyzing a few days' news dispatches from abroad, here is the story as it probably is being told to Khrushchev by his aides in the Kremlin:

"1. ETHIOPIA: We took advantage of the absence of Emperor Haile Selasie and started a revolution in the capital. We aligned his son with our side. He was reluctant but he had no choice. What we hoped to do was to weaken the U.N. in the Congo, for there are Ethiopian troops in the U.N. forces and we wanted to get them out. The emperor is back in power again but we have started a wave of internal dissension. Look how, by working from the inside, we got control of Guinea.

"2. LAOS: The battle goes on, though the rightists, aided by the United States, are giving us quite a lot of resisance. The U.S. Embassy was fired on by some on our side. A few artillery shells will wake them up. We note that the U.S. has announced it will openly assist the rightists. We have our agents all through the area as well as troops available just across the border in China and North Vietnam, if they are needed. We shall continue to supply tanks, mortars and rifles to the revolution. The other side is on top for the moment but we are not through yet.

"3. ALGERIA: We are operating successfully here. We have infiltrated the independence movement effectively and we have managed to hurt the prestige of Gen. de Gaulle as the whole country is plunged into the chaos we have planned.

"4. NEPAL: We are busy here. The king has taken over. The premier has been arrested and parliament dissolved. The news dispatches from New Delhi saying that we Communists are "getting the upper hand' here are correct. The king thinks he can stop us. He says he'll be 'neutral' between the East and the West. We'll see.

"5. LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo: One of our planes has landed in our stronghold in Stanleyville with arms for soldiers who are loyal to our friend Lumumba. Lumumba's right-hand man, whom we trained in Moscow, has asked Nasser of the United Arab Republic for "urgent shipment of arms, volunteers and food.' We must help promptly.

"6. LATIN AMERICA: We have managed to provoke riots in Chile and distutbances in Ecuador. We are gaining ground particularly in Guatemala and in Venezuela, and one or both of these can come into our hands any day now. Central America is quiet on the surface but we are penetrating it rapidly. Our efforts with 'students' are paying off. Cuba is our most valuable base and we now can transport munitions and military supplies there for transhipment—along with our agents and propaganda—to any other country in the western hemisphere.

"7. CANADA: We have friends here. The dollar is still all-important to the businessmen, some of whom seem ready to help us break the U.S. embargo on Cuban goods.

"8. WESTERN EUROPE: We manage to keep France divided and NATO gets weaker because is no longer a solid partner. De Gaulle wants France to be a nuclear power and he will not give NATO the support that has heretofore been given. The talk among the Western governments is about making NATO a nuclear entity but we shall see. We can infiltrate some of those countries and we have the support already of the "left wing' in the British Labor party. The NATO foreign ministers met in Paris the other day but got nowhere. All in all, the war goes well for our side."

This kind of warfare can go on for years but it will not be won merely by sending tens of millions of dollars to underdeveloped countries, important as it may be to get at the poverty which is the source of great discontent.

It will be necessary for the governments aided by the United States to agree to exterminate the subversive elements.

Sooner or later the United States and its allies will have to face up to the need for supplying direct military help to drive back the Communists in various countries.

The U.N. is up against Soviet resistance in the Congo and it may be that the Soviet government will have to be exposed as a traitor to the U.N. and expelled, or else the Communists will utilize the machinery of the U.N. to aid the cause of communism in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

Christmas At Large

By Truman Twill

The editor of "The Lutheran," news magazine of the United Lutheran Church in America, hit such a happy theme in his Christmas editorial this year it should be passed along.

"Faith, hope and love are the Christmas words," he wrote. "People who never go to church find these words strangely attractive. I'm glad the storekeepers let them listen to 'Silent Night,' even if the motive is to loosen up their pocketbooks for more purchases.

"This is the time of year when Christmas escapes from the churches and surges through the streets. Perhaps the multitude will hear an echo of angel voices. Who knows what might happen over the loudspeaker system at Gimbels?"

Christmas is being celebrated in places that scarcely have been touched by the missionary efforts of organized Christianity. Perhaps Christmas should be called "disorganized Christianity" in a nation like Japan, which has gone overboard on the celebration.

It is probably that most of the Japanese who celebrate Christmas would be astonished if they knew what they were doing.

It is possible that even in our own country when "Christmas escapes from the churches and surges through the streets" many of the people who are swept along in its mystery are totally unaware of the thing that has escaped.

It is as though vast numbers of people had become deeply involved in the spirit of self-determination and individual dignity without being consciously aware they were practicing popular government, which in itself is a manifestation of the state of mind that makes Christianity possible.

A faith that comes naturally and easily has been gaining converts by a phenomenon of self-conversion. If it has been made easier by mixing it up with a few jolly old elves and some reindeer, who should complain about it?

Christianity by any other name or no name at all is as creditable to the spirit that underlies it as though it were honored in its own name.

There have been, after all, many supposed converts to Christianity who never honored the spirit of the thing they had been "converted" to. And in the past there were Christian missionaries who never understood why it wasn't necessary for the heathen" to speak their language, imitate their clothes and sing their songs to become Christians.

The celebration of Christmas has become a study in circumstantial evidence. If human beings love one another, if they try to be kind to one another, if they feel good will instead of bad will and obey the precepts of Christian behavior, are they not on the way to becoming like Christians?

And if they feel like Christians, are they not entitled to the benefit of every Christian doubt, even if they are vague about dogma and doctrine?

Ashtabula Home For Aged Praised, Rapped In Report

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The Ashtabula County Home for the Aged was both criticized and praised in a report Thursday by the Ohio Department of Public Welfare.

A cell said to be used for unruly residents was one of the targets attacked in the report issued by Eugene V. Grevencamp, department personnel director, who led the investigation at the home.

Other conditions attacked included censorship of residents' mail, separate menus giving employes better food than available to residents, inadequate and poorly served food for the elderly, apparent lack of a food handler's permit requirement for employes and lack of a resident's right to secure a physician of his own choice.

The report also said:

"The appearance of the home was superior to most county homes of the same age. It actually presented a homelike atmosphere.

"Nursing care appeared to be superior. Personnel appeared to be adequate, well trained and well groomed. Their manner was friendly and professional."

"The cell room was found to be dirty," the report said. "Indications were that the bedding had been recently used."

The report said the investigator was told by a former superintendent of the home and his wife that some of the home residents visited a nearby tavern "and would come home intoxicated and become unruly."

It added:

"The Department of Welfare cannot countenance restraint and incarceration under these conditions, and will take the necessary action to preclude any further treatment of this type to its Aid for the Aged recipients."

Ralph Childs, just completing his first week as new superintendent of the home, said the furnishings in the cell had been removed.

"I intend to rip them out completely," he told newsmen. "We have no right to lock residents up. If they become unruly, they should be kept under control and the sheriff called."

Childs said he also intended to take action on some of the other conditions criticized in the report.

"Patients are now receiving as good food as employes," he said.

Holiday To Alter Trash Collections

Trash collections will be suspended Monday because of the Christmas observance but incinerator department crews will get back on schedule Tuesday with pickups throughout East End — an area which normally requires two days to service, Supt. James A. McKinnon said today.

The combined collection Tuesday will cover: Ohio Ave., St. George St., Railroad St., Kent St., State St., Mulberry St., 1st Ave., Virginia Ave., Mapletree St., Elmtree St., Pennsylvania Ave., Boyce St., Monaca St., Harker Ave., Erie St. Globe St., Etruria St., Cleveland Ave., Palissey St., Wedewood St., Holliday St., Park Ave., Alpha St., Oakland Ave., Price St., Valley Ave., Elizabeth St., Putnam St., Harvey Ave., Ohio Ave., Michigan Ave. and Little England.

Collections for the balance of next week will be on the usual days, McKinnon said.

Actor's Widow Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Paula Marr Collier, 74, widow of actor-playwright William Collier Sr., died Thursday, apparently of a heart attack. Her husband, who died in 1944, had appeared in stage and film productions for nearly 60 years. A son, William (Buster) Collier Jr., also acted in many films during the 1920s and 1930s.

Cars

The Studebaker was to be traded in.

She parked on Walnut St. near Potters Alley. Almost at the same time, Neil Shope of Blazer Ln. drove into town on a shopping trip, also in a 1955 Studebaker of a similar color. He also parked on Walnut St., just outside the auto agency.

As the deal for the new car was completed, Miss Davis told a garage attendant her car was parked just outside. He sent to drive the trade-in into the shop and place the license plates on the new car.

"It's just outside the door," Miss Davis said. There are two large overhead doors on the Walnut St. side of the Turk Building, one near Potters Alley and the other closer to E. 6th St.

As luck would have it, the employe went out the wrong door, took the 1955 Studebaker that was "just outside" as the owner said, and drove it into the shop.

It was Shope's car.

He removed the license plates and put them on the new car. Finding Christmas packages on the back seat, he transferred them, too.

Miss Davis drove home in her new car, not knowing her 1955 Studebaker still was sitting on Walnut St. and that she had the license plates for someone else's car. The Christmas packages? She thought those had been placed in her auto by her mother, who had accompanied her on the trip downtown.

Then Shope returned, looking for his car. After deciding it had been stolen, he filed a theft report with police, explaining he parked the car about 4:15 and it was missing at 4:40.

That's where the matter stood overnight. Officers on cruiser duty last night were alerted for the "stolen" Shope car, but of course they did not find it. Meanwhile, they drove by the parked Davis Studebaker on Walnut St., checked the license number, then found it was not the "stolen" car.

Miss Davis later discovered that the Christmas packages had not been placed in her car by her mother. She telephoned police about the packages and mentioned that she had traded in a Studebaker yesterday at Turk's and the mix-up might have occurred then.

She also notified the garage management, which said it would straighten things out this morning.

Officer Paul Carter, reporting for duty this morning, noted the entries on the telephone log about the trade-in and the mysterious packages in Miss Davis' car. He also noted the separate theft report filed by Shope. Feeling that the long arm of coincidence might be responsible, he and Patrolman Richard Higgins went to Turk's garage and used car lot to check.

Finding a Studebaker, they checked the serial number and discovered that it was Shope's missing car.

That straightened out the mystery. Notified by police, Shope said he will reclaim his car from Turk's.

Kennedy

The Council of Economic Advisers' duties include keeping the president posted on business conditions and trends and to hoist a warning flag whenever recession threatens or unemployment shows signs of mounting to a dangerous level.

As Kennedy prepares to take over the presidency Jan. 20, the government's latest figures show more than four million out of work. And both the Eisenhower administration and the incoming Kennedy regime consider the current business slump a worrisome development.

Kennedy still has a big job on his hands in picking appointees for policy-making federal jobs. He has named his 10-man Cabinet and filled a few other key positions, but there are about 200 other important policy-making posts he wants to fill before inauguration to give him effective control of the government at the start.

That was the word Thursday from a Kennedy aide, Kenneth P. O'Donnell, after the president-elect had met for nearly four hours with a team of talent scouts searching out likely candidates.

At the Kennedy Atlantic shore home, the fast business pace was beginning to yield a bit to bustle and the warmth of the Christmas season.

The President-elect's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, flew in Thursday from New York. The elder Kennedy's wife had to change plans about accompanying him, but she is due Saturday.

Saturday night, Christmas Eve, Kennedy will help trim the family tree. A thrilled helping hand will be the Kennedy's daughter Caroline, 3. The newest member of the family, John Jr., is far too young to care about the festivities. He will be a month old Christmas Day.

structure and which they had just turned on.

Foster said the blaze spread so quickly, they had no time to save all of the animals or any of the equipment. Petersburg firemen were called but were unable to quell the flames.

The loss, which Foster said is partially insured, included 50 to 60 tons of hay and straw in the upper part of the two-story, 40-x-60-foot frame structure, 2,000 bushels of oats, a combine, a grain elevator and a silo blower owned by James Foster, another son of Mrs. Foster, whose farm adjoins hers.

The three cows which were found wandering afterward either broke out or were freed by someone in the confusion, Foster said.

$4,500 Negley Blaze Destroys Cellar Home

NEGLEY — Damage was estimated at $4,000 after fire destroyed the cellar home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huston about 8:15 a. m. today on the Negley-Peace Valley Rd.

The home was gutted and all the furniture was damaged or destroyed by heat and smoke, firemen said. The family was absent when the fire broke out. Neighbors saw the smoke and flame and notified the volunteer department at 8:45.

The home was a total loss when firemen arrived. They contained flames in the utility room around an oil furnace, where the blaze apparently originated. Firemen were forced to use gas masks because of the dense smoke in the poorly-ventilated structure.

Electric clocks were stopped at 8:15, indicating the fire shorted out the electricity at that time. Twenty men responded, led by Asst. Chief Robert Samek.

Tanker

pleted the hazardous job by 4 p.m.

One by one the helicopters hovered into position over the bobbing stern to scoop up the waiting seamen. One of the pilots, Lt. (j.g.) John D. Hausman of Monroe, Mich., said it was treacherous work keeping the 'copters free of the whiplash of the stern as 10-foot waves swept it rapidly up and down.

Everett Bell of Jacksonville, Fla., assistant third engineer, appeared to be the only survivor seriously hurt. He had severe cuts on his right upper arm. He and several others with lesser injuries were all reported in good condition.

Oiler James C. Lewis of Winston-Salem, N. C., who was on the stern of the tanker when it began to break up, said he was eating chow.

"It happened so fast we thought the screw (the propeller) was off," he said. "I ran right down and got a life jacket. We got the lights on," he said.

Lewis said he didn't see any crewmen on the bow before it drifted away.

The injured Bell said the break-up of the tanker came after a terrific roll of the ship.

Deaths and Funerals

Retired Farm Operator Dies

Addison G. McBane, 87, of Fife Rd., Yellow Creek Township, a retired farmer, died this morning at 6 at his farm home, following a lingering illness.

He was born June 6, 1873, on the farm where he spent his lifetime, and was the son of William McBane and Marjorie Grant McBane.

He was a member and elder of the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church and for many years was superintendent of the Oak Ridge Cemetery. In the early days of the telephone, he was maintenance supervisor for the Yellow Creek Township Telephone Co. before it was absorbed by the larger companies. At one time he served as township supervisor.

He leaves a son, Earl V. McBane at home; a daughter, Mrs. Mabel E. Mick of Wellsville R. D. and two grandchildren and a great-grandchild. His wife, Mrs. Alice McSwegin McBane, died Dec. 19, 1948.

Services will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. E. E. Bacon. Burial will be in the Oak Ridge Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday afternoon and evening. No calling hours will be held on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Rhena Hanlon

Mrs. Rhena Hanlon, 74, of Shadyside Ave., widow of James Hanlon, died Thursday at 2:20 p.m. at City Hospital after a long illness.

She was born in Pomeroy, daughter of George Pullins and Florence Pullins. She lived here for 10 years.

She is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Belle London of Newell, Mrs. Hazel Buckley, Mrs. Virginia Lamp and Mrs. Lula McThena, all of East Liverpool; Mrs. Jane Conrad of Steubenville, and Mrs. May Beagle of Salineville; four sons, Franklin Hanlon and Leonard Hanlon, both of East Liverpool, George Hanlon of LaCroft, and William Hanlon of Salineville; a brother, Jack Pullins of Sebring; three sisters, Mrs. Eva Bowers and Mrs. Fannie Snow, both of Cleveland, and Mrs. Jessie Brandt of Barberton, and 29 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. James Hunton, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Mrs. Mary Conkle

Mrs. Mary E. Conkle, who resided with a step-son, Frank L. Conkle of the Sprucevale Rd., St. Clair Township, died this morning at 3:30 at home, following a long illness. She was 85.

She was born June 4, 1875, in Beaver County, daughter of William Biggerstaff and Margaret Biggerstaff. She was married to Melvin Conkle May 13, 1907, and he died in 1944. She was a member of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church.

She also leaves a grandson.

Services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 at the Warrick Funeral Home in Columbiana. Burial will be in Clarkson Cemetery.

Frends may call at the funeral home Monday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Anna Husch

Mrs. Anna Belle Husch of Bellaire, mother of Mrs. Ella Ann Farrell of East Liverpool, died Wednesday in the Ohio Valley General Hospital in Wheeling. She was 46.

She was born June 11, 1914, at Round Bottom, daughter of the late Alfred Moore and Tucker Moore. Her husband, Harold Husch, died in 1953.

She also leaves two sons, a sister and a grandchild.

The Dean Funeral Home in Bellaire is arranging services.

James Heydenreich

James E. Heydenreich, 80, of 1071 St. George St. died this morning at 8:15 at City Hospital, where he was admitted Thursday.

Brief Freedom Ends; Man Goes Back To Jail

Released from the county jail just 24 hours ago after serving a 25-day stretch on an intoxication charge, a man identified as William Fisher of East Liverpool was headed back for Lisbon this morning, this time with a 33-day stretch.

Fisher was fined $100 and costs today on a state intoxication charge by Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp. Fisher was released yesterday after serving 25 days in lieu of $50 and costs. He was taken into custody again shortly before midnight last night.

Atty. Kapp is acting as judge while Judge Samuel M. Chertoff is on a holiday visit with relatives in New York State.

Two thousand years ago, the average life span was about 22 years. In the Middle Ages, the average person might expect to live to the age of 33. In 1840, life expectancy was 41 years. At the beginning of this century, 49 years was the end of the road, and today life expectancy in the U. S. is 68 years.

Churches

candlelight carol hour in the First Methodist Church will begin at 11 and close with the striking of midnight on the chimes, when the congregation will greet Christmas with a joyous carol.

At the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Holy Communion and candlelighting service will be conducted at 3 with members of the Cantata Choir presenting the Christmas music. The congregation of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church will also hold candlelight service at 11, featuring the Chancel and Children's Choir.

A Festal Holy Communion service will be observed at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church after Christmas hymns, carols and anthems, from 10 to 10:30.

Other churches holding Christmas Eve services include the Glenmoor United Presbyterian and the Orchard Grove Community Methodist.

Several churches in Newell, Chester and Wellsville will also hold Christmas Eve services.

Catholics of the area will attend the traditional Midnight Mass, which will follow Christmas carols by the choirs.

A public Christmas variety program will be held at the Salvation Army at 7 p. m. Saturday. Treats will be distributed.

The annual Christmas morning services will be held in the area churches and will feature yule Christmas music and sermons. Some of the churches will also hold evening services Sunday.

At Midland, the Christian Youth Fellowships of the Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches will conduct a Christmas Eve service at the latter church at 11.

One of the few union services in the district will be held Sunday morning at St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal Church in Midland with the Mt. Olive Baptist, Church of the Living God, the Fairview AME church and the Faith Temple participating.

Water Users Get Yule 'Gift'

LISBON — Some 1,300 water customers received a Christmas gift today — an announcement by the Board of Public Affairs who said the discount rate for prompt payment will be raised and the discount period lengthened in 1961.

Basic rates remain unchanged. The discount rate is being raised from the present 5 per cent to 12.5 per cent. In addition, the board extended the discount period from 10 to 15 days.

Persons now paying the minimum rate of $4 will be able to discount their bill at $3.50—a reduction of 30 cents under the present system.

All billings will be reduced accordingly. For example, a bill of $10 gross will be $8.75 instead of $9.50.

The reduction, of course, will be available only to customers who pay within the 15-day discount period; others will have to pay the gross amount, according to Clerk Edgar S. Kirk, who said the discount date will be strictly enforced.

Water bills are mailed quarterly. The reduction, applying also to customers outside the village, will appear initially on first-quarter bills payable April 15.

Paul Kuhns, board chairman, said the new discount is effective only for 1961. The board will review receipts and expenditures annually to determine whether the extra discount can be continued.

Deane Beck and Russell J. Shaw are the other members of the board.

Although botanically the tomato is a fruit, the U. S. Supreme Court passed a decision that, since tomatoes are grown in kitchen gardens and eaten generally as part of the body of a meal, and since they are sold as vegetables, they should be considered vegetables so far as commerce and general use are concerned.

Fires Claim 17 Lives In 5 U.S. Cities

By The Associated Press

Fires swept homes in five separate cities during the night and early morning, killing 17 persons, including 14 children and two mothers.

Three other children suffered critical burns in two of the blazes.

Firemen fought the fires in below zero cold in the homes in Chicago and Hartford City, Ind. In each blaze, a mother and her four children died.

In Baltimore, with the mercury at 16 degrees, a fire killed two children while in Poteet, Tex., four small children perished when a kerosene bucket exploded, spreading flames throughout a one-room house.

The 17th victim of a fire was a young woman in New York City who died in a blaze in her lower East Side apartment.

Teenagers Get Terms In Jail

Two Jefferson County teenagers were sentenced to jail for 10 days each on theft charges at hearings Wednesday afternoon before Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville.

John Robert Hunt, 18, of Steubenville and Nelson Montier, 18, of Toronto were also fined $50 plus $8.70 costs on charges of stealing $25 from the cash drawer of a register in Hannum's Drugstore, 1301 Main St., Wednesday morning.

Mayor Shoub also fined the duo $25 each on charges of stealing a man's hat from the J. M. Russell Co. store at 1303 Main St., Dec. 8.

The youths were ordered to pay back the $25 to the drugstore and also required to pay the store for the hat, valued at $3.50.

Police also have impounded a gun found in the glove compartment of their auto, apparently belonging to Hunt. It was believed taken from the home of the youth's grandfather.

Skidding Cars Hit At Corner

When two autos met at right angles at a North Side intersection this morning, both motorists attempted to halt, but the cars skidded into a collision, police said.

The crash at 8:55 at Riverview and North Sts. involved a 1954 two-door sedan driven by Richard Lee Lisk, 26, of 1049 St. George St. and a 1959 four-door operated by Lawrence W. Howell, 46, of 1208 Riverview St.

Lisk was driving south on Riverview and Howell was moving west on North St., police said. Each driver said he noted the other's approach and attempted to halt, but both cars skidded on snow and ice. There was damage to the left front of Lisk's car and the right front of Howell's.

A loose tire chain on a city incinerator truck was blamed for minor damage to an auto in a mishap Thursday afternoon at E. 5th St. near Broadway.

It involved a city-owned truck driven by Frank Johnson, 60, of 255 Drain St. and a 1960 two-door sedan operated by Lonnie B. Boyles, 29, of 927 Grant St., Newell.

Boyles halted to back into a parking space and the city driver pulled into the opposite lane to go around him, police said. Johnson said he "felt a jar" as he passed the car, so he halted. Investigation showed a tire chain hit the left front fender of the auto.

Braille, the special writing for the blind, was invented more than a hundred years ago by a Frenchman named Louis Braille. Although blind himself from the age of three, he became one of the greatest organists of Paris. His wonderful invention is a system of raised dots on heavy paper which the blind can read by touching with the fingertips. There are 43 signs or different groupings of the dots in the system, one for each letter of the alphabet, the diphthongs, and the punctuation marks.

The Studebaker was to be traded in.

She parked on Walnut St. near Potters Alley. Almost at the same time, Neil Shope of Blazer Ln. drove into town on a shopping trip, also in a 1955 Studebaker of a similar color. He also parked on Walnut St., just outside the auto agency.

As the deal for the new car was completed, Miss Davis told a garage attendant her car was parked just outside. He sent to drive the trade-in into the shop and place the license plates on the new car.

"It's just outside the door," Miss Davis said. There are two large overhead doors on the Walnut St. side of the Turk Building, one near Potters Alley and the other closer to E. 6th St.

As luck would have it, the employe went out the wrong door, took the 1955 Studebaker that was "just outside" as the owner said, and drove it into the shop.

It was Shope's car.

He removed the license plates and put them on the new car. Finding Christmas packages on the back seat, he transferred them, too.

Miss Davis drove home in her new car, not knowing her 1955 Studebaker still was sitting on Walnut St. and that she had the license plates for someone else's car. The Christmas packages? She thought those had been placed in her auto by her mother, who had accompanied her on the trip downtown.

Then Shope returned, looking for his car. After deciding it had been stolen, he filed a theft report with police, explaining he parked the car about 4:15 and it was missing at 4:40.

That's where the matter stood overnight. Officers on cruiser duty last night were alerted for the "stolen" Shope car, but of course they did not find it. Meanwhile, they drove by the parked Davis Studebaker on Walnut St., checked the license number, then found it was not the "stolen" car.

Miss Davis later discovered that the Christmas packages had not been placed in her car by her mother. She telephoned police about the packages and mentioned that she had traded in a Studebaker yesterday at Turk's and the mix-up might have occurred then.

She also notified the garage management, which said it would straighten things out this morning.

Officer Paul Carter, reporting for duty this morning, noted the entries on the telephone log about the trade-in and the mysterious packages in Miss Davis' car. He also noted the separate theft report filed by Shope. Feeling that the long arm of coincidence might be responsible, he and Patrolman Richard Higgins went to Turk's garage and used car lot to check.

Finding a Studebaker, they checked the serial number and discovered that it was Shope's missing car.

That straightened out the mystery. Notified by police, Shope said he will reclaim his car from Turk's.

The Council of Economic Advisers' duties include keeping the president posted on business conditions and trends and to hoist a warning flag whenever recession threatens or unemployment shows signs of mounting to a dangerous level.

As Kennedy prepares to take over the presidency Jan. 20, the government's latest figures show more than four million out of work. And both the Eisenhower administration and the incoming Kennedy regime consider the current business slump a worrisome development.

Kennedy still has a big job on his hands in picking appointees for policy-making federal jobs. He has named his 10-man Cabinet and filled a few other key positions, but there are about 200 other important policy-making posts he wants to fill before inauguration to give him effective control of the government at the start.

That was the word Thursday from a Kennedy aide, Kenneth P. O'Donnell, after the president-elect had met for nearly four hours with a team of talent scouts searching out likely candidates.

At the Kennedy Atlantic shore home, the fast business pace was beginning to yield a bit to bustle and the warmth of the Christmas season.

The President-elect's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, flew in Thursday from New York. The elder Kennedy's wife had to change plans about accompanying him, but she is due Saturday.

Saturday night, Christmas Eve, Kennedy will help trim the family tree. A thrilled helping hand will be the Kennedy's daughter Caroline, 3. The newest member of the family, John Jr., is far too young to care about the festivities. He will be a month old Christmas Day.

structure and which they had just turned on.

Foster said the blaze spread so quickly, they had no time to save all of the animals or any of the equipment. Petersburg firemen were called but were unable to quell the flames.

The loss, which Foster said is partially insured, included 50 to 60 tons of hay and straw in the upper part of the two-story, 40-x-60-foot frame structure, 2,000 bushels of oats, a combine, a grain elevator and a silo blower owned by James Foster, another son of Mrs. Foster, whose farm adjoins hers.

The three cows which were found wandering afterward either broke out or were freed by someone in the confusion, Foster said.

$4,500 Negley Blaze Destroys Cellar Home

NEGLEY — Damage was estimated at $4,000 after fire destroyed the cellar home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huston about 8:15 a. m. today on the Negley-Peace Valley Rd.

The home was gutted and all the furniture was damaged or destroyed by heat and smoke, firemen said. The family was absent when the fire broke out. Neighbors saw the smoke and flame and notified the volunteer department at 8:45.

The home was a total loss when firemen arrived. They contained flames in the utility room around an oil furnace, where the blaze apparently originated. Firemen were forced to use gas masks because of the dense smoke in the poorly-ventilated structure.

Electric clocks were stopped at 8:15, indicating the fire shorted out the electricity at that time. Twenty men responded, led by Asst. Chief Robert Samek.

Tanker

pleted the hazardous job by 4 p.m.

One by one the helicopters hovered into position over the bobbing stern to scoop up the waiting seamen. One of the pilots, Lt. (j.g.) John D. Hausman of Monroe, Mich., said it was treacherous work keeping the 'copters free of the whiplash of the stern as 10-foot waves swept it rapidly up and down.

Everett Bell of Jacksonville, Fla., assistant third engineer, appeared to be the only survivor seriously hurt. He had severe cuts on his right upper arm. He and several others with lesser injuries were all reported in good condition.

Oiler James C. Lewis of Winston-Salem, N. C., who was on the stern of the tanker when it began to break up, said he was eating chow.

"It happened so fast we thought the screw (the propeller) was off," he said. "I ran right down and got a life jacket. We got the lights on," he said.

Lewis said he didn't see any crewmen on the bow before it drifted away.

Deaths and Funerals

Retired Farm Operator Dies

Addison G. McBane, 87, of Fife Rd., Yellow Creek Township, a retired farmer, died this morning at 6 at his farm home, following a lingering illness.

He was born June 6, 1873, on the farm where he spent his lifetime, and was the son of William McBane and Marjorie Grant McBane.

He was a member and elder of the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church and for many years was superintendent of the Oak Ridge Cemetery. In the early days of the telephone, he was maintenance supervisor for the Yellow Creek Township Telephone Co. before it was absorbed by the larger companies. At one time he served as township supervisor.

He leaves a son, Earl V. McBane at home; a daughter, Mrs. Mabel E. Mick of Wellsville R. D. and two grandchildren and a great-grandchild. His wife, Mrs. Alice McSwegin McBane, died Dec. 19, 1948.

Services will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. E. E. Bacon. Burial will be in the Oak Ridge Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday afternoon and evening. No calling hours will be held on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Rhena Hanlon

Mrs. Rhena Hanlon, 74, of Shadyside Ave., widow of James Hanlon, died Thursday at 2:20 p.m. at City Hospital after a long illness.

She was born in Pomeroy, daughter of George Pullins and Florence Pullins. She lived here for 10 years.

She is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Belle London of Newell, Mrs. Hazel Buckley, Mrs. Virginia Lamp and Mrs. Lula McThena, all of East Liverpool; Mrs. Jane Conrad of Steubenville, and Mrs. May Beagle of Salineville; four sons, Franklin Hanlon and Leonard Hanlon, both of East Liverpool, George Hanlon of LaCroft, and William Hanlon of Salineville; a brother, Jack Pullins of Sebring; three sisters, Mrs. Eva Bowers and Mrs. Fannie Snow, both of Cleveland, and Mrs. Jessie Brandt of Barberton, and 29 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. James Hunton, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Mrs. Mary Conkle

Mrs. Mary E. Conkle, who resided with a step-son, Frank L. Conkle of the Sprucevale Rd., St. Clair Township, died this morning at 3:30 at home, following a long illness. She was 85.

She was born June 4, 1875, in Beaver County, daughter of William Biggerstaff and Margaret Biggerstaff. She was married to Melvin Conkle May 13, 1907, and he died in 1944. She was a member of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church.

She also leaves a grandson.

Services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 at the Warrick Funeral Home in Columbiana. Burial will be in Clarkson Cemetery.

Frends may call at the funeral home Monday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Anna Husch

Mrs. Anna Belle Husch of Bellaire, mother of Mrs. Ella Ann Farrell of East Liverpool, died Wednesday in the Ohio Valley General Hospital in Wheeling. She was 46.

She was born June 11, 1914, at Round Bottom, daughter of the late Alfred Moore and Tucker Moore. Her husband, Harold Husch, died in 1953.

She also leaves two sons, a sister and a grandchild.

The Dean Funeral Home in Bellaire is arranging services.

James Heydenreich

James E. Heydenreich, 80, of 1071 St. George St. died this morning at 8:15 at City Hospital, where he was admitted Thursday.

Brief Freedom Ends; Man Goes Back To Jail

Released from the county jail just 24 hours ago after serving a 25-day stretch on an intoxication charge, a man identified as William Fisher of East Liverpool was headed back for Lisbon this morning, this time with a 33-day stretch.

Fisher was fined $100 and costs today on a state intoxication charge by Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp. Fisher was released yesterday after serving 25 days in lieu of $50 and costs. He was taken into custody again shortly before midnight last night.

Two thousand years ago, the average life span was about 22 years. In the Middle Ages, the average person might expect to live to the age of 33. In 1840, life expectancy was 41 years. At the beginning of this century, 49 years was the end of the road, and today life expectancy in the U. S. is 68 years.

Churches

candlelight carol hour in the First Methodist Church will begin at 11 and close with the striking of midnight on the chimes, when the congregation will greet Christmas with a joyous carol.

At the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Holy Communion and candlelighting service will be conducted at 3 with members of the Cantata Choir presenting the Christmas music. The congregation of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church will also hold candlelight service at 11, featuring the Chancel and Children's Choir.

A Festal Holy Communion service will be observed at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church after Christmas hymns, carols and anthems, from 10 to 10:30.

Other churches holding Christmas Eve services include the Glenmoor United Presbyterian and the Orchard Grove Community Methodist.

Several churches in Newell, Chester and Wellsville will also hold Christmas Eve services.

Catholics of the area will attend the traditional Midnight Mass, which will follow Christmas carols by the choirs.

A public Christmas variety program will be held at the Salvation Army at 7 p. m. Saturday. Treats will be distributed.

The annual Christmas morning services will be held in the area churches and will feature yule Christmas music and sermons. Some of the churches will also hold evening services Sunday.

At Midland, the Christian Youth Fellowships of the Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches will conduct a Christmas Eve service at the latter church at 11.

One of the few union services in the district will be held Sunday morning at St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal Church in Midland with the Mt. Olive Baptist, Church of the Living God, the Fairview AME church and the Faith Temple participating.

Water Users Get Yule 'Gift'

LISBON — Some 1,300 water customers received a Christmas gift today — an announcement by the Board of Public Affairs who said the discount rate for prompt payment will be raised and the discount period lengthened in 1961.

Basic rates remain unchanged. The discount rate is being raised from the present 5 per cent to 12.5 per cent. In addition, the board extended the discount period from 10 to 15 days.

Persons now paying the minimum rate of $4 will be able to discount their bill at $3.50—a reduction of 30 cents under the present system.

All billings will be reduced accordingly. For example, a bill of $10 gross will be $8.75 instead of $9.50.

The reduction, of course, will be available only to customers who pay within the 15-day discount period; others will have to pay the gross amount, according to Clerk Edgar S. Kirk, who said the discount date will be strictly enforced.

Water bills are mailed quarterly. The reduction, applying also to customers outside the village, will appear initially on first-quarter bills payable April 15.

Paul Kuhns, board chairman, said the new discount is effective only for 1961. The board will review receipts and expenditures annually to determine whether the extra discount can be continued.

Deane Beck and Russell J. Shaw are the other members of the board.

Although botanically the tomato is a fruit, the U. S. Supreme Court passed a decision that, since tomatoes are grown in kitchen gardens and eaten generally as part of the body of a meal, and since they are sold as vegetables, they should be considered vegetables so far as commerce and general use are concerned.

Fires Claim 17 Lives In 5 U.S. Cities

By The Associated Press

Fires swept homes in five separate cities during the night and early morning, killing 17 persons, including 14 children and two mothers.

Three other children suffered critical burns in two of the blazes.

Firemen fought the fires in below zero cold in the homes in Chicago and Hartford City, Ind. In each blaze, a mother and her four children died.

In Baltimore, with the mercury at 16 degrees, a fire killed two children while in Poteet, Tex., four small children perished when a kerosene bucket exploded, spreading flames throughout a one-room house.

The 17th victim of a fire was a young woman in New York City who died in a blaze in her lower East Side apartment.

Teenagers Get Terms In Jail

Two Jefferson County teenagers were sentenced to jail for 10 days each on theft charges at hearings Wednesday afternoon before Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville.

John Robert Hunt, 18, of Steubenville and Nelson Montier, 18, of Toronto were also fined $50 plus $8.70 costs on charges of stealing $25 from the cash drawer of a register in Hannum's Drugstore, 1301 Main St., Wednesday morning.

Mayor Shoub also fined the duo $25 each on charges of stealing a man's hat from the J. M. Russell Co. store at 1303 Main St., Dec. 8.

The youths were ordered to pay back the $25 to the drugstore and also required to pay the store for the hat, valued at $3.50.

Police also have impounded a gun found in the glove compartment of their auto, apparently belonging to Hunt. It was believed taken from the home of the youth's grandfather.

Skidding Cars Hit At Corner

When two autos met at right angles at a North Side intersection this morning, both motorists attempted to halt, but the cars skidded into a collision, police said.

The crash at 8:55 at Riverview and North Sts. involved a 1954 two-door sedan driven by Richard Lee Lisk, 26, of 1049 St. George St. and a 1959 four-door operated by Lawrence W. Howell, 46, of 1208 Riverview St.

Lisk was driving south on Riverview and Howell was moving west on North St., police said. Each driver said he noted the other's approach and attempted to halt, but both cars skidded on snow and ice. There was damage to the left front of Lisk's car and the right front of Howell's.

A loose tire chain on a city incinerator truck was blamed for minor damage to an auto in a mishap Thursday afternoon at E. 5th St. near Broadway.

It involved a city-owned truck driven by Frank Johnson, 60, of 255 Drain St. and a 1960 two-door sedan operated by Lonnie B. Boyles, 29, of 927 Grant St., Newell.

Boyles halted to back into a parking space and the city driver pulled into the opposite lane to go around him, police said. Johnson said he "felt a jar" as he passed the car, so he halted. Investigation showed a tire chain hit the left front fender of the auto.

Braille, the special writing for the blind, was invented more than a hundred years ago by a Frenchman named Louis Braille. Although blind himself from the age of three, he became one of the greatest organists of Paris. His wonderful invention is a system of raised dots on heavy paper which the blind can read by touching with the fingertips. There are 43 signs or different groupings of the dots in the system, one for each letter of the alphabet, the diphthongs, and the punctuation marks.

Cabinet Suspends Law

Cuba's Purge Of Judges Tied To Land Confiscation

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — The reorganization and purge of Cuba's judiciary apparently is the result of court decisions raising the Castro government's valuations of confiscated lands.

A cabinet decree Wednesday suspended for 45 days a law preventing the removal of judges and gave President Osvaldo Dorticos authority to fire or reassign all judicial officers.

Many court decisions have rebuffed the National Institute of Agrarian Reform (INRA) for setting low prices on lands it seized.

INRA Director Antonio Nunez Jimenez warned several months ago that if judges did not adapt themselves to the "revolutionary spirit," the courts would have to be reorganized.

The cabinet decree ordered the supreme court's judges reduced from 31 to 15. Thirteen of the judges were dropped immediately but most of them already had defected or resigned.

Among them was the court president, Emilio Menendez, who last month charged the government with "totalitarian procedures" and took asylum in the Argentine embassy. This week he went to Argentina.

Following the decree a columnist in the government-controlled El Mundo said: "The tree of judgeship is going to be shaken to its roots."

The possible extent of the judicial fallout by government shaking of the tree was indicated by another exiled supreme court judge, Francisco Alabau - Trelles. He said in Miami that 411 of Cuba's 528 judges had secretly declared the Castro regime pro-Communist and illegitimate. Changes are expected to be accomplished rapidly.

In a speech last Saturday, Prime Minister Fidel Castro threatened to apply a "surgical knife" to the judiciary for failing to see the revolutionary light.

The government-controlled lawyers association said the new decree "puts in revolutionary hands the high mission of administering justice, wiping out those who, taking advantage of their special situation, dared convert the tribunals and lower courts into counter-revolutionary trenches."

Legal sources have been predicting for some time the establishment at the lower levels of Communist - type "people's" courts, composed perhaps of one trained judge and two laymen. This can now be accomplished any time the regime wants it.

Boy, 5, Survives Horrifying Accident, Delicate Operation

"A miracle," his parents murmur to the visitor.

They say that with good reason, for Stephen has come through a horrifying accident and one of the most delicate brain operations ever performed in New England.

Mrs. John D. Bloom heard a fall last June 22 as Stephen and one of his two sisters played in their father's basement workshop. She rushed down. Stephen was pulling the tip of a rabbit-ear television antenna from under his right eye. He had fallen on it.

At Newport Hospital four stitches closed the wound. X-rays showed nothing. That night Stephen turned rapidly worse. Next morning doctors advised his transfer to Boston Children's Medical Center.

Swift tests showed brain damage. Dr. John Shillito Jr., Boston neurosurgeon, discovered what the X-rays could not show, that the plastic knob from the antenna was lodged several inches behind Stephen's right eye—in his brain. But the eye, itself was all right.

Bacteria already had started an infection. Dr. Shillito said all that could be done was to operate "and pray."

After a scalp incision from ear to ear, the surgeon moved deeper into Stephen's brain. For nearly six hours Dr. Shillito worked through the maze of delicate tissues and nerve cells. He removed the know while colleagues assisted.

For three months, Stephen was like an infant.

Then came a change that Dr. Shillito had forecast. Stephen suddenly made new progress. He began walking by himself. He began to talk like his 5-year-old-pals.

City Man Goes To Pen For Parole Violation

Wayne Defenbaugh, 50, of East Liverpool was conveyed today to the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus by sheriff's deputies to serve a 1-20 year term for burglary.

Defenbaugh, charged with failure to obey probation conditions, was originally arrested for burglary of the Army & Navy Store of E. 6th St. about 4 years ago. He was due for release from probation next August had he not violated its terms.

Deputies also transferred John Watson, 43, of Salem to the penitentiary to serve 1-3 years for non-support of his minor children.

American parents are looking more and more up to their sons and daughters. According to latest estimate, the rising generation is slated to grow at least one inch taller than Mom and Pop.

Weather

Dam 7 which said skim ice is beginning to form in the river, reported a high of only 14 degrees since noon yesterday.

The high range today will be 7 to 10, according to the Ohio forecaster, and tonight's low will go to near zero, which will thicken the ice. Heavier ice was developing on the Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers but towboat traffic was breaking it up.

The brisk wind continued this morning but it seemed to have less bite for pedestrians who waded through churned snow still covering streets outside the business district.

Street department crews worked for the second consecutive night to remove the heavy accumulation of snow from curbside parking spaces in the business district.

The workers finished the clean-up job on the east end of E. 6th St. and the Diamond and Washington St., Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver said. Work was continuing this morning on sections of Broadway and St. Clair Ave.

The next job will be to remove deep accumulations of snow from some busy intersections such as Walnut St. at St. Clair Ave., the director said. When a motorist upbound on Walnut St. is required to stop for St. Clair Ave.—the main thoroughfare — the deep accumulation of snow makes it difficult for him to get his car moving again, the director said.

The slow warming trend may continue through Sunday, then turn colder about Tuesday, according to the five-day forecast. There will be occasional periods of snow in the northern part of the state throughout next week.

Toledo was coldest with 10 below zero, and Chesapeake was warmest with 9 above. Dayton had 8 below, Columbus -1, Cleveland -5, Findlay -8, Cincinnati -1, and Marietta 5 above.

A low pressure area is expected to drive rapidly southeastward from central Canada today and tonight, spreading light snow over the state tomorrow.

Reserve Marines Offered New Plan

District members of the Marine Corps Reserve will be offered the opportunity to go on active duty for 2 years.

Maj. John A. Daskalakis, officer in charge of the Pittsburgh Marine Corps Recruiting Station, said "There is an urgent need for aviation skills in the Fleet Marine Force and I am now authorized to assign qualified reservists to extended active duty for two years."

Applicants must be in the pay grade of E-4 or below, have a military specialty within an aviation field and meet normal requirements for entry on active duty.

Married men will also be considered. Single men, if they desire, will be assigned to overseas posts within six months, with tactical aviation units. Normally, such assignments would be to Okinawa, Japan or Hawaii.

Termination date for application is June 30.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Marine recruiter on the third floor of the City Hall Tuesday or Friday each week.

Jump In Food Prices Pushes Living Costs Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A jump in food prices pushed living costs to a new peak in November.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today its consumer price index rose to 127.4 from 127.3 in October. In this index, 100 represents average prices for the 1947-49 period.

It is unusual for food prices to rise in November. The bureau said this is the first time they have gone up in a November since 1951.

After Kennedy's Inauguration

Soviet Set To Improve Ties With U.S., Gromyko Says

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared today that the Soviet Union is ready to improve its relations with the United States after the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's Parliament, that his government hopes U.S.-Soviet relations after Kennedy's inauguraion will revert to the state they were in during the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt—a hope previously expressed by Premier Khrushchev in a cable last month congratulating Kennedy on his victory.

Khrushchev was on the platform as Gromyko reviewed the international situation and Soviet foreign policy for the joint session of the Supreme Soviet. A speech on foreign policy had been expected from the premier also, but the deputies wound up their four-day session and headed for home after a brief discussion and unanimous endorsement of the policy outlined by Gromyko.

Gromyko's review—lasting an hour and 45 minutes—was a rehash of previously stated Soviet positions. He gave no indication that Soviet policy would be modified to improve relations with the United States.

Once more he blamed the "Eisenhower - Nixon administration" for the present state of U.S.-Soviet relations and the failure of the Paris summit conference.

He called again for a special summit session of the U.N. General Assembly in the spring on disarmament and attacked the Western powers as "opponents not only of disarmament but also of control over disarmament." He claimed that all neutral states now support the Soviet demand for speedy complete disarmament.

Gromyko repeated Soviet accusations that U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and his representatives in the Congo are "accomplices of the colonialists." He called for "putting in order the structure of the United Nations bodies," a reference to the Soviet demand that Hammarskjold's control of the U.N. Secretariat be replaced by a Communist - Western - neutralist triumvirate.

Christmas Brings Smiles, Tears And Some Nostalgia

By The Associated Press

Christmas brings on heart-warming smiles, tears. . .and some nostalgia.

The homes of the Robert Bruns family and the Robert Burns family are adjacent at Liberty, N.Y. . .and you can imagine the confusion with all the incoming Christmas cards. Mrs. Bruns and Mrs. Burns gave up and are saving the piles of mail, getting together periodically to sort it.

Lila Latham, 23, and Don Harper, 24, are getting married Christmas Eve. . .in wheel chairs at Corpus Christi, Tex. Both were stricken with polio while in their teens.

John S. Nettleship, sports editor, from San Luis Obispo, Calif., and Alfred Maranai, a football player, will be visited by their families Christmas in a Toledo, Ohio, hospital. They are survivors of an Oct. 29 that killed 22 persons, most of them members of the Cal Poly team.

George C. Klippert of New York is getting the proceeds of his own life insurance policy this Dec. 25. That's the anniversary date of his policy. He's 96 and he outlived insurance mortality tables and so is entitled to collect on his own policy. The insurance firm said the odds he beat were 100,000 to 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Posa, both 80, are getting a Christmas package at Santa Monica, Calif. The package is supposed to be from their son, Air Force Capt. Eugene Posa but it is really from Capt. Posa's brother, Philip. The captain was one of seven men aboard an unarmed RB47 weather plane shot down by Russians over Barents Sea July 1. He is listed as officially missing but the parents were never told. Philip says the shock would be too much for the elderly parents.

The National Wildlife Federation says Americans will buy more than 40 million yule trees worth $50 million.

This will be the last Christmas in the White House for the Dwight D. Eisenhower family. The President, Mrs. Eisenhower, their son, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, their daughter-in-law, and their four grandchildren will be there.

Weirton Youths Held On Burglary Charges

WEIRTON — Two Weirton youths were bound over to the January Grand Jury at hearings today before Municipal Court Judge Norman J. Ferrari Jr.

Phillip Thomas Gregory, 20, was arrested Thursday at 7:45 p. m. in connection with a breaking and entering of the Casino Bar in which $84 was taken.

Nelson S. Byrom, 18, was cited for a breaking and entering of the Valley View Restaurant in which $54 was stolen Dec. 10.

Both were returned to County Jail in New Cumberland in lieu of $5,000 bonds to await the new Hancock County court term next month.

Defiance Fire Damage Estimated At $50,000

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Fire early today destroyed a frame two - story building housing the Howard Lorenzen Furniture Co. causing loss estimated at $50,000.

The store is situated in east Defiance.

No one was injured, but firemen battled the flames in subzero temperatures. The blaze leveled the building, part of which was constructed in 1888.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Lorenzen estimated the loss to he contents of the building at between $30,000 and $40,000.

istered oxygen to Mrs. Neal before she was removed to the hospital in an ambulance. Firemen said Mrs. Neal also injured her back, apparently when she fell to the floor when overcome.

Police received a telephoned report at 5:59 p. m. from George Deshler, 314 Jefferson St., that Mrs. Neal had not removed the newspaper from her front porch and did not answer her phone. He asked officers to investigate, fearing she was ill.

Patrolman K. H. Mooney, desk officer, relayed the report to Officers Furgason and Smith, who went to investigate, joined shortly by Lt. Walker. When there was no response to their knocks, the two patrolmen directed flashlight beams through a window and saw Mrs. Neal lying on the livingroom floor near a gas heating stove that was burning with a high flame.

Lt. Walker and Patrolman Mooney kicked in two doors to reach the unconscious woman, then summoned the firemen's emergency truck and an ambulance.

Firemen reported radiant heaters were burning in the livingroom and the diningroom and the burners of the kitchen range also were lighted. The heater in the livingroom was not vented properly and the kitchen range showed signs of incomplete combustion of gas, firemen said. The firemen's report was based on an investigation made by employes of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Cabinet Suspends Law

Cuba's Purge Of Judges Tied To Land Confiscation

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — The reorganization and purge of Cuba's judiciary apparently is the result of court decisions raising the Castro government's valuations of confiscated lands.

A cabinet decree Wednesday suspended for 45 days a law preventing the removal of judges and gave President Osvaldo Dorticos authority to fire or reassign all judicial officers.

Many court decisions have rebuffed the National Institute of Agrarian Reform (INRA) for setting low prices on lands it seized.

INRA Director Antonio Nunez Jimenez warned several months ago that if judges did not adapt themselves to the "revolutionary spirit," the courts would have to be reorganized.

The cabinet decree ordered the supreme court's judges reduced from 31 to 15. Thirteen of the judges were dropped immediately but most of them already had defected or resigned.

Among them was the court president, Emilio Menendez, who last month charged the government with "totalitarian procedures" and took asylum in the Argentine embassy. This week he went to Argentina.

Following the decree a columnist in the government-controlled El Mundo said: "The tree of judgeship is going to be shaken to its roots."

The possible extent of the judicial fallout by government shaking of the tree was indicated by another exiled supreme court judge, Francisco Alabau - Trelles. He said in Miami that 411 of Cuba's 528 judges had secretly declared the Castro regime pro-Communist and illegitimate. Changes are expected to be accomplished rapidly.

In a speech last Saturday, Prime Minister Fidel Castro threatened to apply a "surgical knife" to the judiciary for failing to see the revolutionary light.

The government-controlled lawyers association said the new decree "puts in revolutionary hands the high mission of administering justice, wiping out those who, taking advantage of their special situation, dared convert the tribunals and lower courts into counter-revolutionary trenches."

Legal sources have been predicting for some time the establishment at the lower levels of Communist - type "people's" courts, composed perhaps of one trained judge and two laymen. This can now be accomplished any time the regime wants it.

Boy, 5, Survives Horrifying Accident, Delicate Operation

They say that with good reason, for Stephen has come through a horrifying accident and one of the most delicate brain operations ever performed in New England.

Mrs. John D. Bloom heard a fall last June 22 as Stephen and one of his two sisters played in their father's basement workshop. She rushed down. Stephen was pulling the tip of a rabbit-ear television antenna from under his right eye. He had fallen on it.

At Newport Hospital four stitches closed the wound. X-rays showed nothing. That night Stephen turned rapidly worse. Next morning doctors advised his transfer to Boston Children's Medical Center.

Swift tests showed brain damage. Dr. John Shillito Jr., Boston neurosurgeon, discovered what the X-rays could not show, that the plastic knob from the antenna was lodged several inches behind Stephen's right eye—in his brain. But the eye, itself was all right.

Bacteria already had started an infection. Dr. Shillito said all that could be done was to operate "and pray."

After a scalp incision from ear to ear, the surgeon moved deeper into Stephen's brain. For nearly six hours Dr. Shillito worked through the maze of delicate tissues and nerve cells. He removed the know while colleagues assisted.

For three months, Stephen was like an infant.

Then came a change that Dr. Shillito had forecast. Stephen suddenly made new progress. He began walking by himself. He began to talk like his 5-year-old pals.

City Man Goes To Pen For Parole Violation

Wayne Defenbaugh, 50, of East Liverpool was conveyed today to the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus by sheriff's deputies to serve a 1-20 year term for burglary.

Defenbaugh, charged with failure to obey probation conditions, was originally arrested for burglary of the Army & Navy Store of E. 6th St. about 4 years ago. He was due for release from probation next August had he not violated its terms.

Deputies also transferred John Watson, 43, of Salem to the penitentiary to serve 1-3 years for non-support of his minor children.

Dam 7 which said skim ice is beginning to form in the river, reported a high of only 14 degrees since noon yesterday.

The high range today will be 7 to 10, according to the Ohio forecaster, and tonight's low will go to near zero, which will thicken the ice. Heavier ice was developing on the Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers but towboat traffic was breaking it up.

The brisk wind continued this morning but it seemed to have less bite for pedestrians who waded through churned snow still covering streets outside the business district.

Street department crews worked for the second consecutive night to remove the heavy accumulation of snow from curbside parking spaces in the business district.

The workers finished the clean-up job on the east end of E. 6th St. and the Diamond and Washington St., Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver said. Work was continuing this morning on sections of Broadway and St. Clair Ave.

The next job will be to remove deep accumulations of snow from some busy intersections such as Walnut St. at St. Clair Ave., the director said. When a motorist upbound on Walnut St. is required to stop for St. Clair Ave.—the main thoroughfare — the deep accumulation of snow makes it difficult for him to get his car moving again, the director said.

The slow warming trend may continue through Sunday, then turn colder about Tuesday, according to the five-day forecast. There will be occasional periods of snow in the northern part of the state throughout next week.

Toledo was coldest with 10 below zero, and Chesapeake was warmest with 9 above. Dayton had 8 below, Columbus -1, Cleveland -5, Findlay -8, Cincinnati -1, and Marietta 5 above.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents Can Help Child Improve Marks

Some youths at the secondary and college level fail, or barely make the grade, because they don't study diligently. They lack self-discipline and habits of hard work. Many other youths conscientiously toil over their books, some of them to an excessive degree, and still have a hard time winning success at their studies, or even fail outright. Among these are many students of average or superior mental ability. But they have failed to cultivate good ways of learning. Foremost among their troubles is that they have never acquired good skills at reading. They may not have learned to take mental or written notes well in class or while reading homework assignments.

THEY MAY try to remember mere words or sentences heard in class or read from the printed page, instead of turning these into a few meaningful words of their own. They may rarely or never review what they have learned until just before an announced time for examinations.

To the youth who wishes to learn more effectively in class and at his homework, let me offer a few suggestions:

1. Drive yourself to be alert and attentive in class.

When some fact or idea is presented which you don't understand, either ask the teacher, then or later, to explain further, or make yourself dig it out from a textbook or reference book during your study periods at school or at home.

Evaluate your success during the class period in terms of how well you could have answered or explained every item considered there, whether you had been called on or not.

Be especially alert when assignments are made.

2. MAKE MENTAL or written notes of every item considered in class you think important. Make your written notes short and state facts in your own words.

Read your written notes each evening on beginning your homework and recall the main things you learned that day.

3. On studying your outside assignments, turn each paragraph into a sentence or more of your own words. When you have covered the assignment, recall these statements of yours, pausing to memorize the most important items.

4. If you find you read very slowly and have trouble getting meaning from the printed page, practice in private for ten or 15 minutes a day at reading material much easier to read than your textbooks.

You may find more suggestions in my bulletins "Tips for Students" and "Home Helps for Poor Readers II", to be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Former Matrons Of OES Chapter Give Yule Dinner

"The Christmas Story" was read by Mrs. Gladys Keys at the annual dinner party of the Past Matrons Association of Crystal Chapter 18, Order of Eastern Star, Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Twenty-two attended.

Mrs. Nellie McLain accompanied carol singing. Mrs. Jennie Mackall, president, presided for business. Mrs. Olive Kress read the minutes and financial report.

Mrs. Bea Boughner, junior past worthy matron, was received as a new member and Mrs. Dolores Vale was welcomed as the new worthy matron.

Mrs. Genevieve Hoffman, incoming president, distributed program booklets for the coming year. "Bible Personalities" will be the study. The black and red covers featured members' names inscribed in gold.

The dinner table was highlighted with a pink maline tree flanked by pink tapers in silver holders. Reindeers and placecards completed the setting. Favors were miniature gavels.

Mrs. Olive McDowell, Mrs. Celia Kinsey, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Hall were in charge of arrangements. A "dutch treat" dinner will be held Jan. 18 at the hotel. Mrs. Nellie McLain, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Kress will be hostesse.

Seekers Of Yule Trees Cut 2 At Weirton Club

Owners of the Pleasant Valley Country Club reported today two evergreens on the golf course were chopped down this week.

One was a 5-foot-high short-needle spruce along the fairway of No. 9 hole, the other red pine in the area of No. 7.

Herb Shreves, manager, said neither tree could be considered desirable for trimming. Perhaps they were cut by a golfer whose drive landed in the rough this summer, behind one of the trees, was the wry comment of the manager.

Man, 78, Dies In Fire Which Destroys Home

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—John Weaver, 78, died Thursday afternoon in a fire which destroyed his small frame home at Gibson Station southeast of Cambridge in Guernsey County.

Weaver, a retired railroad man and farmer, was found dead at the rear door of his home. Coroner W. A. Larrick said he may have died of a heart attack after dragging a trunk from the blazing house and returning to save more possessions. He lived alone.

Turkey On Menu At Home And Jail

LISBON — Christmas dinners of turkey and all the trimmings will be served residents of the County Home and prisoners in the County Jail Sunday.

The home's 98 residents will have turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, peas, cole slaw, cranberry sauce and ice cream and cookies for their Christmas meal, according to Mrs. Russell Phillis, matron.

The jail's 35 inmates will feast on turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, peas, cranberry sauce and cake, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

38 Youngsters Feted By Kiwanis Members

Santa Claus distributed the gift packages which included clothing, a toy, candy, apple and orange. John Mostoller read the Christmas story from the Bible, and five Key Club members assisted the children.

Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, was a guest. Marion Horger was chairman for the annual treat provided by members by personal contributions and not from club funds.

'Operation Mop Up' Begins At Post Office

Postal workers began "Operation Mop Up" today to clear the Post Office of all Christmas mail for the holiday, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

Brown said carriers were delaying starting their deliveries until 11 a. m. so the mail in the office could be processed and distributed. On some routes, two deliveries will be made, he said.

Many special delivery items, including cards and parcels, are being received now but the volume is greatly reduced, the postmaster said. Some 26,000 cancelations were recorded Thursday.

Mary

not win. They do not nourish the heart, nor fill the void in man.

There was no room in the inn. The place surged with voices, smoke and smells of roasting meat. Distressed, Joseph grabbed the halter rope and started off again. Dogs barked; peddlers babbled and drays trundled in the deepening dusk.

He led the donkey down a slope at the rear of the hostelry. In the distant valley he could see the campfires of shepherds. Early stars blinked over the mountains of Moab.

He heard Mary moan, and quickly stepped back beside her.

"Take me down," she urged, "for that which is within me presses to come forth."

"Wither shall I take thee?"

His voice was desperate, and his hands closed over hers commiseratingly. They must go on. They could not stop here in the open on this gravel-strewn hill.

She compressed her lips, nodding. He tugged the donkey on down the hill, along a cliff, his eyes straining to find the livestock cave of which the inkeeper had spoken. Night's sharp chill settled over them. He dragged at the rope, and the donkey held back stiff-leggedly, braying.

"Take me down," she gasped again, "for that which is within me mightily presses me."

At that moment, he spied the dark opening in the wall of rock. He rushed back to her, lifting her in his arms and carrying her into the warmer interior, moving slowly in the blackness, hearing the grunts and breathing of animals about him.

HE PROBED with his feet, found an open space and laid her down. Groping, he collected some straw for a mattress and lifted her on it, rolling his cloak for her head.

He rushed back outside, gathered dry grass and wood and struck fire with his flint, blowing until it strenghthened into flame. He jerked the waterskin from the stubborn beast's pack, filled a basin and put in on the fire. Then he fashioned an oil torch and jammed it in a crevice on the cavern wall. He knelt beside her stroking her hot brow.

Art thou quiet?"

She murmured, opening her eyes to look up at him, and then abruptly wrenched her face away, the cords tightening in her neck. In a moment, she turned back, smiling weakly, and motioned him outside.

The world slept now. It retreated and slumbered, unaware, uncomprehending, oblivious. Broken from its moorings, it drifted in vague, lovelorn discontent, gross, amorphous, without daring or certain destiny.

Where was its meaning? What was its use? A man is but dust in the march of centuries. He felt no all-surpassing love. To him, his God was distant, grand, obscure and rigidly implacable, beyond the stretch of scrawny human arms.

But on this night, that gloomy barricade was swept aside, and all the haunting, shadowy emptiness of man was flooded with the fact of love.

JOSEPH WAS pacing outside the cave, and suddenly, although he still walked, his legs seemed motionless. He lifted a hand to his face, but his arm did not seem to move. The earth held still, and he beheld the heavens in amazement.

The milky way blazed like a highway of silver. A warm tide banished the chill of earth, and loosed the scene of grass and spring and Eden flowers. Veils of light, draped the sky. A million birds singing? No. An angel army.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace among men with whom He is pleased.

A thousand miles away, distinguished wise men studied the stars, and in the valley, wide-eyed shepherds huddled in awe. Joseph whirled and saw the white brilliance filling the cave. It blurred his eyes, and he stumbled toward it.

And the word became flesh and dwelt among us.

He was here. Now! Theophany on earth! He had come. He cared. Was man worth it? That God should take upon himself the form of a helpless babe in a draughty, dung-strewn cave? Yes, man was worth it. He was loved, dearly loved. He was important, in God's sight.

That was the motive, the meaning, the reason for it all, the making, and health of man—the Divine embrace.

Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

And this world was dignified, too, its grime and its flesh and its musty stables. For this is where God came. This is where grace was given. Right in the midst of the shabbiest, dreariest gash in the earth. Not in some rarefied sanctum. But in the seamy world itself, where man lives and works.

JOSEPH, shielding his face, plunged into the argent radiance. It pulsed and simmered, and then receded, scattering like a jeweled mist. He could see faintly, and then quite well. All was just as before, the dull stone, the littered floor, the torch on the wall.

Except that now she was up and moving about, dark hollows beneath her eyes, but smiling. In her arms, she held her first-born son. Immanuel, "God with us."

So this was He. The unsearchable, the Unknown. So now men knew. This is what He was like. And He had come to show them, to make them see, and know forever, that He was with them, intimately near, intimately concerned.

Despite men's grievous ways, He still was here. Despite their blunted responses, He came. Humbling himself, offering himself, tenting in the slums and tribulations of man. This was God. The absolute, the invincible, the power that is constant, enduring, the ultimate. This was the Almighty. This was love.

Parents Can Help Child Improve Marks

Some youths at the secondary and college level fail, or barely make the grade, because they don't study diligently. They lack self-discipline and habits of hard work. Many other youths conscientiously toil over their books, some of them to an excessive degree, and still have a hard time winning success at their studies, or even fail outright. Among these are many students of average or superior mental ability. But they have failed to cultivate good ways of learning. Foremost among their troubles is that they have never acquired good skills at reading. They may not have learned to take mental or written notes well in class or while reading homework assignments.

THEY MAY try to remember mere words or sentences heard in class or read from the printed page, instead of turning these into a few meaningful words of their own. They may rarely or never review what they have learned until just before an announced time for examinations.

To the youth who wishes to learn more effectively in class and at his homework, let me offer a few suggestions:

1. Drive yourself to be alert and attentive in class.

When some fact or idea is presented which you don't understand, either ask the teacher, then or later, to explain further, or make yourself dig it out from a textbook or reference book during your study periods at school or at home.

Evaluate your success during the class period in terms of how well you could have answered or explained every item considered there, whether you had been called on or not.

Be especially alert when assignments are made.

2. MAKE MENTAL or written notes of every item considered in class you think important. Make your written notes short and state facts in your own words.

Read your written notes each evening on beginning your homework and recall the main things you learned that day.

3. On studying your outside assignments, turn each paragraph into a sentence or more of your own words. When you have covered the assignment, recall these statements of yours, pausing to memorize the most important items.

4. If you find you read very slowly and have trouble getting meaning from the printed page, practice in private for ten or 15 minutes a day at reading material much easier to read than your textbooks.

You may find more suggestions in my bulletins "Tips for Students" and "Home Helps for Poor Readers II", to be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Former Matrons Of OES Chapter Give Yule Dinner

"The Christmas Story" was read by Mrs. Gladys Keys at the annual dinner party of the Past Matrons Association of Crystal Chapter 18, Order of Eastern Star, Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Twenty-two attended.

Mrs. Nellie McLain accompanied carol singing. Mrs. Jennie Mackall, president, presided for business. Mrs. Olive Kress read the minutes and financial report.

Mrs. Bea Boughner, junior past worthy matron, was received as a new member and Mrs. Dolores Vale was welcomed as the new worthy matron.

Mrs. Genevieve Hoffman, incoming president, distributed program booklets for the coming year. "Bible Personalities" will be the study. The black and red covers featured members' names inscribed in gold.

The dinner table was highlighted with a pink maline tree flanked by pink tapers in silver holders. Reindeers and placecards completed the setting. Favors were miniature gavels.

Mrs. Olive McDowell, Mrs. Celia Kinsey, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Hall were in charge of arrangements. A "dutch treat" dinner will be held Jan. 18 at the hotel. Mrs. Nellie McLain, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Kress will be hostesse.

Seekers Of Yule Trees Cut 2 At Weirton Club

Owners of the Pleasant Valley Country Club reported today two evergreens on the golf course were chopped down this week.

One was a 5-foot-high short-needle spruce along the fairway of No. 9 hole, the other red pine in the area of No. 7.

Herb Shreves, manager, said neither tree could be considered desirable for trimming. Perhaps they were cut by a golfer whose drive landed in the rough this summer, behind one of the trees, was the wry comment of the manager.

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—John Weaver, 78, died Thursday afternoon in a fire which destroyed his small frame home at Gibson Station southeast of Cambridge in Guernsey County.

Weaver, a retired railroad man and farmer, was found dead at the rear door of his home. Coroner W. A. Larrick said he may have died of a heart attack after dragging a trunk from the blazing house and returning to save more possessions. He lived alone.

Turkey On Menu At Home And Jail

LISBON — Christmas dinners of turkey and all the trimmings will be served residents of the County Home and prisoners in the County Jail Sunday.

The home's 98 residents will have turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, peas, cole slaw, cranberry sauce and ice cream and cookies for their Christmas meal, according to Mrs. Russell Phillis, matron.

The jail's 35 inmates will feast on turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, peas, cranberry sauce and cake, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

38 Youngsters Feted By Kiwanis Members

Santa Claus distributed the gift packages which included clothing, a toy, candy, apple and orange. John Mostoller read the Christmas story from the Bible, and five Key Club members assisted the children.

Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, was a guest. Marion Horger was chairman for the annual treat provided by members by personal contributions and not from club funds.

'Operation Mop Up' Begins At Post Office

Postal workers began "Operation Mop Up" today to clear the Post Office of all Christmas mail for the holiday, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

Brown said carriers were delaying starting their deliveries until 11 a. m. so the mail in the office could be processed and distributed. On some routes, two deliveries will be made, he said.

Many special delivery items, including cards and parcels, are being received now but the volume is greatly reduced, the postmaster said. Some 26,000 cancelations were recorded Thursday.

not win. They do not nourish the heart, nor fill the void in man.

There was no room in the inn. The place surged with voices, smoke and smells of roasting meat. Distressed, Joseph grabbed the halter rope and started off again. Dogs barked; peddlers babbled and drays trundled in the deepening dusk.

He led the donkey down a slope at the rear of the hostelry. In the distant valley he could see the campfires of shepherds. Early stars blinked over the mountains of Moab.

He heard Mary moan, and quickly stepped back beside her.

"Take me down," she urged, "for that which is within me presses to come forth."

"Wither shall I take thee?"

His voice was desperate, and his hands closed over hers commiseratingly. They must go on. They could not stop here in the open on this gravel-strewn hill.

She compressed her lips, nodding. He tugged the donkey on down the hill, along a cliff, his eyes straining to find the livestock cave of which the inkeeper had spoken. Night's sharp chill settled over them. He dragged at the rope, and the donkey held back stiff-leggedly, braying.

"Take me down," she gasped again, "for that which is within me mightily presses me."

At that moment, he spied the dark opening in the wall of rock. He rushed back to her, lifting her in his arms and carrying her into the warmer interior, moving slowly in the blackness, hearing the grunts and breathing of animals about him.

HE PROBED with his feet, found an open space and laid her down. Groping, he collected some straw for a mattress and lifted her on it, rolling his cloak for her head.

He rushed back outside, gathered dry grass and wood and struck fire with his flint, blowing until it strenghthened into flame. He jerked the waterskin from the stubborn beast's pack, filled a basin and put in on the fire. Then he fashioned an oil torch and jammed it in a crevice on the cavern wall. He knelt beside her stroking her hot brow.

Art thou quiet?"

She murmured, opening her eyes to look up at him, and then abruptly wrenched her face away, the cords tightening in her neck. In a moment, she turned back, smiling weakly, and motioned him outside.

The world slept now. It retreated and slumbered, unaware, uncomprehending, oblivious. Broken from its moorings, it drifted in vague, lovelorn discontent, gross, amorphous, without daring or certain destiny.

Where was its meaning? What was its use? A man is but dust in the march of centuries. He felt no all-surpassing love. To him, his God was distant, grand, obscure and rigidly implacable, beyond the stretch of scrawny human arms.

But on this night, that gloomy barricade was swept aside, and all the haunting, shadowy emptiness of man was flooded with the fact of love.

JOSEPH WAS pacing outside the cave, and suddenly, although he still walked, his legs seemed motionless. He lifted a hand to his face, but his arm did not seem to move. The earth held still, and he beheld the heavens in amazement.

The milky way blazed like a highway of silver. A warm tide banished the chill of earth, and loosed the scene of grass and spring and Eden flowers. Veils of light, draped the sky. A million birds singing? No. An angel army.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace among men with whom He is pleased.

A thousand miles away, distinguished wise men studied the stars, and in the valley, wide-eyed shepherds huddled in awe. Joseph whirled and saw the white brilliance filling the cave. It blurred his eyes, and he stumbled toward it.

And the word became flesh and dwelt among us.

He was here. Now! Theophany on earth! He had come. He cared. Was man worth it? That God should take upon himself the form of a helpless babe in a draughty, dung-strewn cave? Yes, man was worth it. He was loved, dearly loved. He was important, in God's sight.

That was the motive, the meaning, the reason for it all, the making, and health of man—the Divine embrace.

Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

And this world was dignified, too, its grime and its flesh and its musty stables. For this is where God came. This is where grace was given. Right in the midst of the shabbiest, dreariest gash in the earth. Not in some rarefied sanctum. But in the seamy world itself. where man lives and works.

JOSEPH, shielding his face, plunged into the argent radiance. It pulsed and simmered, and then receded, scattering like a jeweled mist. He could see faintly, and then quite well. All was just as before, the dull stone, the littered floor, the torch on the wall.

Except that now she was up and moving about, dark hollows beneath her eyes, but smiling. In her arms, she held her first-born son. Immanuel, "God with us."

So this was He. The unsearchable, the Unknown. So now men knew. This is what He was like. And He had come to show them, to make them see, and know forever, that He was with them, intimately near, intimately concerned.

Despite men's grievous ways, He still was here. Despite their blunted responses, He came. Humbling himself, offering himself, tenting in the slums and tribulations of man. This was God. The absolute, the invincible, the power that is constant, enduring, the ultimate. This was the Almighty. This was love.

West Virginia Still Held In Frigid Grip

By The Associated Press

Bone-chilling weather continued to grip West Virginia today as residents prepared for a cold, and likely snowy Christmas.

Wheeling had an overnight low of 2, Bluefield and Parkersburg 5, Morgantown 7, Huntington 9 and Elkins and Charleston 10.

The Weather Bureau said snow flurries likely would be confined today to the mountains but would be more general tomorrow. The outlook for Sunday was for possibly a few flurries.

No relief from the cold was in sight, with temperatures through next Wednesday expected to average eight to 15 degrees below the normal for this time of the year.

Two weather - related deaths have been reported in West Virginia. A young woman from Salem was helping push a car stuck in the snow when struck by another auto Tuesday night. A State Road Commission employe suffered a heart attack Wednesday while salting a road near Kermit.

Clothes froze on firemen yesterday as they battled a blaze which destroyed the two-story home of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper W. O'Neal of Moundsville. The couple, their five children and O'Neal's invalid mother escaped burns.

Santa Faced With One Of Toughest Jobs

He must entertain some 160 children of a naval air squadron, grief-stricken by the crash of one of its aircraft.

Two bodies were recovered near the wreckage. An empty life raft and a life preserver were found nearby. The Navy said there is little hope for the other seven crewmen of the plane which went down.

All adult holiday activities for the Maine squadron have been called off because of the crash but, an officer said, the children don't understand and would be disappointed if Santa didn't come as planned.

Three of the youngsters already have opened their Christmas packages.

They are the youngsters of Aviation Machinist Mate 2.C. George P. Smith. They opened their presents last Sunday when dad learned he was going on the flight.

"I may not be home for Christmas," he had said. Smith was aboard the ill-fated plane.

250 Children Attend Party Given By VFW

A puppet show by Raymond Wright and a dog act highlighted the program. Santa Claus distributed treats and toys. Nick Turkaly was chairman.

Boys Raise Funds

Key Club To Cheer 2 Needy Families

The group is spending about $150 to provide Christmas cheer for 2 needy families with a total of 9 children who otherwise might have found it a bleak holiday.

The club, which last year aided two other families, raised the funds through benefit projects, such as dances, car parking, sale of popcorn at football games, and other events. Toys, food and other help will be provided the families, which were certified as needy by Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse. Members also donated foodstuffs.

Steve Cooper and Wayne Locke are co-chairman of the cheer project. The toys and baskets will be distributed Saturday night.

Rarick Fails In Bid To Run For USW Post

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Headquarters of the United Steelworkers Union reported today that steelworker Donald C. Rarick has failed to gain sufficient nominations to run a second time for president of the union.

This means USW President David J. McDonald, who defeated Rarick by slightly less than a 2-to-1 majority in the 1957 election, is assured of re-election Feb. 14. Rarick was his only opponent.

Union headquarters, where nominations were tallied, said only that Rarick, 42, of Nearby White Oak, Pa., did not receive enough nominations to qualify as a candidate. The number he did receive was not disclosed.

McDonald garnered 2,136 nominations from among the union's 2,900 locals in the United States and Canada.

Bylaws of the union require that an aspirant for international office be nominated by at least 40 locals.

Although the union declined to say how many nominations Rarick obtained, The Associated Press learned the figure was about 20.

McDonald, 58, won re-election to the $50,000-a-year presidency by a vote of 404,172 to 223,516.

He leads an insurgent element within the union known as the Organization for Membership Rights, successor to the old Dues Protest Committee formed in 1956 to protest an increase in union dues from $3 to $5 a month.

From Akron-Canton Airport

Rep. Bow Protests Moving Of Air Guard Squadron

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans to move an Air National Guard squadron from Akron-Canton Airport to Clinton County (Ohio) Air Force Base were protested today as unjustified.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, of Canton, urged Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp to reconsider his decision. Bow said neither defense nor economy considerations warranted moving the squadron.

As now composed, the 145th Squadron at Akron - Canton consists of 400 officers and men—most of them part time personnel. They have five C119 Flying Boxcars and their mision is to evacuate sick and wounded.

The guard wants to move the squadron from July to September 1961.

Sharp wrote Bow last month that the heavy duty Clinton County base near Wilmington, Ohio, is more suitable for modernizing this squadron with new planes and a new mission.

What is meant here, said an air guard officer, is that the guard hopes to have the squadron, some time in 1962, converted to air tanker duty.

This would involve equipping the squadron with 10 Kc97s, flying tankers used for fueling planes in the air.

The officers said the Air Force has abandoned plans to have its own flying tankers at Clinton, and that these guard planes would supplant those of the Air Force.

In his letter to Bow, Sharp also wrote:

"The (Clinton County) base is not located close to large centers of population, thus minimizing the usual noise problem."

Bow wrote back he knows of no objection to the noise at Akron-Canton.

"I am concerned by what appears to be abandonment of an extensive and costly installation at Akron - Canton and the dislocation and virtual destruction of an active unit of the Ohio Air National Guard," Bow said.

"It seems certain that residents of the Akron-Canton area now active in this squadron and proficient in the duties required by its mission will not be able to continue to take part if the squadron is moved 200 miles away."

On this point, the air guard said there undoubtedly will be recuitment in the Wilmington area once the squadron is moved.

He also said the Ohio adjutant general has concurred in the plan.

Motorist In Pursuit Case Draws $25 Fine

SALINEVILLE — One of two motorists cited after a police pursuit Saturday was fined by Mayor Kenneth Leishman at a hearing Thursday night. The other forfeited a bond.

Donald R. Everett, 27, of E. Main St. was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation, and Douglass MacArthur Halstead, 18, forfeited $16. They were cited by Tom Wilson, who said they were speeding together.

18 U.S. Doctors Pay Own Way To Help In Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Eighteen American doctors, including two from Ohio, have paid their own way to Jordan to work among cripples of this desert kingdom.

In hospitals from Jerusalem to Amman to Bethlehem, the Americans have made more than 2,500 examinations and brought hope to cripples who were often hidden away as marks of family shame.

All 18 are orthopedic surgeons, members of an informal correspondence group called the Orthopedic Letters club that decided last year to donate its services abroad.

After consultations with the United Nations and the Medico Organization, they picked Jordan, a sun-parched nation packed with refugees and short of medical services.

Jordan has an unusually high incidence of bone and joint tuberculosis and infections, and congenital deformities.

Cloud Names Chairmen Of House Groups

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The names of nine House committee chairmen who will serve during the legislative session starting Jan. 2 were announced Thursday by House Speaker - designate Roger Cloud, R-Bellefontaine.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher of Wooster will head the Finance Committee. Section chairmen of that committee will be Reps. Elton Lahr of Vickery, Sandusky County, general; George A. Meinhart of Middleport, Meigs County, education, and Kenneth L. Beckwith of McConnelsville, welfare.

Rep. Edmund G. James of Caldwell, Noble County, will head the Judiciary Committee, with Reps. Max H. Dennis of Wilmington in charge of the general section and Walter L. White of Lima in charge of a special section of the committee.

Other chairmen are Reps. Thomas D. Ginlesberger of Millersburg, Holmes County, Commerce and Transportation; Francis J. Heft of Lewisville, Monroe County, Conservation; Robert H. Longworth of Carrollton, Education; Harold W. Oyster of Marietta, Elections and Federal Relations; Gail W. Porterfield of Gambier, Knox County, Highways; William W. Milligan of Sidney, Industry and Labor, and Joseph E. Lady of Kenton, Reference.

All chairmen and a majority of committee members will be Republicans because GOP state representatives outnumber Democrats in the coming session.

Hammondsville Men Return To Their Posts

HAMMONDSVILLE — Two area servicemen have completed furloughs with their families and have returned to duty with the Army.

Pvt. Lawrence M. Martin is at Ft. Meade, Md., after a 12-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin. He enlisted July 27 and trained at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Harold VanDyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford VanDyke, returned to Ft. Dix, N. J., and will leave by ship for duty in Germany. He entered the service Aug. 9 and trained at Ft. Knox and at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Pvt. VanDyke was accompanied home by his wife, Mrs. Elaine Martin VanDyke.

200 Attend Yule Party Of Glenmoor Firemen

Santa Claus distributed treats, which area merchants assisted in obtaining, and dancing was held to the music of the Campus Kids Four. Refreshments were served.

The customary Friday night activities at the fire station have been canceled because snow blocks the parking area, firemen said.

Soviets Urge Geneva Talks To Study Laos

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union told Britain today the 1954 Geneva control commission on Indochina should be called into session to consider the situation in Laos.

The suggestion was made in a note handed to the British ambassador in Moscow by the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The substance of the note was broadcast by Moscow radio.

A Foreign Office spokesman in London confirmed the note had been received.

Earlier this week Sir Frank Roberts, British ambassador in Moscow, was instructed to express British concern over Laos and to call attention to the supplies reaching Laos "from outside sources."

The pro-Western regime in Laos has accused the Soviet Union and Communist North Viet Nam of supplying leftist forces with weapons.

In the House of Lords Monday, Lord Home, the foreign secretary, said he instructed Sir Frank to bring to the notice of the Soviet Union a suggestion by Prime Minister Nehru of India that the international commission be reconvened.

Britain and the Soviet Union are cochairmen of the commission set up to supervise the truce worked out for Indochina at Geneva.

Ohioan Is 'Home' For Christmas— For 1-15 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wendell Johnson is "home" for Christmas—and he'll be staying there for 1-15 years.

The Franklin, Ohio, man Thursday pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, and requested a sentence in Ohio Penitentiary so he could have Christmas dinner with friends.

Johnson, 38, served time previously in the penitentiary and at Mansfield Reformatory. Accused of breaking a window in a Columbus jewelry store and stealing jewelry valued at $256, Johnson said he would enter a plea of guilty if he was indicted quickly and sentenced immediately.

Common Pleas Judge Henry L. Holden granted the request and sent Johnson to the penitentiary—for Christmas and then some.

The U. S. Veterans Administration records have shown as many as 13,000 members by the name of John Smith at one time. But the largest complication, however, lies in the fact that some 8,000 of these John Smiths have had no middle name or initial!

Ohio Mercury Due To Climb

By The Associated Press

Sub-zero temperatures prevailed over Ohio Thursday night and early today but the bitter cold will begin moderating somewhat tonight, the Weather Bureau reports.

Snow flurries persisted in the eastern counties as Ohioans continued to dig out from the earlier heavy snowfalls. Traffic movement on the highways and in the cities and towns is still far from normal, but all roads were open to travel and the primary routes in fair shape.

The Weather Bureau said very cold temperatures will continue today with the moderating trend coming Friday night and continuing through Sunday. Temperatures tonight are not expected to climb above the freezing point, however. Generally fair weather will prevail again tonight, with some scattered snow flurries, mostly in the east portion.

The forecasters said a low pressure area is expected to move rapidly southeastward from central Canada today and tonight, spreading light snow over the state Saturday.

Two bodies were recovered near the wreckage. An empty life raft and a life preserver were found nearby. The Navy said there is little hope for the other seven crewmen of the plane which went down.

All adult holiday activities for the Maine squadron have been called off because of the crash but, an officer said, the children don't understand and would be disappointed if Santa didn't come as planned.

Three of the youngsters already have opened their Christmas packages.

They are the youngsters of Aviation Machinist Mate 2.C. George P. Smith. They opened their presents last Sunday when dad learned he was going on the flight.

"I may not be home for Christmas," he had said. Smith was aboard the ill-fated plane.

250 Children Attend Party Given By VFW

A puppet show by Raymond Wright and a dog act highlighted the program. Santa Claus distributed treats and toys. Nick Turkaly was chairman.

Boys Raise Funds

Key Club To Cheer 2 Needy Families

The group is spending about $150 to provide Christmas cheer for 2 needy families with a total of 9 children who otherwise might have found it a bleak holiday.

The club, which last year aided two other families, raised the funds through benefit projects, such as dances, car parking, sale of popcorn at football games, and other events. Toys, food and other help will be provided the families, which were certified as needy by Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse. Members also donated foodstuffs.

Steve Cooper and Wayne Locke are co-chairman of the cheer project. The toys and baskets will be distributed Saturday night.

Rarick Fails In Bid To Run For USW Post

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Headquarters of the United Steelworkers Union reported today that steelworker Donald C. Rarick has failed to gain sufficient nominations to run a second time for president of the union.

This means USW President David J. McDonald, who defeated Rarick by slightly less than a 2-to-1 majority in the 1957 election, is assured of re-election Feb. 14. Rarick was his only opponent.

Union headquarters, where nominations were tallied, said only that Rarick, 42, of Nearby White Oak, Pa., did not receive enough nominations to qualify as a candidate. The number he did receive was not disclosed.

McDonald garnered 2,136 nominations from among the union's 2,900 locals in the United States and Canada.

Bylaws of the union require that an aspirant for international office be nominated by at least 40 locals.

Although the union declined to say how many nominations Rarick obtained, The Associated Press learned the figure was about 20.

McDonald, 58, won re-election to the $50,000-a-year presidency by a vote of 404,172 to 223,516.

He leads an insurgent element within the union known as the Organization for Membership Rights, successor to the old Dues Protest Committee formed in 1956 to protest an increase in union dues from $3 to $5 a month.

From Akron-Canton Airport

Rep. Bow Protests Moving Of Air Guard Squadron

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans to move an Air National Guard squadron from Akron-Canton Airport to Clinton County (Ohio) Air Force Base were protested today as unjustified.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, of Canton, urged Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp to reconsider his decision. Bow said neither defense nor economy considerations warranted moving the squadron.

As now composed, the 145th Squadron at Akron - Canton consists of 400 officers and men—most of them part time personnel. They have five C119 Flying Boxcars and their mision is to evacuate sick and wounded.

The guard wants to move the squadron from July to September 1961.

Sharp wrote Bow last month that the heavy duty Clinton County base near Wilmington, Ohio, is more suitable for modernizing this squadron with new planes and a new mission.

What is meant here, said an air guard officer, is that the guard hopes to have the squadron, some time in 1962, converted to air tanker duty.

This would involve equipping the squadron with 10 Kc97s, flying tankers used for fueling planes in the air.

The officers said the Air Force has abandoned plans to have its own flying tankers at Clinton, and that these guard planes would supplant those of the Air Force.

In his letter to Bow, Sharp also wrote:

Bow wrote back he knows of no objection to the noise at Akron-Canton.

"I am concerned by what appears to be abandonment of an extensive and costly installation at Akron - Canton and the dislocation and virtual destruction of an active unit of the Ohio Air National Guard," Bow said.

"It seems certain that residents of the Akron-Canton area now active in this squadron and proficient in the duties required by its mission will not be able to continue to take part if the squadron is moved 200 miles away."

On this point, the air guard said there undoubtedly will be recuitment in the Wilmington area once the squadron is moved.

He also said the Ohio adjutant general has concurred in the plan.

Motorist In Pursuit Case Draws $25 Fine

SALINEVILLE — One of two motorists cited after a police pursuit Saturday was fined by Mayor Kenneth Leishman at a hearing Thursday night. The other forfeited a bond.

Donald R. Everett, 27, of E. Main St. was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation, and Douglass MacArthur Halstead, 18, forfeited $16. They were cited by Tom Wilson, who said they were speeding together.

GOP Clubs To Meet

COLUMBIANA — The Columbiana Area Republican Men's Club and the Columbiana Republican Women's Club will meet Jan. 10 at the high school to discuss plans for the May 2 primary.

18 U.S. Doctors Pay Own Way To Help In Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Eighteen American doctors, including two from Ohio, have paid their own way to Jordan to work among cripples of this desert kingdom.

In hospitals from Jerusalem to Amman to Bethlehem, the Americans have made more than 2,500 examinations and brought hope to cripples who were often hidden away as marks of family shame.

All 18 are orthopedic surgeons, members of an informal correspondence group called the Orthopedic Letters club that decided last year to donate its services abroad.

After consultations with the United Nations and the Medico Organization, they picked Jordan, a sun-parched nation packed with refugees and short of medical services.

Jordan has an unusually high incidence of bone and joint tuberculosis and infections, and congenital deformities.

Cloud Names Chairmen Of House Groups

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The names of nine House committee chairmen who will serve during the legislative session starting Jan. 2 were announced Thursday by House Speaker - designate Roger Cloud, R-Bellefontaine.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher of Wooster will head the Finance Committee. Section chairmen of that committee will be Reps. Elton Lahr of Vickery, Sandusky County, general; George A. Meinhart of Middleport, Meigs County, education, and Kenneth L. Beckwith of McConnelsville, welfare.

Rep. Edmund G. James of Caldwell, Noble County, will head the Judiciary Committee, with Reps. Max H. Dennis of Wilmington in charge of the general section and Walter L. White of Lima in charge of a special section of the committee.

Other chairmen are Reps. Thomas D. Ginlesberger of Millersburg, Holmes County, Commerce and Transportation; Francis J. Heft of Lewisville, Monroe County, Conservation; Robert H. Longworth of Carrollton, Education; Harold W. Oyster of Marietta, Elections and Federal Relations; Gail W. Porterfield of Gambier, Knox County, Highways; William W. Milligan of Sidney, Industry and Labor, and Joseph E. Lady of Kenton, Reference.

All chairmen and a majority of committee members will be Republicans because GOP state representatives outnumber Democrats in the coming session.

Hammondsville Men Return To Their Posts

HAMMONDSVILLE — Two area servicemen have completed furloughs with their families and have returned to duty with the Army.

Pvt. Lawrence M. Martin is at Ft. Meade, Md., after a 12-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin. He enlisted July 27 and trained at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Harold VanDyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford VanDyke, returned to Ft. Dix, N. J., and will leave by ship for duty in Germany. He entered the service Aug. 9 and trained at Ft. Knox and at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Pvt. VanDyke was accompanied home by his wife, Mrs. Elaine Martin VanDyke.

200 Attend Yule Party Of Glenmoor Firemen

Santa Claus distributed treats, which area merchants assisted in obtaining, and dancing was held to the music of the Campus Kids Four. Refreshments were served.

The customary Friday night activities at the fire station have been canceled because snow blocks the parking area, firemen said.

Soviets Urge Geneva Talks To Study Laos

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union told Britain today the 1954 Geneva control commission on Indochina should be called into session to consider the situation in Laos.

The suggestion was made in a note handed to the British ambassador in Moscow by the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The substance of the note was broadcast by Moscow radio.

A Foreign Office spokesman in London confirmed the note had been received.

Earlier this week Sir Frank Roberts, British ambassador in Moscow, was instructed to express British concern over Laos and to call attention to the supplies reaching Laos "from outside sources."

The pro-Western regime in Laos has accused the Soviet Union and Communist North Viet Nam of supplying leftist forces with weapons.

In the House of Lords Monday, Lord Home, the foreign secretary, said he instructed Sir Frank to bring to the notice of the Soviet Union a suggestion by Prime Minister Nehru of India that the international commission be reconvened.

Britain and the Soviet Union are cochairmen of the commission set up to supervise the truce worked out for Indochina at Geneva.

Ohioan Is 'Home' For Christmas— For 1-15 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wendell Johnson is "home" for Christmas—and he'll be staying there for 1-15 years.

The Franklin, Ohio, man Thursday pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, and requested a sentence in Ohio Penitentiary so he could have Christmas dinner with friends.

Johnson, 38, served time previously in the penitentiary and at Mansfield Reformatory. Accused of breaking a window in a Columbus jewelry store and stealing jewelry valued at $256, Johnson said he would enter a plea of guilty if he was indicted quickly and sentenced immediately.

Common Pleas Judge Henry L. Holden granted the request and sent Johnson to the penitentiary—for Christmas and then some.

The U. S. Veterans Administration records have shown as many as 13,000 members by the name of John Smith at one time. But the largest complication, however, lies in the fact that some 8,000 of these John Smiths have had no middle name or initial!

Ohio Mercury Due To Climb

By The Associated Press

Sub-zero temperatures prevailed over Ohio Thursday night and early today but the bitter cold will begin moderating somewhat tonight, the Weather Bureau reports.

Snow flurries persisted in the eastern counties as Ohioans continued to dig out from the earlier heavy snowfalls. Traffic movement on the highways and in the cities and towns is still far from normal, but all roads were open to travel and the primary routes in fair shape.

The Weather Bureau said very cold temperatures will continue today with the moderating trend coming Friday night and continuing through Sunday. Temperatures tonight are not expected to climb above the freezing point, however. Generally fair weather will prevail again tonight, with some scattered snow flurries, mostly in the east portion.

The forecasters said a low pressure area is expected to move rapidly southeastward from central Canada today and tonight, spreading light snow over the state Saturday.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

The Same Old-New Winters

"Whatever you do, fella, don't say there's a new Jonathan Winters," says Jonathan Winters.

"But I was told by the image-makers at NBC that you're a new man—calm, philosophical and revered by our best executives."

Hal Humphrey

"I'll level with you. It's true I don't play waiter any more when I'm in a restaurant, and I don't jump up and down in elevators," Winters confides.

"But you don't want me to mention these things?"

"That's right. It only causes trouble. Already some of these executives you mentioned are getting worried. One of them came up to me the other afternoon at rehearsal and said, 'What are you becoming — an introvert? You're very quiet. Is something the matter?' "

WINTERS TRIED to assure his interrogator that he was still the same lovable clown.

"I couldn't go too far, though," says Winters. "If I had made a funny face or lapsed into my Grandma Frickert character, I could just hear him walking away and mumbling, 'The boy is still sick.' "

Ever since his breakdown in San Francisco a year and a half ago, Winters has found that most of us want to believe the worst.

"Before that, I used to hear agents and producers discussing in corners whether or not they could depend on me. Now that I am what they are calling 'the new Winters,' they worry about my conservatism."

"GIVE ME a couple of examples."

"Well, just the other day one of them says, "Jonathan, are you insecure?' I says why, and he says, 'Because I see you're driving a compact.'

"I know, I could turn it in on a foreign car, but then I'd be labeled a status-seeker, or maybe even sick. I'm getting a little tired of this sick-comic routine, too."

"You mean the sick-joke school type of thing?"

"Yeah, like it had just been invented by the new comics. Let me ask you, what is sicker than the Three Stooges going around slapping and poking each other in the eyes?

"I love Laurel and Hardy, but when a piano falls on Ollie, and Stan just looks at him and sort of gurgles with glee, isn't that a big sick?"

WINTERS had finished pre-taping Shirley Temple's coming Christmas Day show, "Babes in Toyland," out here when he got a call from New York asking if he would substitute for Jack Paar on the Monday holiday following Christmas.

"They said Jack wanted that day off, but when I told them I wanted the day off to be with my family, too, they were shocked—the agent and everybody.

"I'm through running from one thing to another. What I'd like to do is a movie or two. That's the way for a guy like me to save himself. You do a movie, and then you don't have to do anything else for six months, and people aren't getting tired of you."

THE MOVIE COLONY is overlooking a good thing in Winters. His playing of Lord Nikidik in Shirley Temple's "Land of Oz" TV show last September was an excellent bit of buffoonery. It's 10-1 he will do as well with the miserly old Uncle Barnaby in "Babes in Toyland."

"I just wish you could do what you can afford in Hollywood," says Winters. "I thought about checking into a little off-Hollywood hotel while I was here, but I was told I'd never get into a movie if I did.

"A would-be friend said to me, 'Look, Johnny Boy, this producer is interested in you, but he's a busy man, making five pictures, and one of them in the Himalayas. He hasn't got time to listen to you tell him how to get to this little hotel. He only knows how to get to the Beverly Hills Hotel.' "

"So, what did you do?"

"I checked into the Beverly Hills Hotel," says the old-new Jonathan Winters.

Deadline Near For Report Of Vote Expense

In a rush to beat the deadline this afternoon at 4, seven more candidates and committees have filed with the County Election Board sworn statements of their expenses in the Nov. 8 general election campaign.

The heaviest expenses in the recent reports were listed by Rudy Wilk of Wellsville, defeated Democratic candidate for county commissioner. Wilk said he spent a total of $1,173. He reported $500 in contributions.

Benjamin P. Barrett of Salem, an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state representative, said his campaign cost $544.62. Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, Democrat, who lost in a bid for prosecuting attorney, reported expenses of $550.

William M. Spangler, advisor to "dry" forces in a local option election in Lisbon and adjoining Center Township, reported expenses of $82. The Salem Area Republican Club pent a total of $45.40, according to a report filed by Richard L. Coburn, treasurer.

The Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce said it spent $22.66 in a campaign in support of a community playground levy. The report was filed by James Laughlin, vice president.

The expense statements are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The Election Board staff said virtually all of the required reports have been filed.

High Officials Fear New Unrest In Latin America

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —Government officials and diplomats express belief that a new wave of strikes and violence may break out soon in Latin America.

They see this as the likely result of a meeting here of Communist union leaders and agitators from 11 countries. Especially noted was the presence of delegates from East Germany and Italy—an indication that European agents may be taking a hand in the Latin American situation.

The meeting this month also attracted delegates from Cuba, Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Columbia, Bolivia, Chile and Ecuador.

The conference was called as a "meeting of Latin American workers of the building trades." But Uruguayan authorities, including Montevideo's chief of police, Col. Mario Aguerrondo, called it a "Communist conference of foreign agitators." He said those attending the meeting are well known in their countries as Red agents.

A final communique issued by the delegates called for a "determined fight against American imperialism, which is the main aggressor." The conference also called for the "strengthening of solidarity and coordination among Latin American workers' organizations."

Safety Checks Slated For Vehicles On Pike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Safety checks on vehicles entering the Ohio Turnpike during the holiday season will be made by the State Highway Patrol and toll collectors. Announcing this Thursday, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, said the checks would start at 4 p.m. today and continue at intervals through the holiday season.

Hartford said vehicles would be checked for such defects as bad headlights and taillights and smooth tires. "Drivers will be looked over with the purpose of determining whether they are capable of handling their vehicles properly," he added.

Goodyear To Boost Prices On Airfoam

AKRON, Ohio (AP)--The price of airfoam for the furniture upholstery and allied fields will be increased by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., effective Jan. 10.

Goodyear said the price of pin core airfoam will go up 3 per cent while certain other items will show greater increases. Airform slab or pliofoam—the company's polyurethane cushioning material —prices will not be affected.

G. V. Weinstock, distriet manager, welcomed guests from Lisbon, Salem, East Liverpool, Hanoverton, Columbiana and East Palestine.

Paraplegic Gets 'Mixed Up' After His Nurse Quits

Tried to run her down when she emerged.

Crashed into her parked automobile.

Smashed through the building and rammed into her desk, knocking it three feet.

"I'm sorry. I guess I just got mixed up," John McClure, 37, of suburban Reseda, told police. Unhurt, he was booked Thursday on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon—the car.

Officers said he wrathfully crashed into the office where Miss Ellen Burn, 42, works as a bookkeeper because she quit last September as his nurse. She said he made 80 telephone calls to her about it in three days.

50 Attend Courthouse Christmas Songfest

LISBON — Approximately 50 attended the annual Christmas songfest held Thursday afternoon at the Courthouse. The Rev. C. O. Armstrong, pastor of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, read the Scripture, led singing and gave a talk on Christmas.

Rev. Armstrong was presented cut flowers by Mrs. Frances Morton, retiring county recorder.

Mayors Of Six Ohio Cities Get CAB Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mayors of six Ohio cities have been warned by the Civil Aeronautics Board that if use of their local service airline, Lake Central, does not increase, they may face discontinuation of the service.

The notice was given to the mayors of Dover-New Philadelphia, Marion, Portsmouth, Toledo and Zanesville in a letter from CAB Chairman Whitney Gilliland. The five airports involved are among 29 served by Lake Central, which has headquarters in Indianapolis.

Gilliland said the five airports have not been originating an average of at least five passengers daily. That is the minimum set by the CAB for the 12 months following the initial six months of service, Gilliland wrote, to preclude the board from "in the absence of unusual or compelling circumstances,(instituting) a proceeding to determine whether service to the cities should be discontinued for lack of use."

Gilliland pointed out that the board has substantially expanded local air service, often at considerable expense to the airlines, and to the government in payment of subsidy.

"Unless adequate use is made of the air service, its cost to the government is not warranted, and continuation of service would not be in the best interests of the public," Gilliland said.

"If a city fails to make adequate use of its subsidized services the airline is free, and is encouraged, to ask for a suspension of service even in advance of a board proceeding to terminate the certification."

IBOP Seeks Help For Striking Local

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today appealed to its members throughout the United States and Canada to donate funds to aid Local 237, which has been on strike since Nov. 4 against the Universal Rundle Corp. at Hondo, Tex.

The money will go into the strike fund to assist the members and their local in a fight against a proposal "designed to coerce employes into accepting a completely substandard wage in a new contract," the IBOP said. The union said the sanitary ware firm asked the Texans to "accept a wage proposal of one half of that granted employes in the corporation's other plants in recently-negotiated contracts with the Brotherhood. . ."

The union said contributions from individuals and locals may be mailed to Charles F. Jordan, international secretary - treasurer, at Post Office Box 752. It listed contributions to date, including $660 from 5 local unions and $75 from international officers.

Work To Be Resumed On Pittsburgh Arena

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Work is going to be resumed on Pittsburgh's $22 million civic arena.

The Pittsburgh Building Trades Council and the Public Auditorium Authority reached agreement Thursday on what was described as a union jurisdictional dispute.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Work is expected to resume as soon as weather permits. The completion date is indefinite.

2 Must Pay City $5.75 Each For 25-Cent Violation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two Cincinnati salesmen are going to pay the city of Circleville $5.75 each for 25-cent parking meter violation tickets they received last June.

They said they'd pay up after the Circleville Municipal Court sent warrants here for their arrest in what Hamilton County Sheriff Dan Tehan said "is the silliest thing I've heard of."

The men are Allen J. Sanker and Frank Duffey.

"We've got more important things to do than go out and pick up somebody for somebody else's ridiculous 25-cent ticket," Tehan said after notifying the men of the warrant.

A clerk in the office of Court Clerk Naomi L. Houghton at Circleville told a Cincinnati Enquirer reporter issuance of warrants for non-residents in such violations was not uncommon. She also claimed the men had ignored written notices of the fine and penalty.

New Castle's Fire Loss Put At $300,000

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — A quick-spreading fire, burning out of control for almost three hours, roared through three business buildings Thursday in downtown New Castle.

Unofficial estimates placed the loss at more than $300,000.

The general alarm blaze destroyed a three-story brick dry goods store and wrecked the interiors of a two-story brick jewelry store and another two-story brick structure housing a variety store and a finance office.

None of the establishments had opened when the fire started shortly after 9 a.m.

Mayor Herman Steinbrink, a former fireman who was one of the first on the scene, inhaled an excessive amount of smoke and was hospitalized in fair condition. Police Lt. W. Gilmore Smith also was overcome. He was in good condition. Smoke also hospitalized six firemen.

Some 100 firemen battled the flames in near-zero cold. Ice coated streets and utility wires in the area.

An overheated coal furnace in the basement of the Fisher Bros. dry goods store apparently touched off the blaze, New Castle Fire Chief Pete Rozzi said.

Flames spread to Perelman's Jewelry store and an adjacent building occupied by the Authenreith Dollar Store and a Household Finance Co. office.

Killed By Train

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A New York Central passenger train struck a snow - hauling pickup truck in nearby Ashley Thursday and killed its lone occupant, Lewis E. Kimble, 68, a street department employe in that village. Sheriff Harley Wornstaff quoted the engineer as saying the Cincinnati - to - Cleveland train was traveling 75 miles per hour and its horn was blowing as it roared toward the crossing. Flasher lights were blinking, the sheriff added.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

The Same Old-New Winters

"Whatever you do, fella, don't say there's a new Jonathan Winters," says Jonathan Winters.

"But I was told by the image-makers at NBC that you're a new man—calm, philosophical and revered by our best executives."

Hal Humphrey

"I'll level with you. It's true I don't play waiter any more when I'm in a restaurant, and I don't jump up and down in elevators," Winters confides.

"But you don't want me to mention these things?"

"That's right. It only causes trouble. Already some of these executives you mentioned are getting worried. One of them came up to me the other afternoon at rehearsal and said, 'What are you becoming — an introvert? You're very quiet. Is something the matter?' "

WINTERS TRIED to assure his interrogator that he was still the same lovable clown.

"I couldn't go too far, though," says Winters. "If I had made a funny face or lapsed into my Grandma Frickert character, I could just hear him walking away and mumbling, 'The boy is still sick.' "

Ever since his breakdown in San Francisco a year and a half ago, Winters has found that most of us want to believe the worst.

"Before that, I used to hear agents and producers discussing in corners whether or not they could depend on me. Now that I am what they are calling 'the new Winters,' they worry about my conservatism."

"GIVE ME a couple of examples."

"Well, just the other day one of them says, "Jonathan, are you insecure?' I says why, and he says, 'Because I see you're driving a compact.'

"I know, I could turn it in on a foreign car, but then I'd be labeled a status-seeker, or maybe even sick. I'm getting a little tired of this sick-comic routine, too."

"You mean the sick-joke school type of thing?"

"Yeah, like it had just been invented by the new comics. Let me ask you, what is sicker than the Three Stooges going around slapping and poking each other in the eyes?

"I love Laurel and Hardy, but when a piano falls on Ollie, and Stan just looks at him and sort of gurgles with glee, isn't that a big sick?"

WINTERS had finished pre-taping Shirley Temple's coming Christmas Day show, "Babes in Toyland," out here when he got a call from New York asking if he would substitute for Jack Paar on the Monday holiday following Christmas.

"They said Jack wanted that day off, but when I told them I wanted the day off to be with my family, too, they were shocked—the agent and everybody.

"I'm through running from one thing to another. What I'd like to do is a movie or two. That's the way for a guy like me to save himself. You do a movie, and then you don't have to do anything else for six months, and people aren't getting tired of you."

THE MOVIE COLONY is overlooking a good thing in Winters. His playing of Lord Nikidik in Shirley Temple's "Land of Oz" TV show last September was an excellent bit of buffoonery. It's 10-1 he will do as well with the miserly old Uncle Barnaby in "Babes in Toyland."

"I just wish you could do what you can afford in Hollywood," says Winters. "I thought about checking into a little off-Hollywood hotel while I was here, but I was told I'd never get into a movie if I did.

"A would-be friend said to me, 'Look, Johnny Boy, this producer is interested in you, but he's a busy man, making five pictures, and one of them in the Himalayas. He hasn't got time to listen to you tell him how to get to this little hotel. He only knows how to get to the Beverly Hills Hotel.' "

"So, what did you do?"

Deadline Near For Report Of Vote Expense

In a rush to beat the deadline this afternoon at 4, seven more candidates and committees have filed with the County Election Board sworn statements of their expenses in the Nov. 8 general election campaign.

The heaviest expenses in the recent reports were listed by Rudy Wilk of Wellsville, defeated Democratic candidate for county commissioner. Wilk said he spent a total of $1,173. He reported $500 in contributions.

Benjamin P. Barrett of Salem, an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state representative, said his campaign cost $544.62. Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, Democrat, who lost in a bid for prosecuting attorney, reported expenses of $550.

William M. Spangler, advisor to "dry" forces in a local option election in Lisbon and adjoining Center Township, reported expenses of $82. The Salem Area Republican Club pent a total of $45.40, according to a report filed by Richard L. Coburn, treasurer.

The Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce said it spent $22.66 in a campaign in support of a community playground levy. The report was filed by James Laughlin, vice president.

The expense statements are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The Election Board staff said virtually all of the required reports have been filed.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —Government officials and diplomats express belief that a new wave of strikes and violence may break out soon in Latin America.

They see this as the likely result of a meeting here of Communist union leaders and agitators from 11 countries. Especially noted was the presence of delegates from East Germany and Italy—an indication that European agents may be taking a hand in the Latin American situation.

The meeting this month also attracted delegates from Cuba, Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Columbia, Bolivia, Chile and Ecuador.

The conference was called as a "meeting of Latin American workers of the building trades." But Uruguayan authorities, including Montevideo's chief of police, Col. Mario Aguerrondo, called it a "Communist conference of foreign agitators." He said those attending the meeting are well known in their countries as Red agents.

A final communique issued by the delegates called for a "determined fight against American imperialism, which is the main aggressor." The conference also called for the "strengthening of solidarity and coordination among Latin American workers' organizations."

Safety Checks Slated For Vehicles On Pike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Safety checks on vehicles entering the Ohio Turnpike during the holiday season will be made by the State Highway Patrol and toll collectors. Announcing this Thursday, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, said the checks would start at 4 p.m. today and continue at intervals through the holiday season.

Hartford said vehicles would be checked for such defects as bad headlights and taillights and smooth tires. "Drivers will be looked over with the purpose of determining whether they are capable of handling their vehicles properly," he added.

Goodyear To Boost Prices On Airfoam

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The price of airfoam for the furniture upholstery and allied fields will be increased by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., effective Jan. 10.

Goodyear said the price of pin core airfoam will go up 3 per cent while certain other items will show greater increases. Airform slab or pliofoam—the company's polyurethane cushioning material —prices will not be affected.

Musical numbers were presented by Mrs. Loren Early, Miss Mary Lodge and Mrs. Hepburn. Mrs. Kenneth Mugridge gave a reading.

Lunch was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Harold Kepner, Mrs. Charles Pike, Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm and Mrs. Harry Longanecker.

Insurance Fete Held

Agents of the Nationwide Insurance Co. and their wives held their annual Christmas party with a dinner, a gift exchange and a brief program at New Wilmington tavern Tuesday night.

G. V. Weinstock, district manager, welcomed guests from Lisbon, Salem, East Liverpool, Hanoverton, Columbiana and East Palestine.

Paraplegic Gets 'Mixed Up' After His Nurse Quits

Tried to run her down when she emerged.

Crashed into her parked automobile.

Smashed through the building and rammed into her desk, knocking it three feet.

"I'm sorry. I guess I just got mixed up," John McClure, 37, of suburban Reseda, told police. Unhurt, he was booked Thursday on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon—the car.

Officers said he wrathfully crashed into the office where Miss Ellen Burn, 42, works as a bookkeeper because she quit last September as his nurse. She said he made 80 telephone calls to her about it in three days.

50 Attend Courthouse Christmas Songfest

LISBON — Approximately 50 attended the annual Christmas songfest held Thursday afternoon at the Courthouse. The Rev. C. O. Armstrong, pastor of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, read the Scripture, led singing and gave a talk on Christmas.

Rev. Armstrong was presented cut flowers by Mrs. Frances Morton, retiring county recorder.

Mayors Of Six Ohio Cities Get CAB Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mayors of six Ohio cities have been warned by the Civil Aeronautics Board that if use of their local service airline, Lake Central, does not increase, they may face discontinuation of the service.

The notice was given to the mayors of Dover-New Philadelphia, Marion, Portsmouth, Toledo and Zanesville in a letter from CAB Chairman Whitney Gilliland. The five airports involved are among 29 served by Lake Central, which has headquarters in Indianapolis.

Gilliland said the five airports have not been originating an average of at least five passengers daily. That is the minimum set by the CAB for the 12 months following the initial six months of service, Gilliland wrote, to preclude the board from "in the absence of unusual or compelling circumstances,(instituting) a proceeding to determine whether service to the cities should be discontinued for lack of use."

Gilliland pointed out that the board has substantially expanded local air service, often at considerable expense to the airlines, and to the government in payment of subsidy.

"Unless adequate use is made of the air service, its cost to the government is not warranted, and continuation of service would not be in the best interests of the public," Gilliland said.

"If a city fails to make adequate use of its subsidized services the airline is free, and is encouraged, to ask for a suspension of service even in advance of a board proceeding to terminate the certification."

IBOP Seeks Help For Striking Local

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today appealed to its members throughout the United States and Canada to donate funds to aid Local 237, which has been on strike since Nov. 4 against the Universal Rundle Corp. at Hondo, Tex.

The money will go into the strike fund to assist the members and their local in a fight against a proposal "designed to coerce employes into accepting a completely substandard wage in a new contract," the IBOP said. The union said the sanitary ware firm asked the Texans to "accept a wage proposal of one half of that granted employes in the corporation's other plants in recently-negotiated contracts with the Brotherhood. . ."

The union said contributions from individuals and locals may be mailed to Charles F. Jordan, international secretary - treasurer, at Post Office Box 752. It listed contributions to date, including $660 from 5 local unions and $75 from international officers.

Work To Be Resumed On Pittsburgh Arena

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Work is going to be resumed on Pittsburgh's $22 million civic arena.

The Pittsburgh Building Trades Council and the Public Auditorium Authority reached agreement Thursday on what was described as a union jurisdictional dispute.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Work is expected to resume as soon as weather permits. The completion date is indefinite.

2 Must Pay City $5.75 Each For 25-Cent Violation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two Cincinnati salesmen are going to pay the city of Circleville $5.75 each for 25-cent parking meter violation tickets they received last June.

They said they'd pay up after the Circleville Municipal Court sent warrants here for their arrest in what Hamilton County Sheriff Dan Tehan said "is the silliest thing I've heard of."

The men are Allen J. Sanker and Frank Duffey.

"We've got more important things to do than go out and pick up somebody for somebody else's ridiculous 25-cent ticket," Tehan said after notifying the men of the warrant.

A clerk in the office of Court Clerk Naomi L. Houghton at Circleville told a Cincinnati Enquirer reporter issuance of warrants for non-residents in such violations was not uncommon. She also claimed the men had ignored written notices of the fine and penalty.

New Castle's Fire Loss Put At $300,000

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — A quick-spreading fire, burning out of control for almost three hours, roared through three business buildings Thursday in downtown New Castle.

Unofficial estimates placed the loss at more than $300,000.

The general alarm blaze destroyed a three-story brick dry goods store and wrecked the interiors of a two-story brick jewelry store and another two-story brick structure housing a variety store and a finance office.

None of the establishments had opened when the fire started shortly after 9 a.m.

Mayor Herman Steinbrink, a former fireman who was one of the first on the scene, inhaled an excessive amount of smoke and was hospitalized in fair condition. Police Lt. W. Gilmore Smith also was overcome. He was in good condition. Smoke also hospitalized six firemen.

Some 100 firemen battled the flames in near-zero cold. Ice coated streets and utility wires in the area.

An overheated coal furnace in the basement of the Fisher Bros. dry goods store apparently touched off the blaze, New Castle Fire Chief Pete Rozzi said.

Killed By Train

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A New York Central passenger train struck a snow - hauling pickup truck in nearby Ashley Thursday and killed its lone occupant, Lewis E. Kimble, 68, a street department employe in that village. Sheriff Harley Wornstaff quoted the engineer as saying the Cincinnati - to - Cleveland train was traveling 75 miles per hour and its horn was blowing as it roared toward the crossing. Flasher lights were blinking, the sheriff added.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was married just three months when my husband was shipped overseas. He will be coming home next month and I'm going to San Diego to meet him. We've been separated eight months and I'm so excited I could just faint.

Yesterday Mom announced that she'd like to go with me. She says she has heard such wonderful things about San Diego and she'd love to see the white sand and the sea gulls. I don't want her on this trip. What can I do??—MAD.

Dear Mad: Tell her in plain language this is going to be a second honeymoon, not a bird-watching expedition, and please stay home.

Forbidden Food

Dear Ann: If I'm wrong, tell me. I'm a mother who feels children should not be allowed complete run of the kitchen.

My sister's children go into her refrigerator whenever they feel like it. Any hour of the day or evening they can be found eating in any room of the house.

I have a neighbor whose kids eat all day long. They come over here eating cookies or jam sandwiches and they even walk around gnawing on chicken legs.

My children are poor eaters. If I let them snack between meals they wouldn't have any appetites. My husband says I'm wrong to order them to keep out of the refrigerator. Am I?—AGGRAVATED.

Dear Aggravated: Kids should not be permitted to eat anything they want at any hour of the day or night. Snacks, however, are nourishing and you ought to prepare special things for the children—particularly when they come home from school. Give them a choice and let them help themselves.

I dislike the idea of ordering kids to stay out of the refrigerator. Perhaps one reason your youngsters have poor appetites is that you've made food seem "forbidden" and their little subconscious minds don't know when it's meal time.

Sweet, Gullible Guy

Dear Ann: I've read your column so long I feel you are a close friend. Please help me do what's right. I'm stumped.

Eight months ago I moved into this rooming house. The landlady is a sweet elderly person (reminds me of my own grandmother) and I've grown to admire and respect her.

I always paid the rent by check but last July she asked me to pay her in cash. I agreed, although it occurred to me that she wanted this arrangement to get out of paying income taxes on the money.

I never insulted her by asking for a receipt but now I see this was foolish. Last week she told me I owe her two months back rent and please hurry as she needs the money. I am 22, never have been a dead beat and I'm sure her memory is failing.

Should I spare her feelings, pay the money which she claims I owe her and insist on a receipt from now on?—SONNY.

Dear Sonny: I don't know how well heeled you are but if you've got two months rent to throw away go ahead. It seems to me, however, this would be ridiculous. Most people have enough trouble paying the rent once.

In the future be sure to pay by check. You seem like such a sweet, gullible guy I thought I'd better spell everything out.

TO ANTI-WOMEN DRIVERS: You're wrong. Insurance company statistics show that the mascaraed monsters of the macadam have fewer accidents (per mile driven) than men.

Christmas Eve One Of Finest Hours For Pennsy's Dutch

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—In the still of the last hour of Christmas Eve a man and his wife steal out to the stables and go softly inside, alert for the slightest sound.

"Hear anything yet, Martha," the man says after a while.

"Not yet, Paul, she replied, "but soon. Yes, we shall hear them soon."

They stay until midnight, the dawn of Christmas itself, listening to the converse of the farm animals who serve them throughout the year.

For the farmers in particular believe that anyone who keeps vigil in barn or stable between 11 and 12 o'clock on Christmas Eve will gain the gift of understanding animal talk.

So Martha and Paul, like many before them and many on this same night, are living up to the Pennsylvania Dutch belief that the animal sounds take on special meaning and are comprehensible to human beings, this being a good omen for the new year.

The Pennsylvania Dutch farmer builds many of his Christmas Eve hopes around the barns and the farm stock. Great store is set by what is called farmer's dew, a kind of rustic elixir. Its mystic property is thought to be so beneficial that farmers haul hay into barnyards on Christmas Eve so that it may be moistened by the dew. If that hay is fed to the stock the next morning, so the story goes, none of the animals will be lost in the new year.

The charm works in other ways as well. For example, many a mother puts pieces of bread outdoors, beyond reach of snooping creatures, and after the dew has moistened the bread it is given to the children. That assures no harm will befall them in the coming year.

Born of superstition and perpetuated by custom, these folkways are among the quaintest in the country.

Simplicity rules Christmas observances in most Pennsylvania Dutch households. This is especially true in the sects known as Plain People.

The Amish, just about the strictest of all, give presents only to the children, and even these are merely token gifts. They do not have Christmas trees or lights or decorations. Often they do their shopping after Christmas, when prices are lower. The Mennonites are nearly as austere.

To these people Christmas is fundamentally a religious holiday, the most sacred in the year, not to be marred by frippery.

Ohio Man, 60, Dies From Injuries In Fire

He was Sam Little 60, of near Centerburg in Knox County. A volunteer fireman, Richard Colopy, 23, was wounded in the head and eye when shells exploded in the blaze at Little's home Wednesday. Little's body was taken to the University Hospital morgue for a post-mortem to determine if he, too, suffered wounds from exploding shells that might have proved fatal.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8-12 degrees below normal north to 15 below normal south. Normal high 35 north, 37 south; normal low about 22. A slow warming trend Saturday and Sunday, then turning colder about Tuesday. Precipitation will average one-tenth to one quarter inch in light snow about Sunday, occasional periods of snow north throughout next week, and light snow or rain central and south Monday or Tuesday.

CHEER FOR PATIENTS. Among the numerous Christmas projects of the Salvation Army is the distribution of "Sunshine Baskets" to patients in area rest homes and hospitals. Some of the 300 such tokens of Yule cheer are shown being packed by Maj. Elizabeth Thomas, who tries to find room for just one more in the carton held by Sgt-Maj. William Treleven. Mrs. Thomas is a retired Salvation Army worker and secretary of the League of Mercy, which began passing out the gifts Thursday.

Claud Foster, The Inventor

'Happiest Time Of Year' For Ohio Philanthropist

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP)—To the big, bald man who lies abed in Room 222 of Bellevue Hospital, this is the happiest time of the year.

That is because it is the time of year when many people think about Claud Foster, whose inventive genius and shrewd management enabled him to make millions of dollars he then gave away.

One of them is that today is his 88th birthday, and the second such anniversary he has spent in the hospital room he now refers to as "my home."

Another reason is that it's the Christmas season, and people spend just a little more time thinking of others.

And in some 700 small churches in all 88 counties of Ohio, Christmas music is being played on electric organs bearing little brass placques that read "God-given by Claud Foster."

Of all his philanthropies—and he gave away nearly $4 million in a single summer night of 1952 in his home city of Cleveland—none has given Foster as much satisfaction as the gifts of the organs. Foster spent more than a half million dollars on the organs, which retail for about $1,300 each.

The first of them were installed in May 1958, and the last are going into use in time for Christmas Sunday.

When the program got underway, Foster was immersed in its details. Hundreds of letters poured in. There were application forms—not elaborate, but clearly stating that the applicant church met the one requirement Foster set—that it had no organ and could not afford to buy one.

A map on the wall of his secretary's office showed how the organs would be distributed over Ohio's 88 counties. A round pinhead meant application received; a square pinhead meant application approved; and there were 11 colors for the larger religious denominations and black for all the small ones.

Only about half of the 700 organs had been placed when an automobile accident ended Foster's active participation in the program.

On April 19, 1959, he was driving to a church in Milan where one of his new organs was to be dedicated, and his car collided with another. His skull was fractured. For weeks he was not expected to survive.

Now Foster needs the care of private nurses in three shifts and has the set routine of hospitalization. But his mind is active, and in its memories and through the flood of mail now coming to Room 222, he goes beyond the four walls and touches the world stretching from the snowy slopes outside his window.

"He has the keenest sense of hearing, and he reads without glasses," said his chief nurse, Mrs. Florence Moran.

After an eight-hour sleep, his day starts with the morning paper.

And there are the letters—most of them from persons who never saw Foster:

"Thank you so much for your gift or an organ to the Little Country Church at Waynesburg. You'll never know the blessing you are being by giving these organs for the work of the Lord."

"May you have the joy in your life like the joy you have put in the lives of each of us at Grace Baptist Church."

"In behalf of the Methodist Church at Sparta, we wish to express our appreciation of your generous gift. . . ."

"The Christian Science Society of Burton wishes to thank you for your wonderful gift and to tell you how much we enjoy the fine music."

"We thank God many times for the wonderful little organ you gave the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of New London."

And several hundred more like these.

It has been 35 years since Foster retired, and for the last 12 years he has been giving away the fortune he accumulated through inventing and manufacturing the Gabriel auto horn and Gabriel snubbers, a shock absorber device for automobiles. His gifts exceed $7 million.

"My needs now are small and I no longer have use for the income," he said. "It's more fun to give the whole thing away."

Commissioners Give O.K. To St. Clair Plat

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday approved a plat in Lincoln Heights, 1st Addition of William D. and Roberta J. Allen, in the southeast quarter of Section 20 in St. Clair Township.

The plat includes 6 lots and totals 2.778 acres.

In other business, the board purchased an electric typewriter from the International Business Machines Co. of Youngstown for $400.50 for the clerk of courts office.

As the Courthouse will be closed Monday, the next meeting is Tuesday.

Stolen Evidence

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Burglars who battered open a grocery store safe in nearby Daisy, Tenn., and stole $5,000 tried a foolproof way to remove their fingerprints from the front of the safe. They stole the door.

Gifts Distributed To LaCroft Cubs

The pack is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. Cards were signed for Mike Pelly, who is in the hospital. The Rev. Ray E. Banks of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene thanked the pack for food baskets.

There was group singing accompanied by Kathy Jones at the piano. The attendance flag was won by Dens 1 and 4. Mrs. William Jones led games and refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Shultz, food chairman.

Ohio Soldier Bound Over In Wife Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A Circleville, Ohio, soldier has been bound to Superior Court on a murder charge in the shotgun death of his wife.

Spec. 4 Robert Hartinger of Circleville is charged in the slaying of Mrs. Mary Catherine Hartinger of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Police said Hartinger told conflicting stories at a preliminary hearing Thursday on how the death occurred.

First he said he and his family arrived home and found a man in their house, that the man had a shotgun, a struggle followed, and the gun fired and hit Mrs. Hartinger.

Then, police said, Hartinger said he was unloading the pump-action gun and it fired accidentally, hitting his wife as she was sitting on the bed changing their 4-month-old daughter's diaper.

Hartinger, 24, is stationed at Ft. Benning near here. His wife was 24 on the day of her death. Tentative arrangements call for the baby to be sent to the wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of Chillicothe.

Car Mishap Fatal

3 Brave Intense Cold To Test Diving Suits

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Three highway patrolmen braved 1-above-zero air temperature and freezing waters Thursday to test skin - tight SCUBA diving equipment. The swimmers were Walter Howell of Findlay, Robert Shell of Toledo, and Robert Russell of Fremont, all from the patrol's Findlay post.

After cutting through five inches of ice, they jumped into the quarry at nearby Rudolph to test reactions of both the equipment and themselves in case of an emergency during cold weather.

CHEER FOR PATIENTS. Among the numerous Christmas projects of the Salvation Army is the distribution of "Sunshine Baskets" to patients in area rest homes and hospitals. Some of the 300 such tokens of Yule cheer are shown being packed by Maj. Elizabeth Thomas, who tries to find room for just one more in the carton held by Sgt-Maj. William Treleven. Mrs. Thomas is a retired Salvation Army worker and secretary of the League of Mercy, which began passing out the gifts Thursday.

Ohio Soldier Bound Over In Wife Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A Circleville, Ohio, soldier has been bound to Superior Court on a murder charge in the shotgun death of his wife.

Spec. 4 Robert Hartinger of Circleville is charged in the slaying of Mrs. Mary Catherine Hartinger of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Police said Hartinger told conflicting stories at a preliminary hearing Thursday on how the death occurred.

First he said he and his family arrived home and found a man in their house, that the man had a shotgun, a struggle followed, and the gun fired and hit Mrs. Hartinger.

Then, police said, Hartinger said he was unloading the pump-action gun and it fired accidentally, hitting his wife as she was sitting on the bed changing their 4-month-old daughter's diaper.

Hartinger, 24, is stationed at Ft. Benning near here. His wife was 24 on the day of her death. Tentative arrangements call for the baby to be sent to the wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of Chillicothe.

Car Mishap Fatal

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Neal Martin Barnes, 27, of nearby Grand Rapids, was killed Thursday night when his car left U.S. 24 four miles east of there, the Highway Patrol reported.

3 Brave Intense Cold To Test Diving Suits

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Three highway patrolmen braved 1-above-zero air temperature and freezing waters Thursday to test skin - tight SCUBA diving equipment. The swimmers were Walter Howell of Findlay, Robert Shell of Toledo, and Robert Russell of Fremont, all from the patrol's Findlay post.

After cutting through five inches of ice, they jumped into the quarry at nearby Rudolph to test reactions of both the equipment and themselves in case of an emergency during cold weather.

Christmas Eve One Of Finest Hours For Pennsy's Dutch

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—In the still of the last hour of Christmas Eve a man and his wife steal out to the stables and go softly inside, alert for the slightest sound.

"Hear anything yet, Martha," the man says after a while.

"Not yet, Paul, she replied, "but soon. Yes, we shall hear them soon."

They stay until midnight, the dawn of Christmas itself, listening to the converse of the farm animals who serve them throughout the year.

For the farmers in particular believe that anyone who keeps vigil in barn or stable between 11 and 12 o'clock on Christmas Eve will gain the gift of understanding animal talk.

So Martha and Paul, like many before them and many on this same night, are living up to the Pennsylvania Dutch belief that the animal sounds take on special meaning and are comprehensible to human beings, this being a good omen for the new year.

The Pennsylvania Dutch farmer builds many of his Christmas Eve hopes around the barns and the farm stock. Great store is set by what is called farmer's dew, a kind of rustic elixir. Its mystic property is thought to be so beneficial that farmers haul hay into barnyards on Christmas Eve so that it may be moistened by the dew. If that hay is fed to the stock the next morning, so the story goes, none of the animals will be lost in the new year.

The charm works in other ways as well. For example, many a mother puts pieces of bread outdoors, beyond reach of snooping creatures, and after the dew has moistened the bread it is given to the children. That assures no harm will befall them in the coming year.

Born of superstition and perpetuated by custom, these folkways are among the quaintest in the country.

Simplicity rules Christmas observances in most Pennsylvania Dutch households. This is especially true in the sects known as Plain People.

The Amish, just about the strictest of all, give presents only to the children, and even these are merely token gifts. They do not have Christmas trees or lights or decorations. Often they do their shopping after Christmas, when prices are lower. The Mennonites are nearly as austere.

To these people Christmas is fundamentally a religious holiday, the most sacred in the year, not to be marred by frippery.

Ohio Man, 60, Dies From Injuries In Fire

He was Sam Little 60, of near Centerburg in Knox County. A volunteer fireman, Richard Colopy, 23, was wounded in the head and eye when shells exploded in the blaze at Little's home Wednesday. Little's body was taken to the University Hospital morgue for a post-mortem to determine if he, too, suffered wounds from exploding shells that might have proved fatal.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8-12 degrees below normal north to 15 below normal south. Normal high 35 north, 37 south; normal low about 22. A slow warming trend Saturday and Sunday, then turning colder about Tuesday. Precipitation will average one-tenth to one quarter inch in light snow about Sunday, occasional periods of snow north throughout next week, and light snow or rain central and south Monday or Tuesday.

Claud Foster, The Inventor

'Happiest Time Of Year' For Ohio Philanthropist

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP)—To the big, bald man who lies abed in Room 222 of Bellevue Hospital, this is the happiest time of the year.

That is because it is the time of year when many people think about Claud Foster, whose inventive genius and shrewd management enabled him to make millions of dollars he then gave away.

One of them is that today is his 88th birthday, and the second such anniversary he has spent in the hospital room he now refers to as "my home."

Another reason is that it's the Christmas season, and people spend just a little more time thinking of others.

And in some 700 small churches in all 88 counties of Ohio, Christmas music is being played on electric organs bearing little brass placques that read "God-given by Claud Foster."

Of all his philanthropies—and he gave away nearly $4 million in a single summer night of 1952 in his home city of Cleveland—none has given Foster as much satisfaction as the gifts of the organs. Foster spent more than a half million dollars on the organs, which retail for about $1,300 each.

The first of them were installed in May 1958, and the last are going into use in time for Christmas Sunday.

When the program got underway, Foster was immersed in its details. Hundreds of letters poured in. There were application forms—not elaborate, but clearly stating that the applicant church met the one requirement Foster set—that it had no organ and could not afford to buy one.

A map on the wall of his secretary's office showed how the organs would be distributed over Ohio's 88 counties. A round pinhead meant application received; a square pinhead meant application approved; and there were 11 colors for the larger religious denominations and black for all the small ones.

Only about half of the 700 organs had been placed when an automobile accident ended Foster's active participation in the program.

On April 19, 1959, he was driving to a church in Milan where one of his new organs was to be dedicated, and his car collided with another. His skull was fractured. For weeks he was not expected to survive.

Now Foster needs the care of private nurses in three shifts and has the set routine of hospitalization. But his mind is active, and in its memories and through the flood of mail now coming to Room 222, he goes beyond the four walls and touches the world stretching from the snowy slopes outside his window.

"He has the keenest sense of hearing, and he reads without glasses," said his chief nurse, Mrs. Florence Moran.

After an eight-hour sleep, his day starts with the morning paper.

And there are the letters—most of them from persons who never saw Foster:

"Thank you so much for your gift or an organ to the Little Country Church at Waynesburg. You'll never know the blessing you are being by giving these organs for the work of the Lord."

"May you have the joy in your life like the joy you have put in the lives of each of us at Grace Baptist Church."

"In behalf of the Methodist Church at Sparta, we wish to express our appreciation of your generous gift. . . ."

"The Christian Science Society of Burton wishes to thank you for your wonderful gift and to tell you how much we enjoy the fine music."

"We thank God many times for the wonderful little organ you gave the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of New London."

And several hundred more like these.

It has been 35 years since Foster retired, and for the last 12 years he has been giving away the fortune he accumulated through inventing and manufacturing the Gabriel auto horn and Gabriel snubbers, a shock absorber device for automobiles. His gifts exceed $7 million.

"My needs now are small and I no longer have use for the income," he said. "It's more fun to give the whole thing away."

Commissioners Give O.K. To St. Clair Plat

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday approved a plat in Lincoln Heights, 1st Addition of William D. and Roberta J. Allen, in the southeast quarter of Section 20 in St. Clair Township.

The plat includes 6 lots and totals 2.778 acres.

In other business, the board purchased an electric typewriter from the International Business Machines Co. of Youngstown for $400.50 for the clerk of courts office.

As the Courthouse will be closed Monday, the next meeting is Tuesday.

Stolen Evidence

Gifts Distributed To LaCroft Cubs

The pack is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. Cards were signed for Mike Pelly, who is in the hospital. The Rev. Ray E. Banks of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene thanked the pack for food baskets.

There was group singing accompanied by Kathy Jones at the piano. The attendance flag was won by Dens 1 and 4. Mrs. William Jones led games and refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Shultz, food chairman.

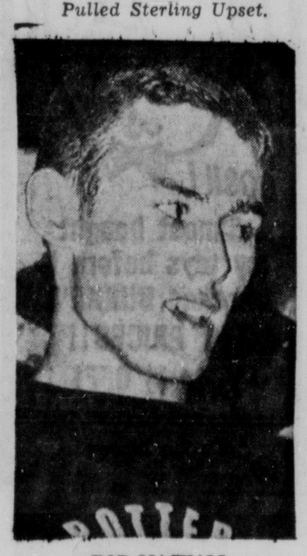
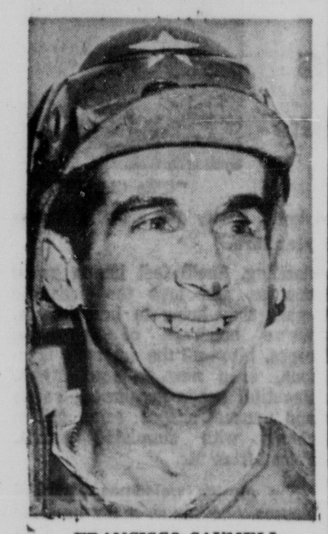
Brooks Pulled Biggest Upset On Local Sports Scene

TOM BROOKS
Pulled Sterling Upset.



BOB MACKALL
Most Valuable In County Meet.



FRANCISCO SAUMELL
Top Rider At Waterford.

Lisbon Sprinter Had Never Seen A Track Meet Until He Won In County

In 1959 the biggest story in sports around the district was East Liverpool's 14-13 upset of Warren.

The 1960 upset award, however, will have to go to an individual and not a team. We feel the upset pulled by TOM BROOKS of Lisbon during the 57th annual Columbiana County track meet tops the list.

The time was May 13, a Friday incidentally that was not unlucky for Brooks.

Before the meet started, ardent track fans waited anxiously for the 100-yard dash event between BOB MACKALL of East Liverpool and East Palestine's GEORGE MORRIS, supposedly the two fastest high school thinclads in the county.

But Brooks, who never saw a track meet before until May 13, came roaring out of the starting blocks, got the jump on the two stars and won the dash in 10.2 on a soft East Palestine track.

Mackall was voted the most valuable award and grabbed high point honors at the County meet, while Salem captured the team title.

TURNING TO football. On the college scene the area was well represented. The big news was made by three East Liverpool products, namely BERNIE ALLEN, NICK MUSURACA and JIM POTTS.

Allen was "Mr. Everything" for Purdue. He passed, ran, punted and kicked field goals and extra points to finish as the Boilermakers leading scorer and most valuable player.

Bernie is now looking ahead to the Blue-Gray game, college baseball, then signing a professional baseball contract sometime this spring. The "Bernie Allen Night" sponsored by the local Elks Club went down as one of the year's top events.

MUSURACA was Denison's top scorer and ground gainer. He was honored by being named to the second All-Ohio conference team. Nick, a sophomore at the Granville school, may go down as Denison's all-time ground gainer before he finishes his career.

Under the direction of Potts, Bowling Green posted an 8-1 record this past season, losing only to small college champion Ohio U.

WELLSVILLE, East Liverpool and Beaver Local provided the top thrills in football on the local high school scene in 1960.

Wellsville, which won 7 lost 2 and tied one, under Coach KEN WOODS, recorded one of its top records in almost 25 years.

Coach LOU VENDITTI came up with a band of fighting Potters who never knew when to quit and turned in one of the most interesting and entertaining seasons in sometime.

The record was 6-5, but no clear indication of some of the great football turned in by the local team.

KENNY CUNNINGHAM placed his name in ELHS record books as the school's greatest passer. He was first team All-Ohio on the United Press International selections and named to the second unit by the Associated Press. He is also the Potters leading scorer in basketball.

SKIP HALL was an outstanding tackle for the Blue and White and was an Associated Press honorable mention pick.

Mark down East Liverpool's gridiron victory over Salem as another upset. Salem entered the game undefeated, but the Potters were on top at the end, 8-6, to wreck the Quakers' season.

THE 1960 Bill Booth award went to halfback JOE THOMPSON, an excellent choice for the coveted trophy. Cunningham was voted the team's most valuable player and named honorary captain.

Out Williamsport way they won't forget the name of RON MCLAUGHLIN for quite awhile. Beaver Local posted a 7-3 record during the season and he was mainly responsible.

The district's leading scorer, McLaughlin tallied 132 points and in one game scored five touchdowns.

The biggest disappointment, however, came at the end of the season when he wasn't even mentioned on an All-State team.

THE BASKETBALL picture wasn't too bright so far as the tournament grind went early in 1960. Midland was the top team record-wise, but was edged by Uniontown in the WPIAL semi-finals.

And 1960 brought a few coaching changes, with George Hamilton, who had been at Midland 10 seasons, leaving to take a similar post at Vandergrift.

The City Baseball League folded, but a County League was formed with the local East Liverpool Merchants winning the title. Bob Gessford was the league's leading hitter.

Before next baseball season rolls around we wish somebody would come up with some ideas for a suitable field. The city is lagging in this department.

ALL SAYRE and CHUCK STEWART made the headlines on the bowling scene. Sayre rolled a 721 series, while Stewart only this week just made it under the 1960 wire and scored a 720. Both series were recorded at the Don-Bus Alleys.

—:—

IN THE world of wrestling, Beaver Local is fast dominating the sport in this area. Coach JACK O'ROURKE'S team was runnerups in the district meet last March and is off and running already this season.

A LONG summer meeting and a short fall session were run at Waterford Park during 1960 as President JIM EDWARDS felt the pains of economic conditions in the area, with attendance and betting down.

Jockey FRANCISCO SAUMELL stole the show among the riders as he crossed the finish line first more times than the others.

Patterson 3-1 Favorite Over Ingemar, But!

This should bring a big smile to Ingo's face, since the betting choice in this rivalry has been knocked off twice.

Patterson was an almost prohibitive 5-1 favorite to win the first fight June 26, 1959, at Yankee Stadium. The big Swede, then unbeaten, blitzed Patterson on a seven - knockdown, third - round technical knockout.

Johansson already has expressed confidence in his ability to regain the crown. He even told Bill Fugazy of the promoting Feature Sports, Inc., to line up "a top contender" for another fight this year in the U. S.

The site and the date for the rubber match was announced Thursday at news conferences in both New York and Miami.

Huskies Schedule Scrimmage Today

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Washington Huskies engage in their first scrimmage today in preparation for their Jan. 2 football game against Minnesota in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

"The boys haven't been coming along as I hoped they would," said Coach Jim Owens, "but maybe this hard contact will be ust what is needed."

Owens gave the squad the afternoon off but they will double up Saturday with a full-scale drill of assignments and another scrimmage in the afternoon.

University of Southern California's head coach, Johnny McKay, says he is picking Minnesota to win the game.

"I hope I'm wrong but I think Minnesota's defense will be too strong" said McKay. "Washington won several close games while Minnesota dominated nearly all its games."

Jack Ardon of Lakewood, N. J., who averaged 15.1 points a game for Tulane's basketball team last season, is majoring in zoology.

New Football League's Loss At $2 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Wismer oozes confidence that his New York Titans and the American Football League are here to stay despite a bath of red ink for both in the first year of operation.

Titans president said his outfit blew $350,000 and all clubs in the league a collective $2 million.

"I'll know I'll get it back because this is the league of the future," said Wismer at a press conference Thursday. "All of our people were prepared to lose money at the outset."

1. A decision to buck the rival New York Giants of the National Football League by playing home dates on Sunday's instead of Friday nights and telecasting the road games back into New York when the Giants are at home. The Giants telecast their Sunday road games into the New York area.

2. An agreement to lease the new Flushing Meadow stadium for 20 years, starting in 1962 when the stadium is expected to be completed.

Wismer said the AFL also will give the NFL a run for the TV money in the Los Angeles area. He said the Los Angeles Chargers will shift their home games to San Diego's Balboa Stadium, and telecast their games into Los Angeles in competition with the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL.

Barron Hilton, owner of the Chargers, was not immediately available for comment. But four days ago, after San Diego sports writers wrote the Chargers would be moved to San Diego, Hilton said he was staying put.

2 Football Assistants Named Head Coaches

CLEVELAND (AP) — Assistant football coaches were named to the head coaching posts at two high schools here Thursday.

John Fentile, assistant at South High for the last two seasons, was named to succeed Bernie McGroarty, who asked to be relieved so he could begin graduate studies at Western Reserve University for a doctorate in education.

Before coming to South High, Gentile, 27, was an assistant football coach at Lorain St. Mary and head coach at St. John Cantius here. He is a graduate of Indiana University.

Richards, a graduate of Ohio State University, has been at John Marshall four years. He is 26.

'Rip' Collins Hired As Coach For Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — James (Rip) Collins, former Chicago Cub and St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, today was hired as a Cub coach.

It was the first coaching appointment since owner P. K. Wrigley two days ago said he may have as many as eight coaches and have them name the club's manager.

North Shows Edge With Kickers Ready

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—If kicking turns out to be a major factor in the Shrine North-South football game in the Orange Bowl Monday night, North figures it has the men who can do it.

"Last year we couldn't find a placekicker until the final day of practice," says Dale Hall of Army, co-coach of the Northerners with Bump Elliott of Michigan. "This year we have three fine kickers in Mike Stock of Northwestern, Henry Opperman of Penn State and Army's Tom Blanda.

"Stock probably will get the call when needed, with Ike Grimsley of Michigan State doing the punting. Bill Brown of Illinois also can punt them a mile."

Paul (Bear) Bryant, who with Darrell Royal of Texas is in charge of the South squad, named his offensive team today. Howard Dyer of VMI will be at quarterback, Bud Whitehead of Florida State and Don Kern of VMI at the halves, and Bobby Way of Vanderbilt at full. Gerald Burch of Georgia Tech and John Schroeder of North Carolina will be at the ends; Charles Linning and John O'Day, both of Miami, at the tackles; Alvin Dalton of SMU and Jim Windham of Houston at the guards; and Bob Barbiere of George Washington at center.

Redlegs' Robinson Wins Slugging Title

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank Robinson's batting average and home run output declined in 1960 but the Cincinnati Reds' outfielder still won the National League slugging championship, official averages confirmed today.

However, his batting average was only .297 compared with .311 in 1959. He had 31 home runs in 1960 and 36 in 1959.

Thorn Is New Star On WVU' Cage Horizon

By DICK LEONARD

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—A kid with one of the longest pairs of arms in collegiate basketball is helping to ease the grief of West Virgina fans over the graduation of two-time All-America Jerry West.

He's Rod Thorn, a 6-4 crewcut sophomore, who—like West—is a product of the West Virginia hills. Thorn's arms are so long that they seem almost to touch the floor when he's standing. He wears a 38-inch sleeve.

His reach enables him to use the two-handed jump shot with deadly effectiveness. The soft-spoken, pre-med student is taking up where West left off last season.

He is averaging 21 points a game, 13.7 rebounds, handled a total of 16 assists and has shot 47.1 per cent.

WVU has won four and lost two.

Thorn, a B-plus student, probably will go into the medical profession.

While a standout at Princeton, W.Va., High School, he received numerous college offers. The West Virginia Legislature passed a resolution imploring him to attend a school within the state's borders.

It wasn't the resolution which prompted Thorn to enroll at WVU. It was a $40 million medical center being built there.

Ohio U. Announces 9-Game Grid Slate

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Small college football kingpin Ohio University has announced a nine-game schedule for the 1961 season:

Sept. 23—at Toledo; Sept. 30—Kent State; Oct. 7—at Dayton; Oct. 14 — Xavier; Oct. 21 — at Miami (Ohio); Oct. 28—at Delaware; Nov. 4—at Marshall; Nov. 11 — Bowling Green; Nov. 18—Western Michigan.

Only Two Games Set Tonight

Newell, Beaver Local Meet In District Cage Feature

The Beaver Local-Newell game features a two-game schedule tonight which winds up this week's light slate of basketball. The other tilt finds Midland entertaining Perry.

Coach Jack Frontone's Beaver Local five, undefeated in two games, goes up against a red-hot Newell outfit which has won its last three games and boasts a 4-1 record.

Newell lost its only game to powerful New Cumberland, but since then has rolled over Cameron, Farmington and South Side.

Mick Staley and Tom Bell have been the two big guns for the Newell five, hitting the 20-point total with regularity.

Meanwhile, Beaver Local moved past South Side, 91-46, and came from behind to down North Lima, 64-58. Newell has a 65-41 victory over South Side.

Midland will attempt to go over the .500 mark before Christmas in meeting Perry, a Pittsburgh district school. So far Hank Kuzma's team stands at 3-3 after absorbing a 56-51 loss to Aliquippa Tuesday.

The next basketball action in the district will be next Thursday when the Holiday Day tournament at East Liverpool gets underway. Midland, East Liverpool, Marietta and Masillon will take part.

East Liverpool will meet Midland and Marietta faces Massillon. The two winners will clash on Friday for the championship, while the losers vie in a consolation game.

Giles, Rolley Are Keys To Unbeaten Adrian Five

Vince Giles and Ray Rolley, former Wellsville cage stars, are currently pacing the unbeaten Adrian College (Mich.) basketball team. The Adrian Bulldogs have a record to date of five victories and no defeats.

The two former Wellsville high school athletes are leading the squad in many departments and both are highly regarded by head coach Gregg Arbaugh, also a former Wellsville athletic star.

Giles, a junior, is the leading scorer and rebounder on the team. Offensively he is averaging 19 points per game and is hitting a hot 52 per cent of his field goal attempts. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Giles, 440 14th Street, Wellsville.

Rolley is a senior this year and is playing one of the guard positions. After suffering a foot injury in the opening game, which sidelined him for two games. Ray has jumped back into the scoring race and is now averaging 12 points per game. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rolley, 826 Broadway, Wellsville.

Prior to leaving the campus for the Christmas holidays the Adrian squad encountered the unbeaten Yellowjackets of Defiance College at Adrian and rolled to an easy 75-57 victory. Adrian encounters Defiance again immediately following the vacation period when they travel to Defiance on Jan. 4.

Ohio U. Star Signed By Cleveland Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns announced Thursday they have signed Dick Grecni of Ohio University for the 1961 National Football League season.

Grecni, a 228-pound center and linebacker who lives in Akron, was drafted by the Browns in the 13th round in 1959. He has been chosen to play in the East-West college game. Ohio University was the nation's No. 1 small college football team in 1960. Crecni is a brother-in-law of Sherwin (Sonny) Candee, who formerly played with the Detroit Lions.

Trautman Names Three To Minors' Rules Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George M. Trautman, president of the minor leagues, today named the three members of the official baseball playing rules committee who will represent the minors in 1961.

Appointments went to Frank Shaughnessy, retiring president of the International League from Montreal; Hal Totten,, president of the Southern Association from Birmingham, Ala., and C. C. (Dutch) Hoffman, president of the Midwest League from Belleville, Ill.

Bill Bruton, Detroit's new center fielder, batted above his .276 career average in his last four seasons with Milwaukee.

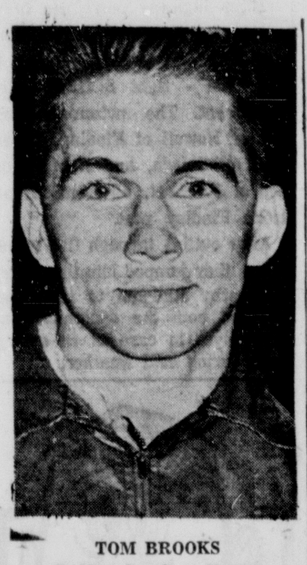
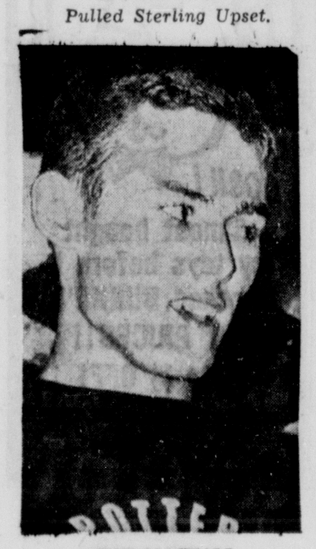
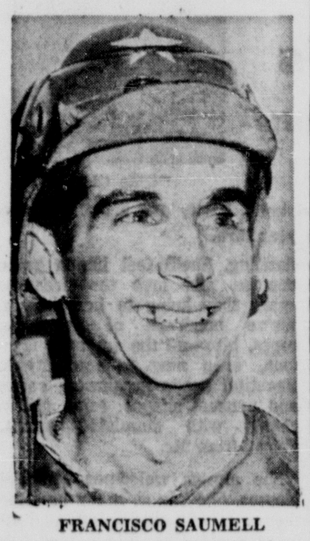
Brooks Pulled Biggest Upset On Local Sports Scene



TOM BROOKS
Pulled Sterling Upset.



BOB MACKALL
Most Valuable In County Meet.



FRANCISCO SAUMELL
Top Rider At Waterford.

Lisbon Sprinter Had Never Seen A Track Meet Until He Won In County

In 1959 the biggest story in sports around the district was East Liverpool's 14-13 upset of Warren.

The 1960 upset award, however, will have to go to an individual and not a team. We feel the upset pulled by TOM BROOKS of Lisbon during the 57th annual Columbiana County track meet tops the list.

The time was May 13, a Friday incidentally that was not unlucky for Brooks.

Before the meet started, ardent track fans waited anxiously for the 100-yard dash event between BOB MACKALL of East Liverpool and East Palestine's GEORGE MORRIS, supposedly the two fastest high school thinclads in the county.

But Brooks, who never saw a track meet before until May 13, came roaring out of the starting blocks, got the jump on the two stars and won the dash in 10.2 on a soft East Palestine track.

Mackall was voted the most valuable award and grabbed high point honors at the County meet, while Salem captured the team title.

TURNING TO football. On the college scene the area was well represented. The big news was made by three East Liverpool products, namely BERNIE ALLEN, NICK MUSURACA and JIM POTTS.

Allen was "Mr. Everything" for Purdue. He passed, ran, punted and kicked field goals and extra points to finish as the Boilermakers leading scorer and most valuable player.

Bernie is now looking ahead to the Blue-Gray game, college baseball, then signing a professional baseball contract sometime this spring. The "Bernie Allen Night" sponsored by the local Elks Club went down as one of the year's top events.

MUSURACA was Denison's top scorer and ground gainer. He was honored by being named to the second All-Ohio conference team. Nick, a sophomore at the Granville school, may go down as Denison's all-time ground gainer before he finishes his career.

Under the direction of Potts, Bowling Green posted an 8-1 record this past season, losing only to small college champion Ohio U.

WELLSVILLE, East Liverpool and Beaver Local provided the top thrills in football on the local high school scene in 1960.

Wellsville, which won 7 lost 2 and tied one, under Coach KEN WOODS, recorded one of its top records in almost 25 years.

Coach LOU VENDITTI came up with a band of fighting Potters who never knew when to quit and turned in one of the most interesting and entertaining seasons in sometime.

The record was 6-5, but no clear indication of some of the great football turned in by the local team.

KENNY CUNNINGHAM placed his name in ELHS record books as the school's greatest passer. He was first team All-Ohio on the United Press International selections and named to the second unit by the Associated Press. He is also the Potters leading scorer in basketball.

SKIP HALL was an outstanding tackle for the Blue and White and was an Associated Press honorable mention pick.

Mark down East Liverpool's gridiron victory over Salem as another upset. Salem entered the game undefeated, but the Potters were on top at the end, 8-6, to wreck the Quakers' season.

THE 1960 Bill Booth award went to halfback JOE THOMPSON, an excellent choice for the coveted trophy. Cunningham was voted the team's most valuable player and named honorary captain.

Out Williamsport way they won't forget the name of RON MCLAUGHLIN for quite awhile. Beaver Local posted a 7-3 record during the season and he was mainly responsible.

The district's leading scorer, McLaughlin tallied 132 points and in one game scored five touchdowns.

The biggest disappointment, however, came at the end of the season when he wasn't even mentioned on an All-State team.

THE BASKETBALL picture wasn't too bright so far as the tournament grind went early in 1960. Midland was the top team record-wise, but was edged by Uniontown in the WPIAL semi-finals.

And 1960 brought a few coaching changes, with George Hamilton, who had been at Midland 10 seasons, leaving to take a similar post at Vandergrift.

The City Baseball League folded, but a County League was formed with the local East Liverpool Merchants winning the title. Bob Gessford was the league's leading hitter.

Before next baseball season rolls around we wish somebody would come up with some ideas for a suitable field. The city is lagging in this department.

ALL SAYRE and CHUCK STEWART made the headlines on the bowling scene. Sayre rolled a 721 series, while Stewart only this week just made it under the 1960 wire and scored a 720. Both series were recorded at the Don-Bus Alleys.

—:—

IN THE world of wrestling, Beaver Local is fast dominating the sport in this area. Coach JACK O'ROURKE'S team was runnerups in the district meet last March and is off and running already this season.

A LONG summer meeting and a short fall session were run at Waterford Park during 1960 as President JIM EDWARDS felt the pains of economic conditions in the area, with attendance and betting down.

Jockey FRANCISCO SAUMELL stole the show among the riders as he crossed the finish line first more times than the others.

New Football League's Loss At $2 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Wismer oozes confidence that his New York Titans and the American Football League are here to stay despite a bath of red ink for both in the first year of operation.

Titans president said his outfit blew $350,000 and all clubs in the league a collective $2 million.

"I'll know I'll get it back because this is the league of the future," said Wismer at a press conference Thursday. "All of our people were prepared to lose money at the outset."

1. A decision to buck the rival New York Giants of the National Football League by playing home dates on Sunday's instead of Friday nights and telecasting the road games back into New York when the Giants are at home. The Giants telecast their Sunday road games into the New York area.

2. An agreement to lease the new Flushing Meadow stadium for 20 years, starting in 1962 when the stadium is expected to be completed.

Wismer said the AFL also will give the NFL a run for the TV money in the Los Angeles area. He said the Los Angeles Chargers will shift their home games to San Diego's Balboa Stadium, and telecast their games into Los Angeles in competition with the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL.

Barron Hilton, owner of the Chargers, was not immediately available for comment. But four days ago, after San Diego sports writers wrote the Chargers would be moved to San Diego, Hilton said he was staying put.

North Shows Edge With Kickers Ready

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—If kicking turns out to be a major factor in the Shrine North-South football game in the Orange Bowl Monday night, North figures it has the men who can do it.

"Last year we couldn't find a placekicker until the final day of practice," says Dale Hall of Army, co-coach of the Northerners with Bump Elliott of Michigan. "This year we have three fine kickers in Mike Stock of Northwestern, Henry Opperman of Penn State and Army's Tom Blanda.

"Stock probably will get the call when needed, with Ike Grimsley of Michigan State doing the punting. Bill Brown of Illinois also can punt them a mile."

Paul (Bear) Bryant, who with Darrell Royal of Texas is in charge of the South squad, named his offensive team today. Howard Dyer of VMI will be at quarterback, Bud Whitehead of Florida State and Don Kern of VMI at the halves, and Bobby Way of Vanderbilt at full. Gerald Burch of Georgia Tech and John Schroeder of North Carolina will be at the ends; Charles Linning and John O'Day, both of Miami, at the tackles; Alvin Dalton of SMU and Jim Windham of Houston at the guards; and Bob Barbiere of George Washington at center.

Redlegs' Robinson Wins Slugging Title

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank Robinson's batting average and home run output declined in 1960 but the Cincinnati Reds' outfielder still won the National League slugging championship, official averages confirmed today.

However, his batting average was only .297 compared with .311 in 1959. He had 31 home runs in 1960 and 36 in 1959.

2 Football Assistants Named Head Coaches

CLEVELAND (AP) — Assistant football coaches were named to the head coaching posts at two high schools here Thursday.

John Fentile, assistant at South High for the last two seasons, was named to succeed Bernie McGroarty, who asked to be relieved so he could begin graduate studies at Western Reserve University for a doctorate in education.

Before coming to South High, Gentile, 27, was an assistant football coach at Lorain St. Mary and head coach at St. John Cantius here. He is a graduate of Indiana University.

Richards, a graduate of Ohio State University, has been at John Marshall four years. He is 26.

'Rip' Collins Hired As Coach For Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — James (Rip) Collins, former Chicago Cub and St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, today was hired as a Cub coach.

It was the first coaching appointment since owner P. K. Wrigley two days ago said he may have as many as eight coaches and have them name the club's manager.

Ohio U. Announces 9-Game Grid Slate

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Small college football kingpin Ohio University has announced a nine-game schedule for the 1961 season:

Sept. 23—at Toledo; Sept. 30—Kent State; Oct. 7—at Dayton; Oct. 14 — Xavier; Oct. 21 — at Miami (Ohio); Oct. 28—at Delaware; Nov. 4—at Marshall; Nov. 11 — Bowling Green; Nov. 18—Western Michigan.

Patterson 3-1 Favorite Over Ingemar, But!

This should bring a big smile to Ingo's face, since the betting choice in this rivalry has been knocked off twice.

Patterson was an almost prohibitive 5-1 favorite to win the first fight June 26, 1959, at Yankee Stadium. The big Swede, then unbeaten, blitzed Patterson on a seven - knockdown, third - round technical knockout.

Johansson already has expressed confidence in his ability to regain the crown. He even told Bill Fugazy of the promoting Feature Sports, Inc., to line up "a top contender" for another fight this year in the U. S.

The site and the date for the rubber match was announced Thursday at news conferences in both New York and Miami.

Huskies Schedule Scrimmage Today

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Washington Huskies engage in their first scrimmage today in preparation for their Jan. 2 football game against Minnesota in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

"The boys haven't been coming along as I hoped they would," said Coach Jim Owens, "but maybe this hard contact will be ust what is needed."

Owens gave the squad the afternoon off but they will double up Saturday with a full-scale drill of assignments and another scrimmage in the afternoon.

University of Southern California's head coach, Johnny McKay, says he is picking Minnesota to win the game.

"I hope I'm wrong but I think Minnesota's defense will be too strong" said McKay. "Washington won several close games while Minnesota dominated nearly all its games."

Jack Ardon of Lakewood, N. J., who averaged 15.1 points a game for Tulane's basketball team last season, is majoring in zoology.

Thorn Is New Star On WVU' Cage Horizon

By DICK LEONARD

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—A kid with one of the longest pairs of arms in collegiate basketball is helping to ease the grief of West Virgina fans over the graduation of two-time All-America Jerry West.

He's Rod Thorn, a 6-4 crewcut sophomore, who—like West—is a product of the West Virginia hills. Thorn's arms are so long that they seem almost to touch the floor when he's standing. He wears a 38-inch sleeve.

His reach enables him to use the two-handed jump shot with deadly effectiveness. The soft-spoken, pre-med student is taking up where West left off last season.

He is averaging 21 points a game, 13.7 rebounds, handled a total of 16 assists and has shot 47.1 per cent.

WVU has won four and lost two.

Thorn, a B-plus student, probably will go into the medical profession.

While a standout at Princeton, W.Va., High School, he received numerous college offers. The West Virginia Legislature passed a resolution imploring him to attend a school within the state's borders.

It wasn't the resolution which prompted Thorn to enroll at WVU. It was a $40 million medical center being built there.

67,000 Seen For Pro Grid Playoff Tilt

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Green Bay Packers will pit power runners Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung against the passing of quarterback Norm Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles in Monday's National Football League championship game.

A sellout crowd of some 67,000 will watch the contest in Franklin Field with countless others looking in on television. The kickoff is noon, EST.

It could be the last game for the 34-year-old Van Brocklin and also Eagles' Coach Buck Shaw, 61, both of whom have announced their intention to retire.

Ironically, both Van Brocklin, a 12-year NFL veteran, and Shaw, who has been coaching for nearly 40 years, came out of retirement to join the Eagles in 1958 and guide them from a last place finish that year to the Eastern Conference crown this season.

Green Bay has been established an early 6-5 favorite on the basis of a solid line and the running of Taylor, a 215-pound fullback from LSU who finished second in rushing in the NFL, and Hornung, also a passing and place-kicking threat who finished seventh in rushing and set a new NFL scoring record. But some observers feel it's a tossup and while others favor the Eagles because of Van Brocklin's precision passing.

Shaw is hoping for a dry field because he feels a muddy or soggy field would be advantageous to the Packers.

Van Brocklin is virtually the Eagles entire offensive attack. The former Oregon great who played in four championship games during his nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams finished second in the league in touchdown passes (24), total yards gained (2,471) and average gain (8.70 on 153 completions in 284 attempts).

Philadelphia and Green Bay did not meet this year. But in previous games, the Packers hold a 13-1 edge.

Pair Of Nylons Cause Trouble—Wasn't Shortage

CINCINNATI (AP)—Remember when the gals caused small riots by dashing to stores to buy nylon hosiery during World War II?

A woman employe of a Central Trust Co. branch went out to do some Christmas shopping and the wet slush splattered her hosiery. When she returned to work she rinsed the stockings out and hung them to dry. Then, as she was putting them on again she accidentally nudged a burglar alarm with her arm.

Within minutes two police cruisers roared to the bank. Four others raced to set up the quadrant system for intercepting fleeing robbers, and all county police cars had been alerted.

Police suggested to reporters that in the interest of chivalry and to save the young lady further embarrassment they not use her name.

Wolcott Named To GM Inland Job

DETROIT (AP)—Leslie C. Wolcott, 56-year-old director of engineering at General Motors' Packard Electric Division in Warren, Ohio, has been named general manager of GM's Inland Manufacturing Division at Dayton, Ohio.

The announcement Thursday by GM President John F. Gordon said Wolcott will succeed John D. O'Brien, who will retire Jan. 31 after holding the post since June 1942. O'Brien has been with the auto parts firm 38 years.

Wolcott joined Packard Electric in 1927, five years before it became part of General Motors. His father, Newton Wolcott, had been president of Packard Electric.

The younger Wolcott started out at Packard as a time study man, then became aviation and sales engineer in 1930, chief engineer in 1932 and director of engineering in 1959. He has been president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce and Warren Rotary Club.

35 Cadets Finish Patrol Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thirty-five cadets, their 16 weeks of training successfully completed, graduated from the Ohio State Highway Patrol Academy today.

Highway Patrol Supt. Scott B. Radcliffe, in a speech before the graduates and their families, welcomed the men to Ohio's patrol force and said he would be asking the 1961 legislature for 250 more patrolmen.

Of the 35 graduating cadets, nine were appointed immediately to fill vacancies in the 775-man force. The remaining 26 were assigned as cadet dispatcher trainees until regular posts are available.

Welcoming speeches were also given by Grant Keys, director of the Department of Highway Safety; Judge Dana F. Reynolds of the Franklin County Common Pleas Court, and Chet Long, Columbus news commentator.

Pinney Scores 21 Points To Pace Panthers

A late rush by the Chester Panthers gave them their second victory in four starts when South Side fell before their surge, 48-45, Thursday night at Hookstown.

The Panthers went into the fourth quarter trailing, 37-35, but made up the necessary ground to top Coach Dave Nichol's Rams. South Side is still looking for its first win after suffering seven straight setbacks.

The Rams came closer last night to winning a game than at any other time this season.

In the fourth quarter, South Side owned a two-point lead to open the period, then increased it when Al Weltner hit to put his team in front, 39-35.

The contest was tied at 41-41 with 4:40 to go. Then Dale Ashcroft scored on a pair of fouls to put the Rams ahead once again, 43-41.

Blaine Pinney, Chester's fine pivot man, scored and was followed by teammate Jim Tridico's fielder which pushed the Panthers to a 48-43 margin and the final victory.

Pinney turned in his top scoring effort of the season when he dropped in 21 points. Meanwhile, Tridico, who has been the Panthers's top scorer in earlier games, pushed 16 points through the nets.

Leopards Receive Jackets

The mothers association presented 10 jackets and Michael Zuppe and David Bruno will receive theirs at the association's all-sports banquet in May. Five jackets for cheerleaders did not arrive and will be given later.

Principal William A. Walters presented 27 letters to 23 players and four managers. Mrs. Irene Krizan, mother of senior player Robert Krizan, made the jacket presentations. Other members of the association present were Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, Mrs. Howard Eckles and Mrs. Ethel Camp. The association will meet Jan. 5 at the school.

Lucas, Havlicek Spark Bucks

Ohio State Tops Detroit, 84-73, For Sixth Victory

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

This Ohio State team is tough, really tough. Not only do the Buckeyes win with finesse and power, but they have the brain cells going 24 hours a day, too.

Ohio State, currently the nation's top-ranked college basketball team beat highly touted and ambitious Detroit Thursday night 84-73. Big thanks go to a successfully executed plan by Coach Fred Taylor and player John Havlicek.

Taylor said he knew that Dave Debusschere, Detroit's big scorer, had been under the weather and was seeing a doctor.

"This confirmed what our scout Frank Truitt told us, that he (Debusschere) had not been working hard for his shots," Taylor said. "We figured to force him far out on the floor and make him shoot long shots. In the second half he got only six shots off Havlicek and didn't make any."

In fact, Debusschere got only 14 points, 10 early in the game, and the Titans simply couldn't match the over-all firepower of All-America Jerry Lucas & Co.

Lucas sank 11 of 16 field goal tries. He yanked 22 rebounds, giving the Bucks a sizable edge in that department. Mel Nowell scored 18 points and Larry Siegfried 16 as Ohio made just about half its field goal tries, 29 of 59. Detroit also had 29 baskets, in 70 shots, but the Buckeyes dunked a neat 26 of 31 free throws, to the Titans' 15 of 24, to tell the tale.

St. John's, which could posibly meet the Buckeyes next week in New York's Holiday Festival, beat Gonzaga 97-69 Thursday night. Both the Redmen (No. 6) and Ohio State have 6-0 records. St. John's must beat scrappy Providence, and Ohio State has to get by Seton Hall to set up a semifinal round pairing between the two. The winner is the most likely tournament champion.

Tom Kieffer's crucial points behind helped St. Louis beat Kentucky 74-72 in overtime and win the Wildcats invitational tournament. California took third place, beating Illinois 72-54.

Elsewhere Utah used reserves most of the second half and still walloped Los Angeles State 105-76, Kansas won over San Francisco 60-43, Brigham Young defeated Kent State (Ohio) 66-51, Michigan State beat Iowa State 92-81. Virginia Tech ran over South Carolina 106-75, Oklahoma conquered Texas Tech 75-56, and NYU squeaked past Long Island U. 64-62.

Arkansas defeated Tennessee 89-76 and Texas edged Alabama 79-78 to complete a four-game sweep of the Aluminum Bowl by the two Southwest Conference schools over the two representatives from the Southeastern Conference.

U.S. Fears Eased On Israel's Bid To Be 5th Nuclear Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. fears that Israel was trying to become the world's fifth nuclear military power were reported eased today by assurances from the government at Jerusalem.

Officials here said they hoped that the assurances also will be favorably received by Arab governments. Reports of Israeli activity in the nuclear field in recent weeks have been seen as a threat to political stability in the Middle East.

The State Department officially welcomed Thursday night assurances by Premier David Ben-Gurion and Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman that a new reactor being built in the Negev will be used entirely for peaceful scientific purposes.

Some authorities said privately, however, that they are still worried about the question of what Israel will do with the plutonium which the reactor is expected to produce as a by-product of the fission of the uranium fuel it will use. Plutonium can be employed in the manufacture of atomic bombs.

The cautiously worded U. S. statement said: "It is gratifying to note that, as made public, the Israeli atomic energy program does not represent cause for special concern."

At the same time, the statement served notice that the United States will continue to do whatever it can "to insure that developing atomic energy programs everywhere will be devoted exclusively" to peaceful purposes.

Armchair Evidence

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Dr. Leon Slavin tried time and again to bag a ruffed grouse but returned empty handed from his hunting trips. But while eating breakfast at home he heard a crash and found that a grouse had smashed the window, turned over a lamp and landed in the fire place.

Bob Purkey was the workhorse of Cincinnati's pitching staff last season. He tossed 252 innings, won 17, lost 11.

Raiders Fall, 59-53, To End 5-Game Streak

NEW CUMBERLAND — The district was minus one more undefeated team today after Bethany pulled a big surprise here Thursday night by whipping New Cumberland, 59-53.

It crumbled a five-game winning streak which had been posted by Coach John Kuzio's ambitious cagers. The upset didn't figure by comparison. New Cumberland had defeated Chester, 53-34, but the Panthers had walked over Bethany, 36-23.

With one minute remaining John Kiger tied the score for New Cumberland at 53-53, but Bethany went on to pull away from this point.

The tall Bethany team trailed throughout the first half. New Cumberland owned a 14-6 first quarter lead and then jumped to its widest margin of the contest, posting a 32-21 difference at halftime.

Bethany came racing back to tie the count at 43-43, followed by a dogfight for the lead in the fourth quarter.

Biggest damage to New Cumberland was done by Don Pyle, a 5-foot-10 senior who pumped in 23 points. He had an assist from Craig White who finished with 18.

For New Cumberland, Tom Hale and Charlie Miller shared scoring honors by collecting 12 each. Ron Haynes tallied 11.

Bethany also captured the reserve contest, 45-36.

Ohio Man, Son, Burned To Death

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A Florida holiday has ended in death for an Ohio man and his 3-year-old son.

George S. Bateman, 31, of Upper Arlington, a Columbus suburb, burned to death with his son George Jr. in a $50,000 house fire Thursday in the Pensacola suburb of Venetian Isles. Another son, Jesse, 2, was rescued by James M. Kobacker, Bateman's host, and two other house guests.

Kobacker is developer of the Florida suburb and was a college classmate of Bateman. Bateman, who was divorced, had been hurt in an automobile accident and still had an arm cast.

Firemen said the new $28,000 brick veneer, ranch - type house burned to the ground, and that two cars also were destroyed. The fire apparently began in the living room and trapped Bateman and his son in an inside bedroom, they said. Their bodies were found in a closet.

Florida Track At Odds With Internal Revenue

This dispute cropped up at Tropical Park Race Track Thursday when buyers of 21 $2 daily double tickets hit for $2,347.20 on each.

The track announced that the Internal Revenue Service requires $2 ticket holders to identify themselves in order to be paid off on tickets worth $600 or more, but added that Florida's attorney general had ruled the track has to pay whether or not the ticket-holder identifies himself.

Two winners agreed to give their names. Seventeen declined and got paid anyway. The others did not cash their tickets at once.

The IRS said in Washington that Florida Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin had withdrawn his ruling and conceded the federal government has prior right to require identification at the payoff window.

Ervin said his opinion still stands that Florida low obligates the track to pay with or without identification, but that the opinion did not go into the question of federal or state precedence.

The bumper daily double resulted from the first-race victory by Patricia's Shoe—$181.90 — and second race win by Regal Rhythm —$20.90.

More Taxpayers Paid More Taxes In Record 1959

WASHINGTON (AP)—More taxpayers paid more income taxes on more 1959 earnings than ever before, the Internal Revenue Service reports.

IRS gave these preliminary figures Thursday for individual 1960 income tax returns: The number of returns went up to 60.3 million, from 59.1 million in 1959. Reported gross income increased to $305.8 billion from $281.2 billion. Taxes paid went to $38.9 billion from $34.3 billion.

The average income was reported as $5,070, but not everyone filing a return had a large enough income to be taxed. Of the 47.5 million returns liable to tax, the average payment was $820.

Packers Put Their Attack To Big Test

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Coach Vince Lombardi said today that the Green Bay Packers will follow his script when they meet the Philadelphia Eagles in the National Football League title round.

The Packers and the Eagles play for the NFL crown at noon EST Monday in Philadelphia.

Lombardi wouldn't spell out definite strategy for the contest. However, he hasn't tried to make it a secret that the Packers will rely heavily on their powerful running attack. And he also wants control of the ball.

He has two things in mind. Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin—who has 24 touchdown passes for the season—can't throw the ball unless he has it. The running attack has proved to be the best type of offensive against the Eagles.

To carry out his conquest plans, Lombardi has backs Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor—just about the best one-two running slam in the league. He also has the passing ability of Bart Starr at hand should anything happen to break up the Hornung-Taylor combination on the overland trail.

His Home Burns After 5 Years Of Toil, Son Killed

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — For five years Stanley Dunnohew has been working in his spare time building a new home for his family in nearby Pisgah.

Thursday, he nearly completed home and a cottage in which the Dunnohews have been living were destroyed by fire. But that was only a part of a tragedy.

The youngster perished. His charred body was found in the wreckage three hours later.

The father was burned and overcome by smoke and was taken to Christ Hospital in Cincinnati. The mother, who was at a grocery with a 2-year-old child when the fire started, collapsed and also was taken to the hospital.

Dunnohew apparently was working in the basement of the new home when the fire started. He led Gregory to safety but the youngster apparently followed him and Harry D. Fite, a neighbor, back into the house when they went in to get the other children, age 9, 7 and 5.

Firemen estimated the loss at $25,000. All of the Dunnohews' belongings were destroyed.

67,000 Seen For Pro Grid Playoff Tilt

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Green Bay Packers will pit power runners Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung against the passing of quarterback Norm Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles in Monday's National Football League championship game.

A sellout crowd of some 67,000 will watch the contest in Franklin Field with countless others looking in on television. The kickoff is noon, EST.

It could be the last game for the 34-year-old Van Brocklin and also Eagles' Coach Buck Shaw, 61, both of whom have announced their intention to retire.

Ironically, both Van Brocklin, a 12-year NFL veteran, and Shaw, who has been coaching for nearly 40 years, came out of retirement to join the Eagles in 1958 and guide them from a last place finish that year to the Eastern Conference crown this season.

Green Bay has been established an early 6-5 favorite on the basis of a solid line and the running of Taylor, a 215-pound fullback from LSU who finished second in rushing in the NFL, and Hornung, also a passing and place-kicking threat who finished seventh in rushing and set a new NFL scoring record. But some observers feel it's a tossup and while others favor the Eagles because of Van Brocklin's precision passing.

Shaw is hoping for a dry field because he feels a muddy or soggy field would be advantageous to the Packers.

Van Brocklin is virtually the Eagles entire offensive attack. The former Oregon great who played in four championship games during his nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams finished second in the league in touchdown passes (24), total yards gained (2,471) and average gain (8.70 on 153 completions in 284 attempts).

Philadelphia and Green Bay did not meet this year. But in previous games, the Packers hold a 13-1 edge.

Pair Of Nylons Cause Trouble—Wasn't Shortage

CINCINNATI (AP)—Remember when the gals caused small riots by dashing to stores to buy nylon hosiery during World War II?

A woman employe of a Central Trust Co. branch went out to do some Christmas shopping and the wet slush splattered her hosiery. When she returned to work she rinsed the stockings out and hung them to dry. Then, as she was putting them on again she accidentally nudged a burglar alarm with her arm.

Within minutes two police cruisers roared to the bank. Four others raced to set up the quadrant system for intercepting fleeing robbers, and all county police cars had been alerted.

Police suggested to reporters that in the interest of chivalry and to save the young lady further embarrassment they not use her name.

Wolcott Named To GM Inland Job

DETROIT (AP)—Leslie C. Wolcott, 56-year-old director of engineering at General Motors' Packard Electric Division in Warren, Ohio, has been named general manager of GM's Inland Manufacturing Division at Dayton, Ohio.

The announcement Thursday by GM President John F. Gordon said Wolcott will succeed John D. O'Brien, who will retire Jan. 31 after holding the post since June 1942. O'Brien has been with the auto parts firm 38 years.

Wolcott joined Packard Electric in 1927, five years before it became part of General Motors. His father, Newton Wolcott, had been president of Packard Electric.

The younger Wolcott started out at Packard as a time study man, then became aviation and sales engineer in 1930, chief engineer in 1932 and director of engineering in 1959. He has been president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce and Warren Rotary Club.

35 Cadets Finish Patrol Training

Highway Patrol Supt. Scott B. Radcliffe, in a speech before the graduates and their families, welcomed the men to Ohio's patrol force and said he would be asking the 1961 legislature for 250 more patrolmen.

Of the 35 graduating cadets, nine were appointed immediately to fill vacancies in the 775-man force. The remaining 26 were assigned as cadet dispatcher trainees until regular posts are available.

Welcoming speeches were also given by Grant Keys, director of the Department of Highway Safety; Judge Dana F. Reynolds of the Franklin County Common Pleas Court, and Chet Long, Columbus news commentator.

Pinney Scores 21 Points To Pace Panthers

A late rush by the Chester Panthers gave them their second victory in four starts when South Side fell before their surge, 48-45, Thursday night at Hookstown.

The Panthers went into the fourth quarter trailing, 37-35, but made up the necessary ground to top Coach Dave Nichol's Rams. South Side is still looking for its first win after suffering seven straight setbacks.

The Rams came closer last night to winning a game than at any other time this season.

In the fourth quarter, South Side owned a two-point lead to open the period, then increased it when Al Weltner hit to put his team in front, 39-35.

The contest was tied at 41-41 with 4:40 to go. Then Dale Ashcroft scored on a pair of fouls to put the Rams ahead once again, 43-41.

Blaine Pinney, Chester's fine pivot man, scored and was followed by teammate Jim Tridico's fielder which pushed the Panthers to a 48-43 margin and the final victory.

Pinney turned in his top scoring effort of the season when he dropped in 21 points. Meanwhile, Tridico, who has been the Panthers's top scorer in earlier games, pushed 16 points through the nets.

Lombardi wouldn't spell out definite strategy for the contest. However, he hasn't tried to make it a secret that the Packers will rely heavily on their powerful running attack. And he also wants control of the ball.

He has two things in mind. Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin—who has 24 touchdown passes for the season—can't throw the ball unless he has it. The running attack has proved to be the best type of offensive against the Eagles.

To carry out his conquest plans, Lombardi has backs Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor—just about the best one-two running slam in the league. He also has the passing ability of Bart Starr at hand should anything happen to break up the Hornung-Taylor combination on the overland trail.

His Home Burns After 5 Years Of Toil, Son Killed

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — For five years Stanley Dunnohew has been working in his spare time building a new home for his family in nearby Pisgah.

Thursday, he nearly completed home and a cottage in which the Dunnohews have been living were destroyed by fire. But that was only a part of a tragedy.

The youngster perished. His charred body was found in the wreckage three hours later.

The father was burned and overcome by smoke and was taken to Christ Hospital in Cincinnati. The mother, who was at a grocery with a 2-year-old child when the fire started, collapsed and also was taken to the hospital.

Dunnohew apparently was working in the basement of the new home when the fire started. He led Gregory to safety but the youngster apparently followed him and Harry D. Fite, a neighbor, back into the house when they went in to get the other children, age 9, 7 and 5.

Firemen estimated the loss at $25,000. All of the Dunnohews' belongings were destroyed.

Lucas, Havlicek Spark Bucks

Ohio State Tops Detroit, 84-73, For Sixth Victory

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

This Ohio State team is tough, really tough. Not only do the Buckeyes win with finesse and power, but they have the brain cells going 24 hours a day, too.

Ohio State, currently the nation's top-ranked college basketball team beat highly touted and ambitious Detroit Thursday night 84-73. Big thanks go to a successfully executed plan by Coach Fred Taylor and player John Havlicek.

Taylor said he knew that Dave Debusschere, Detroit's big scorer, had been under the weather and was seeing a doctor.

"This confirmed what our scout Frank Truitt told us, that he (Debusschere) had not been working hard for his shots," Taylor said. "We figured to force him far out on the floor and make him shoot long shots. In the second half he got only six shots off Havlicek and didn't make any."

In fact, Debusschere got only 14 points, 10 early in the game, and the Titans simply couldn't match the over-all firepower of All-America Jerry Lucas & Co.

Lucas sank 11 of 16 field goal tries. He yanked 22 rebounds, giving the Bucks a sizable edge in that department. Mel Nowell scored 18 points and Larry Siegfried 16 as Ohio made just about half its field goal tries, 29 of 59. Detroit also had 29 baskets, in 70 shots, but the Buckeyes dunked a neat 26 of 31 free throws, to the Titans' 15 of 24, to tell the tale.

St. John's, which could posibly meet the Buckeyes next week in New York's Holiday Festival, beat Gonzaga 97-69 Thursday night. Both the Redmen (No. 6) and Ohio State have 6-0 records. St. John's must beat scrappy Providence, and Ohio State has to get by Seton Hall to set up a semifinal round pairing between the two. The winner is the most likely tournament champion.

Tom Kieffer's crucial points behind helped St. Louis beat Kentucky 74-72 in overtime and win the Wildcats invitational tournament. California took third place, beating Illinois 72-54.

Elsewhere Utah used reserves most of the second half and still walloped Los Angeles State 105-76, Kansas won over San Francisco 60-43, Brigham Young defeated Kent State (Ohio) 66-51, Michigan State beat Iowa State 92-81. Virginia Tech ran over South Carolina 106-75, Oklahoma conquered Texas Tech 75-56, and NYU squeaked past Long Island U. 64-62.

Arkansas defeated Tennessee 89-76 and Texas edged Alabama 79-78 to complete a four-game sweep of the Aluminum Bowl by the two Southwest Conference schools over the two representatives from the Southeastern Conference.

U.S. Fears Eased On Israel's Bid To Be 5th Nuclear Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. fears that Israel was trying to become the world's fifth nuclear military power were reported eased today by assurances from the government at Jerusalem.

Officials here said they hoped that the assurances also will be favorably received by Arab governments. Reports of Israeli activity in the nuclear field in recent weeks have been seen as a threat to political stability in the Middle East.

The State Department officially welcomed Thursday night assurances by Premier David Ben-Gurion and Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman that a new reactor being built in the Negev will be used entirely for peaceful scientific purposes.

Some authorities said privately, however, that they are still worried about the question of what Israel will do with the plutonium which the reactor is expected to produce as a by-product of the fission of the uranium fuel it will use. Plutonium can be employed in the manufacture of atomic bombs.

The cautiously worded U. S. statement said: "It is gratifying to note that, as made public, the Israeli atomic energy program does not represent cause for special concern."

At the same time, the statement served notice that the United States will continue to do whatever it can "to insure that developing atomic energy programs everywhere will be devoted exclusively" to peaceful purposes.

Armchair Evidence

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Dr. Leon Slavin tried time and again to bag a ruffed grouse but returned empty handed from his hunting trips. But while eating breakfast at home he heard a crash and found that a grouse had smashed the window, turned over a lamp and landed in the fire place.

Bob Purkey was the workhorse of Cincinnati's pitching staff last season. He tossed 252 innings, won 17, lost 11.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I cope with some heat marks on an article of furniture?

A. These are often obscured with camphorated oil. The best method is to stroke the spot lightly with a cloth moistened with the oil, then rub immediately with a clean, dry cloth. Do not use a linty cloth, as fuzz may stick to the wood. The final step is to re-wax.

Q. How can I renovate furs?

A. By first wetting with a hair brush and brushing aganst the nap. Hang the furs in the air until dry and then beat them lightly on the right side with a rattan. Finally, comb the hair out carefully into place.

Q. How can I open a clogged sink drain?

A. It is said that a strong solution of copperas water poured down the drain pipe is often effective.

Daily Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

Look! Just one main pattern part plus facings — that's all there is to this smart and simple basic. No front waist seam, no side seams — whip it up in crisp checks to wear and wear.

Printed Pattern 4967: Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18. Size 16 takes 3¾ yards 39-inch fabric.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to Anne Adams, in care of the East Liverpool Review, 49 Pattern Dept., 243 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address, size and the style number.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I cope with some heat marks on an article of furniture?

A. These are often obscured with camphorated oil. The best method is to stroke the spot lightly with a cloth moistened with the oil, then rub immediately with a clean, dry cloth. Do not use a linty cloth, as fuzz may stick to the wood. The final step is to re-wax.

Q. How can I renovate furs?

A. By first wetting with a hair brush and brushing aganst the nap. Hang the furs in the air until dry and then beat them lightly on the right side with a rattan. Finally, comb the hair out carefully into place.

Q. How can I open a clogged sink drain?

A. It is said that a strong solution of copperas water poured down the drain pipe is often effective.

NYC To Fight C&O's Bid For B&O Control

CLEVELAND (AP) — The New York Central System says it will fight Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co.'s bid for control of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. and will take the matter to the courts if necessary.

A Central spokesman made that statement after C&O directors made a bid for additional B&O shares Thursday. The C&O, in effect, sweetened its exchange offer for B&O shares by saying it would pay "dividends" to B&O shareholders tendering stock for exchange.

The board voted to make the exchange binding if at the end of a 30-day withdrawal period starting Jan. 3 the C&O has more than 50 per cent of B&O stock. C&O says some 55 per cent—more than 1.7 million shares—of the outstanding B&O shares has been tendered for exchange.

However, since C&O failed in its original goal of acquiring 80 per cent of B&O shares, Baltimore shareholders may withdraw, if they so desire, during the 30-day period.

C&O said it will start Jan. 1 accruing for the assenting B&O shareowners the difference between B&O's rate of dividend and C&O's rate of dividend, based on the exchange ratio.

The C&O dividend rate at present is $4 per year. At the rate of one share of C&O to 1.75 shares of B&O, the Chesapeake dividend would be equivalent to $2.29 per share of B&O common.

B&O has cut its 1961 dividend from $1.50 to 60 cents, thus C&O under its "dividend" plan for B&O shareowners would accumulate dividends at the rate of $1.69 per year for each B&O share assessed.

The "dividend" would be paid if and when an actual exchange takes place. The proposal is subject to approval of C&O shareholders and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The proposal to take control of B&O also is subject to ICC approval, and Central said it will fight the C&O application to the ICC.

The Central spokesman charged that control of the B&O by Chesapeake would be detrimental to the public interest, to Central and to the B&O.

Like C&O, Central wants to merge with B&O. The Central spokesman referred to the C&O "dividend" offer as "upping the ante over and above what they (C&O) previously announced to be the reasonable basis for an exchange and what the C&O described as 'its final offer.'"

Fall On Ice Hurts Calcutta Woman

A Calcutta woman hurt in a fall on ice was admitted Thursday to City Hospital where a man, woman and boy were treated after separate mishaps.

Mrs. George Cornwell of Maple Dr. is in "fairly good" condition today with a fractured arm received in a fall at home.

Mrs. Mary Morgan of Dewey Ave. Ext., employe of Maggie's Restaurant, was treated last night for a laceration of a finger of the right hand which became caught in a meat grinder.

County's Draft Quota Will Leave On Jan. 3

LISBON — Columbiana County's draft quota of 14 men will be sent to Cleveland Jan. 3 for induction in the Army, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of Draft Board 16.

Twenty-one men are scheduled for pre-induction physicals Jan. 10, also at Cleveland, Mrs. Griffith said.

Michael, with the precious black pearl tucked away in his diving mask, has twice defeated the Monster of the Deep, who attacked in the form of a giant squid and a viper fish. Just as Michael is about to get away, the Monster returns as a Portuguese Man of War and seizes the boy in its single tentacle.

CHAPTER 17

Michael struggled in the Man-of-War's embrace. His arms were pressed to his sides, but he kicked with his legs and butted the creature's soft underside with his head.

The jelly fish raised its long arm out of the sea and snapped it down like a whip with Michael on the end. Again and again.

Michael rose in the air and cracked down through the water. The flippers on his feet and the lung on his shoulders broke loose and were carried away. Gasping for breath, Michael felt the black pearl bouncing inside his mask. Just in time he sucked it into his mouth and, an instant later, the mask, too, was torn away.

The next time he was carried into the air he saw an astonishing sight: Costenbricker, straddling an enormous tortoise and carrying his folded up parasol under his arm, was racing towards him across the sea!

"Help! Help!" shouted Michael, almost swallowing the pearl, before he was again slammed into the sea.

He held his breath and waited to be drawn up again but suddenly the arm around his waist relaxed and dropped away. Michael swam to the surface and found Costenbricker standing like a warrior on the tortoise's back.

"I PUNCTURED it with my parasol!" he crowed and he pointed to the jellyfish floating harmlessly away like a deflated rubber balloon.

The old man pulled Michael up beside him on the tortoise's back. "I persuaded this turtle to be my ship," he said, patting the tortoise's back. "In return, I told him Santa would remember Turtle City at Christmas time. That is, he will if we ever get the pearl in time."

"You got it!" cried Costenbricker in disbelief. He threw off his triple - strength spectacles and straightened his age-bent shoulders. Before Michael's very eyes he seemed to grow a hundred years younger.

"Now do you remember the magic words that will waken the elves?" demanded Michael eagerly.

"I do, I do!" exclaimed Costenbricker. He slipped the pearl in his pocket and flung open the parasol. "Let us return quickly to Santa Land for I am afraid there is very little time left."

He perched himself on one of the handle's crooks and Michael perched on the other. The parasol rose from the sea and sped across the sky.

Instantly the little workers awoke and stared around in bewilderment. Then, seeing the mounds of unfinished toys before them, they went furiously to work.

A Merry Christmas to all!

Santa was so happy he danced a jig right on the doll maker's table. Then he said to Michael, "If it hadn't been for you there wouldn't be any Christmas this year. Now tell me what you would like."

"I've traveled a long way and I am tired," said Michael with a sigh. "I think I'd like to go home for a while."

"And so you shall," said Santa gently and he gave Michael a little red pill like he'd given him before. Michael swallowed it and shut his eyes and when he opened them he was in his very own bed at home.

He jumped up to tell his parents of the adventures he'd had. Then he thought, "It's no use—they'll never believe me!"

So he kept the tale of his marvelous adventures to himself and his parents never knew. And they never understood how it happened that when Christmas came there were, after all, flippers and mask for Michael lying under the Christmas tree.

A Merry Christmas to all!

Many Say Anti-Catholicism

Ohio Democrats Still Try To Figure Election Defeat

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democrats still are trying to figure why they took such a beating in the election. Many of the professionals say anti - Catholicism had a lot to do with it.

"I find that the Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana Bible belt has extended into the lower part of Ohio," said Greg Holbrook, Democratic chairman of Butler County in a letter to Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Then Holbrook went on to assert that some revival preachers had been delivering such pre-election messages as:

Claims that the Pope would have a summer home in Virginia—or that Rome would give the orders to a Catholic president.

Holbrook was writing to Young in response to a public appeal by the senator for observations on the party's Ohio defeat. A lot of others ranked President - elect John F. Kennedy's religion high on the list, too.

"From my own personal knowledge, Ohio was won for Nixon by religious bigotry," wrote another Democrat, identifed by Young only as a former mayor of a large Ohio city.

"Gov. DiSalle and his tax program should not be blamed," wrote a Democratic leader in Athens, Ohio. "It was religion."

Another Ohioan—and this view was expressed more than once—said the belief that "Catholics stick close together and always vote for a Catholic candidate" just isn't true.

"Every Republican Catholic I knew voted Republican and not for Kennedy," he said.

Still another said anti-Catholic sentiment was being expressed publicly in Oxford, Ohio, a college town (Miami University) with "above the average in intellectual classification."

Of course, many other reasons for the Democratic defeat in Ohio were sent to Young: Need for better organization, criticism of DiSalle and of Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

But one Democratic woman in New Philadelphia had a simpler explanation.

"What some Democrats may have overlooked is the fact that Mr. Nixon and his family are really like the people from central Ohio," she wrote.

Wyoming's Governor To Take Senate Seat

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Gov. Joseph J. Hickey, first Democrat to become Wyoming's governor in more than a decade, announced Thursday he will take over the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Republican Keith Thomson.

Hickey, 49, said he will resign shortly, and that Secretary of State Jack Gage will serve the remaining two years of the governor's term.

Thomson died of a heart attack at Cody, Wyo., Dec. 9, little more than a month after he was elected to the Senate seat now held by Democrat Joseph C. O'Mahoney. Thomson, 41, was completing his third term as U.S. Representative.

Killed In Wreck

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth was killed early today when his car hit a utility pole along Ohio 7 two miles north of Proctorville. The victim, Joe L. Burd, 18, was from Athalia, a few miles up the Ohio River from the scene of the southern Lawrence County wreck. The Highway Patrol said Burd was alone.

Payless Pay Day Looming For Teachers

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Public schools here closed today for what normally is a happy holiday season—10 days off for students, Christmas pay checks for teachers and administrative personnel.

Not this year.

The students will have their holiday, but for 4,000 teachers and other personnel, caught between the federal courts and the state legislature in the integration fight, today appears likely to be a payless pay day, barring a miracle.

The legislature has cut off the Orleans Parish School Board's funds because the board complied with federal court integration orders.

Some hope for the board appeared Wednesday when a three-judge federal court ordered four New Orleans banks to release some $728,000 in school board funds it had frozen. It also ordered the city to turn over to the board $200,000 in taxes that have been held in escrow.

But with appeals from the ruling likely, it was not clear if the board actually would get the funds immediately. And with payrolls totaling about 1.9 million, even these funds would not be enough.

There had been hope for the legislature, which paid November salaries for all teachers except those at the two integrated schools, would provide December payments, too.

But angered by the court ruling, which also cited three top state officials for contempt of court for withdrawing the salaries at the integrated schools, legislative leaders of the Davis administration decided against introduction of resolutions to provide the pay checks.

Instead, with one last blast at the court ruling which it called "tyrannical, unreasonable, unsound, illegal," the lawmakers went home for a two-week recess in this third special session called to fight integration.

Left in the balance until the lawmakers reconvene Jan. 4 was Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' plan to raise the state sales tax from two to three per cent for the first eight months of 1961 to provide $28 million for grants in aid to students who prefer to attend private segregated schools.

All school employes are due their regular pay checks today. For teachers and administrative personnel, the checks would be for December.

School Supt. James F. Redmond said Thursday that New Orleans banks were cashing checks that had been issued last month to apparently an outgrowth of Wednesday's ruling.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Wishes Come True If Guided By Confidence

So many wonderful things happen at Christmas, for it's the season when we believe. This being true, it's the perfect time to tell you the magic that makes wishes come true.

By Ida Jean Kain

Author Kate McNair, with vivid imagination and a practical turn of mind, has done just this in a delightful story which appeared in a recent issue of a women's magazine.

Her tale is of a homemaker who, while polishing an angel andiron to a bright gleam, is suddenly visited by a chic wee fairy. In true fairy-tale fashion, the sprite offers to grant her one wonderful wish.

Not wanting to waste this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity on anything superficial, the heroine thinks long and earnestly, ruling out riches, power and fame.

FINALLY, SHE confides to the fairy that what she really and truly wants is to be her shining best self. Her wish is for basic improvement, all along the line.

Warming up to her subject, this young mother explains that she wants to be bright enough to hold her own without feeling inadequate, skillful enough to be Mrs. Fixit around the house. She wants to be a confident cook and to have an understanding heart — all qualities that will enable her to live life more abundantly.

The last part of her wish — one that all women everywhere will understand — is to be more nearly beautiful.

The wee fairy, pleased with the choice, tells her the wish is granted, but there's a gimmick. Since any sudden transformation would prove upsetting, the fairy arranges that the changes come about quite naturally, with day-to-day improvement.

To make it all believable, the heroine is to pursue the time-honored ways of ensuring the changes.

FLIPPING through a magazine, the sprite points to a do-it-yourself beauty plan, which suggests shape-ups to trim the "central area measurement," hair - brushing to make hair shine — the whole beauty routine!

Now comes the magic! The wee fairy casts the spell called "intense interest." What happens? It makes the heroine find self-improvement is a joyous adventure.

Yes, it's magic, for if we advance confidently in the direction of our dreams, they come true!

2 Of Globe Brick Workers Retiring

The retirement of 2 veteran Globe Brick Co. employes and the presentation of service pins to 10 others was announced today by Winston A. Porter, president.

Retiring this year are William J. Wolfe of LaCroft and James McGrew of Wellsville R. D. 1, both employed at the company's mine at the Newell plant.

Wolfe began work July 7, 1924, and McGrew Jan. 29, 1925.

Pins for 25 years' service have been presented to Bruce Adams, Herman Burch, Eber Parsons, William F. Porter and Dewaine Staley.

The 15-year service pins went to Stanley Anderson, Walter Burch, Milford Carter, James Hartill and Floyd E. Stewart.

25 Families Aided

LISBON — Volunteer firemen have distributed Christmas toys to 25 district families this week in their annual Christmas project. The firemen spent many hours renovating donations of used toys. The Girl Scout Troop of the First Presbyterian Church helped dress the dolls.

$118,000 Bonus Given Potters At Scio Plant

CADIZ — A Christmas bonus totaling $118,000 has been distributed to the 1,280 employes of the Scio Pottery Co. at nearby Scio.

The checks ranged from $25 to the $350 given 23 potters with the firm since it was founded in 1933.

The present pay-as-you-go federal income tax withholding plan in the United States became effective on July 1, 1943.

Holiday Halts Dam Razing

Work has halted temporarily on razing of Dam 8 at Newell while employes of the Monongahela & Ohio Dredging Co. observe the Christmas holiday.

Only 125-feet of the 700-foot concrete guide wall remains to be dynamited.

Demolition of the lock chamber wall will be followed by "sounding" of the river bed as the Dredging Co. checks for possible elevated spots which may foul a boat.

Work probably will continue into the second week of January as the company will clean up the debris after the lock wall is blasted.

Meanwhile, a total of 790 tons of scrap — discarded locking equipment — is up for bid by junk dealers. Deadline for bids is Thursday.

Harry Springer, former lockmaster of the abandoned dam, will begin new duties as assistant at Dam 7 in Midland early next year.

The U. S. Corps of Engineers abandoned the Newell dam because of the near completion of the huge super-dam at Stratton. Many other outdated "wicket" type dams along the Ohio River from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., also are scheduled for razing.

NYC To Fight C&O's Bid For B&O Control

CLEVELAND (AP) — The New York Central System says it will fight Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co.'s bid for control of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. and will take the matter to the courts if necessary.

A Central spokesman made that statement after C&O directors made a bid for additional B&O shares Thursday. The C&O, in effect, sweetened its exchange offer for B&O shares by saying it would pay "dividends" to B&O shareholders tendering stock for exchange.

The board voted to make the exchange binding if at the end of a 30-day withdrawal period starting Jan. 3 the C&O has more than 50 per cent of B&O stock. C&O says some 55 per cent—more than 1.7 million shares—of the outstanding B&O shares has been tendered for exchange.

However, since C&O failed in its original goal of acquiring 80 per cent of B&O shares, Baltimore shareholders may withdraw, if they so desire, during the 30-day period.

C&O said it will start Jan. 1 accruing for the assenting B&O shareowners the difference between B&O's rate of dividend and C&O's rate of dividend, based on the exchange ratio.

The C&O dividend rate at present is $4 per year. At the rate of one share of C&O to 1.75 shares of B&O, the Chesapeake dividend would be equivalent to $2.29 per share of B&O common.

B&O has cut its 1961 dividend from $1.50 to 60 cents, thus C&O under its "dividend" plan for B&O shareowners would accumulate dividends at the rate of $1.69 per year for each B&O share assessed.

The "dividend" would be paid if and when an actual exchange takes place. The proposal is subject to approval of C&O shareholders and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The proposal to take control of B&O also is subject to ICC approval, and Central said it will fight the C&O application to the ICC.

The Central spokesman charged that control of the B&O by Chesapeake would be detrimental to the public interest, to Central and to the B&O.

Like C&O, Central wants to merge with B&O. The Central spokesman referred to the C&O "dividend" offer as "upping the ante over and above what they (C&O) previously announced to be the reasonable basis for an exchange and what the C&O described as 'its final offer.' "

Fall On Ice Hurts Calcutta Woman

A Calcutta woman hurt in a fall on ice was admitted Thursday to City Hospital where a man, woman and boy were treated after separate mishaps.

Mrs. George Cornwell of Maple Dr. is in "fairly good" condition today with a fractured arm received in a fall at home.

Mrs. Mary Morgan of Dewey Ave. Ext., employe of Maggie's Restaurant, was treated last night for a laceration of a finger of the right hand which became caught in a meat grinder.

County's Draft Quota Will Leave On Jan. 3

LISBON — Columbiana County's draft quota of 14 men will be sent to Cleveland Jan. 3 for induction in the Army, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of Draft Board 16.

Twenty-one men are scheduled for pre-induction physicals Jan. 10, also at Cleveland, Mrs. Griffith said.

Michael, with the precious black pearl tucked away in his diving mask, has twice defeated the Monster of the Deep, who attacked in the form of a giant squid and a viper fish. Just as Michael is about to get away, the Monster returns as a Portuguese Man of War and seizes the boy in its single tentacle.

CHAPTER 17

Michael struggled in the Man-of-War's embrace. His arms were pressed to his sides, but he kicked with his legs and butted the creature's soft underside with his head.

The jelly fish raised its long arm out of the sea and snapped it down like a whip with Michael on the end. Again and again.

Michael rose in the air and cracked down through the water. The flippers on his feet and the lung on his shoulders broke loose and were carried away. Gasping for breath, Michael felt the black pearl bouncing inside his mask. Just in time he sucked it into his mouth and, an instant later, the mask, too, was torn away.

The next time he was carried into the air he saw an astonishing sight: Costenbricker, straddling an enormous tortoise and carrying his folded up parasol under his arm, was racing towards him across the sea!

He held his breath and waited to be drawn up again but suddenly the arm around his waist relaxed and dropped away. Michael swam to the surface and found Costenbricker standing like a warrior on the tortoise's back.

"I PUNCTURED it with my parasol!" he crowed and he pointed to the jellyfish floating harmlessly away like a deflated rubber balloon.

The old man pulled Michael up beside him on the tortoise's back. "I persuaded this turtle to be my ship," he said, patting the tortoise's back. "In return, I told him Santa would remember Turtle City at Christmas time. That is, he will if we ever get the pearl in time."

"You got it!" cried Costenbricker in disbelief. He threw off his triple - strength spectacles and straightened his age-bent shoulders. Before Michael's very eyes he seemed to grow a hundred years younger.

"Now do you remember the magic words that will waken the elves?" demanded Michael eagerly.

"I do, I do!" exclaimed Costenbricker. He slipped the pearl in his pocket and flung open the parasol. "Let us return quickly to Santa Land for I am afraid there is very little time left."

He perched himself on one of the handle's crooks and Michael perched on the other. The parasol rose from the sea and sped across the sky.

Instantly the little workers awoke and stared around in bewilderment. Then, seeing the mounds of unfinished toys before them, they went furiously to work. The reindeer in the barn, suddenly wakened, stamped their hooves, eager to begin their long flight around the world.

Santa was so happy he danced a jig right on the doll maker's table. Then he said to Michael, "If it hadn't been for you there wouldn't be any Christmas this year. Now tell me what you would like."

"I've traveled a long way and I am tired," said Michael with a sigh. "I think I'd like to go home for a while."

"And so you shall," said Santa gently and he gave Michael a little red pill like he'd given him before. Michael swallowed it and shut his eyes and when he opened them he was in his very own bed at home.

He jumped up to tell his parents of the adventures he'd had. Then he thought, "It's no use—they'll never believe me!"

So he kept the tale of his marvelous adventures to himself and his parents never knew. And they never understood how it happened that when Christmas came there were, after all, flippers and mask for Michael lying under the Christmas tree.

Payless Pay Day Looming For Teachers

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Public schools here closed today for what normally is a happy holiday season—10 days off for students, Christmas pay checks for teachers and administrative personnel.

Not this year.

The students will have their holiday, but for 4,000 teachers and other personnel, caught between the federal courts and the state legislature in the integration fight, today appears likely to be a payless pay day, barring a miracle.

The legislature has cut off the Orleans Parish School Board's funds because the board complied with federal court integration orders.

Some hope for the board appeared Wednesday when a three-judge federal court ordered four New Orleans banks to release some $728,000 in school board funds it had frozen. It also ordered the city to turn over to the board $200,000 in taxes that have been held in escrow.

But with appeals from the ruling likely, it was not clear if the board actually would get the funds immediately. And with payrolls totaling about 1.9 million, even these funds would not be enough.

There had been hope for the legislature, which paid November salaries for all teachers except those at the two integrated schools, would provide December payments, too.

But angered by the court ruling, which also cited three top state officials for contempt of court for withdrawing the salaries at the integrated schools, legislative leaders of the Davis administration decided against introduction of resolutions to provide the pay checks.

Instead, with one last blast at the court ruling which it called "tyrannical, unreasonable, unsound, illegal," the lawmakers went home for a two-week recess in this third special session called to fight integration.

Left in the balance until the lawmakers reconvene Jan. 4 was Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' plan to raise the state sales tax from two to three per cent for the first eight months of 1961 to provide $28 million for grants in aid to students who prefer to attend private segregated schools.

All school employes are due their regular pay checks today. For teachers and administrative personnel, the checks would be for December.

School Supt. James F. Redmond said Thursday that New Orleans banks were cashing checks that had been issued last month to apparently an outgrowth of Wednesday's ruling.

Wishes Come True If Guided By Confidence

So many wonderful things happen at Christmas, for it's the season when we believe. This being true, it's the perfect time to tell you the magic that makes wishes come true.

By Ida Jean Kain

Author Kate McNair, with vivid imagination and a practical turn of mind, has done just this in a delightful story which appeared in a recent issue of a women's magazine.

Her tale is of a homemaker who, while polishing an angel andiron to a bright gleam, is suddenly visited by a chic wee fairy. In true fairy-tale fashion, the sprite offers to grant her one wonderful wish.

Not wanting to waste this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity on anything superficial, the heroine thinks long and earnestly, ruling out riches, power and fame.

FINALLY, SHE confides to the fairy that what she really and truly wants is to be her shining best self. Her wish is for basic improvement, all along the line.

Warming up to her subject, this young mother explains that she wants to be bright enough to hold her own without feeling inadequate, skillful enough to be Mrs. Fixit around the house. She wants to be a confident cook and to have an understanding heart — all qualities that will enable her to live life more abundantly.

The last part of her wish — one that all women everywhere will understand — is to be more nearly beautiful.

The wee fairy, pleased with the choice, tells her the wish is granted, but there's a gimmick. Since any sudden transformation would prove upsetting, the fairy arranges that the changes come about quite naturally, with day-to-day improvement.

To make it all believable, the heroine is to pursue the time-honored ways of ensuring the changes.

FLIPPING through a magazine, the sprite points to a do-it-yourself beauty plan, which suggests shape-ups to trim the "central area measurement," hair - brushing to make hair shine — the whole beauty routine!

Now comes the magic! The wee fairy casts the spell called "intense interest." What happens? It makes the heroine find self-improvement is a joyous adventure.

Yes, it's magic, for if we advance confidently in the direction of our dreams, they come true!

Many Say Anti-Catholicism

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democrats still are trying to figure why they took such a beating in the election. Many of the professionals say anti - Catholicism had a lot to do with it.

"I find that the Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana Bible belt has extended into the lower part of Ohio," said Greg Holbrook, Democratic chairman of Butler County in a letter to Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Then Holbrook went on to assert that some revival preachers had been delivering such pre-election messages as:

Claims that the Pope would have a summer home in Virginia—or that Rome would give the orders to a Catholic president.

Holbrook was writing to Young in response to a public appeal by the senator for observations on the party's Ohio defeat. A lot of others ranked President - elect John F. Kennedy's religion high on the list, too.

"From my own personal knowledge, Ohio was won for Nixon by religious bigotry," wrote another Democrat, identifed by Young only as a former mayor of a large Ohio city.

"Gov. DiSalle and his tax program should not be blamed," wrote a Democratic leader in Athens, Ohio. "It was religion."

Another Ohioan—and this view was expressed more than once—said the belief that "Catholics stick close together and always vote for a Catholic candidate" just isn't true.

"Every Republican Catholic I knew voted Republican and not for Kennedy," he said.

Still another said anti-Catholic sentiment was being expressed publicly in Oxford, Ohio, a college town (Miami University) with "above the average in intellectual classification."

Of course, many other reasons for the Democratic defeat in Ohio were sent to Young: Need for better organization, criticism of DiSalle and of Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

But one Democratic woman in New Philadelphia had a simpler explanation.

"What some Democrats may have overlooked is the fact that Mr. Nixon and his family are really like the people from central Ohio," she wrote.

Wyoming's Governor To Take Senate Seat

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Gov. Joseph J. Hickey, first Democrat to become Wyoming's governor in more than a decade, announced Thursday he will take over the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Republican Keith Thomson.

Hickey, 49, said he will resign shortly, and that Secretary of State Jack Gage will serve the remaining two years of the governor's term.

Thomson died of a heart attack at Cody, Wyo., Dec. 9, little more than a month after he was elected to the Senate seat now held by Democrat Joseph C. O'Mahoney. Thomson, 41, was completing his third term as U.S. Representative.

Killed In Wreck

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth was killed early today when his car hit a utility pole along Ohio 7 two miles north of Proctorville. The victim, Joe L. Burd, 18, was from Athalia, a few miles up the Ohio River from the scene of the southern Lawrence County wreck. The Highway Patrol said Burd was alone.

Following the Star

They followed a Star. But what of us? What star shall we follow? Sputnik? Echo? Vanguard? In our time have we any star to guide us, any truth to ask?

These men called "Wise Men" had a living Word to follow. They knew of a star, for they read, they thought, they prayed, they acted on the knowledge given to them.

These men called "Wise Men" were no lonesome strugglers with history. Together they searched and they reached beyond any narrow boundaries of nation or race.

They followed a star. Do you suppose any man could ever say that of us, and call us "wise"? It is not enough to talk of stars: We are meant to be like stars in a dark world.

To any who think we have no star to guide, look again. God's truth still breaks through to guide men to the only righteousness and the only peace.

To you---a Blessed Christmas---and a Star to guide!

— Ralph W. Loew, D.D.

Kennedy's Cautious On Slump, Jobs

No Major Decisions Will Be Made Until He Takes Office

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is taking a cautious approach in deciding what the new administration will do about the business slump and unemployment.

He says there will be no decision regarding such controversial steps as tax cuts and pump-priming public works spending until after he has taken office Jan. 20.

Kennedy's go-slow policy on the problem was clear today as he slackened his work pace for the Christmas weekend and made ready to enjoy the holiday with his family at their ocean-front home.

Kennedy's only announced engagements during the day are with Rep. Abraham Multer, D-N. Y., and Peruvian Sen. Juan M. Pena Prado.

Kennedy headquarters said it had no advance information on the purpose of Multer's visit. He requested the appointment. Pena-Prado is bringing a message from Peru's President Manuel Prado.

The president - elect probably will get in another round of golf in the afternoon and then turn tonight to a traditional and happy assignment of many an American father. He plans to help trim the Christmas tree, assisted by daughter Caroline, 3, and hang stockings at the mantle.

The newest member of the family is far too young to lend a hand. But the latest bulletin on John Fitzgerald Jr., who will be one month old Christmas Day, is that he's doing fine. He's now weighing in at 7 pounds, 5 ounces —1 pound and 2 ounces more than his birth weight.

And he is being showered with clothes—from all sections of the country.

Kennedy's caution on the business slump and unemployment of more than four million was pointed up as he announced Friday the appointment of Walter W. Heller, University of Minnesota economist and tax expert, as chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

First of all. Heller gave his version of the problem at a joint news conference with Kennedy. Heller said there has been a business recession the last six months and that the economy has been lagging for 3½ years.

He added that he wants to explore the idea of a tax program geared to reductions in times of business decline and increases as an anti-inflationary weapon.

But Kennedy kept his own counsel as to what his thinking is on remedial measures.

"I think I will wait until after Jan. 20," he said, "and at that time, shortly after that, we will be discussing the condition of the economy and what steps could be profitably taken to improve that position."

By then, he added, he expects to have in hand the recommendations of a study committee head by Dr. Paul Samuelson of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

This was Kennedy's answer when asked what he plans to do about what he last week called the lack of vigor in the nation's economy.

Yeah, Snow's Due For White Yule-Humbug

Motorists could say only "humbug" when they heard the Ohio weatherman's forecast of more snow today. It will be intermittent and may not exceed an inch or two, but at least it will cover the dirty snow already on the ground and make a genuine White Christmas.

But there was a reason for rejoicing as the forecast also included what looks like a "heat wave" compared to the deep freeze treatment Old Man Winter has been giving the Ohio Valley this week.

The forecast is for a temperature range of 18 to 23 today and that's warm in contrast to the biting cold that began easing last night after setting a freak mark on district thermometers.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, recorded 13 below zero — that's right — at 5:30 p. m. yesterday, after an all-day "high" of only 5 degrees.

That made it the second coldest December day since in 1917 when the high was 2 above. The previous mark was the 1 above in January 1936, with an overnight low of 15 below.

His 13 below last night was the coldest mark in 1960. The previous low for this year was the 10 below on March 11, when a late-winter cold wave struck.

The freak cold also extended to

U.A.R. Chief Warns Israel About A-Bomb

Nasser Says It Will Start Shooting War If It's Constructed

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser has threatened Israel with a shooting war if it starts construction of an atomic bomb.

The United Arab Republic leader warned that "it means the beginning of war between us" if Israel's new atomic reactor in the Negev desert is used to build a nuclear weapon. He declared the U.A.R. would attack the "base of aggression."

Nasser, who often has asserted a constant state of war already exists between Israel and the U.A.R., spoke for two hours Friday night before cheering crowds commemorating the British and French troop withdrawal after the Suez war in 1956.

He charged "imperialist countries are paving the way to arm Israel with atomic weapons and then claim Israel produced them."

"If this happens," he said, "then we shall get atomic bombs no matter what the price. And if Israel can make atomic bombs, so can we."

Israel has denied the reactor being built near Beersheba with French technical help is to produce A-bombs. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion maintained the reactor is for peaceful purposes only.

Reports that the reactor would be suitable for bomb production circulated earlier this week in Washington and London.

Israel assured Washington it is not trying to join the nuclear weapons club, and the United States expressed the hope Israel's Arab neighbors would accept the assurances.

Devout Trek To Manger Scene Taken

President Expresses Gratefulness, Lights Up Christmas Tree

By The Associated Press

Festive parties and religious observances, marked Christmas Eve from the newest nations of Africa to Europe, America and Asia.

African carol singers in flowered costumes paraded the streets of Lagos, Nigeria, in 91-degree temperatures, celebrating their first Christmas Eve as an independent nation. Churches were expected to be crowded for the traditional services in all except the Moslem north. Stores sold gifts and Christmas puddings.

Near-zero temperatures, laced with blizzards, gripped the northeastern United States from the upper Mississippi Valley to the seaboard.

President Eisenhower, lighting Washington Friday night, expressed gratefulness "for all the material comforts with which we have been blessed." But he urged the nation to look seriously at its imperfections — racial prejudices and apathy toward violations of law and standards of public and private integrity.

Pilgrims from far corners of the world in unprecedented numbers made the devout trek to the manger scene in Bethlehem. About 3,000 of them passed through Jerusalem's Mandelbaum Gate and the no man's land between Israel and Jordan.

Most European countries closed out one of the most prosperous Christmas sprees in history. Britain reported Christmas spending up 25 per cent over last year. Shopkeepers in Italy said they were running out of sable, mink and chinchilla. Paris night club reservations were sold out. Record British poultry sales for the Christmas dinner totaled $50 million.

But in the Congo, the head of the U. N. mission, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, planned to spend Christmas Day at Bakwanga in Kasai Province where some 200 refugee Baluba tribesmen are reported dying of starvation every day.

Plum pudding rations were distributed to Irish soldiers in the Congo, turkey to Canadians. Military units from Christian nations planned Christmas trees and parties, whether they were stationed in Leopoldville or jungle outposts. Danish military police in Leopoldville had a tree flown from Denmark.

Soldiers manning another uneasy front line—American troops in Korea—griped and entertained orphans. The Army is serving up 32 tons of turkey, plus trimmings. Many units will be visited by a

Greetings From Around World

Sick Little Virginia Girl Waits Happiest Christmas

HARDY, Va. (AP) — In a few more hours it will be Christmas —the happiest, the most amazing and the most unbelievable Dorothy Ridgeway has known in her nine years.

From all over the world thousands of Christmas greetings and armloads of gifts are streaming into her tiny mountainside home.

Today an Army airplane flies in with presents from Ft. Eustis, Va. Due in also is a two-foot tall dancing doll flown from England by a transatlantic jet and relayed to Hardy.

It all began because a sick little girl liked Christmas cards. A plea for cards was mysteriously sent over Weather Bureau teletype circuits Wednesday. That was all the world needed to know.

First the greetings came trickling in, then by Friday it was a flood. On that day alone more than 1,000 cards and three big mail sacks full of gifts arrived for Dorothy.

Sgt. Joseph F. Witsken of Williamsburg, Va., chief clerk of the Transportation Command's headquarters Co. at Ft. Eustis, flies to nearby Roanoke today with gifts from the servicemen.

The dancing doll was bought by factory workers in Guisborough, England, Pauline Dale, a textile worker, organized the collection, and Capt. James Walker offered to fly it to New York on his airliner. From New York the doll goes to Charlotte, N. C. then to Roanoke.

From Rome came greetings that said, "Buon Natale e felice Anno Nuovo"—"A good Christmas and a happy New Year." Other messages of cheer have come from Japan, Germany, Korea, Greenland and every state in the union.

Dorothy has been left tiny and frail since the disease first struck her in 1953. The illness, Schuller-

No Negligence Seen In Blaze On Carrier

NEW YORK (AP)—The deadly, disastrous fire on the aircraft carrier Constellation was the result of an unforeseeable chain of circumstances and not caused by general negligence or by any individual, says the commandant of the Brooklyn Navy yard.

The fire took 49 lives and did an estimated total of $75 million damage before it was brought under control Monday night at the Navy Yard, where the Constellation was nearing completion.

Rear Adm. Schuyler N. Pyne, testifying at the naval court of inquiry into the fire, called the start of the blaze "inconceivable —a chain of circumstances which was inconceivable to foresee."

While Pyne gave this opinion, in Washington the Navy ordered a series of new and stiffer safety precautions aboard its ships. Specifically, it said fuel tanks of the kind involved in the start of the Constellation fire must no longer be allowed on Navy ships.

28 Who Survived Tanker Breakup En Route Home

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Twenty-eight surviving crewmen from the storm-wrecked tanker Pine Ridge were at home with their loved ones today or on their way.

Only chief engineer John Richart, the 29th survivor, faced a not-so-merry Christmas as h remained aboard the stern section of the broken vessel at sea.

Seven of the Pine Ridge's crew were lost when the ship broke in two Wednesday night in heavy seas 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras. The other crewmen—except Richart — arrived here Friday aboard a destroyer.

On the stern section with Richart were four crewmen from the commercial tug Curb, which is towing the stern to Newport News, Va. Another tug, the Lamberts Point, and the Coast Guard cutter Cherokee remained alongside. The towing job is expected to take about 48 hours.

The Coast Guard today placed the location of the hulk and the tugs at 150 miles southeast of the Virginia Capes, making about four knots. It's estimated the vessels will arrive inside the capes about Sunday afternoon.

The Coast Guard said it knows of no special provisions being put aboard the stern section to help the five men celebrate Christmas. But the Pine Ridge's galley is part of what's left of the ship, and there should be plenty of food aboard.

Richart, 36, of Wilmington, Del., by sticking to his ship, is protecting the salvage rights of the owners, Paco Tankers, Inc., and the Keystone Shipping Co. of Philadelphia. A vessel abandoned on the high seas becomes the prize of the first to board her.

James C. Lewis of Winston-Salem, N. C., and I. H. Hulsey, of Corpus Christi, Tex., applied such

Christmas Joy and Blessings

"And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger." In the hush of a Holy Night, He was born, bringing to earth a joyous promise of Peace and Good Will to all mankind. And now, as the bells ring out the glad tidings, age-old yet ever new, another Christmas dawns. Hope is strengthened, courage fortified, faith renewed. Hearts and spirits bright with the shining wonder of the Day.

To all our friends, our greetings and good wishes! May you hear the wonder of Christmas in each dearly cherished carol... see its magic in each gaily decked tree... feel its infinite joy deeply in your heart. And, as you hark to the words of the sacred story, may the blessings of His message surround you and those you hold dear, at Christmastide and through all the days to come.

Heart Attack Fatal To Rear Adm. Hughes

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Rear Adm. F. Massie Hughes, USN, first pilot to take off in search of the Japanese attack force after the Pearl Harbor bombing, is dead at the age of 61.

Adm. Hughes died Friday of a heart attack while being examined in the Norfolk Naval Station dispensary for a sudden illness.

He would have retired from the Navy in June of next year.

A native of Charlottesville, Va., he was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1923. While at Annapolis he won a letter in football. He had been commandant of the 5th Naval District for 3½ years.

After the Pearl Harbor attack, Hughes' Catalina patrol plane took off at 8:21 a.m., and did not land until 12 hours later. For this and later patrols he was awarded the Air Medal.

Hughes was skipper of the aircraft carrier Block Island during the time she sank five German submarines. The ship was itself sunk May 29, 1944, by a submarine it had tracked for two days.

Afterward the Navy Department renamed a new carrier nearing completion the Block Island II and picked Hughes as its skipper. All the surviving members of the first Block Island were assigned to the carrier.

He is survived by his widow, Helen Rooney Lovelace Hughes; two stepchildren, Sally Elizabeth Lovelace and Lt. Don Lovelace, USN, and two children Lt. Eynon Hughes, USAF, and Lt. (j.g.) Francis Massie Hughes Jr., USN.

Maritime experts estimate that every ship now afloat in the world could be anchored in San Francisco Bay with room to spare. The bay, its contiguous bays and straits, cover 456 square miles.

Brazil Uneasy On Hide-Seek Trip Of Quadros To Europe

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —Uneasiness is showing in Brazil about the hide-and-seek trip President-elect Janio Quadros is making in Europe.

Only a handful of the millions who elected Quadros by a landslide in October know for certain the whereabouts of their incoming president.

Quadros is due to take over the government on Jan. 31. Concern has been expressed here at the fact that no one really knows who will make up the new government and how it will operate.

Outgoing President Juscelino Kubitschek is reported worried because there has been no attempt to make an easy transition from his government to Quadros'.

A Quadros' supporter, Faria Lima, returned from Europe this week saying he had conferred with Quadros — " somewhere in Europe"—and that Quadros does not intend to return until around Jan. 20.

Quadros was reported somewhere in Italy, but also possibly in Switzerland, France or even en route to Yugoslavia, supposedly for a conference with President Tito, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

This does not seem to concern the Brazilians as much as the fact that, as far as anybody knows, Quadros has made no attempt to keep in touch with what is going on at home.

Car Fumes Are Fatal To Soldier And Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — A soldier home on leave and young woman were found dead today in their parked automobile in front of the girl's home. They apparently had died of carbon monoxide fumes.

The victims were Godfrey W. Clay, 24, and Miss Sylvia Gibson, 22.

Police said the car was locked and the ignition was turned on. They said they had to break windows in the car to reach the couple. It was reported the exhaust pipe on the car was bent and police said the vehicle would be checked to determine the cause of the fumes.

The Most Wonderful Night Of The Year

Christmas Eve is a time for remembering. Each of us has a favorite recollection.

Things we did as children on Christmas Eve became traditional if we did them twice. We gained years, our traditions were passed to our children, busy making their own traditions—and the sum of the traditions became the woof and warp of family Christmases.

The traditions loom so large they blot out current events. There is an instant in time on Christmas Eve when we can shut out all distractions and identify ourselves completely with everything dear and precious we remember.

We can see again the faces of loved ones and hear their voices. We can recall incidents so vividly they could not have happened almost a lifetime ago. We can live again the best parts of childhood experiences.

And if there are stars in the heavens on Christmas Eve, we can stand under them and hear once more the music of the spheres that only children can hear, mingled with the tinkle of sleigh bells and the lonesome whistle of an old-fashioned railroad locomotive.

Or perhaps it's the eerie quiet of city streets when everybody has gone home on Christmas Eve that we recall. It may even be the hustle-bustle of last-minute travelers . . . going home for Christmas . . . traveling to the scene of memory . . . to good companions and warm hearths and hearts.

Whatever it is that's remembered, there's a lump in the throat and a tear to brush away on Christmas Eve. The most wonderful night of the year is here again, with more memories to be added to all the wonderful ones of Christmases past.

Crosswalks Needed

In connection with heavy snow, we offer a suggestion that would help the pedestrian.

Crosswalks should be cleared at the various downtown intersections as q u i c k l y as possible. This not only would make walking easier, but would eliminate a hazard which exists when the snow is ankle deep.

Frequently, pedestrians have close calls with autos because they're so pre-occupied with their efforts to mush through the snow that they forget traffic and traffic signals. Fortunately, there have been only "n e a r misses" to date, with no serious injuries.

We appreciate the many problems that go with snow removal in a community the size of East Liverpool. It's a big job, with many things demanding attention in a hurry. And without too much equipment and manpower it becomes an even greater headache.

Darkest Secret Of Success

Look where you will in a world troubled by the Communist Conspiracy's tireless undermining of the established order; the evidence is the same.

The conspirators are taking ruthless advantage of two weaknesses in human beings —ignorance and malice.

Communist troublemakers are expert in the dark art of exploiting the violence that explodes in the minds of troubled and undisciplined people.

The riots, revolutions and insurrections they are so skillful in starting are based on negative aspects of human behavior.

The alternatives that Communist agitators propose to people weary of povery and despair are not constructive. What is presented as something better than the existing order always turns out in practice to be either more of the same thing, or something worse.

They ceaselessly proclaim the failure of the order they overthrow and point to it as proof of the evil thinking of those who established it, but the order they propose to establish is the essence of evil.

It is opposed to the deep nationalist ambitions that have caused so many people in this generation to dream about freedom and self-determination.

The Communist Conspiracy is founded on fraud and fed by betrayal.

Those who become its victims know nothing of the philosophy of nihilism that underlies all Communist overthrow. Few who are dedicated to the fight against the conspirators know about nihilism, either — the doctrine that the existing social order is so bad its destruction is necessary for the sake of destruction.

This philosophy was generated in Russia. It was the source of the thinking behind the Russian revolution—not the original revolution that overthrew the Bolsheviks and created the authoritarianism of Stalin.

This negative approach 20th century problem is the sternest challenge of our time. It is the modern world's counterpart of the ancient world's struggle to survive the Vandals, who destroyed for the sake of destruction.

THE VIOLENCE if offers is attractive to the ignorant and the undisciplined.

The Communist Conspiracy is attractive to the ignorant and the undisciplined.

The Communist Conspiracy is betting there are enough of these to crush the constructive forces of civilization. It is betting that the builders of civilization have left so many things undone that their civilization can be toppled by its destroyers.

The dark secret of their success is to take advantage of everything that has been neglected—to ruin everything that has been done imperfectly.

They have no hope and offer no promise of doing better, but how can this be explained to the illiterate, undisciplined people who are their prey?

Quirk In Political Organization

The death of Albert Horstman, Ohio Democratic national committeeman, brings to mind a change that should be considered in the state laws on political organization.

The Ohio code now provides that the national committeemen and committeewomen of the two parties be selected by delegates to the national conventions. This probably is because national committee terms are for four years and it is considered desirable to permit a close relationship between the national committee and the presidential candidate nominated by the convention delegates.

But many people active in political organizations believe the state's national party representatives should be chosen by state central committees. This is because the central committees constitute the parties' policy-making bodies.

Convention delegates are elected for a temporary job. State central committeemen hold permanent positions for two-year terms. There is a continuity in the central committee which does not exist in the convention delegation.

Thus the central committees would seem the more logical bodies to select Ohio's representatives at the national party level.

Mr. Horstman's successor will be chosen by the Democratic committee, under a rule adopted earlier this year. That procedure should be adopted permanently, with a change in the law.

The matter is not earth-shaking in importance, but it is a detail that would straighten out the line of representation from precinct to national level in party organization.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"The Lord is my Shepherd" will always mean more than "My dictator is hot stuff." "He leadeth me beside still waters" will always give mankind more confidence than "The premier is out with a new 20-Year Plan." And no pronouncement of any governmental wonder boys anywhere will seem as safe to tie to as "Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me."

Through the ages man has worshipped a Supreme Being. His faith has been his greatest solace in heavy going. When any ruler starts playing rough with him in this respect he is taking the losing end.

The dictator who makes it dangerous to kneel at an altar railing is going off the deep end, and the Free World may be getting its best break if the Soviet Union tries to throw an Iron Curtain between man and his God.

The more Russia fights religion, the less its chance for survival. People are pretty much alike down deep inside, regardless of nationality, climate, location, programs, speeches and ideologies.

The prayer that gives comfort to a mother anywhere else gives comfort to her in Russia. In the shadows cast by the flickering light of cathedral candles a Moscow family sees the holy figures seen by a family in Wappingers Falls or Chillicothe.

Khrushchev can deride a prayer book or a string of Rosary beads but he has nothing in his program capable of giving people as much hope and peace.

He can scoff at the sign of the Cross but the hammer and sickle will, in the long run, never come even close.

The Soviet drive against religion is concentrated on youth. This may get somewhere at first but the kids will, in time, sense what is missing from their lives, and it won't be pictures of a review in Red Square. When trial and tribulation come they will seek the comfort that comes through the Bible.

The glory of Christmas, the music of chapel bells, the lips of a mother moving in prayer and the matchless chronicles of the old and new testaments will always have the edicts of dictators licked to a frazzle in the final returns. Faith is too permanent for the veto.

BEN ATWOOD SMITH, who takes Sen. Kennedy's seat, comes out of Gloucester, famed for its whalers, cod fishermen and other hardy seagoing men. He was once Gloucester mayor and should be at home in rough seas when the ship of state is pitching. His family founded Gorton codfish business, whose billboards were among earliest roadside and meadow advertisements. Smith was at Harvard with Kennedy and played on the football team. He has won tuna fishing championships and can enliven Washington with tales of the big ones that got away.

New Jersey high court has upheld conviction of the woman who hogged party phone and wouldn't let a doctor put through call for ambulance. This should be a warning to the type, widely known to all phone users.

A musical comedy is to be made of the story of the Minsky burlesque family. Possible title "The Strip Tease Man Cometh" or perhaps "Take 'em Off."

Jet plane 11 miles off course, as alleged in recent frightful air collision, means that there was too little time involved "in the pinch." Jets make over 500 miles an hour and reduce to only 230 when "stacking," probers say.

Era Of Good Will Sought For Labor

By Victor Riesel

One night recently there gathered at the Washington home of Arthur Goldberg, some 22 dinner guests—most of whom could make national headlines on their own. Dorothy Goldberg lit the traditional candles. There were moments of silence during the prayers. Then a hubbub of "amens" from such close friends of the new secretary of labor as Monsignor George Higgins, Jim Mitchell and George Meany.

Victor Riesel

Goldberg looked at the guests later that evening and turned to such Republicans as Jim Mitchell, Joe Finnegan, federal mediation chief, Alex Rose, Liberal party leader—and told the assembled labor specialists:

"I'll count on you to help me create a new era of good will between industry and labor."

At that moment, hundreds of miles distant, auto union leaders were dispersing in Detroit for their flights home.

THEY HAD been meeting most of the week with Walter Reuther and second-in-command Emil Mazey, in International Executive Board sessions.

Many thought they would wind up their parleys with "secret" demands on the Big Three auto companies fully formulated. Nothing definite had been decided.

They agreed to convene again late in January. This will be the first of a series of meetings winding up in a national "convention" in April. Then we'll know what the auto union wants and probably the attitude of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Then, we'll also know if we are heading for a steel-type marathon strike just at the moment when the economists say we're due to spring from the recession.

Averting such a head-on clash will be Arthur Goldberg's self assumed responsibility.

But how?

ONE PROPOSAL being urged on him comes from the leaders of American Motors. Its president, George Romney, is a high member of the Mormon church. Its vice president, Ed Cushman, is a Quaker and an active churchman.

It is their suggestion that the lead in bringing national labor and industrial leaders together be taken by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen.

They do not believe that a National Labor and Management Council sponsored by either the Labor Department or the White House—amid all the trumpets which must blare—can succeed.

They propose, therefore, that three clergymen ask prominent labor and business men to a secluded retreat somewhere away from newsmen and the cameras. There would be no formal program, no set routine, no scheduled meetings. Just walking and talking and eating and living together.

Ed Cushman, who first suggested this to Art Goldberg, has three clergymen in mind—Father George Higgins of the National Catholic Welfare Board; Rabbi Eugene Lipman, of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, and Rev. Cameron Hall, of the National Council of Churches.

SUCH A GATHERING, distant from the political and industrial din, could "talk out" an action program to end national strikes. They could then recommend their plan to the labor secretary. From him, the proposal would go to the White House.

It would be labor and management's own formula. It would have been devised without the advice of government people and certainly not in their presence.

There is precedent for such a conference. These three clergymen already have met with industrialists, with Goldberg, with Victor Reuther and with electrical workers' official Joe Keenan.

Without any publicity, they assembled in a Washington hotel late last year. This was a month before AFL-CIO president, George Meany, suggested that President Eisenhower call a labor-management peace conference.

The Meany-Eisenhower plan failed. It came from the top. Now the suggestion is to give both sides a chance to work out their bitterness and enmity quietly and privately.

It's what the people want and the sponsors say—let the clergymen speak for the people for those few moments necessary to bring the hostile ones face to face.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

In all the years that have passed and despite all the money that has changed hands, I never stirred up more appreciation for a Christmas present than with a broomholder I made for my mother in 7th grade manual training class at Chestnut Street school back in my old home town.

The President-elect, who is the hardy sort, must be giving fits to new Cabinet appointees who must stand coatless and bareheaded beside him in front of the house in Georgetown while the press gets the news.

Nothing gives a dweller in RFD a sense of being prepared for any eventuality like having remembered to buy a new box of fuses without knowing that the last one in the former box was used during his absence and the box was empty.

It isn't the sort of thing you like to talk about, but there are similarities between the trouble France is having over Algeria and the trouble the United States is having over southern dissidents.

I had wondered for years about taxicab drivers in New York City —How did they handle the murderers and goons who run at large in the metropolis? Well, they don't handle them too successfully. Detectives are driving New York cabs, hoping to check an epidemic of cab-driver killings.

It takes nothing away from the courage of Charles de Gaulle to remember that he could not see the angry faces of those rioting Algerians because he was not wearing his glasses and is blind without them. He could only hear them and smell them.

There's an element of uncertainty about when to start wishing people "Merry Christmas." I limit it to the last work day before Christmas. With "Happy New Year," I think it's sufficient to save it for the stroke of midnight on New Year's Eve, then to kiss the nearest good-looking woman while giving her the message.

I take deep satisfaction in explaining to people who are wearing their first pair of trifocal spectacles that the trick is to learn to move your eyes, instead of your head—the same as the trick with bifocals, only more so.

I occasionally find someone who remembers my idea about limiting the over-all height of basketball teams to 30 feet— five six-footers, or any other combination adding up to 30 feet. This would get rid of domination of the game by players of freak proportions.

E. J. Kahn has an uproarious piece in the current New Yorker about traveling by car to the coast and back with his wife and children. Most of the keepsakes they bought, he reports, were made in Japan—even trinkets purporting to have been made by American Indians.

It would be helpful if older people who think John F. Kennedy is on the youngish side would remember that he seems on the oldish side to all people who are younger than he is, who regard his older critics as antedeluvian.

For show business poignancy, I'll long remember Jimmy Durante singing "The September Song" on his last guest appearance before he, 67, married a 40-year-old woman he had been dating since 1944. "The time grows short when you reach September . . ."

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A benefit concert for the needy of the East Liverpool was presented by members of the Madrigal Club in the auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

T w o truckloads of Christmas gifts were delivered to the Fairmount Children's Home in Alliance as East Liverpool's part in providing 900 youngsters with Yuletide happiness.

The Wellsville Elks Club completed plans to entertain 200 on Christmas Day, with John Fickes heading the committee in charge.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Christmas dinners for about 185 families were distributed by the Salvation Army.

Christmas eve r e l i g i o u s programs were held in East Liverpool district churches.

The Return To Politics

By David Lawrence

Kennedy Seen Paying Some Vote Debts

It has often been said around Washington that the Eisenhower administration has not played politics enough. Bfore long, however, c o m m e n t s may be heard that the Kennedy administration is doing j u s t the o p p o s i t e — playing politics too much.

David Lawrence

Certainly the high hopes of many observers t h a t the selfish game of politics would be submerged, if not suppressed, in this critical period of world history, were somewhat dampened by the announcement issued by President-elect Kennedy at Palm Beach, saying he had offered "a high position in the Defense Department" to former Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi.

It so happens that Mr. Coleman declined, but evidently it was regarded as good politics to publicize the offer. In fact, its significance was emphasized by Mr. Coleman himself when he frankly said afterward that he was "more grateful for the offer as recognition to the State of Mississippi" than to himself.

Former Gov. Coleman did yeoman service for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the last campaign. But the people of Mississippi gave more votes to the unpledged electors — who cast their ballots in the Electoral College for Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia — than they did to regular Democratic nominees.

SOMEHOW it is considered important by the Kennedy managers to show the faithful politicians in Mississippi that federal jobs will be forthcoming to them just the same.

What is surprising is the bold way in which this piece of politics was played. One would think things like this would be relegated to the Democratic national chairman or a state chairman to handle but the desire to give the episode wide publicity undoubtedly prompted the President-elect to take a hand, as he himself issued the following statement:

"Secretary of defense-designate Robert S. McNamara met the day before yesterday in Jackson, Miss., with Mississippi's former governor, James P. Coleman. Mr. McNamara offered Mr. Coleman a high position in the Defense Department. It was felt that Mr. Coleman's p r o v e n executive ability would have been a great asset to the D e f e n s e Department. Gov. Coleman reluctantly turned down the offer, feeling it was impossible for him to leave Mississippi at this time."

The foregoing will lead lots of people to suspect that various tenders of public office have recently been made by Mr. Kennedy more as political gestures than as bona fide offers.

There is, for instance, the case of Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., a Negro who is chairman of the House Committee on Governmental Operations. Mr. Kennedy during the campaign was quick to throw a political barb at Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican candidate for the vice presidency, because the latter said in a public speech that Mr. Nixon, if elected, would name a Negro to the Cabinet.

THE DEMOCRATIC presidential candidate piously proclaimed that he would not stoop to such politics, and that his appointments to the Cabinet would not be made because of considerations of race or creed or sex or color but solely on the basis of efficiency and ability.

When Rep. Dawson declined the offer to be postmaster general, he gave as his reason that his age — 74 years — would not permit him to engage in such executive duties as the post required. Mr. Kennedy must have known beforehand about the age of the Illinois congressman. Certainly he could not persuasively argue that he looked throughout the whole United States to find the most efficient man he could get for postmaster general and finally decide on a 74-year-old member of the House — who just happened to be a Negro.

The truth, of course, is that, just as it was supposed to be smart politics for Henry Cabot Lodge to talk during the campaign about the prospective appointment of a Negro to the Cabinet, so it is considered good politics now in preparation for the 1964 re-election campaign to say to the Negro voters of America that Mr. Kennedy actually offered a Negro the portfolio of postmaster general.

PLAYING POLITICS with the Post Office Department is an old story but the new frontiers of politics now evidently also c o v e r s the Department of Defense.

It will be recalled that James Forrestal — first man to be secretary of defense — earned the disfavor of President T r u m a n when he refused to participate in the 1948 political campaign because he felt that the Department of Defense should be kept out of politics. Apparently there is a throwback now to the Truman days as "a high position in the Defense Department" is offered to a state political leader for the obvious p u r p o s e of paying a political debt.

Noel And Neuroses

By John N. Adams

To the great majority, Christmas is a panorama of gaily decorated pine trees, church spires, a twinkling star in the sky.

It is steep snow-covered roofs, with high overhead a tiny sleigh drawn by eight tiny reindeer and that jolly old elf, Santa, himself in a red suit.

It is brightly decorated streets and stores and festoons of colored lights.

It is a scene of families around the Christmas feast.

Over the scene, floats the aroma of turkey roasting in the oven, of plum pudding and mince pie. There, too, is the scent of spruce and holly.

IT IS A SCENE with many sounds. There is the gay laughter of children, the snappy crackling of the yule log, the singing of carols and the cheerful voices of friends and even strangers, wishing each and all "Merry Christmas."

In the United States today we have the most elaborate celebration of Christmas in the world. Each Christmas, we start the celebration earlier and work harder at being merry than we ever did before.

The story of the Nativity in the Gospels, masterpieces of religious art, and our Christmas stories all carry the message of peace and good will but pressures of the modern celebration sometimes make peace and good will little than hollow words.

Far from bringing the gaiety and happiness that once set Christmas apart as the most beautiful of the religious holidays, the pressures of our day bring frustration and exhaustion.

Christmas shoppers are caught in the grip of compulsion to buy gifts they can't afford.

There is neighborhood competition to have the best decorated house on the street.

Invitations are given and accepted to parties, to keep up the appearance of being jolly. Much too much liquor is consumed to avoid the reputation of being a spoil sport.

MEN AND WOMEN who lead model lives for 11 months of the year suddenly and unaccountably break out in hives, suffer headaches and temper tantrums. They are in the grip of "reactive depression," or "Christmas Crack-Up."

Their depression is not imaginary. It is a real malady that becomes chronic at the Yuletide season. It has become so prevalent that it is the subject of an exhaustive study which has just been completed by the department of psychiatry at the University of Utah College of Medicine.

The Utah doctors report that Christmas depression starts around Thanksgiving and lasts until the first of the year is safely past. It usually happens, they say, because we don't or can't live up to an unrealistic set of rules for Christmas behavior. The rule at which many fail most dismally, say the Utah doctors, is the instruction to "be happy."

Whatever the reasons for Christmas neuroses, and there are many more than mentioned here, the victims are miserable and they know it, yet they are ashamed to be miserable because they think everyone else is happy.

TO FIGHT OFF the depression that can mar the Christmas season, the doctors suggest:

Don't feel guilty about being unhappy. You are not alone, and if you stop worrying about it you likely to feel better.

Strengthen family traditions.

Remember that Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Christ and pay homage to the high ideals He set for the human race.

Finally, parents are advised to not use Santa as a promise or threat so they can shirk their duty of disciplining their children.

The name Wisconsin comes from a Chippewa Indian word meaning "gathering of the waters."

Driver Cited After Crash On Anderson

An Anderson Blvd. motorist was cited after a crash Friday afternoon on Anderson Blvd. involving two other cars.

The charge was filed by Jack F. Strobel, 28, of 1507 St. Clair Ave. an off-duty patrolman whose private car was one of two involved in the mishap.

Cars operated by Strobel and Howard W. Snyder, 30, of 295 Haywood St. collided shortly before 4 p. m. in front of Serafy's home, according to the accident report filed with police.

Strobel said he saw Snyder's car approaching but there wasn't sufficient room to get past the Serafy car, parked partially on the highway, and he was unable to stop in time.

Patrolman Orin Smith, who investigated, said the left rear wheel of the Serafy car was three feet on the highway and the front wheel about two feet.

Serafy told police he had stopped to take groceries into his home.

The front ends of the Snyder and Strobel cars were damaged, police said, but there was no apparent damage to the Serafy auto.

A collision at 5:10 p.m. Friday at Lincoln and Smith Sts. damaged a car operated by Ennis Lee Allison, 934 Peake St.

Police were told the southbound Allison car had stopped for a stop sign at the intersection when it was struck by a backing auto operated by M. Duane Guildoo of Canton St.

Two other motorists reported to police their cars were damaged by hit-skip motorists who backed into them and then pulled away.

Roland McClinton, 20, of Beaver Falls R.D. 1 told police he was parked on Market St. about 3:23 a.m. today when a pickup truck bearing a West Virginia license backed into his 1958 sedan, damaging the front end. He gave police the license number of the truck.

Andrew L. Pierce, 1647 Pennsylvania Ave., said the front bumper, grille and hood of his 1959 auto were damaged when struck by another hit-skip motorist Friday night on E. 4th St.

City Motorist Waits Hearing At Chester

An East Liverpool motorist was due for a hearing this afternoon at 2 before Chester Mayor Ray Collins on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

John Douglas Morrell, 169 Pennsylvania Ave. was cited by Police Chief Harold Davis after his car hit the rear of that of Edward Koenig, 1710 Alpha St., East Liverpool, at 12:10 a. m. today on the Chester Bridge. Both were headed towards East Liverpool.

Extensive damage was reported to both autos. Morrell was placed in the Chester jail.

$350,000 Loss Set In Blaze At Barnesville

BARNESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Customers doing last - minute Christmas shopping at the J. C. Penney department store here had to flee into the street Friday night when fire gutted the two-story brick building. No one was reported hurt.

Ray Adair, police chief of this Belmont County community, unofficially estimated damage to Penneys alone at $350,000. Three adjoining buildings were damaged by flames and smoke.

Some 150 firemen from 20 towns fought the blaze for nearly five hours before putting it out. They came from as far as 60 miles away, in Jefferson County.

They said the fire apparently started from defective wiring in Penney's basement.

Flames damaged Roger's Hardware, a two-story brick structure next to Penneys, and licked around to scorch the three-story stone-built Moose Lodge attached to Roger's. An A&P store, on the other side of Penneys, received smoke damage inside.

Firefighters were hampered by a severe shortage of water and near zero temperatures. Extra water was rushed in by pumper trucks from nearby areas.

Barnesville's water supply from two reservoirs was at a low level before the fire. The thousands of gallons of water dumped on the blaze depleted the level even more and could have a drastic effect on the village's water supply.

Wife Of Slain Officer Tearfully Accepts Gifts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The captain of the 77th Street police station phoned Mrs. Richard Kent and asked her to come by and pick up some things belonging to her husband, an officer killed Dec. 8 by a bandit.

There was a scroll of appreciation from the Los Angeles City Council; a U.S. savings bond bought by local businessmen for each of Mrs. Kent's children, Ruth, 9, Mar, 6, and Lenore, 4; a handful of checks mailed by citizens who had read of Kent's death; $467 oversubscribed by fellow officers when they raised the price of Kent's funeral; and a great heap of presents for the three children, donated by well-wishers.

Mrs. Kent accepted the gifts in silence. Then tears welled in her eyes and she walked quickly from the room.

Joyous Christmas

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord has made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child."

Woman Hurt In Car Crash

An East End woman is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received in a 2-car collision at 12:35 a.m. today at the intersection of Dairy Ln. and County Route 435 near the Country Club.

Mrs. Ruth Scott, 2200 Harvey Ave., suffered contusions and a possible fracture of the right shoulder and abrasions of the right knee in the mishap, according to the State Highway Patrol.

Officers said Mrs. Scott, 47, was a passenger in a car driven by Robert Hickman of Jacksonburg (W. Va.) R.D. 1, which was hit in the rear by one driven by Glenn W. Huggins Jr., 18, of Park Way.

Both were headed south. The patrol said Hickman had started to make a left turn. Huggins had started to pass and seeing Hickman making the turn, tried to cut back to his right. Huggins hit his brakes and slid sideways into the rear of the Hickman car, which was heavily damaged. Hickman's car was knocked into a utility pole by the impact.

Hickman suffered lacerations and bruises of the forehead. The accident still is under investigation.

The patrol also investigated a minor accident Friday at 8:30 p. m. on Route 7 about five and a half miles north of Route 30. Officers said Albert W. Hartley of Lisbon R.D. 3 was stalled on the highway and was struck from behind by a car driven by Carl L. Bloor of East Liverpool R.D. 1, who was cited for reckless operation.

Shipping company spokesmen were not immediately available for comment.

A formal inquiry, beginning in Norfolk next Wednesday, will establish whether the wreck was due to any fault of the ship.

The 28 crewmen who set foot on shore Friday were cheered on their way home by quick payment of wages due from their ship company.

But eager as they were to get going, some paused to recount their experiences as the ship broke up under them.

Berlin, possible city of crisis in the new year, had many people far from home observing Christmas Eve. Besides the 10,000 or so American, British and French troops, plus dependents, there are about 40,000 Germans driven from their homes in eastern provinces in 1945.

Communist regimes behind the Iron Curtain took varied ways of dealing with this year's Christmas. In some, such as Romania, Bulgaria and Albania, the Communists have tried to purge the old customs of Christmas Eve and turned Christmas into a regular work day.

In others, such as Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, the authorities have decided to tolerate Christmas, permitting trees and midnight church services. In these countries there will be feasts, drink and gifts.

It also ordered elimination of temporary structures below decks.

This would eliminate wooden scaffolding, which was used on the Constellation and which drew criticism from City Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr. He said the large amount of wood involved intensified the blaze.

Witnesses have testified that the fire began after a fork-lift truck on the main hangar deck pushed a large trash bin against a steel plate. The plate was tipped upward until it knocked off the valve on a tank holding 500 gallons of fuel. The fuel poured down a well to a place where welding was in progress and ignited.

The inquiry adjourned until next Tuesday.

The temperature is expected to reach a high range of 18 to 23 degrees, today — a point at which snow usually developes — and tonight's low will be a considerably milder 10 to 15.

Christmas Day is supposed to be sunny but crisp. There will be little change in temperatures.

Continuing the task of removing snow accumulated along curbs, Street Department crews were at work this morning on E. 4th St. It marked the third day the crews have been working to remove snow in the downtown business area.

Inch Of Snow Due; Warmer On Christmas

By The Associated Press

A fresh blanket of snow expected to be generally less than an inch—covered most of Ohio today on top of the remains of the midweek snow storm. The outlook for Christmas Day is partly cloudy and a little warmer.

The Weather Bureau forecasters said the light snow flurries were general over Ohio Saturday morning, and that light sleet and rain were mixed with the snow in the southwest counties.

Afternoon temperatures will be mostly in the 20s over the state. Near the Ohio River, occasional light freezing rain or sleet will be mixed with the snow.

Earlier, the weathermen had predicted a new snowfall ranging up to eight inches in some areas, but the new forecasts of an accumulation of generally less than an inch came about dawn.

The white stuff began falling in Cincinnati during Friday afternoon's rush hour, and downtown traffic there came almost to a standstill. It took 11 additional policemen to unsnarl the tieup.

But before you get out that snow shovel, here's a word of advice from Dr. Donald K. Mathews, coordinator of research and associate professor in Ohio State University's department of physical education:

Each shovelful of snow weighs between 3¾ and 17 pounds, depending on whether the snow is wet or dry. An ordinary snow shovel weighs about five pounds. So if a person lifts 10 shovelfuls a minute, this equals the amount of energy used in climbing to either the third or seventh floor of a building in one minute.

If you think your heart can take that kind of taxing, or if you're used to heavy exercise, snow-shoveling may not bother you.

But keep in mind that more than a score of Ohioans dropped dead of heart attacks while shoveling snow in the big storm earlier this week. The latest victim was Roman Puhalski, 64, who collapsed and died while shoveling at his Lorain home Friday.

Freezing weather accompanied the new snow. The high temperature today was forecast to be 20 in Central Ohio, 20-25 in South Central Ohio and 15-20 in Northern Ohio.

It was cold, too, Friday, when a Findlay man tried to warm up his car by placing a heat lamp under the hood. He placed a brand new hunting jacket over the lamp to direct the rays downward. Yes, he warmed up his car all right. The jacket caught fire and the car and garage also were slightly damaged.

Train-Truck Collision Fattens Santa's Pack

The crash scattered a truckload of Christmas books in the snow. As the cold winds whirled them across the fields an insurance adjuster gave the Aberdeen Fire Department permission to salvage the books for needy children.

After drying them out, the firemen put together a big bundle for a state school delivery, another for the Salvation Army, and used the rest for their usual round of deliveries to needy youngsters on Christmas Eve.

Irish Poet Dies

LONDON (AP) — Shaw Desmond, 83, Irish poet and dramatist who believed in reincarnation and once said his earliest memories were of fighting as a Roman gladiator, died Friday of a heart attack.

Toys Distributed In Jaycee Project

Toys were distributed Friday to 300 needy children of the area by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its annual Toys-For-Tots program.

Doug Capehart, chairman, said public contributions made the project possible. He said letters were mailed over a month ago to the public, asking for money to support the project.

Any money remaining will be put into a special fund to be used again next year. The project was broadened this year to care for more children.

The toys were purchased according to the age of the children. They are given to the parents to present them to their children Christmas morning as gifts from Santa.

2 Suffer Injury In Work Mishaps

Two men injured while working, a woman hurt in a fall and a child injured on a bicycle were treated Friday at City Hospital.

Michael Knisley, 2, son of Robert Knisley of Avondale Dr., Industry, suffered lacerations of the fingers when he caught his hand in the spokes of a bicycle wheel.

Crushed To Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Michael Keselica, 66, was crushed to death Friday while working on the coupling of a railroad car in the River Terminal Railway Co. repair yard on Independence Road. A company spokesman said the brakes apparently failed on a flat-car that had been standing nearby, and the car rolled into Keselica. He had been a railroad employe for 46 years.

Retired Executive Dies

Abandoned Tot Named Christopher Noell

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A baby about 2 months old, abandoned Thursday in subfreezing temperatures has been named Christopher Noell by workers at the Child Welfare Center.

The Christopher comes from a St. Christopher (safe journey) medal the blue-eyed blond boy was wearing when found outside a hospital. Noel is the French word for Christmas, and for some reason the welfare workers added the other L.

The baby had been well insulated against the cold. The center says that—as befits a child with his name at this season—he is as healthy and happy.

Homeless After Fire

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Daugh Holland, his wife and six children were homeless for the second time in a year today after fire swept their two-story frame home near Camden. Snow hindered firefighters getting to the blaze Friday. Officials Friday night circulated an appeal for clothing and other things for the family, including children age 6-16. Holland and his family were living in Hamilton last year when fire destroyed most of their possesions.

Only four members of the Syracuse University basketball team come from outside New York state.

Christmas greetings were read from Mrs. Margaret Stokes, grand guardian, and William Blessings, grand associate guardian.

Ann Sixt read "Holly and the Ivy" for the librarian's report.

Plans were discussed for the installation service Jan. 14 at the Memorial Auditorium.

New members will be initiated at the meeting Jan. 11.

U.S. Students Are Abused On Sendoff To Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than one hundred students from U.S. colleges received an abusive sendoff on their Cuba tour from anti-Castro demonstrators, six of whom got arrested for their airport tirade.

The students were flown on Cubana Air Lines charter planes Friday on a reduced-rate tour sponsored by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. Television station WCKT quoted one tripper as saying the students were going to look over the situation in Cuba and report the facts.

The U.S. State Department recently advised American college students not to go on tours to Fidel Castro's Cuba. It also has advised all Americans to stay out of Cuba unless they have compelling reasons to go there.

Police at Miami International Airport said the embarking students showed little reaction, except mild alarm, to outbursts hurled at them by the anti-Castro contingent.

The six hecklers arrested were released in bonds of $50 each on charges of unlawful assembly. The disturbance occurred in front of the airport's Cubana Air Lines office.

British Premier Plans Peace Crusade In '61

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is planning a personal peace crusade in 1961 that might take him to Red China, a London newspaper said today.

Macmillan wants to reduce East-West tension, the Daily Mail said, and is more interested in two-way talks with leaders of other nations than in a summit conference.

Macmillan is considering inviting Soviet Premier Khrushchev to talks in London, the newspaper mail said, and traveling to Peiping.

Reds Charge Intrusion

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today five American warships intruded into its territorial waters along the coast of the south China mainland. Peiping Radio said the "intrusion" was off the coast of Swabue, Kwangtung Province.

250 At Christmas Party Of Legion

Some 250, including 175 children, attended a Christmas party of American Legion Post 374 Friday evening at the East End home.

Santa Claus distributed treats. Music was furnished by Vince Mundy's Orchestra. Entertainment included performances by students of Cassidy's Dance Studio. John Fone screened a movie, "Spirit of Christmas," provided by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Some $41 was raised for the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council. Robert Poynter was in charge of the program. James Creager is commander.

Next meeting is Jan. 9.

150 Hammondsville Youngsters Treated

HAMMONDSVILLE — Santa Claus distributed treats to about 150 youngsters at the annual Christmas party held by American Legion Post 742 Thursday night.

The Methodist Men's group of the Methodist Church will share in the expense.

The post will meet Jan. 3 with all members to attend, according to Harry Springer, publicity chairman.

Shiver My Whiskers, Coleta

Santa Promises Little Girl He'll Make It To Her Home

SANTA'S HEADQUARTERS, North Pole (AP) — Dear Coleta Burns:

Shiver my whiskers! My face is red as my suit. Please forgive me for not getting to your house at Christmas for such a long time. No wonder you thought I was dead.

But rest assured, I am not. All I can say is that my elfin secretarial help here is just not what it used to be, and the names of many poor and deserving children sometimes get left off the list.

But don't worry. By a reindeer's hoof, I promise I'm going to get to your house this time. I have before me a copy of the letter you wrote from your farm home at Viola, Ark., to the police department in New York City saying:

"Is there a real Santa? You see if there is a real Santa he doesn't know where we live. You know he hasn't been to our house for a long time. He must have been dead for a lot of years. If he is live, I hope you will read this letter to him.."

As Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm wrote back to you, I'm still real, honey, and I want to visit all kids everywhere regularly. And there's plenty of gifts on this earth to go around.

I know things have been difficult there for you and the rest of the Carneil Burns family, scraping a living out of your little farm, particularly since your father hasn't been able to get extra work lately as a carpenter.

Certainly it wasn't intentional that I've been overlooking you, a little girl of 11, and your two older brothers, your twin sisters, 13, and your younger brother and sister. It's just that such faults do exist in my system.

I'm going to try to make up for the oversight this year, although I may not make it by Christmas, for as Commissioner Arm says, I have "a lot of territory to cover." So please be patient.

Through help of New York's police Athletic League, I have mailed you a package of 18 gifts, including games, books and a toy piano for your twin sisters. This is as close as we could come to the real piano you requested so they could 'learn to play in church.'

As for the cowboy boots, blue jeans and cowboy hat you asked for yourself, I've arranged to send this through Mr. George Otlowski of Perth Amboy, N. J., who volunteered to rush the items to you.

Also, concerning your request for some encyclopedias for your older brothers, I've arranged for the Little Rock, Ark., agent of the Compton's picture encyclopedia to deliver a 15-volume set, as a company gift.

Of course, I plan to slip by your house with my loaded sleigh and reindeer team sometime in the season to see that all is taken care of. You'll probably hear the bells tinkle at midnight. I have such a big job, however, I do need others to help get it done.

Your Friend,
Santa Claus.

Britain, France Extend Trade Pact With Reds

BERLIN (AP) — Britain and France extended their trade agreements with Communist East Germany into 1961, the official party newspaper Neues Deutschland announced today.

Because neither Britain nor France recognize the Communist regime, the trade pacts were negotiated through unofficial organizations.

Talks between East and West Germany on renewal of their agreement are due to resume Wednesday.

Nortrup Jr. at home; five sisters, Mrs. Nina Johns of Barnesboro, Mrs. Dolly Michels of Emeigh, Pa., Mrs. Gertrude Cicone, Mrs. Martha Miller, and Mrs. Clara Radford, all of Pittsburgh; two brothers, Ray Plouse of Ellensburg, Wash., and Darl Plouse of Penn Run, Pa., and three grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

William McQuiston

NEW CUMBERLAND—Services for Spcl. 4C William McQuiston, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McQuiston of Ridge Ave., will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Turley Funeral Home.

The Rev. James Bird, pastor of the Point Pleasant Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial Cemetery at Weirton.

Judge Says He Agrees With FBI Reds Incited Riot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Judge Albert A. Axelrod, presiding judge of the San Francisco Municipal Court, said today "I very definitely agree" with the view of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover Thursday that the City Hall riot last May 13 was instigated by Communist subversives.

Judge Axelrod said in an interview that his dismissal of riot charges against 62 arrested persons, mostly college students, had been misinterpreted by some people as condoning the disorders during a hearing by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"At no time did I condone their conduct," the judge declared. "A single sentence from my decision, quoted out of context, created that false impression. As a result I have received a number of crank or crackpot letters and telephone calls."

The sentence was, "I am convinced that they are not engaged in subversive activities nor in spreading subversive propaganda."

But the judge's decision went on to say:

"However, they chose the wrong means to accomplish their purpose and let themselves become victims of those who profit by creating unrest, riots and the type of conduct which is outlawed by the penal code sections I have quoted," the judge said.

"As a result, they were arrested, fingerprinted and photographed and their efforts achieved a directly opposite result," he added.

Judge Axelrod reiterated that he had dismissed the charges for practical reasons. As noted in his decision, he not only felt the students had been punished, but "a protracted mass trial with 62 defendants and 16 attorneys would not only be costly from a monetary sense but would play directly into the hands of those who create unrest and do everything in their power to upset our democratic processes and way of life."

While his decision did not use the specific word "Communist," Judge Axelrod said in an interview there was no question in his mind that the students were made use of by subversives.

Bound For Mission Duty

Area Family To Train In Costa Rica For Year

MR., MRS. LESTER HICKMAN AND SONS
Bound for South America for Training in Missionary Duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Hickman and family of the Bell School Rd. will leave Wednesday for Costa Rica for a year's training in language school.

Later they will go to Baranquilla, Colombia, South America, where Hickman will be principal of the United Presbyterian Boys' School.

The commissioning service for Mr. and Mrs. Hickman and 19 other United Presbyterian missionary candidates was held Monday at the Inter-Church Center in New York City.

The commissioning climaxed six months' study at the Ecumenical Training Center at Stony Point, N. Y., in preparation for their assignments abroad.

They will be accompanied by their three sons, Philip, 9; Kim, 4, and Timothy, 2. The school has a student body of 800.

For the past three years, Hickman has been superintendent of schools in Hopedale, and his wife has been music supervisor. They are members of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickman were graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1945.

He received his B.S. degree in education from Geneva College in Beaver Falls and his M.A. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Hickman is the son of Mrs. Nannie Hickman of the Bell School Rd., and his wife, the former Elaine Taylor, is the daughter of Mrs. Mildred Taylor of the Sprucevale Rd.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

The True Message Of Christmas

What is the most important fact in this world? That question should start a lively discussion and stimulate many answers. But since I have raised the question, let me presume to answer it. The most important fact in the world is this: We are not alone — God is with us. Just imagine what the world would be if we were alone, if we were without God. The whole business would be futile and without purpose or permanent value. But since we are not alone, since God is with us we have hope and there is real meaning to life.

DR. PEALE

THIS IS the big message of Christmas. Don't confuse trees, gifts, tinsel and stores full of people with the basic meaning of Christmas. All these appurtenances are pleasant and exciting, but the basic fact about Christmas is the following sentence from St. Matthew 1:23: "...and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which, being interpreted is, God with us."

How may this spiritual truth become for you and for me a practical part of our lives? The secret is simply to practice love toward people. Demonstrate love and you will find God. Tolstoy said, "Where love is God is."

Tolstoy tells about an elderly shoemaker, Martin Avdeyich by name, whose wife had died years earlier leaving him with a 3-year-old son to bring up. Several years later that son, Martin's only child and greatest joy, had fallen ill and passed away. Martin had then been engulfed by such overwhelming despair that he prayed he too might die. He even murmured against God. He stopped going to church.

ONE DAY a very old man from Martin's native village paid a friendly call and said, "We cannot judge God's ways. If God willed that your son should die, it must be best so. As to your despair — that comes from wanting to live for your own happines. When you have learned to live for God, you will grieve no more. Can you read? Then buy the Gospels and read them. There you will see how God would have you live."

So Martin bought a New Testament, printed in large type. And so much comfort did he find in it that he took to reading it every evening. Before he had lain abed each night with heavy heart, mourning for his beloved son. But now when he went to bed he repeated to himself again and again, "Glory to Thee, O Lord! Thy will be done!"

Then one winter evening he came to a passage in the Gospel of Luke relating how Jesus accepted a rich Pharisee's invitation to supper and how later He reproached the Pharisee for his lack of hospitality.

He pondered this and wondered how he, Martin Avdeyich, would behave if the Lord should come to him, and somehow he thought he heard a voice say, "Martin, look out in the street tomorrow, for I shall come."

NEXT MORNING he remembered this. Perhaps it was a dream. But that day at his work bench he spent much of his time glancing out the window.

Result: he saw things that aroused his compasion. And three times that day he left his work to befriend another human being. First there was feeble old Stepanich, shoveling snow, and looking very tired and cold. Martin asked him in, gave him hot tea and even read a little from the Gospel so the old fellow might have comfort for soul as well as body.

Later, he saw a shabbily dressed, shivering young woman with a wailing infant in her arms, insisted she come inside, shared his soup with her, and gave her his old cloak to better wrap the child. And at dusk he left his room once more to rescue a frightened boy from the wrath of an old woman from whom he had mischievously tried to snatch an apple; calmed the two and sent them on their way in peace.

By evening he had forgotten his experience of the night before. But as he opened the Book it came back to his mind. Then he got the impression there were people standing in the dark corner of his room. And Tolstoy's tale concludes:

"A voice whispered in his ear: 'Martin, Martin, don't you know me?'

" 'Who is it?'

" 'It is I,' said the voice. And out of the dark corner stepped Stepanich, then smiled and vanished.

" 'It is I,' said the voice once more. And the old woman and the boy with the apple stepped out and both smiled, and then they too vanished.

"And Martin's soul grew glad. He put on his spectacles, and began reading the Gospel just where it had opened, and at the top of the page he read: 'I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in...Inasmuch as ye did it unto one these my brethren even these least, ye did it unto me.'

"And Martin understood that his dream had come true; and that the Saviour had really come to him that day, and he had welcomed Him."

Love people, help them all you can and you will know by the is with you. This is Christmas at its best.

Carol Sing Set As Family Event

Hero Gets Special Gift But Can't Use It Yet

ONTARIO, Ore. (AP) — Jerry Davis, an 11-year-old hero in this eastern Oregon town, received a special gift for Christmas, but can't use it yet.

Friday, fire chief R. J. Prahl received a $100 check from a St. Louis firm. It was to start a college education fund for Jerry.

The lad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Davis, made two trips into the family's burning home here recently to save his two younger brothers, ages two and four. The home was destroyed. Jerry was hospitalized with his burns, but he'll be home for Christmas.

Utah Furrier Plays Santa To 110 Newsboys

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A successful furrier carried on his own Christmas tradition here Friday by distributing $10 bills to 110 newsboys.

Joe H. Dupler, owner of stores here and in Denver, recalled that he sold newspapers on the streets of Denver in 1906. He started his method of observing Christmas when he came to Salt Lake City 20 years ago.

The newsboys also received fruit cake and candy at Dupler's Christmas party.

Yule Music Program Set

A service of Christmas music will be presented at the First United Presbyterian Church at Chester tonight at 7:30.

Scientists Cite Need Of Plan To Curb Air Crashes

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Scientists at the University of Michigan warn that airplane disasters can be expected to continue and increase unless a massive program to improve air traffic control is launched.

Their warning came Friday with the announcement of an independent study of the problem by the university's Institute of Science and Technology.

Dr. Gustave Rabson said some immediate improvements in the present control system are possible but that long-range research on a national scale is vital.

Announcment of the university's study came a week after the airliners collided over New York City, killing 136 persons in historys' worst air disaster.

Robert F. Lyjak, who will work on the Michigan study, noted the public design for today's air traffic control system was established in 1938 when only 29,000 planes were in the air and few flew faster than 150 miles per hour.

Today, he said, "more than 109,000 planes use the same air space, and many are flying faster than 300 miles per hour."

Orchestra Buys Tools For Needy Farmers

BOSTON (AP) — Members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra aren't exchanging Christmas gifts this year.

Instead, they decided Friday to pool the money to buy tools for needy farmers in the Philippines.

The musicians will send agricultural tools through CARE to farmers who lost their equipment in floods in central Luzon. Kits will go to 25 villages in the region.

Tax Revenue Up

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Revenue from the Warren City income tax collected so far this year already has set a new high. Mrs. Frances David, head of the income tax division, reported collections this year have totaled $929,084, compared with the $905,000 collected in all of 1959. Officials expect collections by the end of 1960 to reach at least $933,000.

Heart Attack Fatal

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Rear Adm. F. Massie Hughes, 61, commandant of the 5th Naval District for the past 3½ years, died Friday of a heart attack.

To Be Finished In '67

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state highway department's $85.7 million program for repairing or replacing 1,083 sub - standard bridges will take until 1967, Deputy Director Guy E. Neeper says. The bridges, about 10 per cent of the total number on the state system, are too weak or too narrow. Neeper said 279 have been fixed or are being worked on, 583 are scheduled for attention by 1965, and 221 others will have to wait until after 1965.

May all the joys and pleasures of the Yuletide be yours this Christmas.

Hamilton Family Finds Out It Has Lots Of Friends

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stanley Dunnohew family has found it has a lot of friends after losing everything—including a son—in a fire.

In nearby Mason, The Rev. Bernard Felix of St. Susanna Church headed a drive to aid the Dunnohews and their four surviving children.

The fire Thursday at their Pisgah home took the life of Gregory Dunnohew, 6.

Father Felix said Friday night Mason merchants had already outfitted the children with new clothing, two builders offered temporary use of new homes and parishioners had completed a door-to-door canvas for food, clothing and money.

In Cincinnati, a friend of Mrs. Dunnohew headed a drive that netted over $250 in donations.

Funeral services for the boy are planned today. The elder Dunnohew cannot attend. He is at Christ Hospital, in fair condition with injuries suffered getting his children out of the burning house.

Fire Fatal To Infant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A fire that began at a kitchen stove, where a pot of beans was cooking, killed a 9-month-old boy Friday. Firemen kept the flames from spreading to 10 other apartments in the building. The victim was Thomas Bowman Jr. His mother was away Christmas shopping, and a young woman who lives in the apartment with the family was prevented by flames from reaching the baby.

2 Killed, Dozen Horses Perish In Fairgrounds Fire

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Two persons were killed, along with more than a dozen pacers and trotters, when fire swept through horse barns at the Trumbull County Fairgrounds early today.

Names of the victims were not immediately learned. They were identified as an elderly Negro man, who was crippled, and a Negro woman, about 35.

There was no estimate of the damage. It was felt some of the racehorses may have been valuable. At least 13 died and some officials said the toll of horses could rise to 20. They were owned by Robert Hogue of New Castle, Pa., and Bill Montgomery of Brookfield, Ohio, firemen said.

Assistant Fire Chief Ray Niemi said the blaze may have started from faulty electrical wiring. About 20 firemen battled the flames in near zero temperatures.

Christmas Spirit No Doubt Prevailed Here

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Written on the envelope was: "To the driver of the 1926 gray Ford, 1807 East Avenue."

That's where Miss Mollie Allison, 84, has lived for more than 35 years. Inside she found a Christmas card, a $5 bill and this unsigned note:

"I found a purse in your yard in 1927 with $1.50 in it. I am returning it with what I hope will be sufficient interest. Merry Christmas."

Bridge Director Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—George R. Goff, who was tournament director in this area for the American Contract Bridge League, died in Cleveland Clinic Hospital Friday after a short illness. Goff had charge of contract bridge league tournaments in Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Cedar Point and at Erie and Conneaut Lake, Pa.

Midland Boy Held In Hunting Death

A 16-year-old Midland youth is expected to be given a hearing before an Elk County, Pa., justice of the peace today in connection with the fatal shooting of a woman hunter near Ridgeway last Saturday.

PETER Anthony DeNardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeNardo, 223 Midland Ave., was arrested in Midland Friday morning and spent last night in the Elk County Jail at Ridgeway.

His bond will probably be set at the hearing today, the Ridgeway barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said.

The youth admitted the shooting of Mrs. Amelia Smith, 44, of Pittsburgh, mistaking her for game. Police questioned him while checking out all persons who were hunting in that area.

The shooting occurred about 45 minutes before the end of the hunting season, police said.

MRS. SMITH was found dead last Sunday morning in a culvert or identation by her two grown sons. She had been shot in the back after disappearing from a hunting party.

The body had been dragged about 45 feet from where she was shot, police said. She is believed to have been shot from a distance of 120 yards with a high-powered rifle. The bullet was recovered Tuesday with the aid of a mine detector.

Police are running tests on several weapons to determine which fired the fatal shot.

DENARDO was with a hunting party from the Midland area, including his father and four from Industry.

There has been no ruling in the death pending a coroner's inquest. Dr. Robert Simpson is Elk County coroner.

The charge will be shooting Mrs. Smith "in mistake of game."

DeNardo, is a sophomore at Midland Lincoln High School. He has been out of school about a month and school officials said they are waiting a report from juvenile authorities since he is not old enough to quit school.

Family That Neglected Stock Ordered To Sell

LISBON — A Salineville couple, accused of neglecting several animals left out in the cold during the week, was ordered Friday by A. H. Fults of Salem, Columbiana County humane officer, to dispose of them today at the Elkton farm sale.

Fults, who questioned the couple at their home following complaints by neighbors, said two dogs and three hogs were confined in two sheds and a pony was tied to a farm wagon. Absence of footprints in the snow leading to the animals indicated they had been without food or water for several days, he said.

Fults warned the couple they would face prosecution for cruelty to animals if they didn't dispose of them as ordered.

The family was not identified because no charges were filed.

Family Flees Rural House Razed In Fire

A mother and her 9 young children were forced into the early morning cold today when their frame home was destroyed by fire on Cream Ridge Rd. between Williamsport and Route 30.

Glenmoor volunteer firemen found the one-story home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Greathouse virtually destroyed when they arrived at 8 a.m. after racing over snow-covered rural highways.

The family fled with nothing more than the clothing they wore. Firemen found in a snowdrift two tricycles and a wagon that were Christmas gifts for the children.

Total loss, including the home and contents, was estimated by firemen at approximately $8,000.

The children at home range from William Greathouse, 17, a senior at Beaver Local High School, to a baby about a year old. Another daughter in the family is married.

Firemen reported Mrs. Greathouse had just time enough to phone Liverpool Township West firemen before she fled with the children. The call was relayed to Glenmoor firemen, who answered the alarm.

The cause was undetermined, although firemen believe the blaze was started by a faulty chimney or an overheated furnace in the basement.

Chief Robert Jones said Glenmoor firemen have started collecting food, clothing and toys for the striken family.

Greathouse is a patient in the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh and recently underwent surgery. The Glenmoor American Legion is co-sponsoring the collection.

The fire also endangered a small home nearby and melted its composition siding. The occupant was unidentified by firemen.

Form Required For VA Pension

Everyone receiving a pension from the Veterans Administration must complete and return an income questionnaire, according to A. G. Bille, contact representative-in-charge of the VA office at 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville.

Most of the veterans and dependents on VA's pension rolls will be asked only about their income for 1960. But for those who came on the rolls on or after July 1, 1960, the date the new pension law took effect, they will be asked about their annual income and net worth. Net worth means the market value of all the property a person owns except for their home and personal belongings which are necessary for their day-to-day living, such as automobile clothing, household furniture, etc.

"Remember everyone who gets pension checks from the VA will soon receive an income questionnaire asking about their 1960 income and net worth," Bille said. For assistance in completing the questionnaire and for any information, contact Bille at the Steubenville office.

12 Are Injured As Train Hits Bus

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (AP) — A Canadian National Railways train rammed a suburban bus filled with Christmas shoppers at a crossing here today and officials said it was a miracle nobody was killed. They reported 12 persons, including the bus driver, were injured.

The bus was entering St. Johns from Petty Harbor, about 30 miles from this city, and slid onto the tracks in the path of the train, a mixed passenger and freight.

Rescuers worked 20 minutes to free a woman and a man trapped in the wreckage.

Veteran Rail Worker Late To Own Party

MARION, Ohio (AP) — William L. Price, a 54-year veteran with the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad, was late to his own retirement party Friday—his train was late.

The delay, however, was not his fault. The passenger train on which Price was making his last run as conductor slammed into a car near Galion. The driver of the car, Gary Kerr, 22, of Dayton escaped with only minor injuries.

Elyria Cafe Held Up

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — The Rhodes Cafe here was held up Friday night by a man and a woman who escaped with $1,900 after herding the bartender and eight customers into the basement. Police said the robbers sat at the bar and ordered beer and then pulled guns and ordered the bartender, Steve Kawalyts, to hand over the money from the cash register.

With the year coming almost full circle, we once again have the pleasure of extending the greetings of the season to our many good friends and wonderful patrons. May you all enjoy this last, but best, part of the year in health and happiness.

Bitter Cold Wave Eases; Snow Slated

By The Associated Press

A bitter cold wave that plunged temperatures to record lows Friday gave way to more seasonable weather today including more snow for broad areas of the Midwest eastward into the Northeast.

The frigid temperatures moderated gradually during the night as the cold wave moved into the Northeast. The mercury dipped to 15 below zero at Phillipsburg, Pa., at midnight but climbed to 10 below in the next hour.

Buffalo reported 7 below in the wake of a crippling snowstorm that blew in off the lake Friday, dumping up to a foot of snow on the area and virtually isolating the metropolitan section.

The warm front and accompanying cloud cover responsible for the rising temperatures behind the cold wave also brought snow to Kentucky and Tennessee northward into the Great Lakes region and northwest to Minnesota and the Dakotas.

About an inch of snow was added to the cover in sections of Indiana and Illinois, but amounts elsewhere were generally light.

The snow changed to rain in western Tennessee. Rain also fell along the Washington coast, with freezing drizzle and snow flurries in the Northwest interior.

The freezing line early today extended from eastern Montana across the Dakotas, down to Kansas and from Iowa all the way into Georgia and extreme northern Florida.

Temperatures climbed to the 40s and 50s in southern Texas and southern Florida, while 20s and 30s in the western interior gave way to the 30s and 40s and a few readings in the mild 50s along the California coast.

Fair weather was on tap for the western third of the country during the day except for some cloudiness in the Northwest. Increasing cloudiness was forecast for most of the eastern two-thirds with more snow or snow flurries from Minnesota eastward through the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and to the Appalachians.

Train Delayed 2 Hours By Practicing Pianist

BALTIMORE (AP) — Madame Agi Jambor, concert pianist, told Ernest R. Fink of Baltimore about the incident at a musical festival in Pennsylvania.

En route by train to an engagement in Kalamazoo, Mich., Madame Jambor opened up her portable practice keyboard in her sleeping car berth and clacked away on the gadget to keep her fingers limber.

Next day, the train arrived in Kalamazoo two hours late. When Madame Jambor asked why, the conductor said they had stopped for two hours during the night to make a fruitless search for the source of a dangerous clacking noise in one of the sleeping cars.

Man Reaches 90, Takes Usual 2.35-Mile Stroll

As is his practice six days a week, he took two roundtrip strolls from his home on Key Biscayne near here down the beach to a lighthouse 2.35 miles away.

1 Dead, 4 Hurt In Explosion

BOSTON (AP) — An explosion leveled a Charleston cafe and an adjoining three story building today.

At least one person was killed. Four were taken to a hospital and four others were missing.

Atwood White, who runs a store across the street, said the brick building was occupied by the Sugar Cone Co.

An oil truck was parked nearby. White said the driver and his helpers were missing.

White described the scene as "a pile of rubble." Smoke was pouring from the debris and could be seen in downtown Boston.

The cafe, the Diamond Nugget, is owned by Benjamin Segal. White said Segal was killed.

The cafe is on Chelsea Street near the Boston Navy Yard and in a heavily congested district.

White said the bartender, Lenny Bernstein, was among the missing.

White said it appeared there was a first explosion in the cafe and a second one in the sugar cone factory.

He said: "The Diamond Nugget seemed to explode to the right. The second explosion wiped out the brick building and at that point I dropped to the floor."

He Almost Gets Deer On Law He Sponsored

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state law that he sponsored while a member of the Ohio General Assembly almost provided Arthur H. Milleson with a deer dinner.

Milleson, clerk of the Ohio House of Representatives, was driving to a meeting when a deer darted from the side of the road, hit the side of his automobile, recovered and raced away.

The law Milleson sponsored allows a motorist to claim the carcass of a deer when his auto kills it on an Ohio highway. This is to help compensate for any damages to the car.

Dude Ranch Guests Get More Than Usual Color

DOLORES, Colo. (AP) — Guests of the dude ranch in southwestern Colorado operated by the three Roscio brothers get more than the usual dose of Old West local color.

Ten of the 25 guest units at the ranch are buildings used as dwellings or saloons at Dunton, once a lively mining settlement that became a ghost village more than 40 years ago.

Two of the old saloons have been converted into cabins and a third is now a tavern complete with bar stools. Near by is an old dance hall, still intact, that is used for public dances occasionally. It has a bullet hole in the floor from wilder and freer days.

The brothers, Emilio, Charles and Joe Jr., are the sons of the late Joe Roscio, who came to Dunton the year it opened, 1885.

Vocal Group Has Yule Dinner

'Mr., Mrs. Barbershopper' Named

Naming of "Mr. and Mrs. Barbershopper for 1960" highlighted the first auunal Christmas banquet of East Liverpool's Chapter of SPEBSQSA Thursday night in the Travelers Hotel.

Gerald Jividen of Newell, chapter secretary, was named "Mr. Barbershopper" while Mrs. Mary Thelma Putt was honored as "Mrs. Barbershopper."

Entertainment opened with selections by the "Heathertones," the quartet from the city chapter of Sweet Adelines. The group was introduced by Dale Keddie, master of ceremonies. Don Schussler, president, greeted members and guests.

Selections also were presented by the "Welcomeaires" and "The Colonials," the third - place International quartet contest winners.

Schussler presented gifts to William Brooks, chorus director, Mrs. William Bailey, caretaker of Carpenters Hall, where regular meetings are held, and other guests.

Among those introduced as guests were Mayor and Mrs. Bert H. Goodballet. The mayor expressed his appreciation to the chapter for its work in promoting barbershop singing in East Liverpool and representing the city in contests.

The program closed with carols and "Keep America Singing" by the chorus.

Harvard University scientists have developed a clock reported to have an accuracy of one part in a quadrillion. This means, theoretically, that it could measure time with an error of only one second in 33 million years.

Barking Dog Saves Man's Life In Fire

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Man's best friend came to the rescue of Henry Banks, 83, Friday night when fire broke out in his cabin at Killbuck while he was sleeping. His dog pounced on him and began barking.

Banks awoke and got out before flames consumed the structure. The fire was caused by an overheated stove.

Reasons For Child's Fear Of School

Dr. Garry Meyers

Most children, especially in the elementary grades, eagerly go to school and enjoy doing so. Their young brothers and sisters longingly look forward to the time they will be old enough for school. But an occasional child doesn't want to go to school. He may fret and worry not only on a school morning but on the evening before. He may feign illness in order to stay home. Rebelliously, he may refuse to go. While requiring him to go, as a rule, the wise parent tries to find out the reasons why he doesn't want to go and to seek ways to remove his dislike of school. If they have a kind, understanding and companionable relation with this child he may volunteer to tell them, though often their searching questions to him fail to uncover the real causes.

—:—

ONE CAUSE may be the child's desire to share the affection and attention he supposes a brother or sister too young for school gets or, if he's the only child, just to be with his mother.

If you suspect or discern such causes, the child needs to gain physical and emotional independence, more self-reliance.

This may take a long while.

Dad should spend more time with him (or her) and set the stage so this child will spend more time at fun with other children near his age. He will grow less jealous of a younger brother or sister as he achieves more at school, at work and at play and as he grows to be a better playmate.

Then, too, the child may have had unhappy experiences with schoolmates at school or on the way to or from school. He may have dire dread of bullies. Again, he may get most help from play experiences with other children in his immediate neighborhood.

OFTEN IT'S good procedure o attract some neighbor chldren to his home where you can study him and guide him in being a better playmate; also for you to get into the good graces of those playmates who tend to lord it over him.

Perhaps he fears or dislikes his teacher.

When such a situation is discovered by the wise parent, she is careful not to condemn this teacher before the child or to encourage him in self-pity. As a rule, the parent's attitude should be, "Try to find out what your teacher expects of you and to measure up to her expectations."

There are, of course, some extreme instances when a conference with the principal may result in changing the child to another teacher. But such measures, to succeed, require great skill and tact by the parent.

Very often the cause of a child's dislike of school is his failure to enjoy success in reading, spelling, arithmetic and the like. Then the wise parent's aim should be to spare no efforts to find ways to help him enjoy more success at learning.

State's Labor Market Report

170,000 In Ohio Claim Unemployment Benefits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, in a review of the state's labor market, says seven out of every 100 workers covered by the unemployment compensation law are currently claiming benefits.

They numbered nearly 170,000 in the week ended Dec. 17 and this figure has been rising steadily over the past 11 weeks.

Apart from recession factors, the bureau said, the normal seasonal pattern suggests further increases ahead, with post-holiday and outdoor construction layoffs in prospect.

Cleveland has 34,000 of the claimants, the Youngstown-Warren area nearly 17,000, Cincinnati close to 14,000, the Akron-Barberton and Canton - Massillon - Alliance areas each accounting for a little more than 9,000, and Columbus, Toledo and Dayton ranging from 7,000 to 9,000 each.

About 18 per cent (as measured in November in terms of successive weeks claimed) were out of work 15 weeks or longer. Fifty-six per cent were jobless five weeks or more. The proportions were a little higher for women than for men.

As for the ages of claimants, the bureau said most of the men (53 per cent) ranged from 25 to 44 years. About a fifth of the men, however, and a similar proportion of the women were under 25.

The survey said two out of every three claimants came from manufacturing industries, but that factories accounted for a little more than a half of the number of workers covered by the compensation law. Manufacturing employment is off. In November it was 5 per cent below the same month last year. Non-manufacturing was down only slightly.

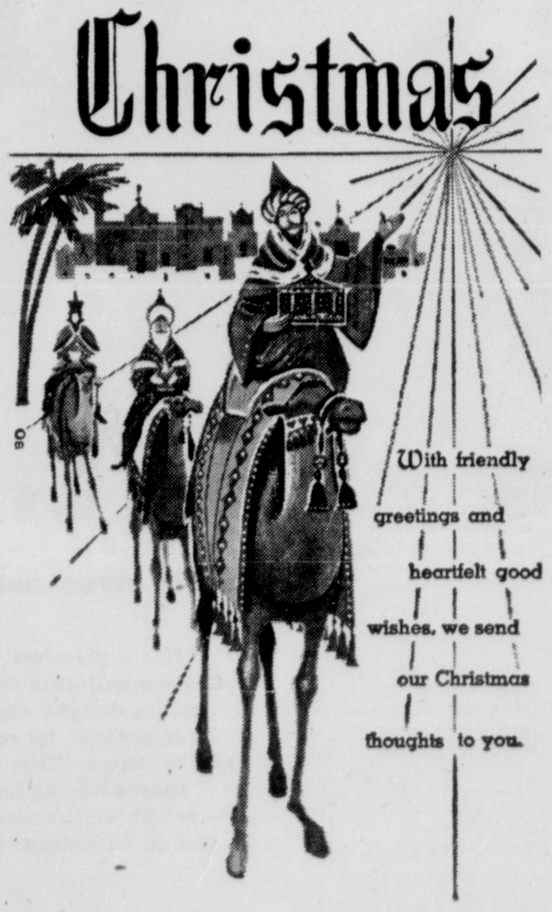
Payments of benefits in the first 11 months of 1960 surpassed $179 million, roughly two-thirds above 1959. More liberal benefits in 1960 contributed to the increase. On the other hand, temporary extended benefits were payable in 1959, but not this year. The weeks of unemployment compensation, the bureau said, have been running 63 per cent above the 1959 figure, excluding the temporary program.

The survey added that as of last Nov. 30, the Ohio unemployment trust fund had nearly $335 million.



Family Of 7 Homeless In Trailer House Fire

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A family of seven is homeless today after flames destroyed their trailer house in Northampton Twp. An explosion of a fuel oil heater caused the blaze.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Chrisman got out safely. A 16-year-old son, Jimmy, who is a polio victim, dragged himself out the front door. Meanwhile, the parents rescued 7-weeks-old twins, Joyce and Joseph, and Audrey, 3, and Diane, 4. Damage was estimated at $800 to a living room and kitchen.

The Chrismans were living in the trailer until their own home could be built nearby.

Michigan was the lowest scoring team in the Big Ten this season. The Wolverine eleven made only 52 points.

Legion's Program Help Veterans To Be Remembered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The American Legion's "Gifts For Yanks Who Gave" program is making it possible for nearly 9,500 veterans hospitalized in Ohio to be remembered on Christmas Day.

American Legion headquarters said local Legionnaires are helping hospital personnel deliver canteen books as gifts to 5,870 patients in the five Veterans Administration hospitals in the state, and cartons of cigarettes to 2,698 veterans in 19 state hospitals as well as 900 at the Ohio Soldiers' Home at Sandusky.

In addition, and for the first time this year, $4,500 was allocated to the VA hospital gift shops where the patients selected gifts for members of their families.

Ike Refusing To Bare Papers To House Unit On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the closing days of his administration, President Eisenhower has taken a strong stand on refusing to turn over documents demanded by a House subcommittee investigating foreign aid.

It is a stand the President often has taken before, but this time he had to contend with a provision Congress wrote into the act that created the inspector general's office in the State Department.

The provision said that all funds for the inspector general's office, set up in 1959 to check on foreign aid operations, would be stopped if the office refused to turn over documents requested by Congress.

The 90 persons working in that office were shifted to other positions when the House subcommittee invoked the law Dec. 8 and shut off operating funds through the comptroller general, an arm of Congress.

Eisenhower repeated Friday that to turn over the documents would be an invasion of executive privilege and contrary to the national interest.

And he ordered the secretary of the treasury to direct that until Eisenhower's term expires Jan. 20, the Treasury should write checks to cover the pay of the employes of the inspector general's office. He ordered the treasury to ignore the comptroller general on the matter.

The House subcommittee on foreign operations, under the chairmanship of Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va., has long fought for information on foreign aid from various State Department divisions.

Newell 'Swings' Past Beaver Local, 72-58, On Foul Line

74-31 Victory Over Perry Is Kuzma's Gift From Leopards

Noland, Bell Spark Vikings To 5th

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Newell exercised the foul line to great advantage and broke open a tight contest in the fourth quarter for a 72-58 victory over Beaver Local Friday night at the Wells High gym.

Near zero weather was blamed for holding the crowd down to about 300 people who watched the two district rivals battle.

Coach John Robison's Newell five is one of the hottest outfits on the local scene these days. The Vikings notched their fourth straight victory and fifth win in six games.

Meanwhile, Beaver Local, victorious in its first two starts, lost its first of the season.

Personal fouls hampered Beaver Local throughout the contest and the foul line proved to be Newell's path to victory.

Newell had 43 attempts from the free throw line and dropped in 28. Beaver Local had 17 chances from the stripe and converted eight.

However, outstanding in the scoring department was a one-two offering by Ron Noland, who beats opponents to the punch with his all-around hustle, and deadeye Tom Bell, a fine one hand jump specialist.

Noland finished the contest with 24 points to lead all scorers while Bell was right behind, firing in 19 to keep up his near 20-point average.

After a tight first half, it was Bell's 13 points and Noland's 15 which paced Newell through the third and fourth quarters.

Noland showed seven field goals and poured in 10 of 13 foul tries.

Mick Staley was next in line, hitting the double figures for 12 while Larry Hutton, veteran guard, tossed in 10. The other starter, Tom Woods, who stood-out defensively, contributed five markers.

Mike Durbin, a smooth-working pivot man, sparked Frontone's forces with 19 points, coming on eight field goals and three from the foul line. Dave Myer, a sophomore, pushed in 10 points.

Beaver Local suffered a key loss when starter Jim Pike left the game with still 6:02 remaining in the third quarter. When Pike committed his fifth personal foul the score was tied at 29-29.

Both teams shot almost exactly the same from the field. Beaver Local had 25 of 64 for 39 per cent while Newell's 22 of 55 netted a 40 per cent shooting mark.

There was hardly room to breath as far as the score goes, that was how close the contest remained for three quarters. But Newell finished with a rush by scoring 27 points in the last eight minutes.

Beaver Local trailed throughout most of the first half as Newell posted a 13-9 first quarter edge. The lead changed hands several times in the second period and the visitors pulled to within one basket, 26-24, at halftime.

The third period was close until the end. Following a 29-29 tie, Myer's bucket put the Beavers ahead, 31-30, with 5:44 remaining.

Hutton gave Newell the lead again but Durbin's pair of fouls tossed the lead back to Beaver Local, 33-32.

With 5:05 left in the third period, a short spurt by Bell paid off. He hit on a jump shot to put Newell in front for good, then followed with a foul and the Robison coached forces were in the driver's seat 35-33.

Barnhart cut the margin to one, 36-35, but Newell went on to score seven straight points before the quarter ended and owned a 45-39 edge when the buzzer blew to close out the third period.

Beaver Local came within five points early in the fourth quarter, but was forced into fouling and Newell built its winning margin from the foul line.

Young Dave Bell, a sophomore, spearheaded the Newell reserves to a 41-32 win in the preliminary contest. Bell dropped in 24 points while Shaw and Lones paced the young Beavers with nine each.

Midland Picks Up 4th Cage Decision

Coach Hank Kuzma unwrapped his Christmas present Friday night at Midland when his Leopards presented him with an easy 74-31 victory over Perry High of Pittsburgh.

It gave the Leopards a 4-3 mark to bring into the East Liverpool Holiday Tournament next Thursday and Friday at Memorial Auditorium.

Midland showed a fast-breaking outfit and fired a handsome 55 per cent for the evening, scoring on 32 of 58 attempts.

Carl Anderson led the surge by netting 18 points but was given a big lift in the scoring department from Al Aloi who showed 16 points for his efforts.

The tempo picked up in the second quarter and by halftime Midland was nursing a 32-18 margin. Perry, which only scored 11 field goals for the game, was held to four points in the third quarter and Midland raced to a 57-22 lead as the period ended.

Kagle's 15 points accounted for almost half of Perry's total.

Midland will meet East Liverpool on the opening night of the tournament Thursday. Following the Holiday Tourney, the Leopards head into the Section 8 competition as the exhibition season ends.

Free Substitution Rule Due In Blue-Gray Tilt

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Free substitutions will be used in the Blue-Gray all-star football game here Dec. 31.

The six coaches who met Friday to work on plans for the game indicated that free substitutions will be the only deviation from regular college play.

Daily practice sessions will begin today for both squads in the game which will be televised nationally.

Attending Friday's meeting were the North's coaches — Don Faurot of Missouri; Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue; and Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse; and the South coaches—Wally Butts of Georgia; Bill Hilderbrand of Wake Forest; and Paul Dietzel of Louisiana State.

Lawson In Rifle Shoot

Walter V. Lawon, 1088 Price St., is one of 10 cadets from the University of Cincinnati's Air Force ROTC rifle team entered in the national William Randolph Hearst rifle competition. Firing took place recently on the University's rifle range. National award winners will be named later. Lawson is a 1960 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Ex-Weirton Star Places Special Order

The University of Dayton athletic department had to place a "special order" to fit Weirton Madonna's Dick Palcic with size 8½ basketball shoes.

Palcic, only 5-foot, 8-inches, is remembered by area fans for his dazzling floor performance against Wellsville High last season. He's listed as the No. 7 man on Dayton's frosh team although he's probably the smallest cager to perform for the Flyers in years.

When Palcic reported for practice, the only shoes available were in the 10-11-12 size bracket as the Flyers generally floor a squad of giants.

South Loosening Up Passing Arms For North Squad

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—No matter what North does, the South is going to pass, pass, pass when the rivals meet in the 13th annual Shrine all-star college football game in the Orange Bowl Monday night.

This was apparent in Friday's drill when the Southerners, under the direction of Coaches Darrell Royal of Texas and Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama were throwing the ball on three out of four plays.

The squad elected Monte Lee of Texas and Bill Shaw of Georgia Tech co-captains for the game.

Coaches Dale Hall of Army and Bump Elliott of Michigan continue to send the North squad through the wringer. Since reporting early in the week not a second has been wasted.

The squad worked out in full game regalia Friday for the first time, and went through the long drill with true collegiate spirit.

Olympic Auditorium Shows $956,243 Gross

Co-promoters Cal Eaton and George Parnassus said Friday the gross was $794,404 for 77 boxing cards drew $161,839.

The 1946 Boston Red Sox were the last American League team to move from the second division to the pennant.

Huskies' No. 2 Fullback To Miss Rose Bowl

Joe Jones, the No. 2 fullback on offense and No. 1 cornerbacker on defense, underwent surgery Friday for appendicitis and will have to watch the game with Minnesota from the sidelines.

Jones complained of severe abdominal pains Thursday night. Friday morning he was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where Dr. Harold Neibling performed the operation.

Prepare For Playoff With Packers

Desire And Determination Chief Qualities Of Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Desire? Determination? Those are qualities the Philadelphia Eagles have in abundance as they prepare for the National Football League championship game with Green Bay.

Like Chuck Bednarik, 12-year NFL veteran who will be called on by coach Buck Shaw to go the full 60 minutes if needed Monday, as an offensive center and on defense as a linebacker. The 34-year-old veteran says::

"This is a team that needs incentive. If the money and honor is up there, we'll bust somebody to get it." He adds that being rated the underdog is "great. Makes you a little hungrier."

Shaw said that for his Eastern Division champs "there is enough incentive. A lot of these fellows never have been first in anything. I think they'll want to now." For Shaw, in his last season of coaching, there is hope for his first NFL title.

Then there's Billy Barnes. He's heard the comment of many fans that perhaps he's outlived his usefullness to the Eagles. They point to his 2.7 yard average per carry this past season.

Hampered by a leg injury and what generally is acknowledged as a poor blocking line for runners, the former Wake Forest star says that at 25 years of age, "I'm just reaching the prime of life. I'll be playing . . . in the National League for quite a while." Barnes says "I hope I can start proving it against Green Bay Monday."

There's the incentive of the money involved—the members of the winning team on Franklin Field will get about $5,000 each. The losers about $4,000.

Bradley Blasts Cincy, 72-53; Set To Take Over Loop Lead

Braves Chalk Up 42nd Straight Win At Home

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — At long last, Bradley, the country's No. 2 team, appears ready to shed its role as runner-up in the Missouri Valley Conference and take over championship matters.

For the last four seasons the Braves have finished second in the MVC—three times behind Cincinnati's Braves led by Oscar Robertson who has advanced to the pro league.

The Braves kayoed Cincinnati 72-53 Friday night in their conference opener and ran their string to 14 victories—eight of which have come this season. It was also Bradley's 42nd straight home triumph dating back to Jan. 20, 1958, when Portland came through with an upset.

Bolstered by such veterans as Chet Walker, Al Saunders, Ed Wodka, Lee Edwards and Mack Herndon, Bradley also has been graced by such sophomore standouts as Tim Robinson and Walt Gerard.

The loss was the second straight in the MVC for Cincinnati, which lost to strong St. Louis 57-40 in its conference opener. The St. Louis Billikens, who won the Kentucky Invitation Tournament this week by whipping both California and Kentucky in overtime, have a 7-1 over-all record, and their duels with Bradley should decide the MVC championship.

Bradley also is shooting for an NCAA championship berth and a possible national title should some of the other top-ranking teams — Ohio State for instance — falter. Bradley last season won the National Invitational Tournament. It was the Braves' second NIT title in four years.

Some prolific scoring by DePaul's 5-foot-9 Howie Carl and Southern California's John Rudometkin featured the other major games on the slim Friday college program.

Carl scored 43 points, 23 on free throws, as unbeaten DePaul battled to its fifth straight, 81-78 in overtime over tough Marquette.

Rudometkin set a Trojan single game record of 40 points in Southern Cal's 91-69 rout of Hawaii. Neal Edwards added 25 points as the Trojans won their sixth against one loss.

Xavier of Ohio, with Frank Pinchback scoring 24 points, handed touring Gonzaga its fifth straight loss, 87-82 despite a 36-point show by Gonzaga's Frank Burgess, the country's leading major scorer with a 32.5 average. Three long shots in overtime by 5-foot-9 Bob O'Billovich led Montana State U. to a 60-58 victory over Idaho State.

U.S. 4-Minute Miler To Return To Track

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Don Bowden, the first American to run the mile in less than four minutes, says his best Christmas present is the news he can return to track competition.

Bowden, currently a lieutenant in the Army, suffered a torn achilles tendon last June in the Interservice Track and Field Championships at Quantico, Va.

Doctors now say the former University of California runner's leg will return to full strength.

"I hope to be able to try out for the 1964 U.S. Olympic team," Bowden said today at his parents' home here.

Bowden, now 24, broke the four-minute barrier at Stockton, Calif., on June 1, 1957 when he ran the mile in 3:58.7.

EAST AND WEST did meet in San Francisco Friday as members of both teams visited the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. Here, East's halfback Tom Mason (left) of Tulane, and West's quarterback Bill Kilmer (right) of UCLA, show Fay, 13, and Scotty, 5, how to handle the pigskin. East and West will meet in San Francisco Dec. 31 in the annual Shrine classic. (UPI Telephoto)

Wallace Butts Resigns As Georgia Grid Coach

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Wallace Butts has stepped out of the football coaching ranks after 33 years, the last 23 at the University of Georgia.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, university president, announced Butts' resignation Friday as head football coach, a position the Georgia native, now 55, held for 22 years after serving one season as an assistant coach. Butts will continue as director of athletics.

Aderhold, who will name Butts' successor, declined to say who it would be or when he will make the decision. A source close to the school said it would be a Georgia alumnus.

Speculation immediately centered on Charley Trippi, a backfield aide to Butts who was All-America at Georgia in 1946; Gene Ellenson, center on Georgia's 1943 Rose Bowl team; and Oliver Hunnicutt, former Georgia halfback and coach at a Lagrange, Ga. high school, as leading contenders for the job. Also mentioned were John Griffith, current freshman coach at Georgia, and John Rauch, a star quarterback under Butts in 1946-48.

"I figure I've been under pressure long enough," Butts explained. "I think it would affect my health if I continue."

Butts, whose pass patterns were the envy of the coaching profession, was dean of Southeastern, Conference football coaches. He succeeded Joel Hunt as head coach at Georgia in 1939, and his teams won 140 games, lost 86 and tied 9. Under Butts Georgia won four SEC championships and played in eight postseason games.

A HEAVY SNOW STORM hit Buffalo, N. Y., late Friday, dropping nearly two feet of the white stuff in a matter of hours. Here a boy and a girl begin the tedious job of clearing a path. (UPI Telephoto)

Hard Practice Peps Droopy Gopher Squad

The scrimmage wasn't scheduled. Coach Murray Warmath planned to ease the team into rough work. But after a dispirited morning practice, the worst in Minnesota's Rose Bowl preparations for Washington, the Gopher commander took off the gloves.

For intensity and sock, Friday's scrimmage at East Los Angeles Junior College rivaled any Minnesota practice of the regular season. Halfback Judge Dickson nearly impaled a linebacker with one off-tackle charge.

"They were getting disinterested and they needed to go after somebody," Warmath said. "I think they liked it."

During afternoon practice the team moved with a snap it had not shown all week. Afterward Warmath rewarded the Gophers by calling off this morning's workout, meaning Minnesota apparently is finished with twice-daily drills.

Chargers' President Want To Stay In LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barrow Hilton, president of the Chargers, says he wants to keep his American Football team in Los Angeles next season. But he's not overlooking San Diego completely.

Hilton disclosed Friday that he plans to visit San Diego in the near future to investigate to move his AFL franchise there.

Dr. Albert Anderson, chairman of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce major league sports committee, wired Hilton urging him to visit and talk over the situation for 1961.

Hilton said the invitation is among several he has received to visit cities interested in the Chargers.

Shoppers Get Present

PARKERSBURG (AP) — Last-minute Christmas shoppers got a present from the city today. Police declared that parking on downtown streets would be free all day and that meters could be safely ignored.

Slow Melting Will Be Aid To Water Levels

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the snow blanket now covering Ohio melts gradually, it will help ground water levels more than if the same amount of moisture had fallen as rain in August, the Ohio Division of Water reported today.

Paul Kaser, hydrologist for the division, said that because of the extreme dryness of the soil then, that quanity of water would not have passed the "root zone" which has first claim on precipitation.

Kaser said if thawing takes place four or five days the state will benefit most from the present snowfall. Streams, and thus reservoirs, will rise, as will underground water levels. He explained that the water content was .125 inch per inch of snow. For the entire state, the total water content was about 1 inch, while for the Columbus area, which had an 8.7-inch snowfall in midweek, it was 1.09 inches.

A sudden blast of warm air from the Gulf of Mexico could present a problem, he said, but he also emphasized that no such warm front is predicted.

Ohio probably would be protected from any major flood by the fact that the state is 5.8 inches deficient in its average yearly rainfall, said Kaser, adding as a result, reservoirs are low and so are streams, and these would absorb a great deal of water.

Political Campaigning Leaves Mark On Tyke

Wrote Charlene Gans:

"Dear Santa Claus

"Please say hello to Rudolph, Nixon, Vixon and Planner."

The letter was processed north via the Alhambra Post Advocate.

Payroll At New High

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. has announced that the annual payroll at its four plants in greater Cleveland has reached a new peak of more than $106 million compared with $100 million the previous year. Average gross hourly earnings also rose to an all-time high of $3.10 in 1960 compared with $2.98 in 1959. The average number of employes climbed to 14,089 during the past year from 13,830 the previous year, the company added.

San Salvador, capital of El Salvador, was founded in 1525 by Spanish conquistadores under Pedro de Alvarez.

Traffic Jam Seen 'Worst'

A traffic jam of monumental proportions snarled vehicle travel in downtown East Liverpool Friday afternoon and autoists caught in the bumper-to-bumper tieup said it was "the worst ever."

Drivers said they averaged 10 minutes to the block in trying to get through the snarl and one reported it took an hour from a Bradshaw Ave. market to 3rd St.

Traffic lights were of no use as the cars piled up in intersections in both directions. All business district streets and the arteries leading into the area were clogged. The snafu lasted most of the afternoon.

It resulted from a combination of last-minute Christmas shoppers, heavy traffic in the vicinity of foodmarkets and streets covered with churned snow that impeded travel.

A big tractor-trailer rig from Florida accounted for one phase of the jam when it became disabled near the Washington and 3rd Sts. intersection, causing cars to stack up clear to the Chester cause of heavy East-bound traffic.

Chief Americo Radeschi said police did not receive any complaints of traffic tieups. No officers were assigned to direct traffic, he said.

The only complaint police received was that a traffic signal was stuck in the East End. An officer was assigned there to direct traffic until repairs could be made, the chief said.

Nepalese Sherpas have described the Abominable Snowman as having long, reddish-brown hair over all its body. It is said to stand like a human being, howl horribly at night, and lope like an ape through snow.

Cat Gets 'Charged' Sitting On Car Battery

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. V. L. Stark reported hearing a funny noise under the hood of their new car. Stark, deciding the car needed its 5,000-mile checkup anyway, took it to the local dealer from whom he purchased it.

All 95 Safe As Jet Spins Off Runway

LONDON (AP)—A Boeing 707 jet airliner carrying 107 persons spun off a runway into muddy grassland today after touching down at London Airport from Chicago.

All 95 passengers and 12 crew members escaped unhurt.

The plane, owned by British Overseas Airways Corp., was badly damaged. Passengers escaped by sliding down emergency chutes on the port side.

"The port undercarriage appeared to buckle when the plane was about halfway along the runway," one witness said.

"It slewed round in a terrific cloud of dust.

"The wing collapsed. Then the plane ran off the runway and its wheels bogged down in the mud."

The Boeing had come from Chicago via Detroit, Montreal and Prestwick Airport in Scotland.

It ended up in bad shape. One wing was a tangled mass of metal and the lower undercarriage was torn and ripped.

The port engines slung under the wing were forced upward by the impact. One twisted off its mountings.

Children Give Program For Garfield PTA Event

Children of each grade participated in the Christmas program at a meeting of the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association Thursday afternoon at the school.

Treats were presented to the youngsters and the first grade homeroom mothers served refreshments.

The date of the January meeting will be announced, Charles Heasley, president, said.

Paying Of Traffic Fine May Be Education Aid

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—There's a good chance that a Florida State University student who pays a campus traffic fine is helping to finance his education.

Revenue from speeding and overtime - parking fines goes into a scholarship fund or pays the salaries of student traffic patrolmen.

Burglars Obtain $25 In Broadway Tavern

Thieves obtained $25 in change after breaking into the Roma Cafe, 223 Broadway, early this morning, police reported.

The burglars drilled a number of holes in a rear door to form a square and then knocked out the center and reached through and unlocked the door, officers were told.

Tony Tangredi, owner, said only the change apparently was taken. It was removed from the cash register. A door leading to the upstairs also was forced.

The burglary occurred between 4:20 and 6:30 a.m., police were told.

Traffic Deaths Across Nation Inch Upward

Total 78

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths across the country inched upward today in the early hours of the long Christmas holiday weekend.

The count at the end of the first 12 hours stood at 39 compared with 50 at the same time in last year's similar three-day observance. Eight other persons died in fires and three in various other types of accidents for a total of 50.

Icy or snow-packed highways were reported in many parts of the country, adding to normal driving hazards. The National Safety Council also issued a reminder to motorists that speeding and drinking have been foremost factors in Christmas holiday traffic fatalities in past years.

The council estimated 510 persons may be killed on the highways in this year's 78-hour period that began at 6 p. m. Friday and continues until midnight Monday.

The council estimate is 217 higher than the number counted in an Associated Press survey of a recent 78-hour nonholiday weekend when 293 died in traffic accidents. On that weekend 47 other persons died in fires and 113 in miscellaneous accidents.

Last year's Christmas period saw 439 persons killed on the country's highways, 43 in fires, and 73 in various other accidents for an over-all total of 609.

The record traffic and over-all total for a three-day Christmas holiday was set in 1955 when 609 died in traffic, 68 in fires and 105 in other accidents for a total of 782.

The greatest number of deaths for any holiday period occurred during the four-day Christmas period in 1956 when traffic deaths numbered 706, fires 54 and others 124 for a total of 884.

During World War II, the U.S. government considered minting a three-cent piece made of glass in order to relieve the copper shortage.

Belgium Is Paralyzed By Effects Of Strike

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A growing general strike against the government's austerity program paralyzed Belgium today on the eve of Christmas.

Violent clashes were reported in the industrial centers of Liege and Antwerp when police attempted to restrain pickets. Some shopkeepers were beaten when they refused to close. Trees and trolley cars blocked streets in a number of towns to prevent the operation of public transport.

Socialist unions called for the strike five days ago as a protest against the government's program of increased taxes and cuts in social welfare spending.

Venezuela is a Spanish name meaning "Little Venice." Legend has it that the country got that name when explorer Alonso de Ojeda sailed into Lake Maracaibo in 1499 and found Indians living over the water in houses built on stilts.

Wants Specialist

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Division of Correction wants to hire a specialist to direct research into criminal behavior. Commissioner Maury C. Koblentz said the 1961 legislature will be asked to provide $75,000 for expanded research. Koblentz said adult and Juvenile delinquency costs the nation $20-22 billion a year, but that relatively little research is being done in relation to the size of the problem.

City Man Sentenced For Morals Violation

Wilbert E. Grafton, 32, of 225 W. 7th St. was sentenced to 1-20 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary Friday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for a morals violation.

Grafton pleaded guilty to sodomy at arraignment Sept. 26 and was confined to the Lima State Hospital Oct. 18 for observation and report before sentencing.

The hospital said he is psychopathic and he will be returned to Lima for treatment before beginning his sentence in prison.

Both Parties Beat Deadline In Filing Election Statements

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrats and Republicans waited until the last minute to tell Ohio's secretary of state about party contributions and expenditures during the fall election campaign.

Both parties submitted their statements to Secretary Ted W. Brown just ahead of the 4 p.m. deadline Friday.

The Democratic State Executive Committee reported receipts of $146,860 and a balance of $11,528. Listing unpaid bills of $9,761, the statement said $97,338 was spent on the campaign and $37,993 for headquarters activities.

The Republican Finance Committee listed contributions of $2,098,380, and the same amount in expenditures. Unpaid pledges were said to amount to $32,149.

However, the contrast in figures between the two political parties is less marked when it is noted that the Republican organization in each state serves as a central collection agency, passing out money to county committees, candidates and political operations. On the other hand, each Democratic group in a state operates and files a statement of its expenses separately.

Other expense statements received by Brown include:

C. William O'Neill for Judge of the Ohio Supreme Court Committee — received $12,977 (including $10,000 from the state GOP committee); spent $12,727.

Citizens for James A. Rhodes for State Auditor—Received $37,077 (including $34,564 from the state GOP committee); spent $37,077.

If a candidate—successful or not—fails to list his costs and contributions with Brown or a county election board, he is banned by Ohio law from being a candidate for public office for the next five years.

2 Seamen Return

LISBON — Navy Gunner's Mate 3C Ralph Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McCaughin, 401 E. Washington St., and Seaman App. Orval Monroe, son of Mrs. Nellie McCaughin, 47 E. Washington St., recently returned to Norfolk, Va., after amphibious helicopter training exercises in the Caribbean.

Yule Program Held For Kiwanis Meeting

"The Spirit of Christmas In Story and Song" was related by Ernest Lowe at a Christmas party for members of the Lions Club, their wives and guests Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Lowe traced the history of caroling and sang several Christmas selections. Mrs. Lowe was accompanist.

Spent $103,825

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Democrats say they spent $103,825 in the recent general election campaign. The county campaign committee told the county election board Friday it took in $56,622 and spent $56,195. The Kennedy Dinner Committee reported receipts of $47,630 and expenses of $47,655.

Woman Ordered Sent Back To State Hospital For Insane

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Kathleen King, 40, has been ordered sent back to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane after a three-judge panel found her innocent by reason of insanity in the bludgeon slayings of her three small children.

The youngsters, Charlene, 5, Donald, 3½, and Brian, 2, were felled by repeated hammer blows at their Xenia home April 12, 1958. Mrs. King then purportedly tried to kill herself by slashing her wrists, taking 15 tranquilizer pills, drinking cleaning fluid and tying a belt around her neck.

Shortly after the triple killing, she was ordered sent to Lima State Hospital. She remained there until last October when doctors declared her sane enough to stand trial on three counts of first-degree murder.

Friday, after hearing testimony in the case without a jury, three common pleas court judges deliberated less than an hour and returned their verdict.

The verdict of innocent by reason of insanity was the plea she had entered to the murder charges.

The defense tried to show that she was under medical care for a nervous breakdown for some time prior to the slayings.

One defense witness, a Dayton psychiatrist, testified he had treated Mrs. King as early as 1945, before her marriage to mail carrier Charles King and two years after the doctor said she suffered a head injury.

King found the children's bodies when he returned home from work. The couple had no other offspring.

Mrs. King could be released from the Lima institution when officials feel she is well enough to go home for a trial period.

Greene County Sheriff Russell A. Bradley said it is unlikely she will be taken to Lima before next week.

Election Board To Probe Charges Made By Baldine

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County Board of Elections voted Friday to conduct an investigation into charges made by Joseph J. Baldine, Hubbard Democrat, who was defeated for county commissioner in the November election.

The vote for the investigation was unanimous, but members differed on procedure.

Baldine filed a suit in common pleas court last week contesting the election of Dr. W. A. James of Warren, Republican incumbent. James of Warren, Republican incumbent. James and the Board of Elections were named as defendants.

Baldine's petition charged there were irregularities in handling the more than 2,300 absentee ballots cast in the Nov. 8 election. Dr. James received a big majority of the ballots and won the election by 26 votes. A recount of all ballots cast in the country's 239 precincts —requested by Baldine—increased Dr. James' margin of victory to 29.

There were two tie votes on proposed procedure in conducting the investigation into Baldine's charges.

Laos is known as the "land of a million elephants," but the animals are seldom seen in Luang Prabang, the royal capital. Palace elephants roam nearby forests, but are brought into town only for New Year's ceremonies and special festivals.

Girl To Be Home Christmas Knowing She'll Walk Again

CLEVELAND (AP)—Miss Helen Devasure, 24, who has spent 1,005 days in Lutheran Hospital during the last eight years, goes home for Christmas today with the knowledge that she soon will be able to walk again without assistance.

Both her legs were broken and her left knee was crushed in an automobile accident on Oct. 25, 1952. Since the accident, Miss Devasure—daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Devasure, of Cleveland—has been admitted to the hospital 22 times and has had 44 operations.

She has spent the eight years in bed or in a wheelchair.

On last Oct. 25 her left leg was amputated above the knee after it developed that the limb would never heal. A secondary operation was performed in November.

Since the November operation Miss Devasure has been taking daily exercises in the physical therapy department of the hospital to condition her body so that she may walk with an artificial leg.

At first it was impossible for her to stand on her right leg, even with crutches, due to the muscles being weakened from long inactivity. But Friday the patient not only stood and walked, but was able to get out of and into her wheelchair unassisted.

Miss Devasure is expected to be fitted with an artificial leg after additional conditioning, and then she will be able to lead an independent life.

During her period of invalidism she studied high school subjects with the aid of a tutor and in 1956 she received a diploma from East High School.

Bats are not attracted to lights because of the illumination. They seek the insects which are attracted by the illumination.

Teachers Fail To Get Paid; Meeting Set

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — New Orleans teachers planned a mass meeting today after the school integration hassle prevented some 5,500 of them from reciving their December paychecks.

The local unit of the Louisiana Teachers Association called the 3 p.m. EST meeting to discuss "the teacher pay issue." There were rumors of a teacher walkout after the Christmas holiday if salaries are not paid.

The only persons paid Friday when four city banks released $728,000 in funds to the Orleans Parish School Board were 100 employes at integrated William Frantz and McDonogh No. 19. Schools who were not included when the legislature paid other workers their November salaries.

In Washington the National Education Association offered $250,000 in interest-free loans for "individual cases of undue hardship" among unpaid teachers and other personnel.

The NEA said the amount of loan could not exceed the amount of salary payment missed. It did not say when the loans would be repaid.

The four banks released the funds—which had been frozen on orders from the legislature—as a result of Wednesday's order by a three-judge federal court that directed the banks to turn the funds over to the school board.

New Brighton Train Derailment Cleaned Up

NEW BRIGHTON — Pennsylvania Railroad crews worked until the early hours today cleaning up the debris in the derailment of seven cars of a 176-car freight train Friday on the main line here.

A railroad spokesman said there was extensive track damage. Trains were delayed a while but were running on schedule later. They were rerouted around the damage scene. No one was injured.

The train was en route from Crestline to Conway. Cause of the derailment was not learned.

Red China Anger Over Laos Could Be Tough On 5 Yanks

By FORREST EDWARDS

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist Chinese anger over Laos could make this Christmas even more bleak for five Americans in Red Chinese prisons.

The Americans likely have learned—either directly from prison officials or from reading material supplied them—that Red China has accused the United States of aggression in the Laos civil war.

If so, the men cannot help but remember that similar charges were made before Red China poured troops into Korea during the Korean War.

Nor can they help but realize that another Korea in Laos would postpone indefinitely any hope of release.

All five are familiar with Communist China's participation in the Korean war.

John Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., were listed as Army civilian employes when their plane was shot down during the Korean War.

This will be their ninth Christmas in prison. Downey is under life sentence, and Fecteau is serving 20 years on espionage charges.

It will be the 10th Christmas behind bars for Robert McCann of Altadena, Calif., and Hugh Redmond of Yonkers, N.Y., both businessmen in China when the Korean War broke.

Redmond is under life sentence, and McCann is under a 15-year sentence on Communist charges of espionage.

The fifth American, Bishop James Walsh of Cumberland, Md., had spent most of his Roman Catholic priesthood in China before he was arrested in 1958. Bishop Walsh is under a 20-year sentence for espionage.

For these men, this Christmas probably will be like the other Christmases they have spent imprisoned—a long and lonely day spent largely in reading.

Pupils Mark Yule At Highlandtown

All eight grades participated in the Christmas program of the Highlandtown School Tuesday night.

The first and second grade rhythm band sang three songs and played several selections. Barbara Hogue led the band and Scotty Boyd sang a solo.

A group of six third grade boys recited the Christmas story from St. Luke. The third through fifth grades presented a skit, "Come to the Manger," comprised of recitations, songs and a solo by Jackie Martin.

A play, "The Happiest Christmas," was presented by pupils of the sixth through eighth grades.

The program closed with boys of the sixth through eighth grades forming a Christmas trees and using vari-colored flashlights to give the illumination. The audience sang "Silent Night." Lunch was served.

The program was under the direction of the following faculty members, Mrs. Alice Faloon, first; Miss Betty Thompson, second; Mrs. Leah Elliott, third and fourth; Kenneth Knowles, fifth and sixth, and Mrs. Carl Leatherberry and Robert Carter, principal, seventh and eighth.

Soviet engineers are studying a proposal to build a 200-mile-long dam from the western shore of the Caspian Sea to the Mangyshlak Peninsula on the eastern shore. Its purpose would be to control the rise and fall of the sea's water level.

Union Files 4th Charge Against Standard Oil Co.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union Friday filed a fourth unfair labor practices charge against Standard Oil Co. of Ohio with the National Labor Relations Board.

Claiming representation of 320 Sohio employes in Toledo, the union asks that the company be cited for what it claims is failure to negotiate on collective bargaining for the union members.

Previously the union had filed similar charges involving two Sohio plants in Cleveland and one in Lorain, where it represents more than 800 workers.

No progress was reported Friday in negotiations before Federal Mediator Clair Willmeth on contract problems for the two Cleveland locals and one in Lima. The negotiations were recessed indefinitely.

A Sohio spokesman said the union's action in attempting to bargain on a company-wide basis is in violation of an agreemet signed by the company and the OCAW in 1957. In that agreement the union agreed not to attempt to bargain on a company-wide basis in the absence of a certification by the NLRB, the spokesman said.

Robert Buchanan, regional director of the OCAW, said the union requests include a pay increase of 18 cents an hour. The present pay scale was not disclosed.

The huge television antenna atop the Empire State Building, which is used by all of New York City's seven TV stations, transmits to a four-state area in which 15 million people reside.

Judge Dies Suddenly

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Robert B. Putnam, presiding judge of the Fifth District Court of Appeals, died of a heart attack at his home here Friday. The judge, 69, suffered the attack shortly after returning from a shopping trip with his wife. Judge Putnam was to have retired Feb. 8 after 18 years as an appeals court judge. Born in Brinkerhaven in Knox County, he was a graduate of Wooster College and Ohio Northern School of Law.

The Joyous Wonder of Christmas

What is the joy of Christmas? It is the guiding ray from the star of Bethlehem that has spanned the centuries to light our way in life. It is the hope in the Angel's message of peace on earth, good will toward men. It is the awe in the faces of our children as they gain an understanding of the significance of this holy day. It is the voices of carolers, the blessedness of giving, the happiness that the family shares together. Most of all, it is the spirit that is sustained by our churches in this holy season, for there we live anew that thrilling experience which gave hope to the world nearly two thousand years ago when it first knew the joyous wonder of Christmas.

NO ROOM FOR HIM An Inspiring Christmas Story By TAYLOR CALDWELL

What Do You Know About Christmas?

By HELEN LANGWORTHY

CHRISTMAS carries with it many fine traditions. How much do you know about this inspiring holiday? The following questions will test your knowledge, and there are clues to help you out. More points if you find the answers while making use of the fewest number of clues!

1. The first Christmas tree is believed to have been decorated by a distinguished man some 400 years ago. Who was he?

A. He was born in 1483.
B. The Protestant Reformation owed much to this man.
C. Thousands of churches today follow his doctrines and, in fact, have names evolved from his.

2. One man closely associated with the Christmas season lived some 300 years after Christ. Who was he?

A. He was born in Asia Minor, and today hundreds of churches all over the globe are named for him.
B. He gave his wealth to the poor.
C. In later years his name was turned into Santa Claus.

3. Christmas cards are believed to have been first engraved by William Maw Engley, Jr. The young man said he was inspired by a famous person. Who?

A. He was a notable English author.
B. The author's period was in the mid-1800s.
C. "A Christmas Carol" was his story that provided the inspiration.

4. "The Tyrolese Song" was the name first given to one of the most popular of all Christmas songs. What name was given to it later?

A. The song is a carol.
B. It was the work of a Lutheran pastor and church organist.
C. Before their collaboration, the two had lamented that the perfect Christmas song had not been found.

5. Santa Claus has been termed the "literary invention" of a certain person. Who?

A. He would have preferred being remembered for his classes in Greek and Hebrew.
B. Children make a pilgrimage to his grave in New York each Christmas Eve.
C. His poem mentions eight reindeer.

6. According to one legend, this familiar part of the yule scene was also the wood from which Jesus' cross was made. What was it?

A. It has a medicinal value.
B. Another legend called it "The Forbidden Fruit" of the Garden of Eden.
C. Romantically inclined people use it in their decoration.

Score: 20 points if you knew without a clue; 15 points if you knew on the first clue; 10 points if you knew on second clue; 5 points if you knew on third clue.

Rating: Above 90 points, you know Christmas well. Why not, in token, buy yourself a gift? From 60 to 90, you're doing fine! In recognition, all your gifts should come in your correct size. Below 60, perhaps you need to brush up on Christmas!

Answers: 1. Martin Luther; 2. Saint Nicholas; 3. Charles Dickens; 4. "Silent Night"; 5. Clement Moore; 6. Mistletoe, which, legend says, shrank in shame to its present size.

COVER:

All the joy of Christmas is aglow in the eyes of our adorable cover girl photographed by Jill Lewis. Like many youngsters, she has eagerly awaited this day.

ANNOUNCING A SPECIAL PRE-PUBLICATION OFFER ON ONE OF

SMITHSONIAN TREASURY OF SCIENCE

Three handsome boxed volumes (1,200 pages; nearly 500,000 words), lavishly illustrated; containing dramatic and important writings from America's great repository of scientific information. Edited, with commentaries, by Webster P. True, Former Chief of the Editorial and Publications Division, Smithsonian Institution.

FOR more than one hundred years, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. has been one of the great international clearing houses of scientific innovation and discovery. Millions of people have passed through its fascinating museums, art galleries, and zoological park. But the Smithsonian's most important function is its service as a repository of vital information from the world of science.

Among its matchless records are original reports made by great astronomers, geologists, physicists, biologists, and anthropologists on their startling discoveries, flashes of insight, inventions, and brilliant conquests of the unknown — as well as news of ingenious and startling applications of the new discoveries.

Now a lavish selection from this wealth of scientific lore is being made available in a monumental home library — the SMITHSONIAN TREASURY OF SCIENCE. Its three huge volumes, illustrated with 150 rare photos and drawings, range across every major area of scientific knowledge . . . backward and forward in time . . . into strange and exotic places . . . under the sea and into outer space.

From Einstein on Newton to Predictions for the Future

You and your family will see the great Roentgen muse over his discovery of X-rays: ("... if the hand is held between the vacuum tube and the screen, the dark shadow of the bones is seen upon the much lighter shadow of the hand . . .")

You will read Pierre Curie's historic description of radium's properties . . . you stand in a Mexican cornfield as a volcano is born and emerges into a destroying mountain of fire . . . explore, with Raymond Ditmars, a cave filled with vampire bats.

What did one genius think of another who preceded him? See Einstein's brilliant commentary on Newton. Was there a "desperate civilization" on Mars? H. P. Wilkins recounts the great debate that rages over the enigma of the Martian "canals."

What is the difference between life and non-life? Wendell Stanley's research into this shadow world is one of the jewels of this collection. Another is the list of uncanny predictions made by H. G. Wells. He foresaw the atom bomb — 30 years before it became a reality. How many of his other predictions, presented here, will prove correct?

In sum: the SMITHSONIAN TREASURY OF SCIENCE is one of those rare, once-in-a-decade publications which combine vital importance with sheer reading pleasure. It educates and enchants. When these three volumes come off press in the fall of 1960, a genuine American treasure — the result of a hundred years' pursuit of knowledge — will at last be truly accessible for you and your family to pore over, profit from and enjoy.

Special Money-Saving Offer

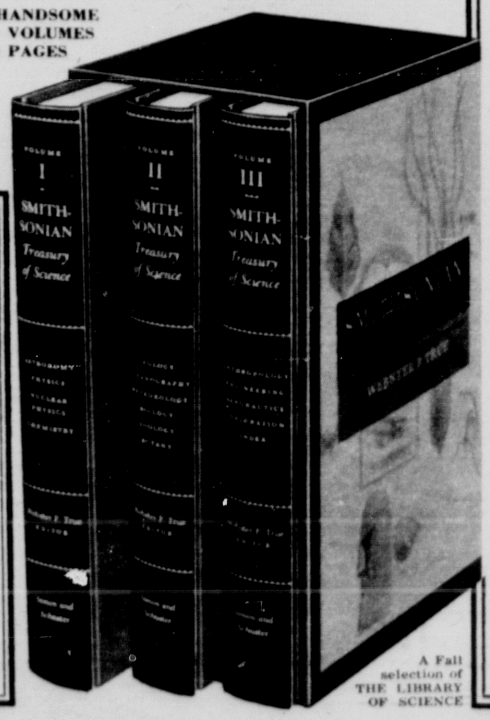
A work of this size and scope — utilizing the finest printing, paper, and binding — would ordinarily be priced at $35 or more. However, advance enthusiasm has encouraged the publishers to plan an unusually large first printing. It is hoped in this way the retail price of the three boxed volumes may be brought down to $15. But you can save even more if you reserve your set now.

In order to build up the size of the first printing, and reduce the cost per set, we are accepting advance reservations from readers of this announcement. In return for helping us increase the size of this printing by entering your reservation now, you will receive the complete set at a special pre-publication price of only $12.95 — a saving of at least $2.05.

The Reservation Certificate entitles you to reserve first-edition sets for yourself, or as gifts, at the special price of only $12.95 — even if the final price turns out to be higher than we now anticipate.

SEND NO MONEY. As soon as the set is off the press, you will receive your copy (or copies) for three weeks' FREE examination. If you are not absolutely sure that you and your family will use and enjoy it for a lifetime, return it and owe nothing. Otherwise, we shall bill you at the special pre-publication price. Mail certificate now to: SIMON AND SCHUSTER, INC., Dept. 420, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, N. Y.

THREE HANDSOME BOXED VOLUMES 1200 PAGES



A Fall selection of THE LIBRARY OF SCIENCE

PARTIAL CONTENTS

Volume I

EINSTEIN ON NEWTON. A great intellect pays tribute to another. Einstein shows how Newton influenced all later thinking, helped make our world what it is today.

OUR UNIVERSE. Exploration into the staggering immensity of space. Is it curved? Is the universe really expanding?

AGE OF THE UNIVERSE. Is our universe "only" 6,000 million years old . . . instead of a million million years?

SUNSPOTS. Extraordinary discoveries about the effect of solar eruption on us.

X-RAYS. Roentgen takes you back to 1901 when he discovered that mysterious rays can pass through almost any substance. Henry Garland describes today's uses of X-rays in many areas of science from physics to medicine.

ROCKS FROM SPACE. F. L. Whipple discusses meteors and how they're created.

THE ELEMENTS. Where do the chemical elements come from? Which are plentiful, which scarce in the universe?

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY. Marconi himself relates his early experiments which proved that radio waves are over the earth's curvature.

COSMIC RAYS. What we know so far about these elusive particles which continuously bombard us from outer space.

CRIME DETECTION. J. Edgar Hoover tells how the F.B.I. moved from Sherlock Holmes methods of detection to the employment of scientific techniques.

RADIOISOTOPES. A tour through our Oak Ridge atomic reactor: how radioactive particles unlock life's secrets, diagnose and treat disease, etc.

Volume II

EARTHQUAKES. 1,000,000 a year round the world — yet we are more puzzled than ever about what causes them.

TIDES. Why tide rises 50 feet in Bay of Fundy . . . and almost not at all in other places. Why Tahiti's tide comes in almost exactly at noon and midnight.

FISH BREEDING. Courtship, nest building, and egg laying habits of migrating salmon and trout.

A "DEAD" FISH LIVES. The "living fossil" Coelacanth, a fish thought millions of years extinct — till its recent discovery.

EVOLUTION. The 5 convincing factors that make evolution work.

HURRICANES. New hurricane knowledge and forecasting may mean eventual control of these dreaded catastrophes.

VIRUSES. Can viruses cause cancer . . . and destroy cancer?

Marconi — Italian-Irish inventor who took out first patent on "wireless telegraphy" in 1902, paved way for modern radio and TV.

NARCOTICS. How American Indians used narcotics and stimulants wisely and not so wisely.

Volume III

PITHECANTHROPUS ERECTUS. Discovery of fossil bones in Java. Are they primitive man or an early ape?

The Christmas Write-Off

Bound by social fetters,
I'm growing pale and gaunt
From writing thank-you letters
For gifts I didn't want.

—Richard Armour

The youngster had spent all week studying Christmas cards. "Mommy," he asked finally, "don't men go to heaven?"

"Of course," she said. "Why?"

"Because I never see any angels with whiskers on these cards."

The mother thought fast. "That's because the men who do go to heaven only get there by a close shave." —R. N. Bauman

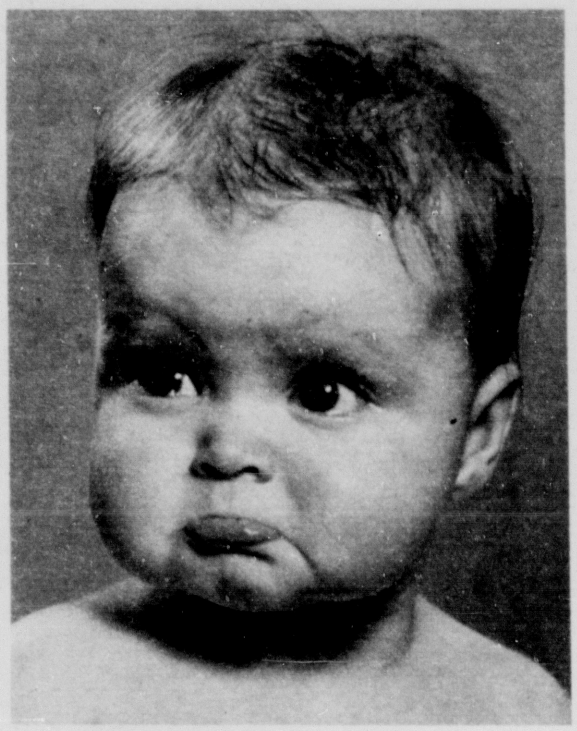
Does scolding help baby "be good"?



• Tips on toys • News about meaty matters

Who feels worse when you scold your little scamp—that sad-eyed cutie with the quivering lip, or you? If you find yourself scolding or slapping baby's hands, remember—obedience based on fear of punishment is pretty miserable stuff, more damaging than character-building in the end! Calling baby "bad" won't help him be "good."

• He needs baby-proofed play space to explore without hurting himself, or something else valuable. When baby heads for forbidden territory, remove him bodily. In a friendly but no-fooling tone, tell him the rules—but go light on reasons. It's hard enough to remember all those No's; let Why not's come later.

• Direct your small fry to things he can do, as you steer him away from Don'ts. Eventually, as he's able to understand your rules, he'll do his best to obey—because he loves you and wants to please you.

• Count your blessings—10 delicious Heinz Juices fresh from sun-blest trees to your baby! The newest delights: Orange-Apple-Banana (A Heinz exclusive), Orange-Pineapple, Pineapple-Grapefruit. Other favorites include Apple, Apple-Apricot, Apple-Grape, Apple-Pineapple, Apple-Prune, Pineapple, Orange. All are fortified to contain the same amount of vitamin C that Heinz Strained Orange Juice was born with!

• These wintry days it's comforting to realize what good health protection baby gets with Heinz 100% Meats on his menu! Heinz fine-quality meats are loaded with protein that helps ward off infection and make strong muscles and body tissues. And Heinz 100% Meats are as delicious as they are healthful, because they are prepared by an exclusive Heinz process that keeps them moist, tender and juicy. Why not tempt your baby with Heinz Beef or Heinz Chicken? He'll love both—all the other tasty varieties, too, for that matter—8 Strained, 6 Junior—all with handy screw-on caps!

• Toys that suit baby's age and interests help him develop new skills while he's having fun. (Sorry, Dad—not time yet for that football or train!) A cuddly toy just out of reach can turn a timid non-creeper into a go-getter. A tiny baby grows sharper-eared and brighter-eyed with toys that tinkle and glisten. "Middle-aged" babies need toys to take apart and bang with. Toddlers like toys to push, pull and pursue. Salespeople can help pick the right toy; just tell them baby's age.

• Father's little helpers on his workbench: Heinz screw-cap jars serving as handy containers for nuts, bolts, screws and nails of different sizes. All Heinz Baby Foods come with screw-on caps that open with one turn (no more bent caps!) and reseal airtight just as easily.

No Room For Him

BY TAYLOR CALDWELL
Author of "Dear and Glorious Physician" and "The Listener"

ILLUSTRATION BY CARL MUELLER

AT ONE TIME in the past—and only yesterday in the reckoning of God—a devoted husband came to his wife and told her that, according to the decree of the tyrant who occupied their country, they must both go to the city of the origin of their families to be registered in a world-wide census. The young wife, who was hardly past the age of 14, heard this with dismay. She was about to have a child, she who was hardly more than a child herself. Moreover, it was winter, stark and blossomless and bleak, the wintry hills blasted and lifeless, the ground hard and dry.

Her husband was a poor carpenter; their only means of transportation was a small ass. There would be no warm vehicle for her in the sleety rain and the harsh wind, no comfort, no money so that she could stop occasionally in a comfortable inn to rest and gather her strength and sit by the fire and eat good food. It would be a difficult journey of pain and misery and cold and hardship and anxiety. The young girl thought quietly of the child in her body, who was almost at term.

"I know," her husband told her, "but there is nothing we can do. We are an occupied and oppressed country, and we have to obey. Let us, then, dear wife, dress as warmly as we can and take as much food as we can carry and trust in God. Our donkey is strong, if small, and I am here to help you, and we must remember Him Who gave you this child. We can do all things in Him Who strengthens us."

He counted the few coins in his purse and sighed. Then he prayed, not for himself but for his wife, the young girl almost on the eve of her delivery. How would she be able to endure that terrible journey over mountains, over creaking bridges, over empty, crumbling stretches of land filled only with loneliness, where there was no fruit on the trees and where there was only an occasional well in the wilderness?

The little towns and villages they would pass on the way would, themselves, be so swollen with people on the same journey that it would be impossible to find shelter, especially for a young couple so poor. Innkeepers notoriously raised their prices on these occasions.

The anxious husband looked at the two or three blankets which his girl-wife had woven herself, and he sighed again. The land was full of caves; if they could find one unoccupied by wild beasts or cattle or other poor people like themselves, there they would have to spend the nights of the long journey, huddled and bone-weary and hungry, trying to keep a little fire alive in the wind and rain.

The young girl, Mary, was up long before dawn, though her slight body was heavy with child. Joseph, her husband, found the poor breakfast waiting for him. He stood with his wife and prayed in the tiny yellow candlelight—for the cold sun was not up yet—and he asked the protection of the God of his fathers for his wife. Then he and Mary ate their bread and cheese and drank a little of their wine, the grapes of which he had nurtured himself on the hot vines of summer. He saw, with thankfulness, that the wind had dropped and that there was no rain. But that meant it was very cold outside, beyond this little fire. It meant, perhaps, that some snow would fall on the tops of the mountains. The valleys would be bleak and the roads muddy, and all the streams would be bounding from the long seasonal rains.

Mary laughed as her husband wrapped her in long yards of wool and bundled her in one of the blankets. Her shining hair was hidden; her serene and lovely face peered between folds of cloth, the face of a confident child. Her eyes glowed with blue sweetness on her husband. He looked at the sky with a countryman's shrewd conjecture. The very rounded tops of the long hills were just beginning to be haloed with sharp gold. At least, it would be a fair day, if chilly. He took up his sturdy staff, grasped the rope-bridle of the ass, and the carpenter and his girl-wife started on their long journey.

It was rough and lurchy going, and very slow. To encourage them both, Mary would sing the ancient songs of their fathers, and Joseph would sing also, on a deeper and more sober note. "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem!" they sang. "Praise your God, O Sion! For He has strengthened the bars of your gates, He has blessed your children within you!"

To Joseph, that song of David had a special meaning. Mary's face was lifted to the gold and green sky of the morning. She appeared exalted and remote, as if hearing voices Joseph could not hear. Joseph, with sudden courage, sang: "Happy he whose help is the God of Jacob, whose hope is in the Lord, his God!—The Lord sets captives free, the Lord gives sight to the blind. The Lord raises up those that were bowed down—The Lord shall reign forever; your God, O Sion, through all generations. Alleluia!"

"May my mouth speak the praise of the Lord, and may all flesh bless his Holy name forever and ever!" Mary cried out in her returning song, as if she sang not only of this moment but for all eternity.

The man and the ass with its mysterious burden trudged along, stumbling sometimes, avoiding boulders that had fallen from the hills to the muddy path. It was so lonely, so abandoned, in this dreary winter land. If only, Joseph thought, this were the spring of the year, and not the winter! "The Lord is just in all His ways and holy in all His works!" sang Mary.

They spent their first night, as Joseph had feared, in some far, abandoned cave. The villages were bustling with travelers on the same journey, and from the sound of revelry Joseph could guess that wine flowed and that prices were high. He built a fire, and Mary warmed the slabs of cold meat they had brought and put the cold bread on hot stones. Her serenity and confidence were as strong as ever, though her child-face was pale and drawn. Joseph, as he lay on his thin blanket, which he had spread over the pebbly floor of the cave, prayed to his God, but he could not help thinking: "There is no room for us, anywhere. We are sheltered as the animals are sheltered." He began to have real anxiety about Bethlehem, where they must finally arrive to be registered in the census. Would there be room for Mary there, and himself? Every inn would be full. He groaned before he slept. Mary was already asleep, a childlike shape in the faint glow of the fire.

Chicken Continental

Here's a dressed-up chicken and rice casserole dish chock-full of flavor surprises.

TO PREPARE: 20 MIN. TO HEAT: 20 MIN.

- 1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
- ⅔ cup coarsely chopped onion
- 1 small clove garlic, crushed in a garlic press
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 teaspoons celery flakes
- 1 teaspoon parsley flakes
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- ¼ teaspoon marjoram
- 2⅔ cups hot water
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 2 cups thick sour cream
- 2⅔ cups packaged precooked rice
- 3 cups diced cooked chicken (or turkey)
- ½ cup pitted ripe olives, sliced
- ½ teaspoon paprika

1. Combine soup, onion, garlic, salt, pepper, celery and parsley flakes, thyme, and marjoram in a bowl.

2. Dissolve bouillon cubes in the hot water and add gradually to the soup mixture, stirring until smooth. Blend thoroughly with the sour cream.

3. Pour one-half of the soup mixture into a 3-qt. casserole having a tight-fitting cover. Add a layer of one-half the rice and then a layer of one-half the chicken and ripe olives. Repeat layering; pour remaining soup mixture over top.

4. Cover and heat in a 375°F oven 10 min.; stir mixture gently to blend ingredients. Continue heating about 10 min. longer, or until rice is tender.

5. Remove casserole from oven and sprinkle with paprika. Garnish with additional sliced ripe olives. (Coarsely chopped truffles may be substituted for olives, if desired.)

8 to 10 servings

Cheese Pâte Puffs

These unusually flavored, flaky morsels resembling pasties (in miniature) can be prepared ahead of time, refrigerated, and popped into the oven a few minutes before serving.

TO PREPARE: 45 MIN. TO BAKE: 8-10 MIN.

(allow time for chilling pastry)

- 1 cup flour
- 2 tablespoons toasted sesame seed
- ½ cup butter
- 3 oz. sharp Cheddar cheese, cut in small pieces (about ¾ cup)
- 1 2¼-oz. can liver pâté
- 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion

1. Sift flour into a bowl; blend in the sesame seed. Using a pastry blender or two knives, cut the butter and cheese into flour mixture as for pastry. Shape into a ball, wrap in waxed paper, and chill in refrigerator at least 6 hrs.

2. Remove pastry about 15 min. before it is used, then roll out on lightly floured surface to ⅛-in. thickness. Cut into 2-in. rounds.

3. Stir chopped onion into liver pâté and spoon about ½ teaspoon of the mixture onto center of each round. Fold one-half of round over other half and press edges gently. Arrange 1 in. apart on baking sheet.

4. Bake at 450°F 8 to 10 min., or until puffs are golden brown. About 1½ doz. puffs

Note: One teaspoon dill weed may be substituted for the sesame seed in the pastry.

Piquant Blue Cheese Dressing

CONVENIENCE FOOD RECIPE

This streamlined salad dressing imparts a wonderful flavor to sliced cucumbers, tomatoes, fresh mushrooms, and chilled cooked asparagus spears. Crisp cauliflowerets, radishes, and carrot curls complete the relish tray.

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.

- 1 pkg. Blue cheese salad dressing mix
- 1½ oz. Blue cheese, crumbled
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons thick sour cream or sweet cream

1. Prepare salad dressing mix according to directions on package, following recipe using water, vinegar, and salad oil.

2. Combine Blue cheese and Worcestershire sauce in a small bowl, mixing well with a fork. Add sour cream (or sweet cream) and mix until smooth. Blend in 1 cup of the prepared dressing. About 1¼ cups

Lobster Appetizer Tidbits

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN.

(allow time to chill lobster and dip)

- 6 frozen South African rock-lobster tails (about 5 oz. each)
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ½ teaspoon onion salt
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon Angostura bitters

1. Drop frozen lobster tails into boiling salted water. Cover, bring to boiling, lower heat and simmer only until lobster meat turns white (6 to 8 min.). Drain immediately and rinse with cold water.

2. Using scissors, remove thin membrane on underside of each tail, cutting close to shell. Insert fingers under meat and remove from shell in one piece. Chill thoroughly.

3. Blend mayonnaise with the remaining ingredients. Chill.

4. At serving time, cut lobster into bite-size pieces, insert a wooden pick into each piece, and arrange on platter with the chilled dip in center. Appetizers for 12

Crunchy Almond-Liver Pâte Canapes

Blend liver pâté (2¼-oz. can) with 2 tablespoons chopped toasted almonds. Spread on toast rounds and sprinkle with paprika. About 1 doz. canapés

Festive overtones add a holiday touch to these buffet supper suggestions—Chicken Continental garnished with truffles and water cress, a colorful salad and relish tray, and a generous cake festooned with bright glazed fruits.

Sardine Spread

Serve this lemon-flavored fish spread on buttered toast squares or rectangles, and for extra zest garnish each with a sardine and a border of grated lemon peel.

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.

- 1 3¾-oz. can sardines in oil
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1 hard-cooked egg, cut in pieces
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Put all ingredients into blender container and blend until smooth. About ½ cup spread

Lemon White Cake

TO PREPARE: 20 MIN. TO BAKE: 35-40 MIN.

- 3½ cups sifted cake flour
- 4½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup butter
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- ½ teaspoon lemon extract
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract
- 1½ cups sugar
- 1¼ cups milk
- 4 egg whites (about ½ cup)

1. Grease bottom only of a 13x9½x2-in. pan. Line with waxed paper cut to fit bottom; grease waxed paper.

2. Sift the first three ingredients together.

3. Cream the butter, lemon peel, and extracts together until butter is softened. Add sugar gradually, beating until fluffy after each addition.

4. Beating only until blended after each addition, alternately add the dry ingredients in fourths and the milk in thirds to the creamed mixture. Finally, beat only until smooth (do not overbeat).

5. Using clean beater, beat egg whites until rounded peaks are formed when beater is lifted upright. Fold beaten egg whites gently into batter until thoroughly blended. Turn into the pan.

6. Bake at 350°F 35 to 40 min., or until cake tester or wooden pick comes out clean when inserted in center of cake. Remove from oven to cooling rack and cool 10 min. in pan. Remove from pan, peel off waxed paper, and cool completely. Frost with Fluffy White Frosting. One 13x9-in. cake

Fluffy White Frosting

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.

- 1 cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon cream of tartar
- Few grains salt
- ⅓ cup water
- 1 egg white
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Put all ingredients except extract into top of double boiler. Set over simmering water and beat with rotary beater about 8 min., or until soft peaks are formed when beater is lifted upright. Remove from heat and add extract; beat 1 min. longer.

Enough frosting for one 13x9-in. cake

Sour-Cream Fudge Cake

TO PREPARE: 20 MIN. TO BAKE: 30-35 MIN.

- 3 sq. (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted over simmering water
- ¼ cup boiling water
- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1¼ cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup thick sour cream
- ⅓ cup hydrogenated vegetable shortening or all-purpose shortening
- 2 eggs, unbeaten
- 1¼ teaspoons vanilla extract

1. Grease bottoms only of two 8-in. round layer-cake pans. Line with waxed paper cut to fit bottoms; grease waxed paper.

2. Combine the melted chocolate and boiling water and stir until well blended. Set aside to cool.

3. Sift together into a large bowl the flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Add sour cream and shortening to dry ingredients. Stir only enough to moisten. Beat 200 strokes by hand or 2 min. with electric mixer at medium speed. Scrape bowl several times during beating.

4. Add the cooled chocolate mixture, eggs, and extract. Beat 200 strokes or 2 min. with electric mixer, scraping bowl several times. Pour batter into pans.

5. Bake at 350°F 30 to 35 min., or until a cake tester or wooden pick comes out clean when inserted in center of cake. Remove from oven to cooling racks and cool 10 min. in pans. Remove from pans, peel off waxed paper, and cool completely. Fill and frost with Mocha-Mallow Whipped Cream Frosting.

One 8-in. layer cake

Mocha-Mallow Whipped Cream Frosting

TO PREPARE: 15 MIN.

(allow time for chilling)

- 16 (4 oz.) marshmallows
- ⅓ cup strong coffee beverage (use 4 teaspoons instant coffee and ⅓ cup hot water)
- 2 cups chilled whipping cream

1. Heat marshmallows and coffee beverage in top of double boiler over simmering water until marshmallows are melted; stir occasionally. Remove from heat. Cool; chill in refrigerator.

2. Using a chilled bowl and beater, beat the cream, 1 cup at a time, until cream piles softly. Fold whipped cream into chilled marshmallow mixture, blending thoroughly.

Enough to fill and frost two 8- or 9-in. round cake layers

STOP PIMPLES! OILY SKIN TO CHECK

Don't pick, scratch, squeeze or merely "cover them up"

Doctors know that acne or pimples are caused by the germ called the acne bacillus. These germs invade overactive oil glands in the skin, cause blackheads and pus pockets; then your skin "breaks out."

What's needed is (1) to dry up the excessive oil that collects on skin; (2) to destroy acne germs on the skin, and (3) to stop itching and irritation so pimples can heal.

Balloon Dart

By Ragna Eskil

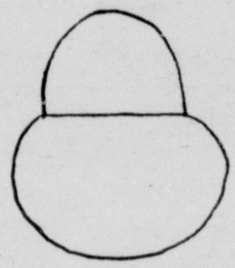
A target board, darts, and blown-up balloons are necessary for this game. The balloons are fastened to the board with adhesive tape, and the object is to hit the balloons with the darts. The winner is the one who hits the most balloons. Each player has two tries at a time.

Swoosh! Push!

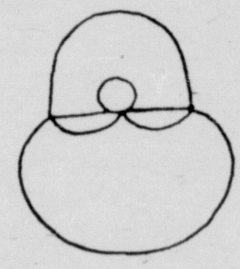
Put a milk bottle or some other thing like it on the floor. Two who are playing put their hands on each other's shoulders. At the word "Go!" you each shove, push, and do your best to get the other to touch the milk bottle. The first to touch it is out of the game. The winner takes on another opponent.

Let's Draw a Santa

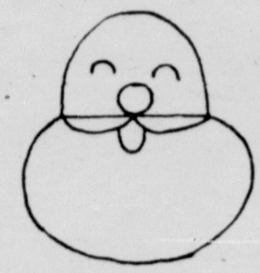
By Ann Davidow



The parts of two circles are joined by a line.
One larger, one smaller! Yes, you're doing fine.



Add a circle above this big line in the middle
And two hanging loops like the bows of a fiddle.



Now add three small arcs, two above—
they're for eyes,
A large one below. It's a mouth, I surmise.

Add furry white cuff to a jaunty peaked cap.
"Merry Christmas!" says Santa, the jolly old chap.

With the serious dedication of artists, the Cherubs have learned to sing together in perfect harmony—loving every minute of it.

Rehearsal time begins with a signal from Mrs. Albert H. Voss, Jr., who is the director of the Cherub Choir.

Cherub Choir

They can't read music—or even words—yet no artist can capture the magic of these children heralding the new-born Saviour

By FRANK M. LANE

THIS CHRISTMAS is the day of days for 21 tiny "celebrities." After seeing the wonders of Santa's bag, they went into God's house and, with tonsils blazing, sang at the birthday of our Saviour.

This is the big event for the Cherub Choir of First United Presbyterian Church at Council Bluffs, Iowa. The tots and their attractive black-haired director have appeared on radio and television and have sung in the huge Union Station at Omaha, Neb. Thousands have heard them.

"But when it's time to sing for their parents and other church members, they bubble with enthusiasm," says Mrs. Albert H. Voss, Jr., choir director. "All our other activities, you might say, are a tune up for the Christmas program."

The Cherubs are a big hit wherever they sing. Take the Union Station. At Christmas time it's a mad scramble of humanity as people rush home for the holidays. The Cherubs were hardly noticed until they started to sing.

As their voices rose in volume, the turbulent station calmed. "How can they read music?" a skeptical sailor asked, nudging his companion. "I'll bet most of them can't read at all."

The sailor was nearly right. Most of the choir members are 6 years old; some 7 and 8; a few 9.

"They don't really need to read," explains Mrs. Voss. "They are little actors and actresses."

Any observant person could tell that. One of the youngsters in the front row was holding his music folder sideways—studying it as if he were "boning up" for a college examination.

"In most cases the folders are just for atmosphere," Mrs. Voss says.

The choir was organized in 1957 by Mrs. Voss. "I love children," she explains, "and I felt a need for a choir of youngsters."

The tots have at least one radio program during the holiday season and also appear in convalescent homes. The rest of the year the Cherubs sing in church—usually once a month.

To be eligible for the choir, a child must be in the first, second, or third grade of Sunday school. This rule created a sad moment at the Vosses this year. Son Al, who loves to sing, was in the choir, but in September he was graduated from third grade. That meant leaving the Cherubs.

"Why didn't you have them fail me?" he cried to his mother. "I want to sing in the Cherubs."

It's this deep "wanting" to sing God's praises that makes the Cherub Choir so popular, Mrs. Voss believes. "If you could see their faces on Christmas, you'd know what I mean," she says. "Why, they're in heaven—heaven on earth."

Even accomplished singers have trouble tying on bows. Mrs. Voss lends one Cherub a hand as the others wait.

Jeffrey Hunter

THE ACTOR WHO WILL PLAY

CHRIST

By C. GREGORY JENSEN

What happens to a Hollywood star cast in the greatest of all roles? For HOLLYWOOD STAR Jeffrey Hunter does not exist—not at the moment. As an actor, of course, Jeff Hunter is present and accounted for—and then some. He's starring in a gigantic, $8 million epic planned as 1961's biggest movie.

But Jeffrey Hunter, the Hollywood Movie Star—in capital letters—has simply disappeared. Not since Greta Garbo "vanted to be alone" has a big-name star dropped so completely out of the public's sight.

Since last May, Hunter has avoided publicity like the plague. His door is closed to fan-magazine writers and movie columnists. He skips parties and film festivals and the other usual haunts of movie stars abroad. In effect, he leaves his Madrid home chiefly to work; and even on the set he is aloof, apart, and unapproachable.

This is not ordinary behavior in an industry which thrives on publicity. But "King of Kings," the massive movie now being filmed in Madrid, is not an ordinary movie. And Hunter's role in it definitely is not an ordinary part.

Hunter portrays Jesus Christ.

He will appear on the screen just as any other character does. Hunter as Christ will be in full view, face to face with the audience. Thus every believing Christian will compare Hunter with his own private conception of the Son of God. And woe to Hunter if he fails to match those individual ideas.

That is what H. B. Warner learned, to his regret, more than 30 years ago. Warner played Christ in a silent film and never lived it down. Hollywood hasn't shown Christ in full view since. Not until now.

Hunter himself says it wasn't the risk to his future which forced him into seclusion during, and even beyond, the six-month filming.

"It would be impossible," he said before shooting started, "to discuss my feelings about portraying Christ with authority. So I must keep my personal life and my professional activities anonymous."

Producer Samuel Bronston says another reason for Hunter's isolation is the "tremendous strain" which the role of Christ imposes on an actor. "Hunter is striving to portray this role for an audience of a billion Christians. We must not distract him more than necessary."

At first glance, Jeffrey Hunter seems to have few qualifications for the role of Christ. His major subjects at Northwestern University were speech and radio, not theology. As an all-around athlete, his hobby is sports, not philosophy. He has been in Hollywood for 10 of his 33 years. His 26 movie roles have included everything but religious parts—war stories, historical dramas, Westerns. He is divorced and remarried, with a son from each marriage.

But Hunter has one particular feature which led Bronston and director Nicholas Ray to him—his eyes.

"They grip you," Bronston says, "and they hold you." In costume as Jesus, Hunter's pale blue eyes leap out at you from a bearded, sunburned face. Everyone in the cast speaks of their powerful effect.

"I was quite a long way from him in the baptism scene," says Irish actress Siobhan McKenna, who plays the Virgin Mary, "yet I could see his eyes, with a strange kind of power, penetrating right through me, over all that distance."

There were, of course, other factors involved in Hunter's choice for the part. His wide acting experience was one. Mentioning another, Bronston says, "We investigated him, and even in Hollywood he lives a quiet and peaceful life."

Siobhan McKenna gave one of the most thoughtful appraisals:

"I don't know if Jeffrey's performance is good or bad," she says, "but it is right." She paused, frowned, and shook her head. "I don't talk of performances in this film," she goes on. "There are people, and they are either right or not right. I think Jeffrey Hunter is right."

Siobhan McKenna plays the Virgin Mary, almost as beloved to devout Christians as Christ Himself. So Miss McKenna shares some of the risks and responsibilities Hunter faces. And her attitude toward playing Mary gives a good indication of Hunter's own approach.

"It is something that frightens me," Miss McKenna says. "I think it's an awful responsibility. I think one would be out of one's mind to try to be the Virgin Mary. I'm probably not at all like the real Mary, but I'm doing it as if she were an ordinary, everyday kind of woman. I can only play the human side. I can't play the mystery."

THERE IS, however, something mysterious about Jeffrey Hunter's performance—an atmosphere which seems to surround him on the set even when the cameras aren't turning. Perhaps this mystery showed best in the filming of the Sermon on the Mount.

This is a tremendous scene in terms of sheer scale—a fitting spectacle for a movie designed as a successor to "Ben-Hur."

Most of the film's 60 leading characters milled about the barren, sun-baked hillside near the village of Venta de Frascuela, outside Madrid, where the scene was shot. So did 7,000 extras, including a good portion of the Spanish army. Every person was costumed in hand-woven desert fabrics scoured from every corner of the Mediterranean world. Camels from the Canary Islands mingled with uncounted horses and burros. The sequence was so vast it had to be planned like a military operation. It took more than two weeks to film, and will last less than 15 minutes on the screen.

But all through the massive turmoil of this scene, Jeffrey Hunter stood quietly apart. Everyone else wore incongruous straw hats against the searing sun: Hunter stood bareheaded in the heavy woolen robes of Christ. Everyone else joked and chatted between takes: Hunter stood with his eyes closed, seldom speaking to anyone. The whole hillside crawled with chattering, raucous Spanish extras: but when Hunter walked among them with the slow, deliberate movement he uses even off camera, the extras fell silent.

"The Spanish actors in the film really have a sort of reverence for the characters playing Christ and their beloved Virgin Mary," Miss McKenna explains.

She recalled the filming of Christ's baptism as another example. In that scene scores of extras "had to stand around in water for hours at a stretch," Miss McKenna says. "They stood there with a kind of awe at what they were doing. And when they came out of the water, their faces—well, their faces were wonderful to see. I honestly believe that for them it was a great religious experience."

This atmosphere influences the whole making of "King of Kings," not just the crowds of extras or Hunter in his role of Christ.

"You know," says glamorous Rita Gam, who plays Herod's wife, "there is the most extraordinary harmony on this picture."

"Nobody complains," agrees Bronston. "Always, in any company, is a troublemaker or someone who is unhappy. But not here."

Miss Gam speaks in awed tones about one scene in the kitchens of Herod's palace. Everything went wrong. Thunderstorms flooded the set and knocked out the electricity. Meat which was roasting in the scenes turned fetid. Spain's summer heat was stifling. Loaded down for her role as Herodias with a wig weighing 30 pounds, plus nearly 35 pounds of Egyptian and Oriental jewelry, Miss Gam fainted. "The whole thing was horrible," she says. "Yet nobody complained."

Jeffrey Hunter makes no complaint either about the strenuous demands made on him or about the self-imposed isolation.

"He is engrossed in his job," Bronston says. "It's a tremendous moral challenge—a tremendous strain and responsibility."

And a responsibility that observers agree has already left a mark on young Hunter—and may continue to do so long into his career.

Thousands of actors and extras flock up hill where Jeffrey Hunter stands ready to deliver immortal words of Sermon on the Mount in "King of Kings."

Jeffrey Hunter it has meant strain, seclusion—and an uncertain future

'Twas the Jest Before Christmas

By PAUL STEINER ILLUSTRATION BY ED MALSBERG

"Christmas," says Ken Murray, "is the time when a girl likes her past forgotten and her present remembered."

"I feel kind of embarrassed," Herb Shriner admits. "I got a Christmas card from the gas company, and I didn't send them one."

On the subject of unannounced holiday guests, Hoosier Herb has this to say: "My folks didn't mind having more guests at Christmas than expected. They'd just put more stuffing in the turkey."

Columnist Robert Sylvester advises: "Anybody who wants to buy me an expensive present can bear one thing in mind—I'm the man who has nothing."

Red Skelton has an electrician as a neighbor: "He gave all his friends shorts for Christmas."

Columnist Earl Wilson figured out why Santa Claus carried that bag of gifts around with him: "Have you seen those long lines at the post office?"

A financial note from Bob Hope: "The banks of the country are in quite a predicament—it's time to pay off millionaire J. Paul Getty's Christmas Club money."

"It was just our luck," Amos 'n' Andy complained, "to bring home the only yule log in the woods with a skunk inside it."

Vaughn Monroe says, "Christmas is the season when your neighbor's radio keeps you up till 4 a.m. playing 'Silent Night.' "

"Family ties are closer at Christmas—louder, too," says restaurateur Nicky Blair.

Columnist Neal O'Hara muses: "Turkeys now come with instructions, but the do-it-yourself age hasn't produced a bird with built-in dotted lines to guide the carver."

"Men do strange things," says singer Marion Marlowe. "They buy their football tickets in June and their wives' Christmas presents Dec. 24."

I was just thinking...

ONCE UPON a time, my little Paul, a Baby only half as big as you are now was born in a stable. Kings brought Him presents and a bright star shone over His head. The poor people came to see Him, too, and even the animals there in the stable knew it was His birthday.

All of them—the kings, the poor people, and the animals—had been told a wonderful secret about the little boy, so His parents couldn't just love Him and play with Him as yours do. They had to take special care of Him always and hide Him away from a wicked king.

Pretty soon the little boy began to grow up. He didn't go to school as you will because He knew more than all the teachers and sometimes He told them about the things He had learned.

And then, like the stories in your storybooks, when He was old enough, He set out to seek His fortune. But He wasn't looking for gold and a crown. Part of the wonderful secret was that He was a prince in disguise and part of it was that the star brought Him to tell all the people how to love one another and say their prayers every day and be kind to the birds and animals and flowers.

He never had much money and sometimes He had nothing to eat. Sometimes His clothes were ragged and His feet were hurt from walking the world to tell His story. But everywhere He went people saw the starlight on His face, and they began to try to live the way He wanted them to—good and honest and loving. And the world began to be better.

One day, Paul, you will go out into the world, too, and be a doctor like your father or a carpenter like His father. If you remember the story of the stable, it will be easier for you.

Well, when He was no older than your father, evil men captured Him and people who were too deaf to hear Him and too blind to see the starlight decided to make Him die.

Do you know what He did then? He forgave all of them, the evil men, the people who were deaf, and the people who were blind, and nothing they could do harmed Him.

He was born a little boy like you, but He never died. And you won't either, really, because He told the people that love and kindness and understanding are stronger than death. And they are.

Isn't that a wonderful story? Here's the best part of all: every word of it is true.

So good night, little Paul, child of God.

Sleep in heavenly peace.

No Room For Him

The next day was as the first, except that there was a brief fury of rain and wind. But when Joseph would look at her with fear, she would smile at him gently and encouragingly. The night was pure misery. It was raining again, and Joseph could not keep a fire alight on the stones of another cave.

It was the same the next day and the next night. On the last day, along the roads which the Romans had built, and which were wide and straight, they encountered hundreds of fellow travelers whose destination was theirs, Bethlehem or Jerusalem. Some were as poor as themselves; babies and children squalled restlessly. Some few were rich and rode in fine chariots, pulled by fine sleek horses, and with servants about them. The crowds jostled Mary and Joseph and their little ass on which Mary swayed with fatigue. No one noticed them or cared about them. Joseph's heart grew heavier and heavier. No room for us, anywhere, he thought. Not even the warmer countryside could lift his heart; not even the sight of large villages could encourage him. He and Mary would not enter Jerusalem; they would skirt the mighty city to reach the little town of Bethlehem, with its flat yellow roofs, its tiny, wandering streets, its mean little shops, its two or three inns. It was a poor town, and only the poor could be found there. Still, the inns would be crowded.

"Be Not Afraid"

Groaning in himself, footsore and aching and trembling with tiredness and worry, Joseph urged the little ass along as fast as he dared. They must reach Bethlehem before it was totally dark, or sleep along the road, completely without shelter.

"Do not be afraid, Joseph," said Mary. Her voice, as always, was sweet and tender, but now Joseph heard pain in it. Her words ended in a gasp.

"It is your time!" he cried.

"Yes," she said, slowly. "I think it is."

She was not afraid, but Joseph was filled with terror, a terror too strong for prayer. Roughly he pulled on the beast's halter, stumbling, sometimes falling, his ankles turning on unseen stones in the weary half-dark. He forgot his own exhaustion and misery. Somewhere, he had to find shelter for Mary in Bethlehem. His few coins jingled in his pouch. So few of them! Who would take them in? They, the refugees, the poor, the oppressed?

Gasping with relief, Joseph could finally see the feeble lights of Bethlehem just ahead now, beyond the next turn in the road. Mary was utterly silent, except for an occasional soft moan, smothered and suppressed. The little beast on which she rode struggled on, as if aware that he must hurry. Now it was very dark. But they had reached the outskirts of Bethlehem, and lanterns shone on closed doors and lamps stared at them weakly through slits of windows. Joseph caught the sleeve of one man as he passed.

"Please!" he stammered, "where is the nearest inn? My wife . . ."

"Ho!" said the man, impatiently, pulling his sleeve away. "There is no room in the inn!"

He hurried away, and Joseph stood still for a moment, drawing up his last strength. No room in the inn. He had feared that, but now the fact confronted him starkly. Then he felt Mary's hand on his shoulder, pressing it slightly, and he moved on with tears in his eyes, and with exhaustion.

When he saw the inn, he knew it was hopeless. The courtyard milled with asses and horses and an occasional camel or two. Noise poured through every window and door. "Wait," Joseph said to Mary. He pushed his way through the mobs in the small public room. Joseph blinked in the light. The room was warm, and the noise was shattering.

Desperately, at last, Joseph hurried after the host, a fat and ruddy man wearing a dirty white apron. Finally he caught him. The man turned to him angrily. "There's no room at the table!" he yelled over the clamor. "You'll have to wait!"

"No, no," said Joseph. "We have some food. It's my wife—the child—her time is on her. She is in labor . . ."

Guests were shouting at the host for more service. But he paused and looked at Joseph with pity. "There is no room in the inn," he said. "The other inn is filled, too."

"Where shall we go?" cried Joseph in his extremity. "The child cannot be born on the street or in the fields! We must have shelter!"

The host balanced his huge tray on his broad shoulder. He looked at the poor man before him. He said at last, "There's only one place, the stable, the cave at the end of the road. It is full of our cattle, but it is shelter, and it is warm. God be with you," he added hastily and raced off. Stupefied with his despair and tiredness, Joseph left the inn. The little ass was patiently standing near the door; Mary sat slumping on his back, a huddle of clothes and blankets.

"There is no room," he said to her hoarsely. "There is only a cave with cattle nearby."

Spent, she could only nod in acceptance, and Joseph took up the halter again and led the beast and his burden down the road a little distance. Yes, there was the cave with a lantern at the aperture and, within, the donkeys and oxen stood in their stalls, knee-deep in hay.

Joseph carried Mary into the cave and placed her on a heap of straw and brought the blankets and spread them for her. She looked about vaguely, her eyes wide and glazed, and again her husband remembered how young she was, how friendless and alone except for himself. There would be no mother here to comfort and help her, no sister, no midwife. There was no one to pray for her in her extremity except her husband.

She lay on the blankets, and Joseph spread another upon her. The scarves fell from her head; her shining hair lay about her like a wide halo. Her body quivered with birth pangs. Then she opened her eyes and looked at her husband, and she smiled at him with her pure serenity and faith, and he was comforted.

A pale and silvery light mingled with the lantern light of the door. It crept into the shadowy cave. It glinted on the eyes of every beast, and each stood very still, breathing audibly. It is warm here, thought Joseph, numbly. We have a protection from the night. Then Joseph recalled something, and he stepped to the door of the cave and looked at the sky. A huge soft star, as silvery as the moon, was beginning to glow overhead; it was as if it were being born at that very moment, as Mary's child was being born. Too tired to wonder, too fearful to speak, Joseph returned to his wife.

Mary had not come unprepared, for though hardly past 14 she was prudent in the ways of women. As she lay on the blankets, she nodded toward a bundle Joseph had laid down close at hand, and he opened the bundle and found the swaddling clothes for a child in them. He put them near Mary. The beasts in the cave crept nearer, fixing their tremendous eyes on the girl at their feet. Their warm breath enfolded her. They, with Joseph, waited.

The silvery light at the door of the cave became more intense, more vivid than a full moon. And then the Child was born, crying aloud, and He was in His mother's arms, and she was wrapping Him lovingly and joyfully in the swaddling clothes. She held Him to her breast and gave Him the first kiss and laughed happily. She was a girl again, and rapturous. "My Son," she said to Joseph, and Joseph took the Child in his arms. Mary rose and lined a manger with a blanket, and Joseph laid the Child in the manger, and the girl and her husband looked at Him with a bliss that only they could know.

"All Is Calm, All Is Bright"

"Now, you must sleep, Mary," said Joseph, and he led her back to the blanket-covered heap of straw. She closed her eyes obediently, smiling, but she did not sleep. It was as if she were waiting for someone, or for some tidings. Joseph looked down at her, and his heart was full again with pain, remembering her sufferings and the journey and their homelessness.

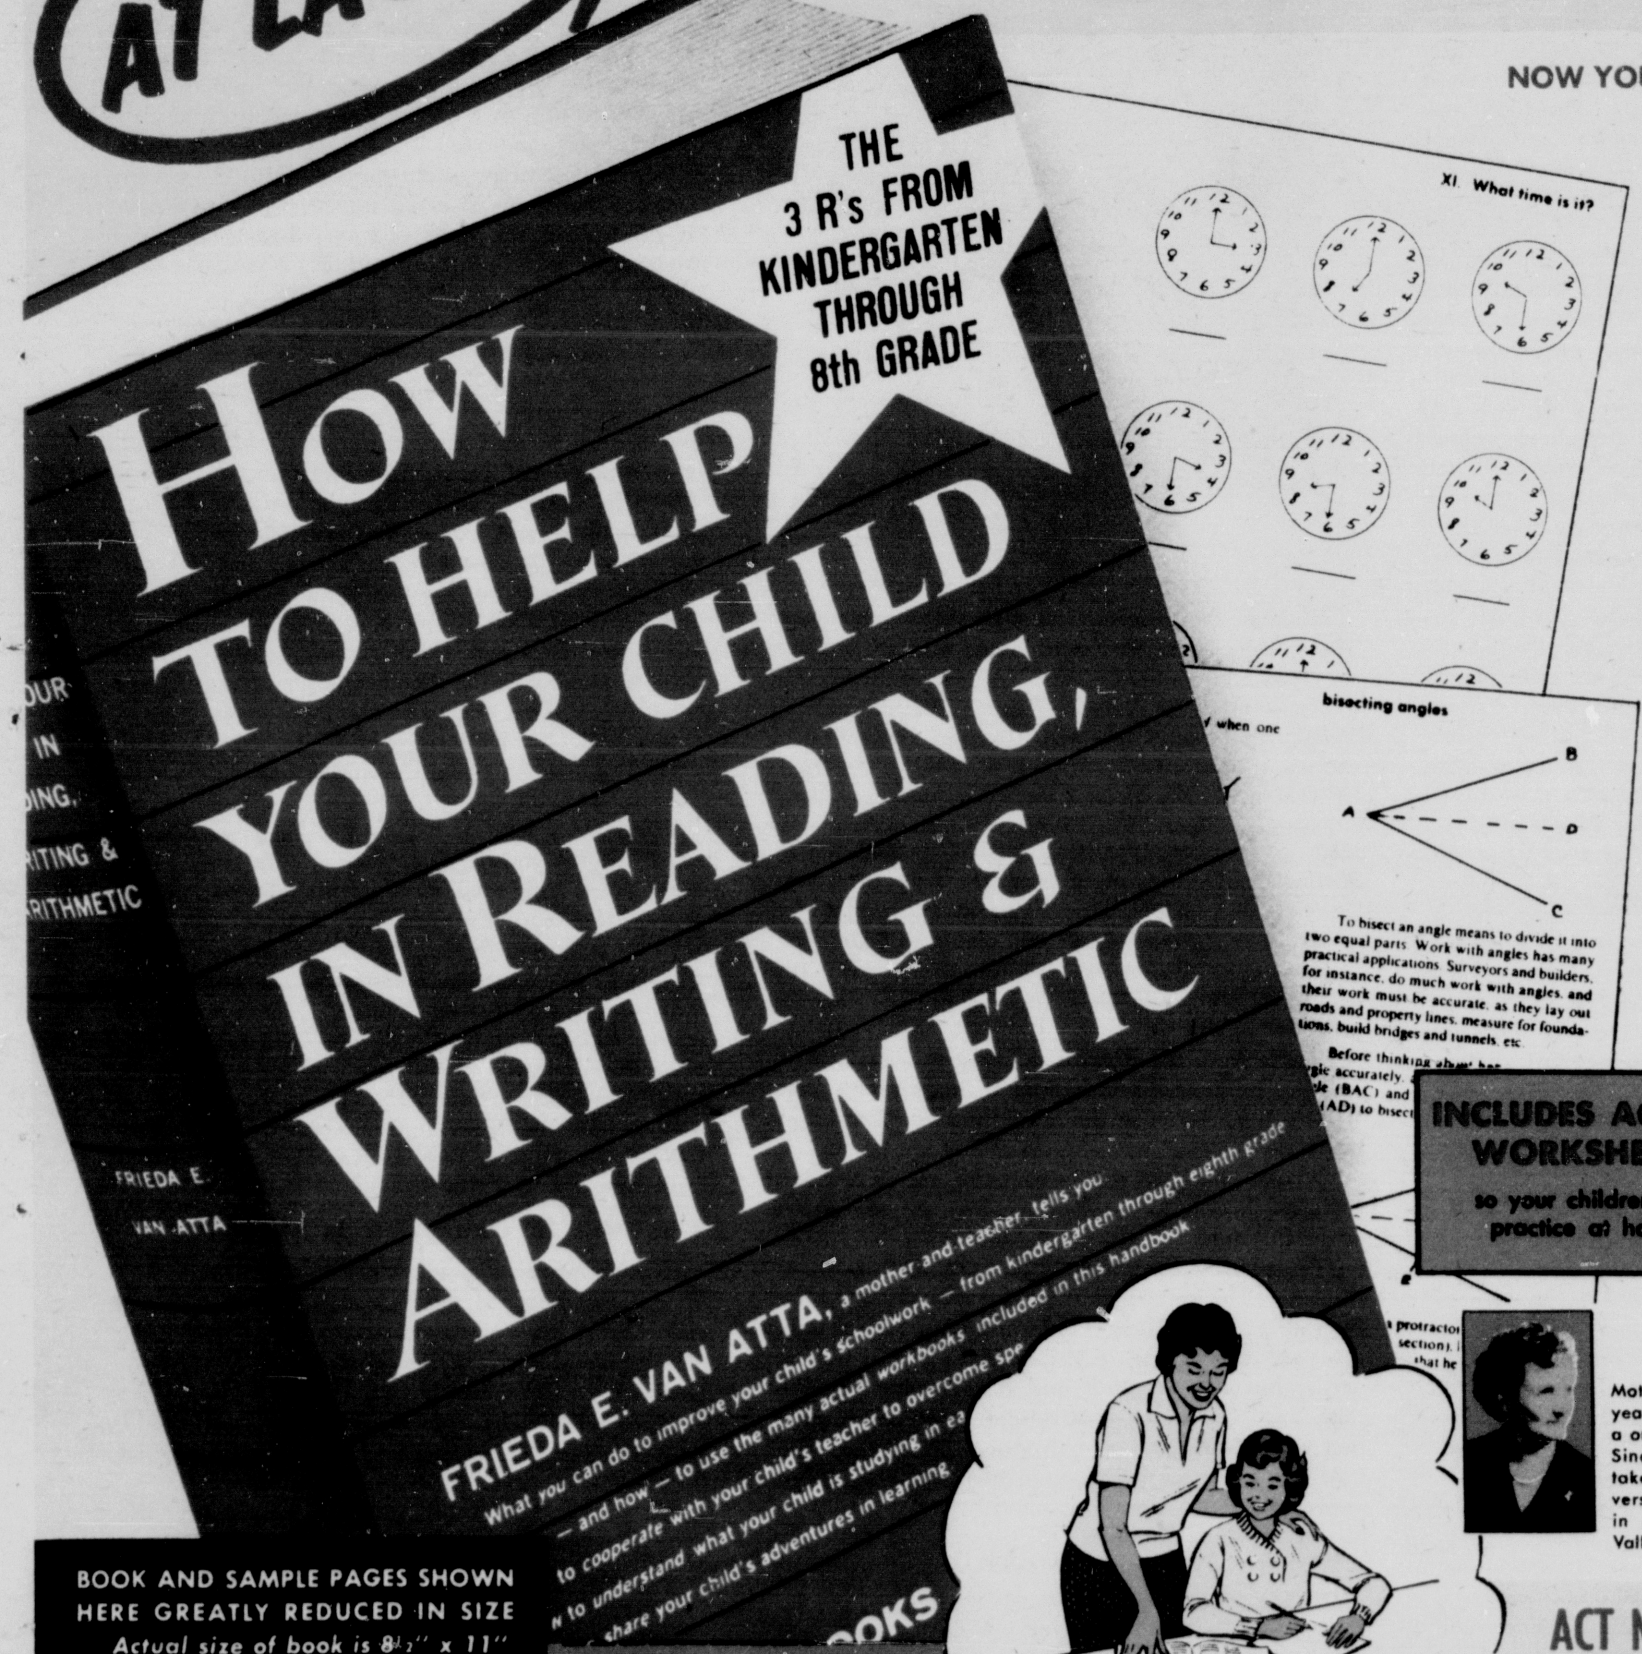
He let her lie in quiet, and he glanced into the manger where the Child slept, as serene and still as His mother. Joseph's head dropped on his chest, and he went to the opening of the cave. The star in the sky was almost too brilliant for his weary eyes; it stood in its place, directly over the cave, not moving, but burning and turning on itself like a newborn planet. Joseph put his hands over his face and cried from his very heart, "There was no room for Him. There is no room for Him!"

The people in the inn, hearing of the star, came out to look at it and point and shout their wonderment and fear, but Joseph did not see them nor hear them. He could only repeat aloud, over and over, "There is no room for Him!"

There was no room for Him in the Roman world of nearly 2,000 years ago. Is there room for Him today in this modern world? Room in our hearts? Or shall we have to say: "No, there was never any room for Him. We took all that He gave us, but we had no room for Him"?

AT LAST!

an authoritative handbook and guide for parents to help their children with grade-school work



NOW YOU CAN HELP YOUR CHILD

with the most important subjects in 1st through 8th grades—using Tested Teaching Methods!

Most of the learning problems children experience in high school, college and adult life stem directly from basic weaknesses in reading, writing and arithmetic. Educators and parents agree that there is a real need for help in these subjects when children are still in the elementary grades. Now, a devoted teacher with 17 years' experience in dealing with childen, shows you how to help your child master these vital subjects—and build a solid foundation for future learning.

Here is a book written to meet a specific problem parents face today; helping their children with schoolwork and using the best modern methods to do it. In almost 400 pages—with many helpful illustrations—the author gives you today's tested teaching methods for helping children master the 3 R's.

INCLUDES ACTUAL WORKSHEETS
so your children can practice at home.

SPECIALLY VALUABLE for the parent whose child is falling behind in schoolwork
